

The Queen's Library,
Queen's University,
Kingston Ont.

QUEEN'S

ALUMNI REVIEW

JANUARY - FEBRUARY 1977

Your Annual Alumni Fund Committee Reports

The fall meeting of the Alumni Fund Committee was held at Queen's on Nov. 6, with the new officers and members in attendance. From the many items of business discussed, we have sifted out the following items, believing they will be of interest to our graduates.

Fund Progress Encouraging

By Nov. 1, 1976, about 2,600 graduates and friends had given a total of $106,000 to the Annual Fund. At that point, the current Fund was running slightly ahead of 1975/76. What is even more encouraging is that 960 of our donors gave more this year than last, and 420 gifts were from people contributing for the first time since their graduation.

Cha Gheill Society Nearly at Goal

With 38 new members added since May 1976, the Cha Gheill Society now has 945 supporters. The Committee's goal is an active membership of at least 1,000. Qualification for annual membership is a leadership contribution to Queen's of at least $100. Gifts may be unrestricted as to use, or may be directed by the donor to any school, department, faculty, program or purpose. For example, $40 given last summer to Friends of the Library, plus a recent $60 gift to the John J. Deutsch Memorial would result in an invitation to join the Cha Gheill Society for 1976-77.

The greatest number of members belong to the Faculty of Applied Science (301). Arts and Science grads are second with 275, Medicine third with 222, and the School of Business next with 86 members. As for location, Ontario is tops with 645 members, followed by the United States with 98. Toronto's Cha Gheill Society membership totals 164. Ottawa is next with 101, then Kingston (86), Montreal (56), Vancouver (20), London (18) and Calgary (14).

Queen's Alumni Fund Committee

Chairman: George O. Toller, B.A. '50, Ottawa
Vice-Chairman: George M. Pike, B.Sc. (Arts) '61, Ottawa
Past Chairman: Gordon P. Eligh, B.Com. '39, Kingston

MEMBERS: Mrs. J.B. Slack, B.A. '39, Kingston; Miss Cathy Paterson, B.A. '70, Toronto; Mrs. A.E. Risk, B.Com. '43, Montreal; K. G.J. McKey, B.Sc. '56, Montreal; Eric G.A. Jorgensen, B.Sc. '49, Toronto; Mrs. K.B. Parkinson, B.A. '43, Ottawa; Mrs. F.W. Gibson, B.A. '46, Kingston; James R. Henderson, B.A. '76, Kingston.

SUPPORT STAFF: M.A. Gill, Director of Alumni Affairs; E.E. Hurlbut, Alumni Fund Director; Ms Sandra Woods, Associate Fund Director; Dr. H.J. Hamilton, Emeritus Director of Alumni Affairs.

An Alumni Pesticide: R.A.D.

About 1,200 graduates are taking part in the R.A.D. (Regular Annual Donor) program. The advantage: members receive only one annual fund reminder, on a date of their own choosing. No minimum contribution is involved, and annual gifts from R.A.D.'s have ranged from $10 to $1,000.

Women Helping Women

The Alumnae Association reports an urgent need for funds to enlarge the Marty Memorial Scholarship, and to support the Dean of Women's Contingency Fund and the Alumnae Association Contingency Fund (both of which have provided valuable and needed bursary funds in the past). Women making gifts to the Annual Fund are welcome to specify that their money be used to assist these or other Alumnae projects.

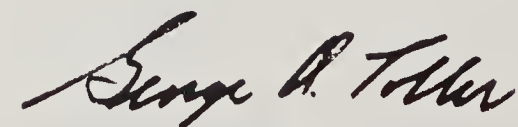

Telethons Hope to Surpass '76 Record

Those who have not given to the Annual Fund by the date of the spring Telethons (announced in advance) will receive a friendly call from a fellow graduate in their own cities. The 1976 Telethons in Toronto, Montreal and Ottawa raised a record $15,400 for Queen's. Add to that the gift of volunteer labour to make the calls and you have a fine supportive effort.

A Closing Word from the Chairman

Over many years (especially the past 50) the independent financial assistance given Queen's by her alumni has been the key to the University's continued development and her national and international distinction.

The second Fund mailing for 1976/77 should have reached you early in December. On behalf of the Fund Committee and the University, I urge all graduates to seriously consider lending their maximum support through the Alumni Fund program.

Chairman, Alumni Fund Committee

Editor
CATHERINE PERKINS MORTON,
Arts '58

Editor, Personal Notes
FAYE PATTEN

Editorial Advisory Board
H.J. HAMILTON, Arts '31, LL.D. '75
MURRAY A. GILL, Sc. '47
BERNARD F. TROTTER, Arts '46
PETER DORN, R.C.A.

COVER: Children playing on College Hill (or the Principal's Hill) in front of the Old Arts Building. Cover designed by Peter Dorn, RCA, from a photo by Richard Webb of Queen's Television.

Reunion 1976	2	The Class of '26: Still roaring
The Kathleen Ryan Foundation	7	Alumna's 50th Anniversary Gift
Wilderness Missionaries	8	Excerpts from The Canadian Magazine
Fall Convocation 1976	10	Featuring an illustrious grandson, a graduating grandmother and a masterful policeman
Around the Campus	12	Carbohydrate Research Institute; Rhodes Scholarship to Queen's woman; Threat from tax revisions; Energy savings; Mo Chochla new Rector; Deutsch papers to Archives; Teaching under study; Gifts and bequests; Search Committees in session
Queen's Weekend University	15	Four spring seminars announced
Lost Trails	18, 29	More alumni missing
Letters	19
At the Branches	20	Montreal, Ottawa, London, Niagara Peninsula and Geneva
Names in the News	22	Births galore, marriages, deaths, and news to brighten the winter

PHOTO CREDITS: Wallace R. Berry, page 3, 4 (Med. '26, Com. '26), 5, 8 (Bater), 17 (Lavery); Other Reunion photos by Betsy Greenlees and Cheryl Scott; John Brebner, Photo Image 33, page 10 (hooding), 11 (Grant, Munnings); Whig-Standard, 10 (Pratt portrait), 11 (McCormack), 30 (Woods), 17; Queen's News Department, 8 (McLay), 13; West's Studio, Regina, 25 (McCannel); Information Office, Dalhousie, 30 (Ross); Frances K. Smith, 17 (Meisel).

The Queen's Review is published bi-monthly: January, March, May, July, September and November. Address all communications to THE QUEEN'S REVIEW, Alumni Association, Queen's University, Kingston, Ont. K7L 3N6. Typeset, printed and bound by 1000 Islands Publishers Ltd., Gananoque, Ont. Member, CASE.

Advertising Representatives: Alumni Media, Toronto (416) 781-6957, and Vancouver (604) 688-6819.

Postage paid in cash at third-class rates. Permit no. 1019, Kingston, Ont.

Reunion 1976

Take about 2,000 Queen's alumni and their families, from 25 to 85, mix well with young students and old professors, throw in a bright, crisp October weekend, and you have Reunion — dinners, dances, football, parades, parties, nostalgia and a quickening of that great Queen's spirit

Mrs. Grace (Wood) Moote, Arts '16, London, Ont., registers for her class's 60th anniversary, watched by her husband, Rev. Stanley Moote (centre) and brother, Prof. Morris Wood, Arts '11, D.Sc. '75.

Henry Fleming, Arts '47, pores over display of 1930s photos near registration desk.

Both Arts and Science '72 planted trees. Above, Sc. '72's Bruce Miller (left) and Dave Gavura, class president.

The spirit of Reunion is captured in this photo by Betsy Greenlees, Arts '77.

These two professors had a lot of 'good old days' to share at the Engineers' Reception. Left, Dr. A.W. Jolliffe; centre, Prof. R.W. Thompkins.

60TH REUNION GROUP: Left to right, John A. Cattnach, Arts '16, Dr. T. Watson Kirkconnell, Arts '16, Mrs. Grace (Wood) Moote, Arts '16, and Harold Mabee, Science '16. Below left is Bruce R. Wert, Arts '16.

REUNION '76's
'something extra' was a goodwill invasion from the U.S. American alumni came back in unusual numbers from Colorado, California and Connecticut, from Ohio, Arizona, Missouri, Illinois, Pennsylvania and even Texas. Col. F. 'Chick' Woodruff of Sc. '51 came the farthest — all the way from SHAPE in Belgium.

And the Class of '26 maintained its reputation for reunions outstanding in both size and enthusiasm.

ARTS '26, 50TH REUNION: FRONT ROW, left to right — Ralph D. Matthews, Dr. H.J. Hamilton, Honorary President, J. Wilf Eggleston, Mrs. W.B. Guiler (Ena Cropp), Dr. J.A. Edmison, Class President, Mrs. S.F. Ryan (Kathleen Whitton), Thomas A. Marshall, Earl M. Patton and Dr. Donald I. Matheson. SECOND ROW — Ralph J. Moon, Dr. Ken Ward, Miss Margaret Mason, Mrs. N. McLeod (Mary Johnston), Miss Bessie Billings, Dr. Hugo T. Ewart, Mrs. I. MacLachlan (Sybil Spencer), and Mrs. R.D. Bradfield (Eva Newell). THIRD ROW — William A. Anderson, Mrs. A.H. Allin (Florence McKinnon), Miss Elma I. Kennedy, Mrs. H. Brookins (Kay Gillan), Mrs. H.J. Armstrong (Helen Loyst), Miss Caroline Mitchell, Mrs. A.W. Des Brisay (Vera Skinner) and Mrs. J.E. Plunkett (Marion Moffatt). FOURTH ROW — Dr. H. Doug McEwen, Dr. C.H. Kindle, Dr. B.W. Sargent, Mrs. L.J. McCrae (Fran Hope), Mrs. A. Wallace (Kay Farlinger), Miss Margaret Norris, and Mrs. J.R. Emery (Helen Agnew). BACK ROW — M.L. Entwistle, Harry L. Slater, Dr. W.C. Gardiner and Donald McCrimmon.

Harry Brookins, Sc. '26, and Mrs. Brookins (Kay Gillan), Arts '26, of Upper Falls, Mass., were among the first from their year to register with Cathy Hitchins, a member of the Alumni Office staff.

MEDICINE '26 (left to right) — Dr. Ernest A.W. Sheppard, Dr. John Lansbury, Dr. Presley A. McLeod, Dr. William A. Newslands and Dr. Abraham N. Morphy.

COMMERCE '26 — Ken Ward, Ralph Matthews, Harry Slater, W.A. Anderson, Mrs. L.J. McCrea (Fran Hope), T. A. Marshall and Earl M. Patton.

The Class of 26: Still Roaring

By Liane Benoit, Artsci '79

Plus ça change, plus c'est la même chose.

Never was more tribute paid to that famous line than during the festivities of the October Reunion of the Class of '26. Reassembled were the graduates of that famous year, men and women with faces lined and wrinkled by the past 50 years, but still retaining the pride and spirit in their alma mater it seems no amount of time can erase. They were students of that famous decade, 'the roaring twenties', a generation determined to enjoy life despite the restrictions of Prohibition and the strict rules under which they studied. They succeeded so well in their endeavour that many are still roaring over their escapades of those past days.

We were considered rebellious, indeed wild...hooch and rumble seats...the first co-eds to wear short hair and other things scanty and transparent...our overshoes were never buckled and we refused to wear academic gowns...

Thus Mrs. Kay Ryan in her toast to Queen's described the students of her day. Her testimony was further supplemented by the comments of another '26 alumnus: "The students today are much more level-headed and mature than we ever were...we were haywire...but it was fun!"

Several escapades testify to the spirit of that class. During the course of the evening I had the pleasure of conversing with a very amusing member of the Meds class of '26 who I later discovered was the world-famous Dr. John Lansbury, a man who had, among numerous other accomplishments, been a recent president of the American Rheumatism Association, and is author of the Lansbury Index. It appears that during Dr. Lansbury's days at Queen's, a Whig-Standard reporter had been so presumptuous as to print a slur on the purity of Queen's women. "Of course," the doctor was quick to add with a twinkle in his eye, "we were doing our best to destroy it (the purity) anyway," but nonetheless, the men felt it was their duty to protect the reputation of the fair damsels of Levana. To ensure that the reporter would make no further comments in that direction, they set about to kidnap the unfortunate man. He was taken to the Queen's arena where he was tried and (not surprisingly) found guilty by a court of Queen's students. He was sentenced to run several quick laps around the gym and released with a stiff warning. Unfortunately for the students involved, the reporter pressed charges of kidnapping.

On the advice of several old grads who had some influence in local legal proceedings (it appears Alumni were bailing rambunctious students out of trouble even back then) the abductors were instructed to take a two-week vacation in Toronto so as to be unavailable when the writs were served. A fortnight later, having seen every movie playing in Toronto several times, the students returned to Queen's, nothing more being said about the incident.

It was not just good times back then, though. The students spent many long hours in scholastic pursuits. Another of Dr. Lansbury's fondest memories involves a debate against a team from England before an audience of 1,000 people. The Queen's team (of which he was a distinguished member) outwitted their British opponents over the question of whether to construct a military base at Singapore, and brought Queen's the honour of a victory in international debate.

As my gaze wandered over the aged crowd before me at that Reunion banquet, I realized that many have made their mark not only in Canada but in the world, renowned as doctors, judges, corporate presidents, scientists and authors. The rows of Cadillacs and Mercedes that lined the parking lot were clear evidence that good fortune had indeed shone upon many. But it was not the fame and success that were the most outstanding features evident that night. Rather it was the realization that the friendships they had made at Queen's had remained unchanged through half a century, the spirit they felt for their alma mater was untarnished by the burden of time, and despite the varied circumstances that had governed their lives since they left those limestone walls behind, the bond that held them together back then had not been weakened by the years.

As I walked away from the Holiday Inn that night, it seemed the 50 years that separated my days at Queen's from theirs really held little significance. Although time may have altered the external aspects of Queen's, the experiences we share today are no different from those shared by the students of 50 years ago. There remain those intangible qualities such as friendship, spirit and pride that are the possessions of each generation here in its turn despite the changing circumstances under which they exist.

I look a bit differently at the friends I have encountered since that night, secretly wondering if in 50 years we will have the privilege of being reunited. Will we look back as fondly on these days we spend together as those grads of Arts, Science and Medicine '26 did that night? Within the reminiscence of the Class of '26 there is a message for us here now: "Do the work and do it right." Live your life to the fullest while you can, if for no other reason than to have in your later years the memory of the friendships and experiences you shared together in your youth.

I recall the closing words spoken by Mrs. Ryan as she proposed the toast to the University:

...Tonight as we look at one another, the gods whom we worship have written their lines in our faces this half century, and we must feel a close bond, an appreciation of this world...and we feel the joy of having been together in the stimulating teaching of our alma mater. So, in honour of the past, and for the promise of the future, let us toast our alma mater, Queen's.

SCIENCE '26 — Front row: James L. Fell, Prof. Harold H. Stewart, D. John McDonald, C.S. Neilson and Donald R. MacLeod. Middle: Joseph G. Burley, Keith A. MacKinnon, William W. Beaton, Dr. Leo Marion and Harry Brookins. Back row: William A. Richards, Norman H. King, Arthur G. Clement, Thomas S. Mathieson and Arnold G. Muirhead.

Reunion Years

REUNION

Class of	1977	1978	1979	1980
1980
'79
'78
'77				1977
'76				1976
'75				1975
'74				1974
'73
'72
'71
1970	1970
'69	1969
'68	1968
'67	1967
'66		1966
'65		1965
'64		1964
'63		1963
'62			1962
'61			1961
1960			1960
'59			1959
'58				1958
'57				1957
'56				1956
'55				1955
'54			1954
'53		1953
'52	1952		(25-Year Reunion)
'51
1950	1950
'49	1949
'48/8 1/2	1948/8 1/2
'47		1947
'46		1946
'45		1945
'44		1944
'43			1943
'42			1942
'41			1941
1940			1940
'39				1939
'38				1938
'37				1937
'36				1936
'35
'34
'33
'32	1932
'31	1931
1930	1930			1930
'29	1929		1929
'28		1928
'27	1927		(50-Year Reunions)
'26
'25
'24
'23
'22
'21
'20	1917	(60-Year Reunion)

At the Engineers' Reception, Prof. Jim Bennett, Sc. '58, gets news of Sc. '74 from Mark McWilliam and Peter Donlevy.

Sharing Saturday's Pancake Breakfast are (l-to-r) Duncan Fraser, Sc. '41, his wife Mary, daughter of the late Duncan McArthur, Julie (O'Grady) Clarke, Arts '42, and Jim Clarke, Sc. '41. Both couples have sent three children down to Queen's.

Football fan Harvey Marshall, Sc. '41, was among the alumni interviewed for Golden Words by Nancy Bowes.

COMMERCE '66 — Eight classmates turned up and had a good time. Seated (l-to-r): Roger Porette, Ross Cowan, Paul Myles and Stu Proudfoot. Seated: Harv Rorke, Tom Kinnear, Bill Stafford and Merv Daub.

Kathleen Ryan Foundation: Gift will finance major 'face-lifting'

A highlight of the 50th anniversary celebrations by the Classes of '26 was Principal Watts' announcement that Mrs. Kathleen Ryan of Ottawa is establishing a foundation at Queen's, to be funded to the minimum extent of half a million dollars.

The Kathleen Ryan Foundation will provide for the preservation of buildings in the Old Quadrangle. Specifically, when the Health Sciences departments move into the complex now under construction, the Old Medical Building in the quadrangle will be renovated with a view to housing the University Archives and Special Collections.

A further objective of the Ryan Foundation will be support of CFRC, Canada's oldest continuously broadcasting radio station, set up by the Department of Electrical Engineering in 1922. An experienced broadcaster herself and a graduate of Queen's (Kathleen Whitton, Arts '26), Mrs. Ryan has authorized two grants totalling approximately $35,000 to be made to CFRC before the end of this year to purchase urgently required FM equipment. Part of Mrs. Ryan's concern for CFRC stems from the fact that her late husband, Frank Ryan, B.A. '27, was a student broadcaster at CFRC during its initial years of operation. He later established Ottawa's radio station CFRA.

The Foundation's terms allow for donations from other contributors who wish to support its purposes.

The grandstand is always a favourite pre-game meeting ground. Texas Engineer at left traded hard-hat for Stetson.

Sandy (Dyer) Cook, Arts '56, former drum majorette, pronounced this year's girls 'terrific'.

Mrs. Vera (Skinner) Des Brisay, Arts '26, approved all campus changes except proliferating blue jeans.

Jack Walsworth, Sc. '53, wore his durable freshman tam. His brother Peter, Com. '50, also attended.

Thelma (Rowe) Walsworth, in her Arts '51 tam, enjoyed both parade and game.

Left: As a former bandsman, Al Gretsinger, Arts '56, Theol. '58, lent the music a critical ear and pronounced it good. Below left: Dr. R.E. Ralph, Med. '34, and T. Stanley Mathieson, Sc. '26, attended the Principal's Reception in Grant Hall. Behind them is Charlie Ketheson, Com. '74, Theol. '79, wearing the old Queen's sweater of his father, Samuel Ketheson, Arts '33. Below: Don Venus, in his original Sc. '51 jacket, has two sons at Queen's but can't get used to seeing so many residences on Leonard Field.

Wilderness Missionaries

Religion, Pierre Trudeau has observed, is what commands you. If so, faith and those who speak of faith may matter more than we commonly believe. The surveys — all of which indicate that institutes of religion are losing their old authority — may not measure the real state of faith; statistics do not easily plumb religious depths. The young, for example, do not attend church or synagogue in large numbers, but there is evidence among them of certain questions that are religious in nature...

The boom years are gone, the '50s and '60...In the '60s Canadian church people became more innovative. New forms of worship, new styles of ministry and new emphasis on theology became the vogue.

It is quieter now. The '70s seem years of self-analysis, a time in which the churches are struggling to adjust. "It's a wilderness experience," a United Church minister told us. "We're all lost."

...In such a time, the people in this article face a task that strikes those outside religion as highly implausible — how to speak of God in a world growing deaf to the Word. (They) reflect something of the style and diversity of faith in Canada today...all are taken up with the search to make a special kind of contribution to a world that confuses most of us and many of them.

Robert Bater: Principal of Queen's Theological College (U.C.) in Kingston, and head of the Department of Religion at Queen's University. A Rhodes Scholar, he is highly regarded for his ability to interpret theology in terms of human problems. It may be this gift that is making Queen's a highly sought out theological college. After the declining enrolment of recent years, Queen's this fall will have a class of theological students almost equal to the largest enrolment in its history.

H.R. Stuart Ryan: A professor on the law faculty at Queen's University, Ryan, an Anglican, has been an adviser to his church in matters of procedure and canon law since 1969. He has drawn on his knowledge of church law to argue vigorously that it offers no impediment to the ordination of women. A strong advocate of Anglican-United Church union, Ryan has been a member of St. George's Cathedral in Kingston since 1958, where he has been church warden.

David McLay: A Baptist layman and professor of molecular physics at Queen's University, McLay is one of the most involved members of his church in penal reform. He has worked in three institutions: Kingston, Millhaven and Collins Bay. He's been a key man in Ten Plus, a prisoners' organization for men doing more than 10 years. They help retarded children and work with teenagers in danger of taking the same path they did. A Ph.D. from UBC, McLay has held most positions in his congregation, First Baptist of Kingston.

The three 'missionaries' on page 8 are Queen's men full time. The five shown below are others who have shared their faith with Queen's audiences in recent months as Brockington Visitor (Ryan), Baccalaureate speakers (Baum and Howard), guest of the Faculty of Education (Vanier) and Mathers Memorial Lecturer (Lonergan).

Gregory Baum: His scholarly influence at St. Michael's College, Toronto, was at its peak in the turbulent Sixties, when Roman Catholicism, under Pope John XXIII, began its liberalization. Baum was at centre stage as one of his church's most vigorous voices for a humane and modern Catholicism. Last January, when the Vatican issued a declaration condemning premarital sex, masturbation and homosexuality, Baum criticized the statement as too sweeping and too authoritarian. In recent years he has developed an interest in the sociology of religion. He is a theologian of awareness and courage.

Wilbur Howard: As the current moderator of the United Church, Howard brings a gentle and often witty approach to sermons he delivers across the country. Born and educated in Toronto, he was minister of Emmanuel United Church, Ottawa, and after his appointment as moderator he met with black leaders in South Africa.

Jean Vanier: In 1950, he left a promising career in the Royal Canadian Navy, studied philosophy in Paris, and then, in 1964, founded L'Arche, his famous community for retarded adults just north of Paris. He now has some 80 homes in 11 countries, including India, Haiti, Denmark and Canada. Several hundred retarded adults know the compassionate wisdom of this man, whose mind and heart offer a pre-eminent example of what Christianity is all about.

Gregory Baum

Wilbur Howard

Claude Ryan

Bernard Lonergan

Jean Vanier

Claude Ryan: The pre-eminent journalist of French Canada, Ryan is editor and publisher of Le Devoir in Montreal. He is also one of the few major figures of journalism in Canada who is also a serious and practising Christian, able to discuss prayer as comfortably as politics. Before joining Le Devoir, he served for 17 years as general secretary of Catholic Action in Quebec. A Catholic of liberal religious views, he is also deeply devotional in his personal life.

Bernard Lonergan: At 71, Lonergan, a Jesuit from Toronto's Regis College (currently visiting professor at Boston College), is 'Canada's pre-eminent religious scholar, a man who may fairly be called a giant of the theological world. His books, several written in Latin, have won acclaim from scholars, secular and religious, throughout the world. He is, as students of his work say, a theologian's theologian. He raises the question: "What are we doing when we are doing theology?" Lonergan's answer involves reinterpreting aspects of Thomas Aquinas through methods introduced by the philosopher Immanuel Kant.

Fall Convocation 1976

At the Fall Convocation held on Oct. 30, 1976, in Grant Hall, Queen's conferred a variety of degrees on about 280 new graduates and honorary degrees on two alumni of distinction — Prof. George Grant, Arts '39, grandson of the near-legendary Principal George Monroe Grant, and Gladys Munnings, Arts '33, one of Ontario's first women school inspectors. (Their citations follow.)

Chancellor Roland Michener presided over the ceremonies, which were held both morning and afternoon. He was assisted by Vice-Chancellor Ronald L. Watts and, in the absence of a Rector, by Robert Southam, Chairman of the Board of Trustees.

The 17 degrees and diplomas granted included several that may be new to older alumni. The complete list: Doctor of Philosophy, Master of Science, Master of Science (Engineering), Master of Art Conservation, Master of Laws, Master of Education, Master of Urban and Regional Planning, Master of Public Administration, Diploma in Clinical Psychology, Bachelor of Science, Bachelor of Commerce with Honours, Diploma in Business Administration, Bachelor of Laws, Bachelor of Nursing Science, Bachelor of Science in Rehabilitation Therapy, Bachelor of Education and Diploma in Technological Education.

The morning gathering was reminded by Dr. George Grant that Queen's University is, par excellence, a Canadian university. It is not preoccupied, he said, with becoming a "multiversity", seeking international recognition at the expense of "knowing and teaching". He observed that Queen's had maintained "the just harmony of the university as a whole" rather than becoming a "production factory". "In Canada," he added, "social democracy (of the kind Queen's inculcated in students of his day) is the great restraint on the potential technological tyranny we are moving toward."

This Professor of Religion and Philosophy summed up his Convocation address by saying that universities can avoid becoming multiversities by thinking "of that which transcends the technical at all times and all places ...namely justice."

"When I was at Queen's, I was taught to think of justice. I hope this tradition is still alive and kicking."

Mrs. Pauline Platt kneels with one of her younger classmates to be hooded by Dean Duncan Sinclair and Associate Dean W.C. Lougheed.

Great-grandmother Graduates at 74

There was warm applause when Mary Pauline Vipond Platt received the Chancellor's shoulder-tap making her a Bachelor of Arts and, at 74, the oldest person to be given an earned degree by Queen's. She is the widow of Dr. Garfield Platt, B.A. '06, M.A. '08, M.D., C.M. '12, and the mother of Dorothy Rowell, Arts '50, and John, Arts and I.R. '54. Among the Convocation well-wishers was her brother, Jim Vipond, sports editor of The Globe and Mail. Mrs. Platt taught in country schools near Picton for several years before moving with her husband to Kingston in 1929. She has since become the grande dame of the city's volunteer services. She began her Queen's courses after her retirement in 1960 and had earned nine credits when family illness interrupted. She picked up her studies again in 1974, pressed on to her degree, but is by no means finished with her education. You see, Pauline Platt always wanted to read the classics in their original form; this fall she was back in the lecture hall, studying Latin.

GEORGE PARKIN GRANT, LL.D.

Graduate of Queen's and of Oxford; Fellow of the Royal Society of Canada; distinguished philosopher, inspired and sympathetic teacher; eloquent speaker and broadcaster, provocative writer and polemicist whose voice and action have always obeyed his conscience; a founding father of religion as an independent academic discipline in Canada; a prophet honoured in his own land for the quality and style of his lamentations even by those who question their substance;

Bearer of Queen's most illustrious name, whose own troubled concern for Canada's future is as intense as the more confident temper of his legendary grandfather, who came to elevate Queen's a century ago;

Above all, a close friend and confidant of hundreds upon hundreds of students who have shared his dwelling-place as well as his classroom at Dalhousie and McMaster over the past 30 years and have come to know education through his eyes as an infinite "journey to liberation" in which "certitude is not the test of certainty and repose is not the destiny of man."

GLADYS ROSINA MUNNINGS, LL.D.

Distinguished and loyal graduate of this University; gifted and perceptive teacher; penetrating analyst, deft and sensitive negotiator; whose outstanding performance as a teacher of English and Physical Education marked her for appointment as an Academic Secondary School Inspector in Ontario, the first woman to act in this capacity. She later became, also, the first woman to be Assistant Superintendent of Secondary Education.

As a senior officer of the Department of Education over the past 20 years, she is widely respected for her initiative in improving the teaching of English, for her efforts to advance the education and continuing education of teachers, to establish travel and exchange programs for young people and, most recently, for the development of full career opportunities for women in education.

Above all, she is revered for the warm humanity and courtesy which unfailingly enhanced her relationships with teachers and administrative colleagues throughout the Province.

Her outstanding record of dedicated service and multiple achievement will leave its indelible mark on Ontario education for years to come.

Calgary Police Officer Has a Queen's M.P.A.

It may be entered in the annals of police service in Canada that Harley Johnson received his M.P.A. (Master of Public Administration) on Oct. 30, 1976. Mr. Johnson, B.A. '75, is an officer with the Calgary city police force, and it was the force which sponsored his Master's program at Queen's. Since the end of last summer, Harley has been back in Calgary, using his new skills with the computer to analyze the selection process for new police recruits and, in particular, to pinpoint any psychological factors which would make candidates unsuitable for police work.

In an interview with the Whig-Standard, Mr. Johnson said that police work in Canada is becoming more sophisticated, and that more officers with his qualifications will be needed. He is believed to be the first policeman in Canada to receive an M.P.A. degree.

Tom McCormack (left), M.P.A. '76, chuckles over the police badge under the gown of his classmate, Harley Johnson.

Around the Campus

'It's a carbohydrate world.' Research Institute approved

The Board of Trustees has authorized the establishment at Queen's of an institute to do contractual research in carbohydrate chemistry.

To be known as the Carbohydrate Research Institute and housed in the Chemistry Department, the Institute will accept research contracts from governmental agencies and Canadian industry. Income from contracts will result in a self-supporting operation. Although no special demands on university services are foreseen, contracts negotiated will include overhead charges payable to Queen's.

As contracts warrant, the institute will enlist research associates to work under the supervision of the founding members: Prof. W.A. Szarek, Dr. G.W. Hay and Prof. J.K.N. Jones. Institute members will not be exempt from their normal academic duties or receive any personal remuneration for their affiliation with the institute.

"We live in a carbohydrate world; we eat them, wear them and rely on them when ill," says Professor Szarek. "Carbohydrates, mainly sugar and starches, play a major role in the food, pulp and paper, textile and pharmaceutical industries." Agencies such as the World Health Organization (WHO) have also expressed interest in the institute's research services.

Professor Szarek explains that research will investigate, among other things, the use of carbohydrate derivatives for antibiotics, vitamin compounds, cancer chemotherapy and food sweeteners. A possible project involves the conversion of waste paper into fructose, a natural sweetener much in demand by the food processing industry.

Since the institute will be geared to solving real problems of industry and government, its very presence in the Chemistry Department will enhance the learning experience of students and faculty alike. As a year-round operation, it will also offer students summer employment.

All contracts will be authorized by Queen's School of Graduate Studies and Research, ensuring that projects are consonant with university policy. A director, soon to be named, and a council made up of members of the university community will administer the institute.

Prior to Board approval, the Carbohydrate Research Institute received the support and approval of the Senate and five academic committees.

Getting personal about power pays off in energy savings

First the good news.

Remember "Turn Off for Queen's", the energy-saving program reported last March? It's working. Physical Plant Director Gerry McCahill, Sc. '54, has announced that over the last four years the energy consumption level on campus has been reduced by 31%.

"With the total cost of fuel and electricity rising," he says, "Queen's bill for the fiscal year 1975-76 alone would have been an additional $240,000 without our energy conservation program.

"When energy prices began to escalate in 1971-72, Queen's was consuming 51.5 units of energy annually; by 1974-75, saving measures had reduced this to 41 units; the "turn off" campaign helped to bring us down to the current level of 35 units," he adds. (One unit of energy equals one kilowatt hour per square foot per year.) In the first four months of this fiscal year (1976-77) the energy being used by the University was 6% less than in corresponding months last year. If this trend continues through the 12-month period, costs could be cut by yet another $36,000.

And now the bad news.

Ontario Hydro's rates for consumers in Queen's category have just risen by almost 32%.

Already Queen's is using bulbs with the lowest satisfactory wattage (no more 100-watts where 60 will do); all possible light fixtures have been removed; ventilation fans have automatic switches that turn them on when staff arrives and off at the end of the work day; showers in residence are limited to five minutes; office copiers are on for only two or three hours a day; and Physical Plant is busy redesigning heating and cooling systems to take advantage of heat recovery.

What lies ahead? "If we cut back more on water and light," one student quips, "we may go around campus a little grubbier — but at least in the winter it will be too dark to tell."

Queen's student one of first women to be named a Rhodes Scholar

In December, Jessie Sloan, a fourth-year Queen's student, became the first woman ever named a Rhodes Scholar in Ontario.

Her selection was made possible by an Act of the British House of Commons late last year. Previously, under terms set in 1902, applicants for Rhodes Scholarships were required to display "qualities of manhood". Protests began several years ago, but it took Parliament till 1975 to make discrimination on the basis of sex illegal.

Jessie Sloan is 21, a native of Ottawa, and is in her final year of Geological Sciences. She is the third Queen's geologist to win a Rhodes Scholarship. (The others were in 1924 and 1956.) In her expenses-paid two years at Oxford, she intends to switch fields and study Economics. She has not yet chosen her college.

Miss Sloan has some previous experience of the British school system which she feels will help her adjust to Oxford. From 1971 through '73, she left school in Bell's Corners, Ont., and took part in the International Baccalaureate Program as the Ontario representative to United World College in Wales (Grades 12 and 13).

She was one of 15 females among the applicants for the Rhodes Scholarships in Ontario and is one of four women chosen for the 11 awards made to Canadians. (The other women are from Newfoundland and the Maritimes.) Principal Watts, himself a Rhodes Scholar, noted that the Ontario scholarships are the most difficult to obtain in Canada, since there are students from 15 universities competing for two provincial awards.

In an editorial congratulating Miss Sloan, the Queen's Journal called her award 'the most prestigious and meaningful of academic awards...granted on the basis of superior scholarship and personal achievement.' It went on:

That Jessie should be our third Rhodes Scholar in two years is unique; that she should be Ontario's first female Rhodes Scholar is a great honour....As Principal Watts states, Jessie and Queen's can both be proud. For this, like the two Rhodes Scholarships granted last year, serves as a fine tribute to the academic eminence of Queen's University.

Jessie Sloan, Artsci '77

Deficit less than expected

Queen's operated at a deficit of $873,000 last year, less than the $1.1-million deficit budgeted. Gross revenues for 1975-76 were $46,960,000; operating expenditures were $47,833,000.

Why was the deficit lower than expected? According to Vice-Principal David Bonham (Finance), student enrolment and Ontario Government support were both slightly higher than anticipated.

The operating deficit for the previous year, 1974-75, was $378,000.

Up until last year, Queen's had covered its deficits by taking money from a fund of surpluses accumulated in operating funds from previous years. At the beginning of the 1975-76 year, that accumulated fund was $339,000. This amount was used toward the reduction of the $873,000 deficit, marking the first time in recent history that the University had a deficit both in its operating and accumulated funds.

For 1976-77, Queen's anticipates virtually a break-even situation, with a deficit of about $100,000. At time of writing, Queen's is anxiously awaiting the Government's announcement of its support level for the next year. The deficit situation at Queen's makes government grants even more critical to the operation of the University, according to the Vice-Principal. "Queen's has cut down its operating costs in the most obvious places," he says. "Further reductions would jeopardize the quality of education...We are running out of manoeuvring room."

Around the Campus

Market-value assessment for university taxes?

On behalf of Queen's, David Bonham, Vice-Principal (Finance) recently presented a brief to Ontario's Commission on Property Tax Reform.

The local situation is serious. About 37% of Kingston's total assessment represents tax-exempt properties, of which Queen's and the hospitals account for a large part. The Smith Committee's report to the Province has recommended that universities, hospitals, churches and governments pay full municipal taxes. The Commission is touring the province, collecting feed-back.

According to Vice-Principal Bonham, Queen's supports the principle of full taxation, but only if compensatory grants are provided by the Government. There has been some concern that universities might have to tap their own resources and reserves to pay a portion of the taxes.

The University's brief to the commission argued that Queen's has virtually no capacity to absorb any increased costs without drastically altering the nature of the institution. If student residences, for example, were taxed without any compensating grants, residence fees would have to be increased substantially. The move would prevent many worthy students from attending university because of short-term financial considerations.

Another concern to Queen's is the proposal to move to a full market-value system for assessment. As the Vice-Principal points out, the concept of market value cannot be adapted easily to university facilities.

Rector Mo Chochla

Students elect new Rector; veto free tuition principle

Morris A. (Mo) Chochla is Queen's new Rector, the fourth student in succession to hold the distinguished office since Alan Broadbent's election in 1969 broke the historical pattern of "celebrity" rectors.

Mr. Chochla, an Engineering grad (Sc. '74), is a member of Law '78 and Education Commissioner for the AMS. He is a native of Thunder Bay, Ont.

He sees his chief function as that of 'administrative ombudsman' a liaison between administrators and the student body. As Rector, he is the only student who can vote on the Board of Trustees.

The same day he was elected, students also held an opinion poll on two tuition-related issues. First, they voted against the principle of free university tuition. (The Rector agrees: "I think students should have some responsibility to support the cost of their education.") Second, a majority voted in favour of differential fees for foreign students. (Mr. Chochla pronounced these results "very, very unfortunate," commenting that Queen's is a "conservative institution" and that the vote might be taken as "general support for Ontario government policies.")

Deutsch papers to Archives

The papers and records of Dr. John J. Deutsch have been formally donated to Queen's by his widow, Mrs. Stephanie Deutsch. The material, about 130 cubic feet, reflects the late Principal's interest in and concern about Canadian issues.

In making the gift, Mrs. Deutsch said, "It is reassuring to me to know that my husband's contribution to public policy matters in Canada will be carried on through the donation of his papers and records to his University. I sincerely hope that Queen's scholars will find the collection to be of great value for many years to come."

Prizes for Poets

A grand prize of $1,000 is being offered in a competition sponsored by The World of Poetry, a monthly publication for poets. There are 49 other cash and merchandise awards. Poets wishing to enter may obtain rules and entry forms from World of Poetry, 801 Portola Dr., Dept. 211, San Francisco, Cal. 94127, U.S.A.

Weekend University

Queen's University at Kingston

Donald Gordon Centre

Teaching effectiveness undergoing scrutiny

The Principal has appointed an Advisory Committee on Teaching Effectiveness, headed by Prof. A.R.C. Duncan (Philosophy). He will be assisted by Dr. A.M. Bryans (Paediatrics), student Morris Chochla (Law '78, Queen's new Rector), student Cindi Hall (Arts '77), Prof. G.F. Marsters (Mechanical Engineering), Prof. A. McGhie (Psychology) and Prof. A.H. Munby (Education).

The committee was established to assist the faculties and schools in their efforts to improve their teaching effectiveness and to advise on the allocation for 1976-77 of a special fund ($30,000) for academic development, derived from trust funds.

Management expert new assistant to Principal

Prof. P. Bruce Buchan, a professor in the School of Business and former chairman of the M.B.A. program, has been appointed Executive Assistant to the Principal.

Professor Buchan has taught at Queen's since 1969, especially in the fields of corporate policy and managerial economics. He designed the Business School's Management Simulation Laboratory and for the past three years has directed the summer program in which M.B.A. students assist small businesses in the Kingston area.

The Weekend University at the Donald Gordon Centre for Continuing Education offers a unique approach to life-long learning and enjoyment among old friends, new acquaintances and scholars from Queen's faculty. Arrive on Friday evening for complimentary cocktail reception, dinner and opening session. Leave on Sunday after lunch. All-inclusive fee covers Friday evening reception, all gourmet meals, lodging and seminars. Bar available. Single: $100 per weekend. Couple: $175. Senior citizens and students: 15% discount

MARCH 18-20 (Seminar 77-1)

THE PROCESS OF POLITICS

The practical workings of politics in Canada. Discuss the How's and Why's of the system before policy or legislation is announced or presented. Discussion leaders include Professors H.C. Thorburn, T.C. Plunkett and E.R. Black of Queen's; Mr. Jack McNie, former Minister in the Government of Ontario; and others.

MARCH 25-27 (Seminar 77-2)

A WEEKEND OF DRAMA

Canadian actress FRANCES HYLAND will offer her insights into the play in general and Canadian theatre in particular. Also involved in discussions and workshops will be Prof. William (Doc) Angus, "father" of drama at Queen's, playwright Maurice Breslow, current head of Drama, professor-actor-set designer Russ Waller, and others from the Department of Drama. Included in the weekend program is a performance by Queen's Drama Department of Molière's Tartuffe.

APRIL 15-17 (Seminar 77-3)

ARMS, THE MAN, AND THE UNIFORM

Delve into the Battles of Trafalgar and Waterloo and the military scene of the period. Who was involved? Why were they involved? What did they do? Spend a weekend analyzing this vital period of military history with experts in the field: Don Schurman, Naval Historian, Queen's; Barry Hunt, Military Historian, R.M.C.; Lou Karchmar, Military Historian, Queen's; George Betts, Political Historian, Queen's; and Ron Haycock, Military Antiquarian.

APRIL 22-24 (Seminar 77-4)

MORAL EDUCATION IN A SECULAR SOCIETY

Where should it take place: In the home? In the schools? In church? How? When? Spend a weekend with philosophers and political scientists discussing this vital question. Among the discussants will be Professors A.M. Macleod and P.S. Ardal of Queen's Philosophy; Dr. Clive Beck, Co-ordinator of Graduate Studies at O.I.S.E.; and Prof. John Meisel, Political Studies, Queen's and Yale.

Write to: Dr. H.O. Helmers, Donald Gordon Centre, Queen's University, Kingston, Ont. K7L 3N6, or phone (613) 547-5529

Around the Campus

News from the Trustees about gifts and bequests

At recent meetings of the Board of Trustees and its Executive Committee, the following gifts and bequests have been gratefully acknowledged and allocated:

Ronald M. BATTERY Memorial Scholarship. The family, classmates and friends of the late Ron BATTERY, B.Com. '67, have contributed $2,660 to date for a final-year Commerce award (current value $185). This fund, and all other memorials listed, are still open to gifts from friends.

Palmer Hoar Memorial Book Prize. A fund of $1,000 from the family of the late Palmer Hoar, B.A. '68 (Hon. Economics), M.A. '69, will provide an annual book prize (worth about $80) to a student of Intermediate Micro Theory.

David R. McDougall Memorial Scholarship. Parents, classmates and friends of the late David McDougall, B.Com. '74, have presented about $7,000 to fund a final-year Commerce award (current value $400).

Dr. Robert J. Perry Memorial Fund. A fund of $5,500 in memory of Dr. Perry, B.A. '62, M.D. '64, a member of the Ophthalmology Department when he died in December 1975, has been established by his classmates and colleagues. Income from the fund will bring eminent ophthalmologists to visit Queen's faculty and students.

Canada Packers Ltd. Award. Canada Packers has undertaken to support an annual award of $200 in the Department of Chemical Engineering.

Ready Mixed Concrete Association of Ontario Scholarship. This

Association is offering a $500 annual scholarship in the final year of the Civil Engineering program.

Edwin Pirie Bequest. Mr. Pirie, B.A. 1888, died in 1942, leaving a complex will. Queen's has now received about $10,000 from his estate.

Anne Gertrude O'Farrell Bequest. Mrs. J.E. O'Farrell (Anne McAllister), B.A. '22, left Queen's $5,000 to set up awards in Applied Science — one in first-year Engineering (currently $150) and one in Physical Geography (also $150).

George E. Lewis Gift. Mr. Lewis of Lewistown, N.Y., Sc. '22, who has been a generous benefactor for many years, has made another gift of $25,000 to Queen's. It has been allocated to the Chaplain's Fund, the Department of Chemistry (for a high-pressure gel permeation chromatograph) and the Department of Chemical Engineering (for a gas chromatograph with integrator).

Gift from Dr. Amos Friend. An additional $6,000 (23 shares of IBM stock) has been given by Dr. Amos Friend, M.D. '22, to support the annual Visiting Professorship he established in memory of his brothers, Dr. A. William Friend, B.A. '27, M.D. '29, and Dr. Austin Friend, M.D., C.M. '24.

Jean Campbell Sykes Bequest. Mrs. Sykes, widow of Paul Sykes, B. Com. '23, honoured her husband's intention of benefitting Queen's Library by willing more than $13,000 to the Alumni Association. The bequest was her husband's "mark of respect for and gratitude to Queen's University" and a memorial to his father, W.J. Sykes, long-time librarian of Carnegie Public Library, Ottawa.

Gift from Mr. and Mrs. R.W. Beattie. R.W. Beattie, B.Sc. '24, M.Sc. '25, and his wife have given Queen's a mortgage on a property in Guelph, Ont. The University is now entitled to collect both principal and interest on the property.

Rockefeller Foundation Grant. In appreciation of the cordial reception given to Rockefeller Fellows choosing to study at Queen's, the Rockefeller Foundation has provided Queen's with an unrestricted grant of $2,000. It will be used in the Biology Department, where the most recent Rockefeller Fellow, Harvey Lerer, studied in 1975-76.

McKeen Foundation Grant. This Montreal foundation has made annual contributions to Queen's since 1972. This year it provided $2,000 for scholarships and bursaries.

Search Committees at work

The Principal has announced the appointment of search committees to advise him concerning the headships of several departments, as follows:

- Geological Sciences — to succeed Prof. Ray A. Price, effective June 30.
- Physics — to succeed Prof. George T. Ewan, who has asked to be replaced by Aug. 31.
- Metallurgical Engineering. Dr. W.B.F. Mackay's current term expires on June 30.
- Chemical Engineering. Prof. John

Prof. John Meisel

Padre Laverty

Goodridge Roberts

Downie's current term expires on June 30.

• English. Prof. J.M. Stedmond's current term ends on June 30.

• Economics. Prof. D.C. Smith's current term expires on June 30.

• French. Prof. M. Vernet will continue as Acting head only until June

When a search committee is set up, it is now the practice for students and members of faculty to submit the names of candidates, and also to comment on the present state and future development of the departments in question.

Queen's Quarterly: Winter

'Socking It to the Scholars', Stephen Clarkson's account of the first National Conference of the Social Science Research Council of Canada, leads the line-up on the Quarterly's winter issue. There are also four poems by the distinguished P.K. Page.

S.A. Longstaff writes about the literary intellectuals of "The New York Family"; fiction writer Joyce Carol Oates contributes "Walled City"; and "The Problem of Language in Margaret Atwood's Surfacing" is discussed.

The editors turned up a previously unpublished essay on "The Poetry of Byron" by 19th Century Canadian poet Archibald Lampman.

There is commentary on Prof. Symons' Canadian Studies report, To Know Ourselves, plus reviews dealing with such subjects as children's plays, Freud and his circle, civil liberties and the courts, and Canadian business history.

Remembrance Day surprise

The largest crowd since the immediate postwar years filled Grant Hall to overflowing for the annual Remembrance Day service on Nov 11.

The traditional participation by the Principal and the AMS President was enhanced by the performance of Queen's Choral Ensemble, with its special Cantata Group, trumpeter John Palmer and organist Douglas Atkinson.

The new 'whole world' tone of the service was emphasized in the prayer by Padre Laverty:

Hear us, O Lord our God, as we remember before Thee those who for the sake of peace made war, and especially those who went out and did not return, giving up their to-day for our tomorrow. Keep us ever mindful that we are heirs of men and women who fought, suffered and died for what is dearer than life and does not die with death.

We confess that we are not worthy of their sufferings and sacrifice, for we have neither sought with our whole heart the justice, goodwill and peace they died to gain for us, nor kept the vows which in time of trouble and danger we took upon our lips.

For the victims of war, the wounded and the bereaved, the families divided and destroyed, the children frightened and starving, O Lord, hear our prayer and let our cry come unto Thee.

O Thou who art the Father of the whole family of man, bless the peacemakers and increase the spirit of tolerance, trust and compassion so that justice, goodwill and peace may yet be established.

Grant to Art Centre

The Agnes Etherington Art Centre has received its first-ever program assistance grant from the Ontario Arts Council — $11,000 to support current and upcoming exhibitions.

The first to receive Council assistance was French Lithography: The Restoration Salons 1817-24, a major exhibition incorporating a generous loan of material from the Bibliothèque Nationale, Paris. Others given a boost include a large exhibition of drawings by the late Goodridge Roberts, Queen's first artist-in-residence (till Feb. 6).

John Meisel's at Yale as a 'Bicentennial Gift'

Prof. John Meisel, probably Queen's best-known political scientist, took leave for 1976-77 to be the first visiting professor in Canadian Studies at Yale University in Connecticut. He was Yale's first choice to hold the chair which the Canadian Government is supporting for five years as a bicentennial gift.

Professor Meisel reports keen interest among his new students in Canadian politics, heightened by the Quebec election, and credits Yale with a remarkable collection of books for Canadian studies. Canadian texts are being used exclusively for his two courses.

It has been noted that interest in the history, culture and society of Canada is increasing in other countries, as well. A Society for Canadian Studies was recently organized in Britain, and in Germany Canadian Literature courses are proliferating.

Remember...

If you have a new address, please cut off the address label from your copy of the REVIEW and mail it, along with the following information to:

Alumni Office
Queen's University,
Kingston, Ont. K7L 3N6

NAME

DEGREE/YEAR

NEW ADDRESS

(include Postal Code where applicable)

(Remember to send your old address label)

PHONE NUMBER

ANY NEWS about you we should have in the Review? (Births, marriage, promotion, honours, change of job, etc.)

If you receive The Queen's Review but do not receive notices of local Branch activities, please let us know.

The Alumni Office would appreciate your help in locating these grads who have become

LOST TRAILS

1960-69

FRASER, Douglas Bruce, Arts, P.H.E. '67
GUERRIERO, Joseph Anthony, M.Sc. (Arts) '68

HARPELL, Dr. Gary Allen, Artsci '60, M.Sc. '61

HAWLEY, Margaret Sheila, Arts '61

HAYHOE, Marilyn June, Ed. '69

HEALEY, David Earl, Com. '69

KRUSE, Arthur Edward, Law '69

LISTON, Terrence, B.A. '69

LOCKYER, Dr. Linda Victoria, Arts '62

LU, Adolph, Artsci '64

LUNAU, Terrence Carmen, Arts, P.H.E. '64

LUOMA, Donald Allan Walter, Arts '69

MADSEN, Mrs. O.S. (Jane Likely Brown), Arts '65

MALKIN, Mrs. B. (Donne Marie H. Benson), B.A. '68 (fall)

MARTIN, William Stephen, Arts '66

MATHESON, Elizabeth Carol Anne, Arts '68

MAVRITSAKIS, Mrs. P. (Doreen Irma Craig), B.A. '63

MAYER, Renate Ursula, Arts '68

MAULE, Christopher John, M.A. '64

McBRIDE, Dwight Howard, Ed. '69

McCULLOUGH, John Crawford, Arts '64

McDONNELL, Frances Anne, Arts '69

PAULIN, Mrs. J.N.S. (Mary Patricia Robertson), N.Sc. '68

PECS, Mrs. E., B.A. '69

PEEBLES, Clifford Wayne, B.A. '69

PEIKERT, Wolfgang Rudyard, Arts '67

PEIKERT, Mrs. W.R. (Lynn M.I. McCaw), Arts '67

PETTIT, John Michael, Arts, P.H.E. '62

PETTIT, Mrs. Wayne (Joan Marie Trevithick), Arts '63

PETTY, Donald, B.A. '61

PHILLIPS, George Earl, B.A. '69

PHILLIPS, Mrs. G. E. (Linda G. Steele), Arts '68

PILGRIM, Dr. William Robert, Ph.D. '69

PILGRIM, Mrs. W.R. (Lana Delores Wilson), Arts '65

PIPES, Mrs. Kenneth, Arts '64

PITTS, Gordon Arthur, Arts '69, Ed. '70

REID, Leslie Mary Margaret, Arts '68

REIST, Margaret Iranette, B.A. '69

RHODES, Barbara Anne, Arts '68

SCHWARTZMAN, Violet Magdalen, B.A. '69

SCOTT, Dr. David Ian, Med. '64

SEAVER, Mrs. D.J. (Cheryl Lynne Metcalf), Arts '66

SEBESTIK, Frank J.A., B.A. '63, M.B.A. '65

SELMAN, Lillian May, B.A. '69

TODD, Dr. Thomas R.J., Med. '69

WERRY, Raymond Arnold, B.A. '67, Law '70

WERRY, Mrs. R.A. (Heather Ann Buchanan), B.A. '69

WEST, Mrs. Eric Neil, Arts '64

WHITE, James Worthington, Arts '67

WHITMAN, Mrs. Mary Ann (Kernychny), Arts '69

1970-76

FORTUNE, Elizabeth Ann, Ed. '71

FRASER, David Bruce, Arts '74

FRASER, Mrs. Douglas (Elizabeth Jane Burman), Arts, Ed. '72

GRATZER, Julianne, Ed. '71

GRAYSON, George Gerald, M.Sc. (Arts) '70

GREENWAY, Walter Merrick, Ed. '70

GUDZIUNAS, Rita-Marija Viktorija, Ed. '71

GURNEY, Gretchen Barbara, Arts '71

HART, Nancy Susan, Ed. '74

HATFIELD, Christie Tisdale, M.Sc. (Arts) '70

HAW, Owen, B.A. '71, Law '74

HAYMAN, Donald Eunice, Arts '70

HEILIG, Margaret Elizabeth, Arts '72

KOEPKE, Fred, Ed. '73

LISCOMBE, Kenneth Sidney, Ed. '73

LISCOMBE, Mrs. K.S. (Nancy Ann Blair), Ed. '71

LOW, Maureen Anita, Arts '72

LYNE, Daniel Colman, Ed. '73

MANTROP, Kenneth Berton, Arts '74

MATHESON, Margaret Nielda Dawn, B.A. '71

McCORMICK, Lynda Lou, Ed. '71

McDONOUGH, John Edward, M.A. '71

PAULIN, James Nicholas Stewart, B.A. '70

PEACE, Dr. Neil, Med. '73

PHILLIPS, William George Benedict, Med. '70

PIRIE, Dr. James, Ph.D. '71

REID, Bruce Allan, Com. '71

REYNARD, Martin David, Dip. Psych. '72

SCHWEIGER, Gabrielle, Arts '72

SCOTT, Douglas Boyd, Ed. '73

SEARSON, Dr. Arthur Gabriel, Dip. Med. Radiology '72

SEWARD, Mrs. R.B. (Shirley Ruth Dubois), Arts '74

TODD, John Robert, B.A. '71

WEST, James Moreton, M.Sc. (Arts) '72

Letters

Dear Mr. Principal,

My husband and I would like to tell you how favourably impressed we are with Queen's University.

Ourselves and two children have gone to another university. Our first impression of Queen's came when our son received a refusal from the Faculty of Medicine. Someone had taken time to explain the huge number of applications received and the large number of qualified people who had to be refused acceptance. It was not one of those "We regret to inform you..." notes (which sound like a death announcement in wartime) that he received from other universities. When he was accepted this year at McMaster, Queen's alone wrote to congratulate him. This letter took time and effort and was greatly appreciated for its humanity.

This fall one of our twin daughters went to Queen's. When we took her to Adelaide Hall, we were greeted by students who took all her bags. A large paper daisy was on her residence door, with "Welcome Nancy" on it. A girl immediately greeted her and introduced her to her neighbours. We parents were greeted and given coffee and cookies.

I was so moved and grateful for this greeting to Nancy that tears came to my eyes. I was also feeling sorry for her sister, who was with us. We had earlier installed her at another university after spending a great deal of time finding her room, carrying her bags and settling her in, alone. Not one person greeted her.

The pre-registration information that Nancy received was written with care and thoughtfulness for the individual. Yes, they were form letters, but someone had made an effort to make the student feel like a human being and not a number.

The prefect on Nancy's floor at Adelaide wrote her a personal letter in advance, telling her when to come, what extras to bring to make her room more personal, etc. Her Orientation was well planned. She had fun and made friends.

Having come from a small town with small schools where everyone called me by name, I have felt sorry for my children and others in their bouts with computers. The efforts of Queen's to keep its "humanity" are especially appreciated.

Sincerely,
MRS. J. ANDERSON,
Oshawa, Ont.

Dear Ms. Morton:

You and your staff are to be commended highly for the excellent work you do in furnishing the alumni with the Queen's Review. I value the Review highly, as it is my main source of information on current campus activities and other alumni....My thanks to all those involved.

Sincerely,
ROBERT L. SEAMAN, Sc. '54
San Jose, California

An Open Letter to Alumni:

We know that there are many of you who have been and are still interested in our intercollegiate athletic programs. There are also many among you who attend various athletic contests in your home areas in which young people participate — young people who might contribute to Queen's athletic programs in the future.

It is our hope that you may find the time to pass along to us some names and addresses of potential student athletes, so that we may contact them and inform them of the benefits of attending Queen's.

You, as alumni, particularly appreciate that Queen's offers the highest quality education, a school spirit second to none, a high degree of personal involvement with other students, and a beautiful campus with exceptional facilities. You are also the best 'representative' for Queen's, as you are in a position to tell a candidate what this university meant to you as a student and what benefits have accrued to you from attending Queen's. Therefore, any extra effort that you may make in telling a prospect about Queen's will be much appreciated.

Additionally, as alumni, you are aware of the calibre of students that attend Queen's and of our high standards of admission. With that knowledge, you are in a good position to judge whether a prospect has the potential to succeed in Queen's academic program.

We will be pleased to send you both the men's and women's athletic schedules if you think you and/or a prospective student could attend one or more of our events at home or away during the rest of this season.

Hopefully, you will accept this note as suggesting one avenue for directing a student athlete toward your old Alma Mater. We and our coaches will always welcome them.

A.L. LENARD, Arts '49, P.H.E. '50,
Director,
Men's Intercollegiate Athletics

J.F. EDWARDS, Arts '37,
Acting Director,
Women's Intercollegiate Athletics,
Athletics Office,
Physical Education Centre,
Queen's University

MEMO TO:

Queen's Alumni attending the Annual Meeting of the
CANADIAN PULP AND PAPER
ASSOCIATION in Montreal and Members of the Montreal Branch,
Queen's Alumni

There will be a

QUEEN'S ALUMNI LUNCHEON

Wednesday, February 2, 1977

11.45 - 1.45

Cash Bar Sit-down luncheon

at

COMMERCE HOUSE

(Montreal Board of Trade)

1080 Beaver Hall Hill,

Room 26, Third Floor

GUEST SPEAKER:

Dr. Ronald L. Watts.
Principal and Vice-Chancellor,
Queen's University

ADVANCE ORDER FORM

TO: Alumni Office, Queen's University, Kingston, Ont. K7L 3N6

Please send me _____ tickets at $8.00 per person to the QUEEN'S

ALUMNI LUNCHEON. My cheque for $_____ (Payable to Queen's Alumni Association) is enclosed

NAME: _____
(please print)

ADDRESS: _____

At the Branches

A Good Mixer in Montreal

Roger Barrie, Arts '49, and his wife Eula hosted the season's opener for the Montreal Branch — a cocktail party on Nov. 13. The invitation to both grads and friends of Queen's to "make up a party" led to an evening of fun and good fellowship. Organizers included Shirley Cohen, Glenna Lorimer, Joan Miller and Barbara Rogers.

Only the Dancing Is Square

For Ottawa alumni, it was six hours of fun for $6.00 when the annual Country Supper rolled 'round on Nov. 6. Members congregated again this year at the community centre in the nearby village of Richmond. Convener David Daubney, Arts '70, reports that the square-dancing started after supper and went on till midnight.

For Ottawa Alumnae — Coffee Olé

When the Ottawa Alumnae Branch convened a coffee party on Nov. 13, it was in earnest. Irish and Spanish coffee sparked the array of coffee and cakes at the home of hostess Bette (Ohlke) Flindall, Arts '46. Convener was Janet (MacDonnell) New, Arts '46.

The traditional money basket was on hand for donations to Alumnae-supported projects such as the Marty Memorial Scholarship and the new fund started by Ottawa friends in memory of Mary Elliott, Arts '49. (See Names in the News.)

Niagara Alumni Canvassed

If you're a graduate or former student living in the Niagara Peninsula, you should have received a questionnaire this past fall from Alan D. MacKinnon, Sc. '67, Law '74, of St. Catharines.

He proposes forming a new branch for the Niagara Peninsula, a group that could act as organizer and intermediary for various Queen's functions and reunions and which on its own could arrange twice-yearly functions...with a minimum of expense and maximum of enjoyment. If you wish more information, please contact Alan at P.O. Box 193, St. Catharines, or call 684-8393.

Pot Luck a Tradition Now

As for the London ladies, the Alumnae Branch there held their traditional Pot Luck Supper on Nov. 24 at the home of Mrs. Barbara (Kirkwood) Mills, Arts '64, Branch Secretary. Entry fee was a casserole, salad, dessert or $4.00. President for 1977 is Chris Townsend, Arts '70.

London Breaks the Bank

About 50 London area alumni met for their Branch's annual dinner on Nov. 5 and elected their new executive. The sumptuous buffet dinner was held at the old Chamber of Commerce, and since it was "break the bank" night, pre-dinner drinks were free. Following a brief business meeting after dinner, the bar was reopened and, according to retiring President Chuck Lemmon, a fine social evening ensued.

London's officers for 1976-77 are Ron Martindale, Arts '66, President; Floyd James, Sc. '61, 1st Vice-President; John Partridge, Artsci

'66, 2nd Vice-President; and Stu Robb, Sc. '36, Secretary-Treasurer. Dr. Don Zarfes, Med. '52, Dr. Jean Zarfes, also Med. '52, and Alan Ingram, Law '74, are Directors.

The Branch plans a wine and cheese party next month (February) and a combination Spring Bash and 1977 Annual Meeting in June.

Good news from our grads in Geneva

Dear Friends:

Fred Sallis, Mus. '76, and I organized a dinner party for Queen's alumni in Geneva and hope news of this will interest and benefit other Queen's alumni in Switzerland and the rest of Europe, as well. It was held in Les Amures restaurant in old town Geneva on Oct. 22, 1976.

Attending were D.M. Beresford, Arts '70, and Mrs. Beresford (Peggy Cowan), Arts '70, W. Frank Stone, Arts '49, and Mrs. Stone (Joan Elizabeth Shore), Arts '49, Geoffrey M. Edmonds, Dip. Bus. Admin. '73, Mrs. P.R. Oxenham (Jennifer Woolcombe), Arts '58, Mr. Sallis and myself.

Anyone in Europe wishing information on what Queen's alumni in Switzerland are doing and who wish to become involved should write to me (address below) or to Fred Sallis, 2 Rue du Gothard, 1225 Chêne-bourg, Genève, Suisse. We hope that with time the European alumni can make a worthwhile contribution to Queen's.

(MISS) DORION CARMICHAEL, Mus. '75, Schweizergasse 37, 4054 Basel, Suisse.

Here's Fred Sallis' snapshot of the get-together in Geneva. Left to right around the table: Geoffrey Edmonds' back, Frank Stone, Peggy Beresford, Dorion Carmichael (in tam), Joan Stone, Jennifer Oxenham and D.M. Beresford.

DISTINGUISHED SERVICE AWARD

All members of the Alumni Association are eligible to nominate anyone who, in their opinion, merits the University Council's Distinguished Service Award. The terms of the award are as follows:

1. Awarded by the Queen's University Council.
2. Potential recipients include anyone in the "entire Queen's family." The inscription will read: "Awarded to.....by Queen's University Council for Distinguished Service to Queen's University."
3. This award, a prestigious honour, is granted normally to not more than four persons per year.
4. Nominations are to be made to the Secretary of the University Council in writing by February 28 in the year of the award, and must be signed by at least five members of the Council or of the Queen's Alumni Association.
5. The Executive of the Council reviews the nominations and chooses the candidates for the award.
6. The award is presented normally at the time of the annual meeting of the Council. In exceptional circumstances, the Executive may make and present an award at any time.
7. Recipients of the award become honorary Life Members of the University Council.

Holder to date of the Distinguished Service Award are H.G. Conn, Jean I. Royce, Ian MacLachlan, J.E. Wright, Robert L. Dunsmore, Dr. Norman Garand, H.R.S. Ryan and Frank Tindall.

Names in the News

Births

Bando — To Wayne E. Bando, Sc. '68, and Mrs. Bando, Aurora, Ont., Sept. 28, 1976, their chosen daughter (Kimberly Ann Maria), sister for Kevin.

Berry — To Dan Berry, Sc. '72, and Mrs. Berry (Gwen Davison), Arts '72, Labrador City, Nfld., April 1, 1976, a son (David Schofield), brother for Chad and Andy.

Breck — To Alan Breck, Sc. '70, M.Sc. (Arts) '72, Ed. '73, and Mrs. Breck, Kingston, Ont., May 17, 1976, a son (Colin Stewart).

Brown — To J. Nicholas Brown, Sc. '64 (M.A.Sc., Waterloo), and Mrs. Brown (Susan Anderson), Arts '64 (B.Ed., Bishop's), Toronto, Ont., Sept. 19, 1976, a son (Alexander Russel), brother for Janet.

Cheeseman — To Jim Cheeseman and Mrs. Cheeseman (Terry Cinkant), Sc. '72, Ottawa, Ont., Oct. 22, 1976, a daughter (Kerri Lynne), sister for Kelly.

Chick — To Robert Chick, Sc. '69, and Mrs. Chick (Ann Algire), Arts, P.H.E. '69, Cobourg, Ont., July 20, 1976, a daughter (Susan Claire), sister for Daniel. Mr. and Mrs. Chick live at 175 Abbott Blvd., Cobourg.

Conroy — To George Conroy and Mrs. Conroy (Marion Powell), Com. '64, Ottawa, Ont., July 15, 1976, a daughter (Mary Allison). The Conroys live at 62 Wigan Dr., Ottawa.

Culley — To Major Michael P. Culley (RMC), and Mrs. Culley (Aija Rupners), Arts '67, P.H.E. '68, Ed. '69, Greenwood, N.S., Sept. 15, 1976, a son (Peter Michael), brother for Tara Elizabeth, born Nov. 18, 1973.

Decker — To Jim Decker, Sc. '70, and Mrs. Decker (Sophie Martschuk), Arts, Ed. '70, Schefferville, Que., Sept. 2, 1976, a son (Colin James), brother for Allison.

Doig — To Ronald H. Doig, Arts '70, and Mrs. Doig, Mississauga, Ont., Sept. 1976, a daughter (Allison Janice), sister for Ian.

Dorey — To John J. Dorey, Arts '69, and Mrs. Dorey (Teresa Dowling), Arts '72, Napanee, Ont., Feb. 16, 1976, a daughter (Michelle Elizabeth), sister for Kevin John.

Edwards — To Dr. Gordon L. Edwards, Med. '71, and Mrs. Edwards, Etobicoke, Ont., Aug. 4, 1976, a daughter (Stephanie Jane), sister for Kevan and Jenny.

Evans — To Dr. Barrie Evans, M.A. '72, Dip. Clin. Psych. '73, Ph. D. '74 (B.A., Strathclyde, Glasgow), and Mrs. Evans (Marion Camm), Arts '70, M.A. '71, Ed. '72, London, Ont., Aug. 20, 1976, a daughter (Emma Miranda); niece for Frank H. Camm, Arts '73, M.P.A. '74, and Richard W. Camm, Arts '75.

Evans — To T. P. Evans, Ed. '70 (B.A., Moncton, M.Ed., Ottawa), and Mrs. Evans (B.A., Moncton), Sudbury, Ont., April 10, 1976, a chosen daughter (Chantal Emmanuelle). Mr. Evans is Director of Adult Training Division at Cambrian College in Sudbury, Ont.

Favre — To J. D. Favre and Mrs. Favre (Frances Dunn), Arts '63, Geneva, Switzerland, Aug. 11, 1976, a daughter (Barbara Louise), sister for Caroline Frances, born Sept. 20, 1973.

Fletcher — To Tom Fletcher, Sc. '70, and Mrs. Fletcher, Toronto, Ont., June 22, 1976, twin boys (David William and Andrew Thomas).

Froh — To Capt. R. D. Froh (RMC), and Mrs. Froh (Susan Toye), Arts '73, Hamilton, Ont., June 2, 1976, a son (Gregory John). Capt. and Mrs. Froh live in Petawawa, Ont.

Galloway — To W. R. Galloway, M.A. '75 (B.Sc. Witwatersrand, M.A., St. Andrews), and Mrs. Galloway, Kingston, Ont., Aug. 9, 1976, a son (Alexander James).

Garside — To Chris Garside and Mrs. Garside (Karla Horcica), Arts, Ed. '69, Ottawa, Ont., Oct. 21, 1975, a son (David Charles), brother for Graham Scott.

Giles — To George E. Giles, Sc. '70 (M.Eng., Western), and Mrs. Giles (Linda Mary Tatlock), Arts '70, Victoria, B.C., July 24, 1976, a daughter (Susan Christina), sister for Andrew.

Ginn — To Peter C. Ginn, Sc. '72, and Mrs. Ginn (Alison Davey), Rehab '72, Acton, Ont., Sept. 28, 1976, a son (Stuart Mitchell), brother for Matthew Constantine; born Dec. 31, 1974.

Gosse — To Dr. Gordon Gosse, Med. '66, and Mrs. Gosse, Ottawa, Ont., Sept. 1, 1976, a son (Matthew Gordon). Dr. Gosse is director of Emergency, Eastern Ontario Children's Hospital in Ottawa.

Hargest — To Donald Hargest, M.B.A. '71 (B.A., RMC), and Mrs. Hargest (KGH), Bowmanville, Ont., Sept. 18, 1976, a son (Charles Allan), brother for Bradley.

Harris — To Peter L. Harris, Arts '71 (M.Ed., Toronto), and Mrs. Harris (Anne Stephen), Arts '74, Elliot Lake, Ont., July 3, 1976, a daughter (Heather Melissa), sister for Carly; granddaughter for Andrew Stephen, Com. '49.

Holden — To Tom Holden, Sc. '69, and Mrs. Holden, Montreal, Que., Sept. 7, 1976, a son (Geoffrey James). Mr. Holden has returned to the Canadian Broadcasting Corp. after a year's travel around the world, with a stopover of 1 1/2 years in Sydney, Australia.

Hunter — To David R. Hunter, Sc. '72, and Mrs. Hunter (Barbara Crowell), Arts '72, Ottawa, Ont., Oct. 14, 1976, a daughter (Megan Lynn).

Hayes — To David Hayes and Mrs. Hayes (Ann Wright), Arts '70, Montreal, Que., July 24, 1976, a son (Patrick Ronald).

Hazen — To Bob Hazen, Com. '71 (M.B.A., York), and Mrs. Hazen, Brampton, Ont., Sept. 12, 1976, a daughter (Elaine Theresa), sister for Douglas.

Jahn — To George Jahn and Mrs. Jahn (Joan Besley), Arts '68, Hamilton, Ont., Oct. 6, 1976, a son (Darren Robert), grandson for J. Lester Besley, Arts '42.

Jamieson — To A. Alan Jamieson, Ed. '73 (M.A., Carleton), and Mrs. Jamieson (B.A., Western), Timmins, Ont., July 2, 1976, a son (Neil Alan).

Jenney — To William P. Jenney, Sc. '62 (M.S., Arizona), and Mrs. Jenney (B.A., Arizona), Elma, N.Y., Sept. 24, 1976, a daughter (Nancy Jean), sister for Kevin, Neal and Ian.

Johnston — To Jamie Johnston, Arts '68, M.A. '69 (M.B.A., U.B.C.), and Mrs. Johnston (KGH), Toronto, Ont., Aug. 12, 1976, a daughter (Kristina Jane), sister for J.J. and Jeffrey.

Kahar — To George Kahar, Arts '62, and Mrs. Kahar (Carol Jessop), Arts '63, C.F.B. Borden, Ont., Sept. 5, 1976, a son (Hendrik Olev), brother for Andres and Kersti.

Karvinen — To Dr. W. O. Karvinen, Arts '68, Ph.D. '74 (M.Sc., U.B.C.), and Mrs. Karvinen, Timmins, Ont., Sept. 15, 1976, a daughter (Kristina Helena), sister for Erik.

Kennedy — To Daniel A. Kennedy and Mrs. Kennedy (Sharon Hatfield), Arts '69, Hazeldean, Ont., June 30, 1976, a daughter (Alison Sara).

Kennedy — To Larry Kennedy, Arts, P.H.E. '75, Ed. '76, and Mrs. Kennedy, Oshawa, Ont., Sept. 20, 1976, a son (Adam Wesley). Mr. Kennedy is a Mathematics teacher at George Vanier Secondary School in North York, Toronto, Ont.

Laverty — To Brian Laverty (B.A., Waterloo-Lutheran), and Mrs. Laverty (Ruth Anne Garrett), Arts '68 (M.A., Wilfred Laurier), Elkhart, Ind., Aug. 29, 1976, a son (Paul Wesley), brother for Earl and Juanita.

Light — To David F. H. Light, Ed. '73 (B.A., Windsor), and Mrs. Light, North Bay, Ont., May 8, 1975, a son (Gordon Thomas). Mr. Light has been employed by Scollard Hall, North Bay, Ont., since September 1973.

MacDougall — To Roderick R. MacDougall, Arts '64, Law '66, and Mrs. MacDougall, Toronto, Ont., Sept. 8, 1976, a daughter (Susan Elizabeth), sister for Nancy. Mr. and Mrs. MacDougall live at 194 Strathallan Blvd., Toronto, Ont.

Maclean — To Rev. Donald Maclean, Arts '67, Theol. '72 (M.A., McMaster), and Mrs. Maclean (Lynne Sneddon), Arts '69, Chapleau, Ont., Oct. 6, 1976, a son (David Hugh), brother for Alistair Donald.

Marshall — To Robert J. Marshall, Arts '72 (B.Ed., M.Ed., Toronto), and Mrs. Marshall, Mississauga, Ont., Sept. 9, 1976, a daughter (Tara Christine), sister for Julie and Erin.

Martin — To M. James Martin, Sc. '70 (M.Sc., Stanford), and Mrs. Martin, Gaborone, Botswana, Africa, July 5, 1976, a daughter (Rebecca Louise).

McCubbin — To Dr. J. A. McCubbin, M.Sc. (Arts) '69, Ph.D. '72 (B.Sc., Bishop's), and Mrs. McCubbin (Jozienne Van Doorninck), Arts '71, Peterborough, Ont., Oct. 1, 1976, a son (John Adam); grandson for Dr. J. W. McCubbin, Sc. '32, M.Sc. '34 (Ph.D., McGill, LL.D., Bishop's).

McMillan — To Terry McMillan, Sc. '67, and Mrs. McMillan, Ahwaz, Iran, a daughter (Sonya Ellen Margaret). The McMillans are living in Ahwaz, Iran, c/o P.O. Box 110.

Mella — To Angelo P. Mella, M.Sc. (Arts) '71 (B.Sc., Alberta, M.S., Gonzaga, B.Ed., Dalhousie), and Mrs. Mella (M.A., C.U.A.), Halifax, N.S., June 25, 1976, a daughter (Nancy Patricia), sister for Andrew and Michael. The Mellas live in Dartmouth, N.S., where Mr. Mella teaches at Findlay School.

Miller — To Bruce G. Miller, Sc. '72, and Mrs. Miller, Brockville, Ont., Aug. 12, 1976, a son (Todd Gordon), brother for Sean; nephew for Bob Miller, Arts '74, Cathy Miller (Cathy Carmichael), Arts '74 and Dave Gavura, Sc. '72; grandson for Gordon Miller, Arts '44.

Miller — To David Miller, Sc. '73, and Mrs. Miller (Heather Valley), Arts '73, Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., Oct. 8, 1976, a son (Scott Cameron).

Mountney — To Bruce Mountney, Arts '72, and Mrs. Mountney (Margaret Thom), Arts '72, Kingston, Ont., March 18, 1976, a son (Andrew Gordon Bruce).

Naples — To Ronald B. Naples and Mrs. Naples (Susan Nesbitt), N.Sc. '68, Ajax, Ont., Aug. 31, 1975, a son (Mark Andrew).

Nicholson — To W. John Nicholson, Sc. '64 (S.M., M.I.T.), and Mrs. Nicholson (Carol E. Brown), Arts '64, Maitland, Ont., April 27, 1976, a daughter (Heather Christine), sister for David and Lynn; granddaughter for Howard M. Brown, Com. '27.

O'Farrell — To Lawrence P. O'Farrell, Arts '68, and Mrs. O'Farrell (Renee Fransman), Arts '69, Kingston, Ont., Oct. 13, 1976, a daughter (Andrea Rachel), sister for Robin.

Petropoulos — To James Petropoulos, Com. '60, and Mrs. Petropoulos, Willowdale, Ont., May 30, 1976, a son (David James), brother for Stuart.

Savage — To Graham Savage, Arts '71, M.B.A. '72, and Mrs. Savage (Jane McKay), Arts '71, Ed. '72, Scarborough, Ont., July 25, 1976, a son (Gordon McKay).

Schaefer — To Dan Schaefer, Sc. '71, Ed. '72, and Mrs. Schaefer (Bev Doherty), Arts '73, Cornwall, Ont., July 12, 1976, a daughter (Laurie Anne); niece for Mike Doherty, Sc. '76. Mr. Schaefer is employed as an electrical engineer with Domtar Fine Papers Ltd., Cornwall.

See — To David See, Arts '73, and Mrs. See (Judy Starnaman), Arts, Ed. '72, Whitby, Ont., April 2, 1976, a son (Bradley David).

Washburn — To Bill Washburn, Sc. '66, and Mrs. Washburn (B.A., Western), Ottawa, Ont., Nov. 10, 1975, a daughter (Elizabeth Erin 'Beth'), sister for Ted.

Watson — To Dr. Christopher Watson, Med. '74, and Mrs. Watson (R.N., KGH), Kingston, Ont., July 8, 1976, a son (Matthew Christopher).

Williams — To Eric Williams, Law '72 (B.A., York), and Mrs. Williams (Paddy Davis), Arts '71, Ottawa, Ont., Sept. 14, 1976, a daughter (Andrea Heather).

Williamson — To Dave Williamson, M.Sc.(Arts) '71, and Mrs. Williamson (R.N., HDH), Guelph, Ont., Sept. 1, 1976, a daughter (Andrea Lynn), sister for Natalie. The Williamsons live at 7 Blue-ridge Crt., Guelph.

Wilson — To James F. Wilson, Sc. '71, and Mrs. Wilson (B.Ed., Simon Fraser), West Vancouver, B.C., Sept. 8, 1976, twin girls (Christina Nicole and Karen Elizabeth).

Woodside — To John Woodside, Arts '64, and Mrs. Woodside, Cambridge, England, Aug. 13, 1976, a son (Peter Alexander Drummond). Mr. Woodside is employed by the Atlantic Geoscience Centre, Bedford Institute of Oceanography, Dartmouth, N.S.

Marriages

Allen-Moloney — On June 5, 1976, in Peterborough, Ont., Catherine Anne Moloney, N.Sc. '75, to Michael Peter Allen, Sc. '72. Mr. Allen is presently employed with Elliott and Parr Surveyors Ltd., Kingston, Ont., as a field supervisor, and Mrs. Allen is a staff nurse in Medical Intensive Care at Hotel Dieu Hospital.

Anderson — In Sarnia, Ont., on June 26, 1976, Catharine E. Anderson, Arts '74, to Steven N. Ashikawa (B.Sc., Toronto). Mr. and Mrs. Ashikawa are living in Sarnia, Ont.

Ash-Kofman — On Oct. 23, 1976, in Toronto, Ont., Barbara Kofman, Arts, Ed. '75, to H. Stewart Ash, Com. '75. Included in the wedding party were Betsy Kofman, Arts '77, Sue Baugh, Com. '75, John Farrell, Com. '75, Andy Welch, Com. '74, and Jim Kofman, Com. '78. Mr. and Mrs. Ash are living in Toronto.

Bass-Culham — On Sept. 4, 1976, in Toronto, Ont., Sylvia Culham, Arts '72, M.A.C. '76, to Charles B. Bass, M.Sc. '76 (B.Sc., Michigan). Included in the wedding party were Mrs. Debbie Bourns (Debbie Wardell), Artsci '72, and Mrs. Norma Bainbridge (Norma Bazay), Arts '71. The Basses are living in Greenwich, Conn., where Mr. Bass is working for Amax Inc., an engineering firm. Mrs. Bass works part-time in New York City as an art conservator.

Bryant-Prime — In Ottawa, Ont., on Aug. 28, 1976, Janet E. Prime, Arts '75, to J. Timothy Bryant, Sc. '75. Mr. and Mrs. Bryant are living in Kingston, Ont.

Carpenter — On July 3, 1976, in Kingston, Ont., Anne E. Carpenter, Arts '74, Ed. '75, to James W. Hayes (RMC). Sub/Lt. and Mrs. Hayes are living in Halifax, N.S., where Mrs. Hayes is teaching French (kindergarten to Grade 6) and Sub/Lt. Hayes is with HMCS Fraser.

Casterton — In Kingston, Ont., on Aug. 21, 1976, Nora Blair-McGuffie, R.N., to James A. Casterton, Arts '75. The Castertons are living at 330 Driveway, Apt. 3, Ottawa, Ont.

Clements — In Kingston, Ont., on July 31, 1976, J. Elizabeth Clements, Mus. '74, Ed. '75, to Clark Ian Theobald. Mr. and Mrs. Theobald, both teachers, are living in Smiths Falls, Ont.

Cluff-Burden — In Antrim, Ont., on May 29, 1976, Beth I. Burden, N.Sc. '76, to Merritt E. Cluff, Arts '74, son of A. C. Cluff, Sc. '36. Several Queen's people were in attendance. The Cluffs are living in Ottawa, Ont., where Mr. Cluff is employed with Statistics Canada.

Cluff-Burden — In Antrim, Ont., on May '75, to Clark Ian Theobald. Mr. and Mrs. Theobald, both teachers, are living in Smiths Falls, Ont.

Colbert-Scott — On Aug. 21, 1976, in Ottawa, Ont., Heather J. Scott, Artsci '75, M.Sc. '77, to Timothy B. Colbert, Arts '74, Law '78. Mr. and Mrs. Colbert are living in Kingston, Ont.

Dean — On Oct. 9, 1976, in Napanee, Ont., Dr. Heather J. Dean, Med. '75, to Dr. Philip Carter, D.D.S. The Carters are living in Kars, Ont.

Eadie — In Lachute, Que., July 10, 1976, Mary Elizabeth Dalrymple (B.A., Concordia), to Charles Nelson Eadie, Ed. '75 (B.Sc., Sir George Williams). Mr. and Mrs. Eadie live in Cornwall, Ont., where Mr. Eadie teaches at Cornwall Collegiate and Vocational School. Mrs. Eadie teaches at nearby Morrisburg Elementary School.

Keast-Hanbidge — On Sept. 4, 1976, in Adolphustown, Ont., Val Elizabeth Hanbidge, Arts '76, daughter of Mrs. Walter Hanbidge (Mary Vallentyne), Arts '45, to Michael George Keast, Sc. '76. Andrew Fyon, Sc. '76, was best man. Queen's people were so numerous in the wedding party that an impromptu "Oil Thigh" chorus line later in the evening was impressive in length if not in precision. The Keasts are living in Levack, Ont.

Lloyd — On Oct. 15, 1976, in Hamilton, Ont., Jo-Ann E. Lloyd, Arts '70 (M.Ed., Ottawa), to Marc S. Anderson. Mr. Anderson and Ms. Lloyd-Anderson are living at 605, 150 Bay St. S., Hamilton.

Lloyd-McClellan — In Ottawa, Ont., on May 10, 1975, Cathryn L. McClellan, Artsci '74, to Eric Lloyd, Sc. '75. Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd are living in Drayton Valley, Alta.

Mackenzie — On July 16, 1976, in Toronto, Ont., Catherine Dianne McKinney to Edward (Ted) Mackenzie, Com. '76, son of Robert George Mackenzie, Arts '52, and Mrs. Mackenzie (Marilyn Climo), Arts '52; grandson of Cecil Climo, Sc. '23. Included in the wedding party was Ann Mackenzie, Arts '79. Mr. and Mrs. Mackenzie are living at 319 The Kingsway, Apt. 12, Islington, Ont. Mr. Mackenzie is working at Confederation Life Insurance Co. as a group underwriter.

Meek-Wood — On Oct. 9, 1976, in Lindsay, Ont., Deborah Ann Wood, Rehab. P.T. '77, to William Alexander Meek, Sc. '76. Included in the wedding party were Marilyn Wilson, Arts '76, Ed. '77, Richard Wood, P.H.E. '78, and Susan Gleeson, Med. '79. The Meeks are living in Kingston, Ont.

Miller — In Scarborough, Ont., on July 17, 1976, Nancy C. McGee (RN), to R. Grant Miller, Arts '67, son of Dr. R. G. Miller, Med. '37. Ian Darlington, Arts '69, was best man. Mr. and Mrs. Miller live in Toronto, Ont., where Mr. Miller teaches at Sir Wilfrid Laurier Collegiate.

Mitchell — In Vancouver, B.C., on Aug. 30, 1976, Joan B. Mitchell, Arts '49 (formerly Mrs. V. B. Chew), to J. Wellesley Wilkinson. The Wilkinsons live in Vancouver, B.C.

Nesbitt — On May 31, 1975, in Smiths Falls, Ont., Anne Elizabeth Nesbitt, Arts '73, to Douglas George Phillips (B.A., Carleton, OCE). Included in the wedding party were Susan Naples (Susan Nesbitt), N.Sc. '68, and Susan Gastle (Susan Stewart), Arts '73 (M.L.S., Western). The Phillips are living in Smiths Falls, where Mr. Phillips is employed with the Lanark County Board of Education.

Patterson-Watkin — On Oct. 9, 1976, in Kingston, Ont., Kathryn Grace Watkin, N.Sc. '76, to Michael Stuart Patterson, Artsci '73 (M.Sc., McMaster). Included in the wedding party was Dr. Charles Ramesar, Med. '75. Mr. and Mrs. Patterson live at 193 University Ave., Kingston.

Perlberg — In Ottawa, Ont., on Aug. 25, 1976, Patricia E. Estey (B.Sc., U.N.B., M.Ed., Acadia), to Ray L. Perlberg, Arts '70, Ed. '72. Mr. and Mrs. Perlberg are living in Ottawa, Ont.

Plunkett-McKay — In Kingston, Ont., Barbara Lynne McKay, Arts '78, to Daniel Kenneth Plunkett, Arts '79. Mr. and Mrs. Plunkett are living in Kingston, where Mr. Plunkett is working on his degree in Religion at Queen's.

Rivington — On June 28, 1975, in Carp, Ont., Betty A. Rivington, Rehab. '71, to Dr. Michael Kent Law (M.D., Toronto). The Laws are living in Toronto, Ont.

Rivington — On Dec. 20, 1975, in Carp, Ont., Nancy M. Rivington, Arts '69, to Warren R. Wolfenden (B.A., M.A., Western). Mr. and Mrs. Wolfenden are living at 57 Ranchwood Cres., London, Ont.

Rocque-Foster — On Aug. 14, 1976, in Belleville, Ont., Suzanne E. Foster, Arts, P.H.E. '74, Ed. '75, to Robert G. Rocque, Ed. '75 (B.A., Carleton). The Rocques are living in Oshawa, Ont., where both are teaching.

Sherman-McKillican — On Sept. 6, 1975, Catherine A. McKillican, N.Sc. '75, to R. Keith Sherman, Artsci '74. Mr. and Mrs. Sherman are living in Toronto, Ont.

Surgenor — In Ottawa, Ont., on Sept. 25, 1976, Diane M. Surgenor, Arts '73, M.B.A. '75, to John Sherlock. Included in the wedding party were Brian Surgenor, Sc. '77, and Pam Casey, Com. '75. Mr. and Mrs. Sherlock are living in Oshawa, Ont., where Mrs. Sherlock is employed by General Motors.

Tovee — On Sept. 10, 1976, in Scarborough, Ont., Judy Cleland (B.Sc., Toronto), to R. Stephen Tovee, Sc. '74. Included in the wedding party were John Tovee, Arts, P.H.E. '76, and John Thomas, Arts '75. The Tovees are living at 267 Bellamy Rd. N., Scarborough, Ont., where Mr. Tovee is employed by Canada Packers.

Van Luven — In Sydenham, Ont., on Oct. 29, 1976, Elizabeth Dianne Van Luven, Arts '73, Ed. '74, to Larry Jackson Thomas. Included in the wedding party was Brenda Barr, Art '73. The Thomases are living at R.R. 1, Sydenham, Ont.

Van Walleghem-VanderVeen — On Aug. 28, 1976, at Mississauga, Ont., Anna VanderVeen, N.Sc. '75, to Mark Van Walleghem, Sc. '71, Law '74. Included in the wedding party were Byron J. Nicholson, Sc. '72, and Lynn Carter, Ed. '77. Mr. and Mrs. Van Walleghem are living in Dryden, Ont.

Wielgus — On Sept. 17, 1976, in Sudbury, Ont., Genovefa Jane Wielgus, Ed. '75 (B.A., Laurentian), to Zbigniew Waszczylo (M.Sc., Kopernik University). Mr. and Mrs. Waszczylo are living in Sudbury, where Mrs. Waszczylo teaches at Marymount College.

Deaths

Robert Thomas Bailey, B.Sc. '48^{1/2}, Pittsburgh, Pa., Sept. 2, 1976; for many years Public Works Commissioner in Windsor, Ont. He is survived by his wife Mary.

Rev. W. James Byers, B.A. '28, B.D. '30, Toronto, Ont., Jan. 20, 1976; retired in 1970 from St. George's United Church, Toronto, Ont., where he had served as Director of Christian Education, 1952-63, and as Pastoral Associate from 1963 until his retirement. He is survived by his wife Mary.

Douglas Wilfred Carriere, B.A. '35, Timmins, Ont., Sept. 24, 1975; secondary school teacher.

Mrs. J. C. Davey (Kathleen B. Foreman), B.A. '15, Chatham, Ont., Sept. 12, 1976.

Joanne Secord Davidson, B.A. '67, of Geneva, Switzerland, in a plane crash in Ireland on Nov. 12, 1976. Survivors include her parents, a brother, and a sister, Jill Davidson, Arts '72. Contributions to the Joanne Davidson Memorial Fund may be sent to the Queen's Alumni Fund.

Robert A. Denovan, B.Sc. '14, Dalkeith, Ont., June 28, 1976, at the age of 92. He was Chief Engineer in charge of asbestos fibre milling research, Canadian Johns-Manville Co. Ltd., retiring in 1949 after 25 years of service. He later formed Denovan Ltd., an engineering consulting firm, and acted as president until recently when ill health forced him to retire. He is survived by his wife Lily, a son, John Denovan, Sc. '40, and three daughters.

John Michael Ehmann, B.Sc. '31, Toronto, Ont., April 14, 1976; President, Ehmann Corp. Ltd. Survivors include his wife Anne and four children.

James Donald Elliott, B.Sc. '31, Ajax, Ont., Oct. 16, 1976; retired in 1972 as Research Metallurgist, Rio Algom Mines Ltd., Elliot Lake, Ont.

Cyril Ewins, graduate of Diploma course in municipal administration, Woodstock, Ont., July 11, 1976; treasurer and tax collector for the city of Woodstock since 1961. Survivors include his wife Olwen and two sons.

Gladys M. Graham, B.A. '18, Kingston, Ont., Dec. 7, 1975. She was a valued member of the teaching staff of Kingston Collegiate and Vocational Institute from 1923 to 1957.

Charles Frederick Hunt, B.A. '43, Victoria, B.C., in 1975. Mr. Hunt was a Meteorologist at Maritime Headquarters Forecast Office and then at H.M.C. Dockyard, Esquimalt, B.C. He is survived by his wife Gladys.

Lloyd D. Jack, B.A. '45, Montreal, Que., April 27, 1976; retired school principal.

E. Ralph James, Arts '38, Toronto, Ont., Aug. 16, 1975.

Dorothy Mae MacDonald, B.A. '36, Perth, Ont., May 5, 1976; civil servant.

Dr. Andrew Bruce MacDonell, M.D. '29, Saskatoon, Sask., Sept. 23, 1976; Director of Radiology at Saskatoon City Hospital. Early in his career, he practised Radiology in New York City and in Ontario. In 1941 Dr. MacDonell moved to Saskatoon, where he was founder of Associated Radiologists. He is survived by his wife, the former Kathleen Harkness, Arts '27, and two daughters, one of whom is Mrs. Carl B. Reid (Dee MacDonell), Arts '69. Mary E. MacDonell, Arts '11, is a sister, and Malcolm J. MacDonell, Arts '18, and Alexander D. MacDonell, M.A. '08, are brothers. He was predeceased by his brother David, Arts '15, Med. '18.

Dr. Harry J. McLeod, M.D., C.M. '27, Englewood, N.J., Sept. 23, 1976; served as Chief of Anesthesia for 27 years at Englewood Hospital and as staff consultant until his retirement in 1963. During World War I, he served overseas with the 46th Queen's Battery and later as Flight Lieutenant in the Royal Air Force. Survivors include his wife Florence and four children.

Arthur McTavish Mills, B.Sc. '19, Thunder Bay, Ont., Sept. 29, 1976; long-time Chief Engineer with the Department of Highways. Prior to his retirement, Mr. Mills was associated with the Hacquoil Construction Co. He is survived by his wife Lee and a daughter, Mrs. J. A. Neilson (Betty Mills), Arts '52.

Christopher Petrie, Arts '77, of Ottawa, Ont., Aug. 27, 1976, while on a biking holiday in Holland. He was working on a nuclear project in England this summer. A memorial fund to establish an annual prize in experimental physics has been initiated by faculty, friends and family. Contributions earmarked "Petrie Prize" may be sent to the Queen's Alumni Fund.

Wallace M. Reid, B.Sc. '26, Buffalo, N.Y., Sept. 17, 1976; retired in 1968 after 42 years with Dunlop Tire and Rubber Co. Mr. Reid was Technical Director of the Sporting Goods Division.

Eria Vivian Robinson, B.A. '49, Toronto, Ont., Aug. 28, 1976; one-time secretary of the Africa Inland Mission.

Hubert David Rogers, B.Sc. '13, Kingston, Ont., Aug. 23, 1976. An employee of the Aluminum Co. of Canada for many years, Mr. Rogers later joined the Engineering Drawing Department at Queen's, retiring in 1965. He is survived by his wife Agnes and a daughter, Mrs. J. C. Bauer (Ann Rogers), Arts '62. Predeceased by his father, Dr. D. H. Rogers, Med. '81, and two brothers, R. Archibald Rogers, Sc. '12, and Alwyn B. Rogers, Sc. '17. He was a member of the Queen's Forty-Niners Club.

Dr. Walter Joseph Surtees, B.Sc. '43 (M.A.Sc., Ph.D., Toronto), Ottawa, Ont., July 6, 1976; Director, Telecommunications Liaison Office, Defence Research Establishment, Shirleys Bay, Ont. Survivors include his wife Mary.

Peter Cornelius Verhoeven, B.A., B.P.H.E. '73, B.Ed. '74, of Chesterville, Ont., in an automobile accident in Australia on April 27, 1976.

Mrs. Mervyn R. Whelan (Marilyn Eva Garton), B.A. '71, M.A. '72, B.Ed. '73, of Kingston, Ont., Sept. 25, 1976. She is survived by her husband, Dr. Mervyn Whelan, Med. '74.

Howard James Williams, B.Sc. '17 (M.S., M.I.T.), Braintree, Mass., July 2, 1976, at the age of 81. Mr. Williams was a civil engineer and partner of the Fay, Spofford and Thorndike Co., Boston, Mass. He is survived by his wife Margaret and three children. Knox N. Williams, Arts '26, Com. '27, is a brother.

Dr. D. McCannel

G.R. 'Tiny' Adams

Dr. D.A.R. McCannel, engineer: Regina was well served

Donald Alexander Roy McCannel, B.Sc. '14 (LL.D., Regina), Regina, Sask., died on November 19, 1976. He had served as City Engineer of Regina for 42 years.

A native of Burgoyne, Ont., Mr. McCannel began to work for the City while a student. During his service he saw the City grow by nearly seven times in area, and the population expand nearly three times. Under his guidance the basic physical form of Regina today was planned and constructed. He had a life-long association with his profession, played a leading role in the affairs of the Engineering Institute of Canada and the Association of Professional Engineers of Saskatchewan, and served as president of both organizations, as well as of other groups. He was also active in community affairs, particularly the work of the Regina Exhibition Association.

Survivors include his wife and two daughters. A son, Dr. Bruce McCannel, Med. '50, predeceased him.

1920s football hero became an international engineer

George Ronald (Tiny) Adams, B.Sc. '27, Kingston, Ont., died on October 13, 1976.

As a student Mr. Adams played on several Intercollegiate and Dominion Champion football teams. He began his engineering career in South America, working for the Tropical Oil Company in Colombia. When he returned to Canada in 1931 he joined the staff of the Foundation Company of Canada.

During the Depression he worked in the Panama Canal zone and held several jobs with the United States Navy and various construction companies. Back with the Foundation Company, he worked on projects at Churchill, Man., and Chalk River, Ont. He helped to supervise the building of the Atomic Research Reactor in Bombay, India, and did sales promotion work in South Africa.

Between 1958 and retirement in 1965 he held the positions of vice-president and general manager and executive vice-president of Foundation Company's overseas operations. He then worked on the construction of Expo 67, after which he moved to Kingston as a member of the staff of the Engineering Graphics and Design Department at Queen's, where he remained until his final retirement in 1971.

Surviving is his wife, the former Dorothea Caroline Graves, Arts '28.

Was once the youngest college president in the U.S.

Rev. Dr. John W. Claxton, B.A. '23 (M.A., McGill, B.D., Wesleyan, M.S.Th., Union Theological, D.D., Defiance) died in South Pasadena, Fla., on Oct. 3, 1976. He was President of Defiance College, Defiance, Ohio, 1936-43, the youngest college president in the United States at that time. He pastored Congregational Churches in Wisconsin and Michigan before becoming Executive Secretary for the National Association of Congregational Churches, with headquarters in Milwaukee, Wis.

Dr. Claxton was founder and first dean of the Congregational Foundation for Theological Studies. He served as pastor of First Congregational Church in Los Angeles, Calif., one of the largest in the country, 1970-72, at which time he retired to Treasure Island, Fla. For the past 28 years he served as summer pastor in the historic Little Stone Church on Mackinac Island, Mich. He is survived by his wife Francealia, twin sons, his brother, Dr. Edwin G. Claxton, Med. '29, and a sister.

Mary Elliott

Fund under way to memorialize Ottawa's Mary Elliott, B.A. '49

Mary Elizabeth Elliott, B.A. '49, Ottawa, Ont., died on September 11, 1976. Miss Elliott had worked in the field of mycology for 28 years and at the time of her death was curator of the National Mycological Herbarium, Bio-Systematic Research Institute, Central Experimental Farm.

Miss Elliott took an active part in professional organizations in her field, and was the immediate past president of the Canadian Botanical Society. She had also served as President of the Queen's Alumnae Branch in Ottawa and on the executive of the national Queen's Alumni Association.

Her many friends have set up a memorial fund in her name at Queen's and an invitation has been extended to Queen's graduates everywhere to participate. The fund will go towards work in Mary's scientific field of mycology and to studies in the field of prevention of psychiatric and psychological disorders.

AN APOLOGY — The report in the November-December 1976 issue of the death of Louis Albert Gale, Arts '48, was in error. We sincerely regret any embarrassment caused to Mr. Gale and his family.

PROUD MOMENTS PERMANENTLY PRESERVED

Your prized diplomas can now be permanently preserved and handsomely displayed. The exclusive Deb-Kar process puts a faithful reproduction of your diploma right into the structure of a sheet of gleaming aluminum and protects the surface with a fine acrylic coating.

The handsome reproduction of your diploma is mounted on a walnut-stained plaque ready for hanging.

You may have these unique mementos for just $75.00 each. Send your original diploma by registered mail (it will be returned unharmed) and your cheque or money order, ChargeX or Mastercharge number to

DEB-KAR INDUSTRIES LTD.
P.O. BOX 1209,
BANCROFT, ONTARIO

Three week delivery. Fully guaranteed. Full refund if work not satisfactory and returned within 30 days. Ontario residents please add $5.25 Provincial Sales Tax.

Names in the News

James Richardson among pioneers in Aviation Hall of Fame

The late grain and securities broker, James A. Richardson, B.A. '06, is best remembered by Queen's folk as Chancellor of the University (1929-39), the namesake of Richardson Hall and Richardson Laboratories, donor of George Richardson Stadium (in memory of his brother), and generous benefactor. He sent two of his children down to Queen's: Agnes, now Mrs. W.M. Benickson, Arts '42, and James, Arts '44, who recently resigned as federal Minister of Transport. (James A. Richardson III, Arts '74, is a grandson.)

Fewer alumni realize that Chancellor Richardson was a pioneer in Canadian air transport and that he was recently named to Canada's Aviation Hall of Fame (located in the Law Courts Building, Edmonton). The citation read: "In the annals of this nation's flying history, no businessman gave more of himself or less reward to the everlasting benefit of Canadian aviation."

Back in 1926 he formed Western Canada Airways Ltd. (WCA), contending that with suitable aircraft, able pilots and good business management, an air transport company could open up Canada's untapped northern mineral resources at least 20 years sooner than could ordinarily have been the case.

A year later, flying out of Sioux Lookout, WCA expedited the opening up of Churchill, Man., by flying in 14 men and 30 tons of supplies and equipment during a 30-day period under winter conditions. This was in two open-cockpit planes, without radio communication or weather sciences. The Department of National Defence pronounced that "there had been no more brilliant operation in the history of commercial flying."

By 1929 WCA had 37 planes opening air paths from the mines of Northern Ontario to islands off the Pacific coast and to the shores of the Arctic Ocean, and attracting international attention to its prairie airmail service, night flying and bulk freight.

After involving himself with many aerial and mineral exploration associations, Mr. Richardson eventually helped form, and was first president of, Canadian Airways Ltd. (1930), a single company to provide coast-to-coast air transport and mail delivery under

Chancellor J. A. Richardson

Canadian control. Before his death in 1939, he saw the advent of Trans-Canada Airlines, which evolved into Air Canada. He is credited with keeping civil aviation alive in Canada between the two world wars.

The Kingston-born Chancellor was only 53 when he died in Winnipeg 38 years ago. It was said then that "his was the outstanding case of men of substance in Canada who have tried to return the fruits of their labours in good works to their country."

History has borne out the truth of that assessment, and the Aviation Hall of Fame has reaffirmed it.

From Muriel Breckenridge: A cookbook and much more

Muriel Vannest Breckenridge, Arts '53, is the author of a new recipe book, The Old Ontario Cookbook, published 1976 by McGraw-Hill Ryerson Ltd., Scarborough, Ont. It is based on a collection of family recipes over a period of 175 years, and is, as well, a social history of Canadian foods and their origin. She has also written about the many foods bequeathed by the Indians and the methods of handling these foods as taught to the early settlers by their Indian neighbours. The 256-page book retails for $14.95. Mrs. Breckenridge and her husband, A. G. Breckenridge, Sc. '51, live in Agincourt, Ont.

Butch Nelson's challenge

B.F.W. (Butch) Nelson, Arts '61, is the author of a booklet entitled The Illusions of Urban Man, one of a series of 12 published by the Ministry of State for Urban Affairs. Copies are available from the Ministry (Ottawa K1A 0P6) or from Mr. Nelson's own company, Square One Management, #302, 100 Gloucester St., Ottawa K2P 0A4. Since 1970 Mr. Nelson has worked out of Ottawa as a management and social policy consultant. During 1975-76 he directed a project of fundamental social research — the Cultural Paradigms Project — on behalf of the Advanced Concepts Centre of Environment Canada.

C.D. Burke, editor of the Urban Prospects Papers, calls the new Nelson report "profoundly disturbing." "The author challenges us," he says, "to question our fundamental values: how we relate to people and things; how we define our personal and societal priorities...We should do this not merely because it is good for us, but because the survival of our society is at stake."

Pendragon: new theatre company with Queen's base

David N. Fanstone, a recent Drama graduate (Arts '76), has formed a theatre company to produce original Canadian works both in Kingston and on tour. PENDRAGON, The Player's Company, opened its first season with Love's Labour's Won, written by Mr. Fanstone and directed by Ralph Peter, also Arts '76. The play is a verse comedy in the Shakespearean tradition and ends with a visit from the Bard himself.

The play had a successful run in Kingston and is moving to the Firehall Theatre in Niagara Falls, Ont., this month (January). Additional engagements for February are under consideration.

Other Queen's people involved in PENDRAGON's first production as actors are George Pothitos, Michael Saver, Phillip Tunley, Mary Anne Beamish, Heather Dick and Philip Tarrant, all undergraduates; Leonard Judge and Geoff Swift, both Arts '76; and Douglas Stratton, M.B.A. '74, a professional actor based in Toronto.

D. WARD MCGILL COMMERCE '32, ARTS '33

Professional Consulting Services in Canadian Customs and Tariffs

ALMONTE, ONTARIO

OTTAWA AREA CODE 613

OFFICE 256-1021

RESIDENCE 256-3050

Milner & Steer
Barristers and Solicitors

Milner Building, Edmonton, Alta.

1125 IBM Building, Calgary, Alta.

McMILLAN & MARTYNOWICZ

Consulting Engineers

TELEPHONE 482-1632

7433 CHESTER AVE.
MONTREAL, QUE. H4V 1M4

Consultants in:

- socio-political analysis
- public participation
- social impacts of development
- human services policies and programs

Suite 300, 2 Toronto Street, Toronto, Ontario. M5C 2B6. 416-368-9643

LAKEFIELD RESEARCH
OF CANADA LIMITED

*Ore Testing and Mineral
Processing Research*

A. G. Scobie, Sc. '37

Laboratories and Pilot Plant

Lakefield, Ont. Phone 652-3341

A. H. ROSS
& ASSOCIATES

Consulting Chemical and Metallurgical Engineers

A. H. Ross, Sc. '36 D. F. Lillie, Sc. '44
D. H. Eberts, Sc. '50

Suite 1706, 80 Richmond St. W.
Toronto M5H 2A4 366-1653

J. L. RICHARDS & ASSOCIATES LIMITED

Consulting Engineers and Planners

OTTAWA — KINGSTON — SUDBURY — FROBISHER BAY — OVERSEAS

J.T. Fitzpatrick, Sc. '73
D.R. Hunter, Sc. '72
S.A. Fowler, Sc. '72
G.A. Clark, Sc. '72

G.T. McCaffrey, Sc. '71
D.G. Shillington, Sc. '70
J.R. Allen, Sc. '66
W.F. Flude, Sc. '59
J.L. Richards, Sc. '44/'47

P.A. Midgley, Sc. '57
G.A. Hearnden, Sc. '53
C.N. Kirby, Sc. '51
A.E. Fee, Sc. '47

Notes

1910-29

James E. Clark, Sc. '28, Kingston, Ont., formerly with Bell Canada, has been named Chairman of the Board of the Kingston Regional Hospital Laundry.

Lachlan MacKinnon, Com. '25, is retired and living in Ottawa, Ont., after 41 years of service with the Federal Department of Labour.

Donald J. Pierce, Arts '29, has brought out a revised edition of his essay The Logic of the Philosophy of History, published in 1939 and long out of print. According to reviewer Dr. John Perry Pritchett, Ph.D. '31, "Although the theories of the original work are generally maintained, the revision is, in many respects, a wholly new study. With considerable skill, clarity and erudition, the author marshals his facts and develops his contentions. Moreover, he approaches his task with admirable persistence and much success."

Rev. Dr. Stanley Scott, Arts '12 (Testamur, St. Stephen's College; B.D., Chicago; Ph.D., Hartford), Edmonton, Alta., was awarded a "Certificate of Distinguished Service as a Pioneer in Religious Education" by the Religious Education Association of United States and Canada. Only 16 such certificates have ever been awarded, and it is the first time that such an honour has been given a Canadian.

1930-39

J. W. Brooks, Sc. '39 (M.A.Sc., Toronto), is Principal of Sapele Technical College, Sapele, Bendel State, Nigeria. He is listed in the Dictionary of African Biography and he has been awarded a Certificate of Merit for Distinguished Service in Engineering Education in Nigeria.

Mrs. J. R. Carter (Evangeline Girvin), Arts '37, Kingston, Ont., first active president of the Kingston branch of the English Speaking Union of the Commonwealth in Canada, was honoured recently by members of the Union in recognition of her six-year term.

William P. McCreary, Arts '38, has retired after 35 years of teaching at Smiths Falls District Collegiate Institute, most of them as head of the History Department.

John H. Ross, Sc. '35, Toronto, Ont., has been appointed Presidential Representaive for Canada to ASHRAE, an international engineering society. He will accept a series of liaison responsibilities relating to Canadian organizations. Mr. Ross is a well-known Canadian consulting engineer who has held top elective positions in many Canadian engineering and civic organizations.

Dr. E. A. Watkinson, Med. '39, retired December 31, 1976 from his post of Deputy Minister of Health for the Province of New Brunswick. He and Mrs. Watkinson (Dorel Smith), Arts '36, both formerly of Ottawa, are moving to Markham, Ont.

Dr. T. Clement White, Arts '31, LL.D. '61 (B.Paed., Toronto), was bereaved by the death of his wife Jean on September 7, 1976. Mrs. A. Tait (Catherine White), Arts '61, and Mrs. E. A. Varga (Margaret White), N.Sc. '63, are daughters.

Attention, please Alumni in the U.S.A.

The Queen's University Choral Ensemble, under the direction of Prof. Denise Narcisse-Mair, is planning a tour to Washington, D.C., during the first three weeks of May. Their purpose: to compete in the Festival of Nations.

To assist them in financing the trip, the Ensemble is looking for hosts en route — church groups, service clubs or associations which would let the 45 young singers bed down in sleeping bags in church halls, club rooms, etc.

In return, the Choral Ensemble is prepared to put on a concert for their hosts. The group has won acclaim in Kingston, Jamaica, as well as Kingston, Ont., and has been featured in Toronto churches under the sponsorship of the Toronto Alumni.

Any alumni associated with possible host groups between Kingston and Washington are asked to contact the Alumni Office. Details about specific dates will be available soon.

1940-49

Dr. Carl H. Amberg, Arts '46, M.A. '47 (Ph.D., Toronto), has been appointed Chairman of the Department of Chemistry, Carleton University, Ottawa, Ont., for a three-year term.

James Leroy Boyd, Sc. '48, Arts '52, head of the Mathematics Department at Loyalist Collegiate, Kingston, Ont., for the past 14 years, has been selected Mathematics Teacher of the Year in Ontario by the Association of Professional Engineers. The annual award is presented by the association to secondary school teachers who have contributed 'significantly to the teaching of math.' Mr. Boyd has spent 22 years as a teacher in Kingston.

G. Roderick Cameron, Com. '47, Belleville, Ont., was bereaved by the death of his wife Marion on July 12, 1976.

J. S. Dewar, Sc. '41, President of Union Carbide Canada Ltd., has been appointed a director of Thomson Newspapers Ltd. Mr. Dewar is also a director of a number of other Canadian companies.

G. Donald Dies, Sc. '43, Canada Cement Co., Montreal, Que., has been granted a Doctor of Science degree by the Board of Governors of the London Institute for Applied Research, London, England.

Paul-A. Filteau, Sc. '41 (B.A., Laval), has been appointed Executive Vice-President of the Quebec Asbestos Mining Association. He has served as General Manager since 1963. With the exception of a period of four years with the iron ore industry in Northern Quebec, Mr. Filteau has been associated with the Quebec asbestos industry since graduation.

William Mumford, Arts '43 (B.Paed, Toronto), retired as Principal of Gananoque Secondary School and is living in Vancouver, B.C.

Nick J. Paithouski, Sc. '40, was bereaved by the death of his wife Barbara in a house fire on July 27, 1976. Two children also survive. Mr. Paithouski lives at 58 Bayshore Dr., Apt. 305, Ottawa, Ont.

Ernest O. Pitschel, Sc. '49 (M.B.A., Arizona State), in September 1975 joined the staff of Woodward-Clyde Consultants, an international consulting firm in Denver, Col. Mr. Pitschel is Vice-President of the Mining Division. From 1972 to 1975, he held a challenging position with the Syncrude Canada Project as Assistant General Manager, Projects and Operations, Edmonton, Alta.

A. C. Wise, Sc. '43, M.Sc. '45, has been transferred from Dow Chemical Pacific Ltd. in Hong Kong to Dow Chemical of Canada. Mr. Wise is Manager, Planning and Control, for the Red Deer, Alta., project.

Lloyd A. Woods, Q.C., Arts '48, has been appointed County Court Judge for Victoria County, with headquarters in Lindsay, Ont.

LOST TRAILS:

The Alumni Office would welcome news of the whereabouts of the following alumni:

1930-39

GRIFFITHS, Mrs. Helen Grace (nee McLennan, laureated Lackey), B.A. '35
PECK, Charles Carrol, Arts '39
THOMSON, Mrs. J. (Winnifred Hamm), Arts '23

1940-49

PILE, Ronald Keith, Arts '42
WHITMORE, Grace Elizabeth, Arts '41

1950-59

FOSTER, Mrs. Doreen (Innes), Exchange Student, 1951
FRANCIS, Edward Arthur, B.A. '50
HAWKINS, Mrs. R.B. (Barbara K. Price), N.Sc. '53
KINGMAN, Abner Jr., Arts '55
McCLELLAND, Dr. Peter Dean, Com. '57, M.A. '61
PETROWSKI, Helen Frances (Armstrong), Arts '54
PHILLIPS, Kenneth Anderson, M.A. '50
REIMER, Edward Henry, Arts '51
REYNOLDS, Mrs. R.H. (Aylene Peden), Arts '59
RHEUME, John Guy, Arts '59
SCOTT, Dr. Alison Pettigrew, Ph.D. '55
SCOTT, Mrs. D.E. (Thelma Jeanne Wallace), B.A. '59
SERRAO, Mrs. Helen Margaret (Leather), N.Sc. '59
TOURIGNY, Maurice Lucien, B.A. '55

MARTY MEMORIAL SCHOLARSHIP

Maximum value $4,000

Available to a woman graduate for a year of study and research.

For conditions of award, see the Queen's Review, November-December issue, or write to the Registrar, Queen's University, who also has application forms.

Application deadline
March 1, 1977

Until recently, Judge Woods was a senior member of the law firm of Woods, Hogan and Norton. The partnership was dissolved following the election of Keith Norton, Arts '62, Law '69, as MLA for Kingston and the Islands, and John T. Hogan, Law '69 (B.A., Loyola), transferred to another Kingston law firm. Mr. Woods was named a Queen's Counsel four years ago.

1950-59

Donald C. Brittain, Arts '51, was the director of the Etrog-winning documentary Welcome: An Inquiry into the Life and Death of Malcolm Lowry, produced by the National Film Board.

Alice M. Casselman, Arts '59, head of the Biology Department at Thistletown Collegiate, Etobicoke, Ont., has been seconded to the Metro Toronto Conservation Authority to work at Boyd Field Centre for one year.

Charles R. Collyer, Sc. '52, is Vice-President and General Manager, Projects, Syncrude Canada Ltd., Edmonton, Alta.

John C. Crosbie, Arts '53 (LL.B., Dalhousie), St. John's, Nfld., won the St. John's West federal riding by-election for the Progressive Conservatives in October. He had resigned from the provincial Cabinet in order to run.

Rev. Lawrence M. J. Edwards, Arts '57, Theol. '62, has ended a five-year ministry with the First United Church in Swift Current, Sask., to study for one year at St. Andrew's University in Edinburgh. He will be accompanied by his wife, the former Wynne Whyte, Arts '59, and two of their three sons.

J. R. Godden, Arts '52, Ottawa, Ont., retired from the Armed Forces with the rank of Lieutenant Colonel in November 1975. He is now employed as town administrator for Churchill Falls, Man.

Lorne Keyes, Sc. '54, a staff engineer with RCA's Aerospace and Government Systems Engineering Department in Montreal, Que., has been named joint winner of the RCA 1976 David Sarnoff Team Award for Outstanding Technical Achievement. Mr. Keyes has been with RCA since 1954.

Rev. Dr. A. E. MacKenzie, D.D. '56 (B.A., Mount Allison, Theol., Pine Hill Divinity Hall), Toronto, Ont., retired June 30, 1976, following 40 years' service with the United Church of Canada.

Sterling McEachern, Sc. '59, is Plant Engineer at Consolidated-Bathurst Ltd., Portage-du-fort, Que. Mr. and Mrs. McEachern (Maureen Bennett, KGH '59) and their four daughters live at 'Gorby Farm', Castleford, Ont.

Joan Nielsen (Joan Keough), Arts '51, has been appointed Director of Continuing Education, School District 70, Port Alberni, B.C.

Judge L. Woods

D.G. Mitchell

Martin J. O'Brien, Sc. '57, has been appointed Resident Manager for the Ontario-Minnesota Pulp and Paper Co. Ltd., Fort Frances Mill, Fort Frances, Ont. He has had extensive experience in the pulp and paper industry and prior to his appointment was Manager of the Quebec North Shore Paper Co. in Baie Comeau.

Geoffrey R. Parsons, Com. '57, is now partner in charge of Touche Ross & Co.'s office in St. John's, Nfld. John R. Parsons & Co., in which he was a senior partner, merged with the firm of Touche Ross & Co. in June 1976.

Lt./Col. D. B. 'Sam' Perrin, Sc. '58, has been appointed Chief Logistics Officer, United Nations Disengagement Observer Force, with headquarters in Damascus, Syria. His tour of duty will end in May 1977.

Ray C. Whitney, Arts '53, M.A. '56, is Manager, Training and Development, Ontario Hydro, Toronto, Ont.

R. M. Williamson, Sc. '54, is a Radiation Management Engineer for Atomic Energy of Canada Ltd., at their Sheridan Park Research Community offices in Mississauga, Ont. His daughter Susan is a member of Arts '79, majoring in Drama.

Dr. Malcolm Ross

Many students from his 12 years at Queen's (1950-62) will be pleased to know that the Order of Canada was bestowed on Prof. Malcolm Ross in October 1976. Since leaving Trinity College in 1968, Dr. Ross has been Thomas McCulloch Professor of English at Dalhousie University. He continues to edit the New Canadian Library Series and is on the Board of both the Neptune Theatre and the Atlantic Symphony Orchestra.

1960-69

James F. Allan, M.Sc. '63 (B.A.Sc., U.B.C.), has been appointed Exploration Manager, Minerals, Union Oil Co. of Canada Ltd. Prior to joining Union Oil, Mr. Allan held management positions with major mining and natural resource companies. He is located at the company's head office in Calgary, Alta.

William J. Bosworth, Arts '69 (M.A., Toronto), and Mrs. Bosworth (Debra Charrand), Arts '73, are living at 128 Kent St., Hamilton, Ont. L8P 3Z3.

Dr. Anna Mary Burditt, Med. '61, traded her urban practice for a Bolivian riverboat run for approximately two months. Dr. Burditt, on active staff at St. Joseph's and Saint John General Hospitals, N.B., took an eight-week medical missionary tour of the Chapare River in the Bolivian jungle. She served aboard the 'Bethesda', a craft sponsored jointly by the Canadian Baptist Overseas Mission Board and the Canadian International Development Agency. The purpose of Dr. Burditt's trip was to visit a friend who has been a nurse in Bolivia for seven years. Dr. Burditt plans to join the staff of Montreal General Hospital in family medicine on her return.

Douglas A. Burns, Law '64 (B.Com., Toronto), has opened an office for the practice of law at 222 King St. S., Waterloo, Ont.

F. Robert Chick, Sc. '69, has joined Borg Warner Chemicals Ltd., Cobourg, Ont., as Plant Engineer.

Nancy Clegg (Nancy Wallin), Arts '64 (M.L.S., McGill), has joined the staff of the Ralph Pickard Bell Library, Mount Allison University, Sackville, N.B., as cataloguer. She has held several positions since her graduation, including teacher-librarian, Kapuskasing, Ont.; interlibrary loan clerk, Stockholm, Sweden; library supervisor, Yellowknife Branch, Northwest Territories Library Service; circulation clerk, Seaway Valley Libraries, Cornwall, Ont.; and recently, branch co-ordinator for the county section of Seaway Valley Libraries.

Dr. Paul A. De La Chevotière, Arts '60, Med. '70, has been practising family medicine in Hamilton, Bermuda, since 1972. In May 1976 he was elected to Parliament and has been appointed the Opposition's shadow Minister of Health.

R. A. (Dick) Dodds, Arts '62, Napanee, Ont., Superintendent of Schools for Lennox and Addington County Board of Education, has been elected Vice-President of the Ontario Association of Education Administration Officials.

William E. Doherty, Arts '64 (M.B.A., Western), has been appointed Director, Corporate Card System, American Express Corp., Toronto, Ont. Mr. Doherty is responsible for marketing, sales and operations for the company in Canada.

Edward S. Franchuk, Arts '65 (M.A., Toronto), is a teacher with TESL Centre, Concordia University, Montreal, Que.

Roderick James Gray, Ed. '69 (B.A., B.P.H.E., McMaster), teaches Physical Education and Geography at Vincent Massey High School, Windsor, Ont.

Dr. Gladys Hitchman (Gladys Symons), Arts '69 (Maitrise, Grenoble, Ph.D., York), is now Assistant Professor in the Department of Sociology at the University of Calgary.

Rev. Donald Maclean, Arts '67, Theol. '72 (M.A., McMaster), has been called as minister to St. Paul's United Church, New Liskeard, Ont. Rev. and Mrs. Maclean live at 247 Scott St., Box 1405, New Liskeard.

Donald G. Mitchell, Law '67 (B.A., Carleton), following graduation, formed his own law firm with offices in Ottawa and Carleton Place under the name of Thompson and Mitchell. After various changes it became Mitchell, Batt and Howard, with offices in Ottawa. During this time he was made director of several companies and charitable organizations. In 1972, he was appointed by the Governor-in-Council as chairman of the appeal board of the Unemployment Insurance Commission for both Ontario and Quebec regions, serving primarily in the Ottawa Valley area. Mr. Mitchell was elected a Trustee in the Carleton County Bar Association and a lecturer in Law at the University of Ottawa in 1974. He retired from practice in 1975, but continued to lecture and in December 1975 was named legal adviser to the Anti Inflation Board.

Dr. J. A. McCubbin, M.Sc. (Arts) '69, Ph.D. '72 (B.Sc., Bishop's), and Mrs. McCubbin Jozienne van Doorninck, Arts '71, are now living at Lakefield College School, Lakefield, Ont., where Dr. McCubbin is on the staff.

P. Wayne Musselman, Com. '64, C.A., has been admitted to partnership in Touche Ross and Co. and is practising in their Toronto office.

Dr. Simon H. H. Pang, M.Sc. '64, Ph.D. '73 (B.A.Sc., Taiwan), is living in Oakville, Ont., and is employed by Ontario Hydro in Toronto.

Jack Peltier, M.B.A. '68 (B.Sc., R.M.C.), has been appointed to the Corporate Underwriting staff of Richardson Securities of Canada, based in Winnipeg, Man. Mr. Peltier joined the company's research department in 1969, and has had responsibility for the oil and gas pipelines, utilities and oil service industries.

Malcolm S. Scott, Sc. '61, has been appointed President of Central Canada Potash Co. Ltd. He had served as a Director and General Manager of the company since 1974. Mr. Scott is also an officer of other Noranda group companies.

1970-76

Cedric Banks, Arts '73, Peterborough, Ont., has been transferred by C.I.A.G. Insurance Co. to Oshawa, Ont., as District Manager for the Durham Region, with offices in Oshawa and Pickering.

Dan E. Berry, Sc. '72, formerly of Labrador City, Nfld., is a mechanical engineer for the Mine and Technical Services Department, Great Canadian Oil Sands Ltd. The Berrys live at 134 Silka Dr., Fort McMurray, Alta.

Dr. Vijay K. Bhargava, Sc. '70, M.Sc. '72, Ph. D. '74 (B.Sc., Rajasthan), has joined Concordia University as an Assistant Professor, Department of Electrical Engineering. He would enjoy hearing from friends who may be in Montreal.

Dr. Douglas E. Brooks, Med. '73, is now practising medicine in Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., after spending two years in Westport, Ont. Mrs. Brooks (Susan Hall), Arts '71, after five years of government service, is "happily unemployed".

Major James E. F. Bryce, Arts '72, has left CFB Petawawa to serve as the Exchange Instructor of Gunnery at the Royal Artillery School, Larkhill, England.

Jane A. Campbell, Arts '72, Elgin, Ont., has been granted a year's leave of absence from Smiths Falls District Collegiate Institute to further her studies at the University of British Columbia, Vancouver, B.C.

R. E. (Rob) Colwell, Com. '72, Toronto, Ont., has been appointed Marketing Manager of the Confectionery and Grocery Product Divisions, Hershey Chocolate of Canada. He will serve on the company's management committee and will be involved in the formulation and execution of the company's objectives and programs.

Dr. Sandra L. Cowan, Med. '74, has opened an office for general practice in Tamworth, Ont.

James F. Findlay, Arts '76, registered last fall at Kirksville College of Osteopathic Medicine, Kirksville, Mo., in a four-year program leading to a Doctor of Osteopathy degree.

Sister Irene Forrester, Arts '75, is Assistant Administrator at St. Mary's of the Lake Hospital, Kingston, Ont.

Alex Fowlie, Arts '70, has returned to Saskatchewan after spending two years at Harvard University. He is employed as Director of Research, Saskatchewan Housing Corp., in Regina. Mrs. Fowlie (Margaret Barr), Arts '70, is Statistical Clerk at C.M.H.C.'s Saskatchewan Office.

Duncan Gage, Sc. '72, and Mrs. Gage (Kathy D. Smith), Arts '72, are now living at 9610 Kindletree Dr., Houston, Texas.

Stephen Gentles, Arts '72, and Mrs. Gentles (Kate Hanbidge), Arts '70, Ed. '71, are living in Edmonton, Alta., where Mr. Gentles is business manager for Theatre III. He was formerly with the Centaur Theatre Co. in Montreal, Que.

Randolph James Gillen, Law '74 (B.A., Brock), has opened an office for the practice of law at the Landmark Building, 4 Wellington St., St. Catharines, Ont.

Robert L. Graydon, Law '72 (M.A., McMaster), has joined the law firm of Messrs. Sharpe, Hopkins, Sharpe and Graydon, Niagara Falls, Ont.

Alan G. Hallsworth, M.A. '71 (B.A., University College of Wales), is a lecturer in Geography at Portsmouth Polytechnic, Portsmouth, England.

Michael M. Johnston, Law '72 (B.A., Western), has joined N. Duane Dixon, Sc. '56 (LL.B., Osgoode), in partnership under the firm name of Dixon and Johnston, 40 Main St. W., Smiths Falls, Ont.

Julia E. C. Kinar, Arts '71, has been appointed Community Resources Coordinator with the Hamilton and District Association for the Mentally Retarded. She was formerly a science teacher at Sudbury Secondary School for more than four years.

Frank C. Kraemer, Arts '72, Law '74, was called to the Bar of British Columbia in September 1975 and is now associated in the practice of law with the firm of Rand, McLaughlin and Gorham, Suite 200, 890 West Pender St., Vancouver, B.C.

Dr. Paul Latimer, Med. '72, an M.R.C. Fellow, will serve as a psychiatric consultant to the G.I. Program in the McMaster University Health Sciences Centre. He will research biofeedback and self-regulation of G.I. motility. Dr. Latimer will also teach in the postgraduate psychiatry and undergraduate medical education programs. He was previously Chief Resident in Psychiatry at Queen's University.

Peter LeGendre, Arts '70, Supervisor of Schools, Halifax County Municipal School Board, received his Master's degree in Education from St. Francis Xavier University, Antigonish, N.S.

Daniel Lignon, M.B.A. '75 (B.A., M.A. Sorbonne), is a lecturer with the Faculty of Administration, University of Moncton, N.B.

Robert Mears, Sc. '71, Toronto, Ont., has been a sales engineer with Hoffman Industries Canada Ltd., since his graduation. He and Mrs. Mears (Linda Brigley, KGH '70), have one daughter Laurie, born June 29, 1975.

Douglas W. Mott, M.A. '75 (B.A., New Brunswick), is now studying for a Master of Divinity degree at Emmanuel College, University of Toronto.

Frank Okoh, M.Sc.(Arts) '73, Ph.D. '76 (B.Sc., London), is with the Department of Mathematics at University of Nigeria in Nsukka.

Bryan Olney, Arts '71, M.A. '74, a coordinator in the School of Communications and a teaching master at Loyalist College in Belleville, Ont., has been appointed Public Relations Officer for the community college. Mr. Olney, formerly of CKWS radio in Kingston, spent 16 years in broadcasting before joining the Loyalist faculty six years ago. In addition, he is secretary-treasurer of the Broadcast Education Association of Canada and a national director of the Canadian Advertising and Sales Association.

Patricia L. Patterson, Arts, P.H.E. '74, Ed. '75, is a teacher at the South Grenville District High School, Prescott, Ont.

James L. Pearson, Sc. '73, is a shaft engineer with Texas Gulf Canada Ltd., South Porcupine, Ont.

William S. Pope, M.B.A. '71 (B.Sc., B.C.), has been appointed Treasurer of the Consumers' Gas Co. Mr. Pope joined the company in 1971 and has held the office of Assistant Treasurer since January 1974. In this new capacity he will be responsible for the treasury functions of the company and its subsidiaries.

Allan M. Proulx, Arts '74, has been appointed Assistant Manager, Bank of Montreal, Ontario and Regents Sts., Sudbury, Ont.

Pat Quigley, Arts, P.H.E. '75, Ed. '76, is employed by the Toronto Board of Education at Oakwood Collegiate, where she is teaching Physical Education and Geography.

H. W. Richards, Sc. '71, Willowdale, Ont., has been promoted to Manager of Engineering, Air Compressor Division, Atlas Copco Canada Ltd., Dorval, Que.

William Scott, Arts '74, Ed. '76, is teaching high school in Sunshine, State of Victoria, Australia.

Pat S. Smith, Ed. '75 (B.P.H.E., Laurentian), is employed by the Toronto Board of Education as a Physical Education teacher at Western Technical and commercial School.

Rudolf F. Spoerer, Com. '73 (M.B.A., York), has returned from Colombia, South America, where he has been working for two years. Mr. Spoerer is now Commercial Services Manager, Burndy Canada Ltd., Toronto, Ont.

Allan W. Studd, Arts '73, Theol. '76, and Mrs. Studd (Elizabeth Mason), Artsci. '75, Ed. '76, are living in Ottawa, Ont., where Mr. Studd has accepted a position as Lay Assistant to the Rector, St. John's Anglican Church.

Dave Thomas, Artsci. '72, has moved to 933 Meares St., Victoria, B.C., where he is currently a partner in the consulting firm of Seakem Oceanography Ltd.

Sub-Lt. Allan P. Turner, Arts '73, formerly of Victoria, B.C., has completed bridge watch keeping qualifications and is now serving on HMCS Huron out of Halifax, N.S.

Douglas F. Van Dine, Sc. '72, M.Sc. '75, and Mrs. Van Dine (Donna Lu Moore), Arts '73, Ed. '74, have moved to Aurora, Ont., via Edmonton, Alta., and Victoria, B.C. Mr. Van Dine is working as a consulting engineering geologist, Gartner Lee Associates Ltd. Mrs. Van Dine is continuing her career in education and outdoor recreation. Their address is 32 Connaught Ave., Aurora, Ont.

Jane Walker, Arts '73, is an acquisitions and reference technician in the Documents Unit at Douglas Library, Queen's University.

Michael Walker, Artsci. '75, has left Queen's Geology Department to become Research Assistant for William Rompkey, Member of Parliament for Grand Falls, White Bay and Labrador. Mr. Walker is based in Ottawa.

Henry Wemekamp, Sc. '72, recently formed the Classic Organ Co. Ltd., manufacturing custom electronic organs and related products for home and institutional use. The company is located at 210 Don Park Rd., Unit 13, Markham, Ont.

Gregory Weston, Sc. '74, and Mrs. Weston (Vicki Lee), Arts '68, are living in Ottawa, Ont., where Mr. Weston is a writer for the Ottawa Citizen. He was formerly with the Whig-Standard and the Toronto Star. While living in Kingston, Mrs. Weston was senior High School Liaison Officer at Queen's University.

Mrs. R. B. White (Linda Kennedy), Arts '71, and Mr. White (B.A., Ohio, B.J., Carleton), and their daughter Margaret, born April 1975, are living in Sault Ste. Marie, Ont. Mrs. White taught secondary school in the Soo, 1970-75.

Edmund J. Winker, Artsci '74, formerly of Amherstview, Ont., is living in Regina, Sask., and is enrolled at the Canadian Theological College in a program leading to a Master of Divinity degree.

John R. Wood, Sc. '70, has recently joined the staff of Peat, Marwick and Partners in their Edmonton, Alta., office as a Management Consultant. Mr. and Mrs. Wood live at 10724 - 75th Ave., Edmonton.

Choosing the Right Career Isn't Easy

Few graduates remain in their first (or even second) job for their entire lifetime. Many seek a new career because their present occupation includes constraints such as:

- long hours for limited rewards,
- lack of opportunity,
- a lack of decision making authority leading to frustration and little sense of achievement,
- a work schedule which does not allow them to devote time to an avocation while pursuing their vocation.

If you're looking for a rewarding career, we may have what you seek. Complete and mail the reply card and we'll send you details of a job with Metropolitan Life which may be the right one for you.

Here's why Canadian books dominate our bestseller lists!

1058 The Collected Poems of E.J. Pratt. Revised and enlarged to include all of the poet's major works. $11.00.

Gregory Clark
GRANDMA PREFERRED STEAK

1304 Grandma Preferred Steak. Gregory Clark. An entertaining collection of Clark's best pieces written for The Packer, a special feature that ran for 14 years in most Canadian newspapers. $7.95.

Woman of Labrador
Elizabeth Goudie

1293 Woman of Labrador. Elizabeth Goudie recalls her life as a trapper's wife. The Vancouver Sun says, "this is great literature, quite possibly the best Canada has produced yet." Illustrated. $10.00

THE BUSH GARDEN
Margaret Atwood
1 Selection

308 The Bush Garden. Northrop Frye. Provocative essays on Canadian art and literature. $3.95. AND SURVIVAL. Margaret Atwood. A critical analysis of prominent themes in Canadian literature. $3.95. Count's one choice.

1307 Relentless Verity. Peter Robinson. A dramatic display of the work of Canada's military photographers since 1885. $10.95.

1188 North By 2000. H.A. Hargreaves. A first-ever collection of Canadian science fiction by a writer who emphasizes the human side of man's future condition. $8.95

1002 Alligator Pie. Dennis Lee. A read-aloud children's book full of poems, chants and skipping songs. $6.95.

1303 A People's Art. J. Russell Harper. A sumptuously illustrated and well written study of Canadian folk art. $17.50.

1270 A Very Double Life. C.P. Stacey. A revealing portrait of Mackenzie King's sometimes bizarre and irrational private life. $10.95.

1306 Margo Oliver's Weekend Magazine Menu Cookbook. An easy-to-use cookbook with recipes and menus for every season and occasion. $8.95.

1302 Crafts Canada, The Useful Arts. Una Abrahamson. A beautifully illustrated book displaying Canada's rich craft heritage. $19.95.

1190 Not In Vain. Photos by Ken Bell; text by C.P. Stacey. Bell's magnificently-reproduced photographs show the Canadian battlefields of Western Europe as they were in WWII and as they look today. $9.95.

1336 The Boyd Gang. Marjorie Lamb and Barry Pearson. For the first time, the complete story of Canada's most famous bank robbers whose exploits fascinated Canadians in 1950. Action-packed and heavily illustrated. $12.00

1335 The Past and Future Land. Martin O'Malley. A vivid and moving account of the Berger Inquiry's northern community hearings. Dene and Inuit speak in their own words about their land and their lives. $15.00

1338 Heart of a Stranger. Margaret Laurence's collected personal essays sparkle with all the insight, wit and humanity that have made her one of Canada's most distinguished and best loved novelists. $8.95

Take ANY THREE of these books for just $4.95.
Save up to $47.50 with a trial membership in Canada's own book club.

1009 Bear. Marian Engel. "Fascinating and profound, this novel speaks of a woman's strange journey toward a sense of communion with all living creatures." Margaret Laurence. $7.95.

1292 Women in the Canadian Mosaic. Ed. by Gwen Matheson. Eighteen challenging essays by and about Canadian women. Rosemary Brown, Margaret Atwood, Grace Hartman, Kay Macpherson, fourteen others. $12.00

1337 The Seventh Hexagram. Ian McLachlan. The stunning new novel of mystery, adventure and politics in the seamy underworld of Hong Kong. $9.95

1309 Lady Oracle. Margaret Atwood's new bestseller. A comic tour-de-force in which a writer of gothic novels tries to escape from her life and lovers. $10.00.

1301 The Leacock Medal Treasury. Selected by Ralph L. Curry. Three decades of the best of Canadian humour. $11.95.

Save money now with a no-strings-attached trial membership in Canada's own book club. The books on this page are typical of the offerings of the only Canadian book club. And you can have any three of them for just $4.95 with your trial membership.

The Readers' Club is owned and operated by Canadians to serve the distinctive requirements of thoughtful Canadian readers. Now, with the help of the Secretary of State and the Canada Council, the Club is able to enroll additional members.

The Club offers you the carefully-chosen best of the new and important Canadian books. There is no membership fee, and no minimum purchase requirement — you buy as few or as many books as you please.

Lots to gain . . . and nothing to lose . . . choose your introductory books today!

The Readers' Club of Canada

35 Britain Street, Toronto, Ontario M5A 1R7

QA177

Enroll me in the Readers' Club and send me the three books I have indicated by number in the boxes below. I enclose $4.95 (cheque or m.o.) as payment in full for my introductory choices. Send me Canadian Reader each month, describing forthcoming Selections and other important new Canadian books. If I wish to receive a Selection, I need do nothing. Otherwise I will give you my instructions on a form which is always provided. I can buy as few or as many books through the Club as I please. I will benefit from the Club's Bonus Plan. I will be offered frequent savings on my purchases. And I may resign from the Club at any time without penalty.

MY INTRODUCTORY SELECTIONS:

Name _____
Address _____
City _____ Prov. _____ Postal Code _____

Queen's Quest

Major Financial Campaign to be Launched

The Board of Trustees has approved a financial campaign to raise $10 million from the private sector, beginning in 1978.

Mrs. William M. Benidickson, Vice-Chairman of the Board and Chairman of the Queen's Fund Council, has stressed that Queen's is not embarking on a building campaign, but rather a general-purpose campaign to bolster six main areas:

- library services
- scientific and technical equipment
- modernization and renewal of facilities
- research support
- academic development
- financial aid to students.

Students, staff, faculty, alumni, parents, corporations, foundations and other friends of Queen's will be canvassed during the period 1978 to 1983. Mr. Cedric E. Ritchie of Montreal, Chairman, President and Chief Executive Officer of the Bank of Nova Scotia, is the campaign chairman.

UL GAS LIBRARY
CHIVES
GSTON ONT
7L 5C4

QUEEN'S

ALUMNI REVIEW

ARCH - APRIL 1977

PROFESSIONALS SOMETIMES NEED TO SEEK MORE THAN JUST ADVICE.

All the good advice in the world won't pay the rent on office space, or keep the cash flow of an expanding practice running smoothly.

If you're a graduate, or have already started your career, the Royal Bank can help you to either get established, or progress further in the professional world. Your Royal Bank manager is qualified to give you good financial advice, and assistance in a more tangible form—up to $50,000 where the circumstances warrant.

Speak to your Royal Bank manager about our Business Program for Professionals. Whether you're just starting out, or on your way up, he can help you plan your future with practical solutions to your financial problems.

ROYAL BANK
the helpful bank

Eligible professions include: Accounting—Chartered Accountant—C.A., Architecture—B. ARCH., Chiropractic—Doctor in Chiropractic—D.C., Dentistry—D.D.S., Engineering—B. ENG., Law—B.C.L., LL.B., Medicine—M.D., Optometry—O.D., Pharmacy—B. Sc., PHARM., Veterinary Medicine—D.V.M.

MARCH-APRIL 1977

Volume 51 Number 2

Editor
CATHERINE PERKINS MORTON,
Arts '58

Editor, Personal Notes
KAYE PATTEN

Editorial Advisory Board
H.J. HAMILTON, Arts '31, LL.D. '75
MURRAY A. GILL, Sc. '47
BERNARD F. TROTTER, Arts '46
PETER DORN, R.C.A.

Alumni Association and The Review Mark Half-Century	2	By H.J. Hamilton
What's This about Unions for Professors?	7	National trends and Queen's situation
New Deans for Two Faculties	9	Bernard Adell, Law; Thomas Williams, Education
What Do Geographers Do After Graduation?	10	Results of their employment surveyed
New Class Agent Program	12	Explained by Assistant Fund Director
Around the Campus	13	Convocation calendar; Govern- ment funding announced; North- ern Studies co-ordinated; New Theology degrees; New executive for AMS; Problems and solutions at the Library
Letters	17
At the Branches	19	California, Washington, Ber- muda, Kingston, Montreal, Lon- don, Toronto
Names in the News	21	Births, Deaths, Marriages and other personal notes
Announcements	11 20	Reunion 1977 dates Annual Meeting, Queen's Alum- nae

PHOTO CREDITS: Wallace R. Berry — page 6 (Gill. Hurlbut, Hamilton, 9 (Ready), 11, 23 (MacInnes), 25 (Fyfe); Graham Boag, 14; Queen's News Department, 15 (weather), 16; Tricolor '74 & '75, 32; Ronald Miller, Willowdale, 28 (Lewis); Public Archives of Canada, 3 (Borden); Fred Van Driel, Queen's Journal, 15 (Clark, AMS).

The Queen's Review is published bi-monthly: January, March, May, July, September and November. Address all communications to THE QUEEN'S REVIEW, Alumni Association, Queen's University, Kingston, Ont. K7L 3N6. Typeset, printed and bound by 1000 Islands Publishers Ltd., Gananoque, Ont. Member, CASE.

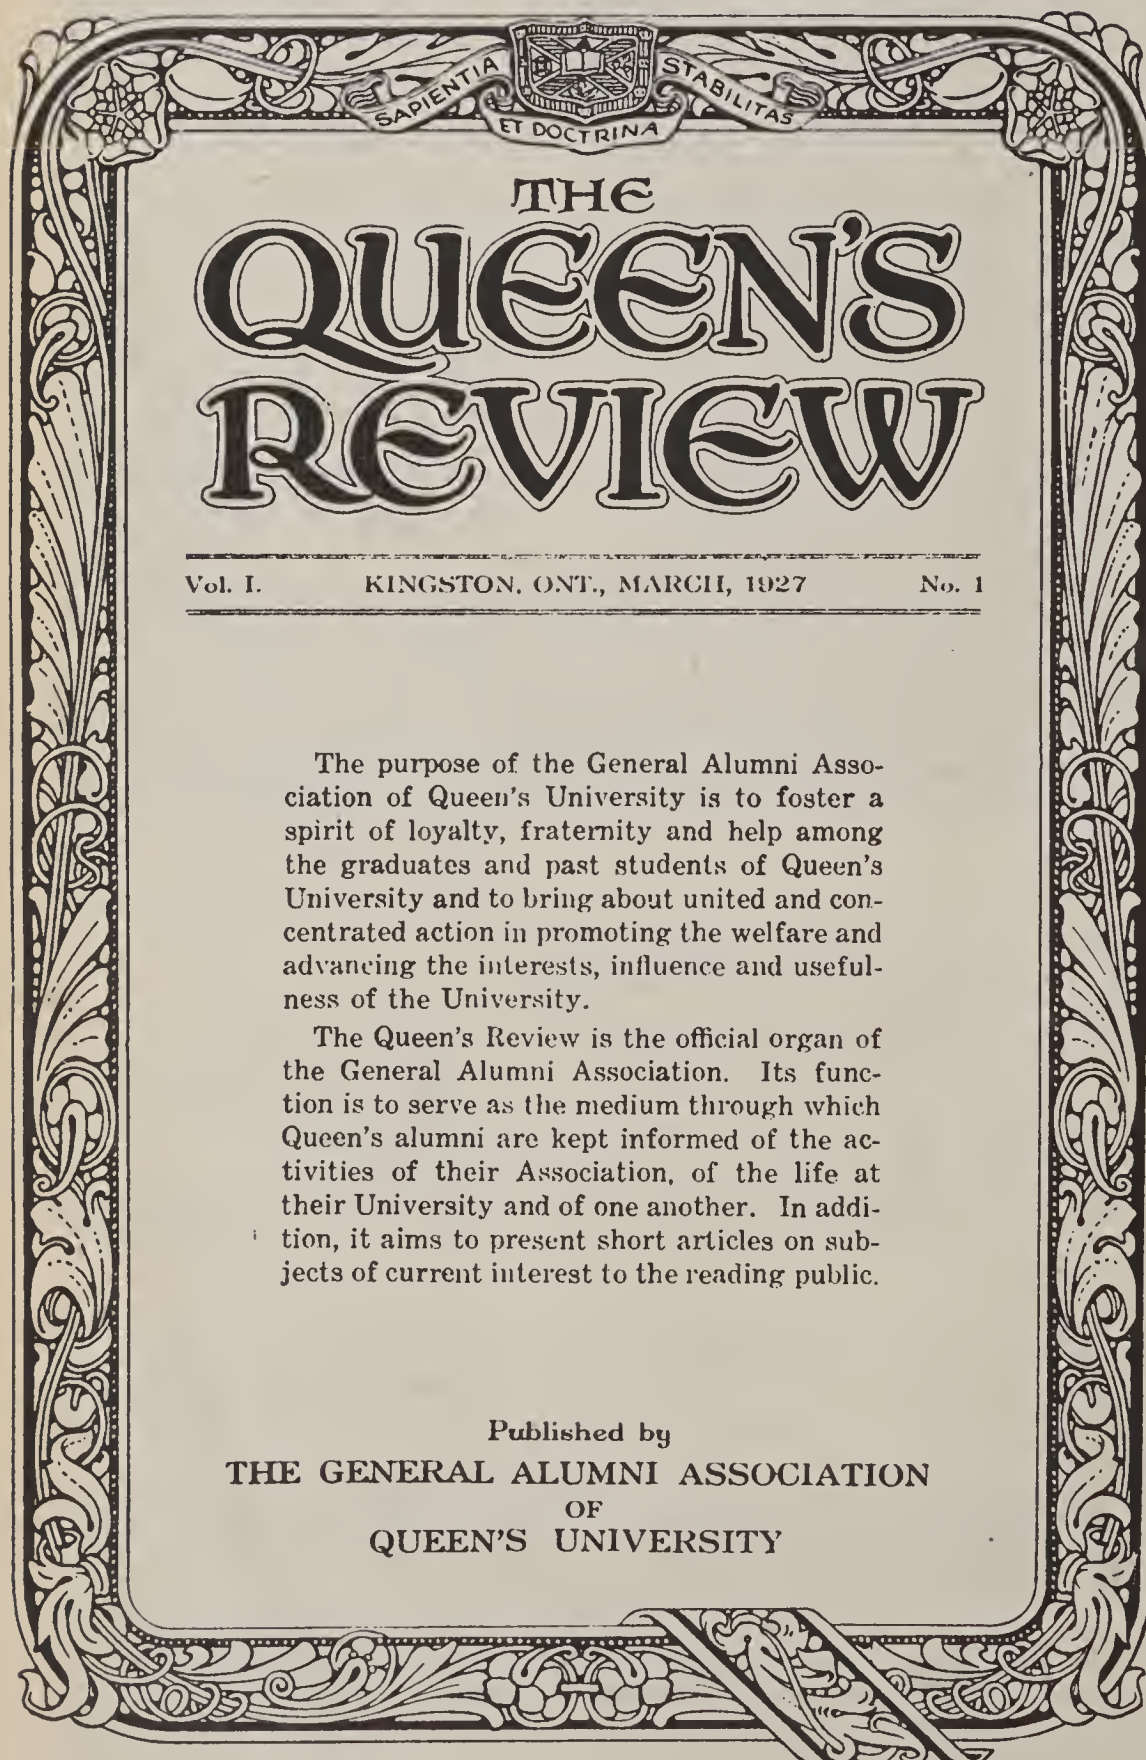

Advertising Representatives: Alumni Media, Toronto (416) 781-6957, and Vancouver (604) 688-6819.

Postage paid in cash at third-class rates. Permit no. 1019, Kingston, Ont.

OVER: Designed by Peter Morton, RCA, from the cover of the first issue of The Queen's Review, dated March 1927. See feature on pages 2 through 6.

Queen's Alumni & The Review

The cover of the first Queen's Review, March 1927. Its statements of purpose are still in effect, 50 years later.

By Herbert J. Hamilton,
Arts '31, LL.D. '75,
Director Emeritus of Alumni Affairs

This year marks the 50th anniversary of the Alumni Association, which came into existence on a most auspicious occasion, a week-long Reunion for graduates and friends in celebration of the University's 85th birthday.

The women graduates, or alumnae, had had their own organization since the turn of the century, with Mrs. Adam Shortt as the first president. It sponsored the first residences for women students, but because of a limited membership it carried on with great difficulty. It was revitalized in 1911 and, with a women's residence on campus as an objective, grew and prospered.

Branches, but no 'vine'

Meanwhile there was a growing demand for an association that would represent the interests of all graduates. Several groups had already developed around the country in response to the desire of Queen's graduates to keep in touch with one another. The first of these appears to have been organized in Ottawa in 1888, with John Thorburn, M.A., LL.D., as president. Others followed: New York, Toronto, Brockville, Western Ontario, Kingston, Hamilton, British Columbia, Calgary, Winnipeg, Temiscaming, Saskatchewan, Peterborough, Montreal—and even Turkey.

mark their first half-century

Some of these held annual meetings and were quite active; others had an irregular existence and withered on the vine. Their existence depended upon enthusiasm at the local level; there was no unifying force from a central office.

Out of the preparations for a Reunion of the Class of 1913, in the early 1920s, emerged the idea of an Alumni Association. Questionnaires were circulated among other universities and a great mass of information was gathered, but here the matter dropped.

Then in 1925-26, it was discovered by representatives of the University making calls across Canada and the United States on behalf of the current endowment campaign that there was a widespread desire for an association of graduates and former students. A committee of graduates and members of staff then made a study and reported a consensus in favour of organization.

That remarkable Reunion

The 85th Anniversary Reunion, scheduled for November 1926, provided the opportunity for implementation. A week-long program of addresses, a Convocation, various meetings and social events, culminating with the Queen's-Varsity football game, was arranged. For this Reunion, 870 graduates and former students registered, plus 600 friends and relatives — a remarkable turnout. An open meeting of graduates formed an Alumni Association, by unanimous vote, an Act of Incorporation and a set of by-laws were approved, and provisional of-

Principal R. Bruce Taylor

Sir Robert Borden Chancellor

The Douglas Library was new in 1927. Note empty shelves in Reading Room.

Ban Righ Hall in its first year

Gordon J. Smith: first Secretary-Treasurer-Editor

Anne Corrigan: Assistant Secretary, personal notes editor

R.O. Swezey: first national Alumni President

ficers and committees were elected. R.O. Swezey, Sc. '08, was the first national president.

Big job, small staff

Gordon J. Smith, Arts '12, Sc. '15, was appointed Secretary-Treasurer, and Anne Corrigan, Arts '24, was named Assistant Secretary, and thanks to their untiring efforts the Association was well and truly launched. Priority was given to establishing a file of names and addresses of the 6,000-plus graduates and the publication of an alumni magazine. No time was lost on either objective. A relentless search was started to update addresses and add names of those previously missed or overlooked.

The medium for the messages

The first issue of The Queen's Review made its appearance exactly half a century ago, in March 1927. Mr. Smith was the editor, and Miss Corrigan provided the personal notes, as she was to do so well until her death in 1963. A foreword by Mr. Swezey promised the University the support of all Queen's folk everywhere. A message from the Chancellor, Sir Robert Borden, referred to the distinctive character of the national service which Queen's renders and said, "The whole-hearted loyalty of its graduates is in itself the highest tribute that a university may claim."

The Principal, Rev. R. Bruce Taylor, wrote that the development of an Alumni Association was the greatest development of the endowment campaign. "The first four deacades of the University's life were a time of peril and of small growth," he said, "yet out of these troubles came the Queen's spirit." With reference to Queen's future growth, he noted that the present enrolment was 1,332... "and no one would deny that many of these would be well to drop all idea of a university education." No equivocation here; quality, not quantity, was definitely Dr. Taylor's objective.

What was topical then?

The issue contained a number of articles: the first of what turned out to be an excellent series on 'The Makers of Queen's', this one on Nathan Fellowes Dupuis, by James and R.W. Cumberland; 'Ultramicroscopic Life' by Dr. G.B. Reed; 'From Mine to Coin' by Dr. W.A. Mackintosh; 'Queen's University Library' by the man in charge of it, Nathan van Patten. There were also new stories of the Reunion, background on the Alumni Association, and an account of the football season, the last by W.P. Hughes, athletic director, plus editorials on a variety of subjects. The Constitution of the new Association rounded out the table of contents.

Getting personal — and popular

The personal notes section of the first Review, though small, was significant, as it was the start of what was to become one of the permanent and most popular features of the magazine.

Among the births were reported additions to the families of such well-known Queen's folk as J.J. Denny, Prof. D.S. Ellis, W.O. La-ontaine, G.C. Monture and G.W. Varner. Eight marriages were recorded, including that of Dr. J.H. (Johnny) Evans, "one of the best quarterbacks in recent years". There were three deaths: Dr. R.S. Anglin, R.H. Cowley and Dr. R.J. Drummond, a member of the Class of Medicine 1862 and "one of Queen's oldest alumni".

Included among the notes were several significant items: W.S. Kirkland appointed to the Principalship of Central Technical School, Toronto; Dr. M.R. Bow appointed Deputy Minister of Health for Alberta; R.M. Smith appointed Deputy Minister of Highways for Ontario; Ralph O. Campney appointed private secretary to the Minister of Trade and Commerce. W. F. Lickie, chairman of Queen's Board of Trustees and former Attorney-

General for Ontario, resumed the practice of law in Kingston; Dr. D.M. McIntyre retired as chairman of the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board; Miss Charlotte Whitton had taken "the important position of executive secretary of the Canadian Council of Child Welfare."

'Was the Reunion a Success?'

'Was the Reunion a Success?' was the probing title of a piece written by "A member of 'Naughty-Three'". In his analysis, the changes in old friends were not as easy to appreciate as the stately new buildings on campus (Douglas Library, Ban Righ Hall, the second Jock Harty Arena, and the rebuilt General Hospital).

Old John, who was such a gay young dog 24 years ago, had grown fat — physically and mentally — and was inclined to patronize us. Tom had a wife who ruled him with an iron hand, and any suggestion of old-time entertainment or escapade was received with disquiet and an obvious attempt to place the conversation on a higher — and safer — plane. Mary, who was such a soul-satisfying blonde in her youth, had lost her girlish figure and viewed with a thank-God-I missed-him expression the beau of her earlier years.

In the second issue, in April, "Old Grad" contributed 'Veni, Vidi', an account of his impressions of the Reunion. He found Kingston largely unchanged, the University larger, and the new buildings impressive. He went to a University dance: "How pretty the girls are, but not nearly so prettily frocked as in the

Murray A. Gill
Director, Alumni Affairs

Dr. H.J. Hamilton
Emeritus Director

Ernest E. Hurlbut
Director, Alumni Fund

Cathy Perkins Morton
Editor, Queen's Review

Faye Patten
Personal Notes Editor

Sandra Woods
Asst. Fund Director

A Look at the QUAA after 50 years

From its beginning with 6,000 graduates and former students, Queen's Alumni Association has grown to include almost 40,000 living alumni, with 33 branches active in Canada, the U.S.A. and Bermuda.

And Queen's alumni have been good to their alma mater. Just since 1954, when the Association agreed to handle the annual giving program, members have contributed a total of $12,135,000 — $7-million of it through wills and bequests.

Eric G.A. Jorgensen
National President
Queen's Alumni Association

As for service, alumni are found in majority numbers on the Board of Trustees and the University Council. They are also welcomed and needed on many advisory committees dealing, for example, with residences, athletics, student recruiting, scholarships and awards.

Since last fall, the Alumni Office has been in its fourth campus 'home', Wallace Hall (formerly the dining room in the Union and now part of the new John Deutsch University Centre). For almost a year the staff has been in the throes of computerization, putting on tape all your names, addresses, degrees, donations, marriages, family additions, etc., for greater efficiency with expanding numbers.

For half a century the Association has kept alumni in touch through the Review, help with Reunions and branch activities. Soon, in addition to the popular alumni ski trips to the Rockies, members will be offered charter-rate trips to Europe, the Caribbean and Asia.

Happy anniversary!

(Continued from page 5)

old days, when dresses were dresses and not remnants." A highlight for him was the football game in which Queen's downed Varsity 3-1 and in which "Pee Wee" Chantler made a spectacular one-hand tackle to prevent a Toronto touchdown in the dying moments of the game.

Dearie, do you remember when...?

A news story proudly told of the purchase of the Orphan's Home at the corner of Union St. and University Ave. for conversion into a Students' Union as a memorial to the Queen's men who fell in World War One. This heralded the fulfilment of a student dream that had pervaded the campus for many years.

A vote of thanks was expressed to the freshman class in Science (Science '30) for their help in mailing the first issue of the Review. Twenty members had come to the rescue of the overburdened alumni staff by pasting labels and stamps on about 6,000 copies of the magazine. Gratitude was also expressed to the freshmen in Medicine who had volunteered to perform the same service for issue number two.

From these humble beginnings has emerged a strong Alumni Association (about 38,000 living graduates and 32 Branches) which has the best interests of the graduates and the University at the core of all its ventures.

May the next 50 years prove as profitable for all concerned.

What's this about unions for professors?

On recent occasions when alumni have come to campus, particularly for University Council or Trustees' meetings, there have been questions raised about professors forming unions. The following article is based on a discussion at the November meeting of the Board of Trustees about "Canadian Trends in Faculty Collective Bargaining".

The trend towards unionization in Canadian universities is continuing. There are a number of reasons, according to Principal Watts:

- Faculty salaries generally have not kept pace with inflation and no longer compare as favourably with those in a number of other professional groups across the country.

- With the increasing need for financial constraint, faculty members are becoming more concerned about job security and tenure.

- There is some feeling that with the tremendous growth of the universities in the '60's, the more complex administrative structures which resulted, and also the increased role of students in policy-making bodies, the role of faculty in policy-making and decision-making has seriously declined. Collective bargaining is considered as a means of restoring to faculty some influence in decisions that affect them.

In Quebec, Laval University's faculty members went on strike last Sept. 7, and the University of Quebec at Montreal went on strike soon after. At Laval the strike continued until mid-January, making it necessary to extend the academic year. (See separate feature.)

In the West, the University of Manitoba, and, in Ontario, Carleton, Ottawa and York universities are certified. Windsor is moving in this direction, and negotiations are continuing at the University of Toronto for the establishment of a system of voluntary collective bargaining.

The Situation at Queen's

At Queen's, the Faculty Association established a committee to look into the alternatives to unionization. This Committee opposed any formal collective bargaining, and proposed instead a continuation of the present arrangements, augmented by the establishment of a consultive group on faculty compensation. This is not considered a negotiating body, but a group within which views can be exchanged between the Faculty Association and officers of the University on a regular basis.

Dr. Watts told the Trustees that it is difficult to forecast the future, especially as the trend towards faculty collective bargaining grows across the country. Although there is undoubtedly an increasing concern among Queen's staff about compensation, security and faculty participation in decision-making, there is still a strong feeling at Queen's that collective bargaining and the adversarial processes involved are not in keeping with the collegial relationship that should exist at a university.

What about the right to strike?

Dr. Watts reported that at the University of Toronto faculty are prepared to renounce the right to strike action in return for a system of voluntary collective bargaining. Mr. Norman Rogers observed that York University has accepted binding arbitration as an alternative to the right to strike. Trustee Evelina Thompson reported that the collective bargaining agreement at Ryerson Polytechnical Institute provides for compulsory arbitration.

Trustee L.G. Greenwood suggested that sometimes employee groups start with a form of consulting group, and then at a time of stress make it the first step to collective bargaining. The Principal pointed out that Queen's already has a staff association representing a large portion of the non-academic, non-unionized staff, and that many problems have been discussed on an informal basis through this association. (Queen's lab technicians, maintenance staff and library workers have been unionized for some years.)

Prof. Hugh Thorburn added his support to the idea of a consulting group, observing that there has Faculty Unions ?

The Canadian Association of University Teachers (CAUT) has appointed Geoff England, a law lecturer from the University of Wales, to the post of "professional officer in the area of collective bargaining". He will also look into the status of women teachers and their rights.

Collective bargaining as a trend extends to another university group, as well: graduate students who are teaching assistants. At Toronto and York universities their union is called the Graduate Assistants Association. It is now seeking to expand through organizing efforts at Carleton University and Ryerson Polytechnical Institute. If 45% of the proposed bargaining unit (that is, 45% of all teaching assistants) sign union cards, a certification vote will be held.

(Continued from page 7)

really been very little change in the outlook of the Faculty Association since he was president 15 years ago. Dr. A.A. Travill recalled that the Faculty Association had met with the Board in 1968, and said that the professors' knowledge that they can have access to the Trustees has always been a positive factor.

Jamie Avis, President of the AMS, said that collective bargaining for faculty is of concern to students, since the two-sided adversarial approach sometimes creates a barrier to the adequate consideration of student views about such matters as staff/student ratios and curriculum. He asked that students be represented if new methods of consultation were to be considered.

It is difficult to determine what the long-term trend in faculty collective bargaining at Canadian universities will be. However, Principal Watts says there is a very healthy situation at Queen's right now and that the establishment of the consultive group should go a long way towards maintaining the collegial relationship which faculty and staff at Queen's are anxious to maintain.

What can happen: the strike at Laval

From mid-November through December, Daniel A. Soberman, Dean of Law at Queen's, was wearing two hats. Besides performing his regular academic duties, he commuted between Kingston and Quebec City, mediating a faculty strike at Laval University.

In September the professors' union, Syndicat des Professeurs de l'Université Laval (membership 934 professors) rejected an offer by the university administration and went out on strike, forcing Laval to close its doors to some 20,000 students expecting to register for the fall term. The main issues at stake were a larger role for professors in the university's decision-making process, plus revisions to the salary structure.

The strike was in its eleventh week when Dean Soberman, a respected member of the Canadian legal and teaching professions, was invited by both parties to act as mediator. By Dec. 19 he had hammered out a draft agreement. It was presented to the union membership and was ratified on Dec. 23. The contract between the faculty and the University Council was officially signed in mid-January and will run until May 1978. Salary provisions are retroactive to June 1975 — a 35% increase for 1975-76, 8% for '76-'77, and 6% for next year.

A salary scale was established, doing away with contracts between individual professors and the university. The return-to-work agreement also outlined the length of the academic year, the professors' workloads, and a grievance procedure. It gives members more voice in peer evaluation and the hiring of professors. It also sets out terms for probation, rank, tenure and job security. As well, the new collective agreement contains clauses on sabbatical leave, maternity leave, and professors who are university employees under research contracts.

And what about the 20,000 students who were locked out last September? To make up for the lost teaching time, Laval has announced that its academic year 1976-77 will consist of two 13-week terms (Jan. 10-April 8 and April 12 - July 8) plus a summer session running from July 11 till Aug. 28.

New Deans named to two Faculties

Faculty of Law

Dr. Bernard Adell will succeed Daniel A. Soberman as Dean of the Faculty of Law, effective Sept. 1. The appointment is for five years.

Dr. Adell, 37, is a native of Edmonton and a graduate of the University of Alberta (B.A., LL.B.). He went to Oxford in 1961 as Alberta's Rhodes Scholar, studied there for three years and earned the degree Doctor of Philosophy.

He has taught at Queen's since 1964, and served as Associate Dean of Law from 1969 to 1971. His major academic interests are legal philosophy and labour relations law, fields in which he has written and collaborated on several books and articles.

Since 1966 Professor Adell has been a member of the Law Society of Upper Canada and a labour arbitrator. He spent the first six months of 1976 on a mission to Africa for the International Labour Organization, an agency of the United Nations. His job was to advise the government of Swaziland on the development of labour legislation.

Next Sept. 1 Dean Soberman will step down from the post he has held since December 1968, but will stay at Queen's and resume regular teaching duties. He has been a member of Queen's Law Faculty since its beginning in 1957. In announcing the appointment of Dr. Adell, Principal Watts also expressed sincere appreciation to Dean Soberman for his contribution to the stature of the Faculty of Law in particular and of the University as a whole.

Dean Soberman

Dean Ready

Faculty of Education: Fall changeover

Dr. Thomas R. Williams has been named Dean of the Faculty of Education for an initial five-year term, beginning next July 1st. He succeeds Vernon S. Ready, who has served as Dean since the Faculty of Education was founded 11 years ago (originally under the name McArthur College).

In making the announcement, Principal Watts expressed confidence that Dr. Williams, now at the Ontario Institute for Studies in Education (OISE), Toronto, will provide "leadership appropriate to the challenges and opportunities the Faculty will face in the future" as a teacher of teachers.

Dr. Williams is a native of Peterborough, Ont. He studied at McGill University to earn a B.Sc. in 1960, a teaching diploma in 1962, and an M.A. in Educational Administration in 1965. The University of Michigan awarded him a doctorate in the same field in 1968.

He then spent several years with the Department of Education at the University of Chicago, latterly as assistant director of the Midwest Administration Center. He joined the staff of OISE in 1970 and in 1974 was named to his current post as Chairman and Associate Professor in the Department of Educational Administration.

Before Dean Ready assumes regular teaching duties in Queen's Faculty of Education, he will take a year's leave overseas. The Institute of Education at the University of London has invited him as a visiting scholar for a year of private study in the Department of Comparative and International Education. As part of his program, he will visit a number of European countries and the USSR to compare educational systems. He will sail for England next October and return to Queen's in the fall of 1978.

Bernard Adell to be Dean of Law

Thomas R. Williams to be Dean of Education

For Queen's Geographers: Is there life after graduation?

What do geographers do (after leaving Queen's, that is)?

The Department recently undertook a survey of the 223 students who graduated with a B.A. or B.Sc. Honours or medial degree in Geography between 1962 and 1975. Fully 77% responded.

Prof. Maurice Yeates, Head of the Geography Department, found the variety of positions being occupied "astounding". This is just a partial and random selection of the types of jobs being undertaken by Queen's Geography alumni:

Transportation division, large petroleum company;
Jet pilot, Canadian Armed Forces;
Community Planner, Ministry of Housing;
High school teacher;
Supervisor of economic forecasting for a large business;
Map librarian;
University professor (Geography, Economics, Biology, History); Lawyer;
Marketing division of a large department store chain;
Property appraiser;
Environmental researcher for an inter-city gas company;
Statistics Canada (several sections);
Oceanographic work for Federal Government;
Land use analyst;
Marketing Boards (milk, eggs, etc.);
Computer companies (sales, soft-ware, etc.);
Water Resources manager;
Planners — city, regional, parks, industrial development;
Production of National Atlas, Federal Government.

As the survey notes, some jobs are obviously related directly or indirectly to geography, but some appear to have no relationship to the discipline. "No doors are closed," says Dr. Yeates.

He points out that the majority of Honours graduates in the 1962-74 period were males. This picture is changing rapidly, with females making up 50% of the classes of 1975 and 1976. Another survey will be undertaken after these classes have settled into the job market.

A sidelight to this survey is the growth of Geography at Queen's during the period surveyed (from one student in 1962 to 43 in 1975 and 50 this year). This means that the vast proportion of the respondees were recent graduates. This concentration influences the employment record enormously, it is observed, since many of the recent grads (24%) are now in postgraduate work or further professional training and have yet to enter the job market.

It is obvious from the chart summarizing the survey results that geographers don't automatically become teachers or professors; only three out of 10 Queen's Geography grads are in this field. Dr. Yeates cautions incoming students, though, not to ignore the fact that "education not only requires replacements, but also new abilities in the same areas (urban studies, environmental education, for example)."

Queen's Geographers: Employment

Prof. Maurice Yeates
Head, Geography
Department

Approximately one of every four is working at some level of government, usually in the area of regional planning and urban research (including demographic forecasting).

A similar proportion (about 24%) of these Geography grads is currently enrolled in graduate studies — not just Geography, but also Business (M.B.A.), Urban and Regional Planning, Law, Public Administration and Library Science. Dr. Yeates observes that between 1962 and '75, one in seven Honours graduates looked for a position in business; his 'guesstimate' is that fully 40% of the 1976 grads obtained jobs in business (usually distributing or marketing) or enrolled in M.B.A. programs.

At the time of the survey, three graduates of the class of '75 were still on a 'grand tour' of Europe, a special kind of graduate study.

In an age of pessimism among undergraduates about employment opportunities, the situation for geographers is "cautiously optimistic", the survey concludes. "The big story, however," says Dr. Yeates, "is the confidence with which geographers are moving into business and the professional schools."

"There is no doubt", he says, "that we have a program which caters not only to the needs of the geography discipline, but also the real-world alternatives faced by the student with a Bachelor's degree."

Geography:

Honours Students Graduated by Year

REUNION

'77!

OCT. 14-16

1927 1917 1932

1929 1968 1952

1948

THIS IS YOUR YEAR!

1977 is also an official Reunion year for the Classes of 1930, 1931, 1948-1/2, 1949, 1950, 1967, 1969, 1970 and 1975.

Any class may hold a Reunion at any time.

For help with your newsletters, class lists, mailing of notices, hotel reservations, party bookings, etc., contact: Sheila Mayo, Reunion Secretary, Queen's Alumni Office, Queen's University, Kingston, Ont. K7L 3N6 (547-6560)

A Few Words about Class Agents

With the approval of the Board of Directors and the Alumni Fund Committee, a Class Agent system is being established for Queen's graduates. It will take over much of what the Alumni Fund has been trying to accomplish through its direct mail program. "Agents" for nine classes representing a cross-section of the alumni constituency have already been selected and contacted. In time, we hope that all classes will become involved.

As Queen's living graduates now number more than 35,000, communicating the need for support of the Annual Alumni Fund has become somewhat impersonal. By dividing each class into groups of 50 and selecting an interested, energetic representative to correspond with each group, we can replace some of our mass-produced mailings by personalized letters written by classmates.

An important reason for undertaking a project of this nature is that we want to do as much as possible to reduce the operating costs of the Annual Alumni Fund. Any reduction in the number of mailing pieces will lower printing and postage costs. Our ultimate goal is a more effective and efficient operation.

We feel that other benefits will result from this Class Agent program. A certain amount of class competition may develop, and this could be a boost for the Fund. Your questions about Queen's in general or uses of the Fund in particular can be asked and answered more personally. Reunion enthusiasm could be heightened. Class news will spread more quickly, and closer bonds between scattered classmates could be formed or re-established.

You may be a member of one of the classes chosen for the initial phase: Classes since 1935 with years ending 5 and 0, plus the Classes of '76 and '77, Law '68 and Med. '63. If so, watch your mailbox for a friendly Class Agent letter. If not, your patience while the program is being refined and your Class organized will be greatly appreciated.

SANDRA WOODS,
Associate Fund Director, Queen's Alumni Association

Around the Campus

Dr. Harry Parrott
Ontario Minister, Colleges and Universities

Ontario support of Queen's likely up by about 7.5%

Early in December the Ontario Government announced its 1977-78 funding for the province's universities — a net total increase of 10%, as recommended by its citizens' advisory group, the Ontario Committee on University Affairs (OCUA). Principal Watts reviewed the general figures as follows for the University Senate:

- (1) allowances for inflation — a net increase of 7.1%;
- (2) allowances for enrolment growth in the Ontario system — an increase of 2.5%;
- (3) a special allowance for the high inflationary cost of equipment — .4%.

The increase to individual universities depends on the extent to which the portion for enrolment growth applies to them. For Queen's, then, with its relatively steady enrolment, the net increase for next year will be closer to 7.5% than 10%.

The Principal, gratified that the Government took the advice of the OCUA, generally speaking, nonetheless warned that the level of funding means a tight budget at Queen's again for 1977-78.

Some Senators expressed concern that "the shape of the University be changed ultimately by the continual increase in the staff-student ratio implied by the government's annual percentage discounts or 'increases of productivity'."

In dollar terms, the 15-university system will receive operating funds of $703.1 million next year, up $52 million (or 8%) from this year's projected $651 million. The additional 2% increase implicit in the announcement is taken from a hike of $100 per student in tuition fees.

The tuition fee increase — the

New set of dates for Spring Convocation

The dates for Spring Convocations have been amended. Here are the new dates, for parents and friends planning visits to campus for graduation ceremonies:

SATURDAY, MAY 21

Morning: School of Graduate Studies and Research, Theological College, Faculty of Education.

Afternoon: Faculty of Medicine, Faculty of Law, School of Nursing, School of Rehabilitation Therapy

SATURDAY, MAY 28

Morning: Faculty of Applied Science, School of Business (B.Com. & M.B.A.)

SATURDAY, JUNE 4

Morning: Faculty of Arts and Science

Afternoon: Faculty of Arts and Science, School of Physical and Health Education

first in five years — means that students will be paying, on average, about 16% of their educational costs. (Taxpayers pay roughly 80% and the remainder must come from private supporters.)

Dr. Harry Parrott, Ontario's Minister of Colleges and Universities, has emphasized that "the increase in tuition fees does not change the government's commitment to ensure that students' access to post-secondary education is not limited by their financial circumstances." He announced that the province's program of financial assistance to students would be increased from $61 million currently to $74 million next year. As they already must, students will be required to borrow $1,000 before they can receive non-repayable funds from the province.

The buildings: getting older, but are they getting better?

There was disappointment for Queen's and other 'senior' universities with older buildings when Ontario announced it would spend less next year on "projects related to the renewal and maintenance of physical facilities." The $10 million for '77-'78 is down from $10.2 million parcelled out for this year and far below the $14.1 million recommended by OCUA for renovations. (Ontario imposed a freeze five years ago on funds for university buildings not already begun or approved.)

Around the Campus

Biologist Fred Cooke's long-term research on snow geese in the James Bay area is one of several studies now sharing an umbrella committee on Queen's research, training and teaching in Canada's North.

Queen's consolidates Northern presence

For a long period, Queen's University has had a vested interest in northern studies. Individuals, institutes and departments have at various times been engaged in the Arctic and sub-Arctic in comprehensive projects within most scientific fields. Now there is a Northern Studies Committee — an interdisciplinary committee for research, training and teaching within the general area of Canada's northern development.

The first committee has five members:

- Dr. Gerald Hodge, Director, School of Urban and Regional Planning (Committee Chairman);

- Dr. Nils Orvik, Professor of Political Studies and Director of the Centre for International Relations (Committee Secretary);

- Prof. Fred Cooke, Department of Biology, long-time researcher of snow geese;

- Dr. Christopher Crowder, Professor of History and Associate Dean of Graduate Studies and Research;

- Prof. Thomas Plunkett, Director of the Institute of Local Government.

This committee will co-ordinate Queen's functions in the field of northern studies "until such needs emerge that may necessitate further institutionalization."

New degrees in Theology

In December the Senate endorsed two new Theological College programs leading to the degrees of Master of Theology (Th. M.) and Master of Theological Studies (M.T.S.).

There will be a direct connection between the M.T.S. degree and the Institute of Pastoral Care, since the Institute will be the focus of training for all work on that degree.

According to Principal Robert Bater, the Th.M. is a Master's degree in the traditional sense, and the Theological College proposes "to award it only in the pastoral clinical area." Previously, the College was unable to give academic credit for these studies and so lost good students to institutions which offered degrees.

Principal Bater also reported to Senate that Queen's Theological College has been negotiating with the Chaplain General of the Solicitor-General's Department in Ottawa with a view to mounting a course of training for penitentiary chaplains.

Faculty citizenship tally

Of the new academic staff appointed for 1976-77 at Queen's, 71% were Canadian citizens and 19% were landed immigrants already resident in Canada. Corresponding figures for the 15 Ontario universities as a group were 69% and 14%.

According to figures in the Principal's report for 1975-76, Queen's faculty was 77% Canadian, 9% American, 8% British and 6% other).

The Principal recently reported to the Board of Trustees that the number of probationary and tenured staff has fallen since 1973 from 84.7% to 78%. The reduction is the result of implementing the policy of increasing the proportion of sessional and term appointments, as recommended by the Principal's Committee on Resource Allocation in 1972.

JOE WHERE? One January evening, the Hon. Joe Clark, Leader of the Federal Opposition, wandered through Queen's new pub, The Underground, mug of draft beer in hand, shaking students' hands and fielding questions. Mr. Clark was on campus to deliver a Dunning Trust Lecture on Canadian governmental policy as it relates to the resource crisis.

NEW AMS EXECUTIVE IN BY ACCLAMATION

Amid laments about student apathy, the AMS Executive for 1977-78 has been acclaimed. Left to right: Jodi Button, third-year Politics, Vice-President (University Affairs); Hugh Christie, second-year Politics-Economics, President; and Gord Howe, third-year History, Vice-President (Operations). The new president was formerly AMS External Affairs Commissioner and is on the executive of the Ontario Federation of Students. He believes that "the problem of the AMS in the past has been that they've swayed from student-related issues."

REMEMBER...?

Around the Campus

Library in the '80's: problems, solutions

A hard look is being taken at plans for the development of library services to meet the needs of the next few years. According to Vice-Principal Morris Love (Services), the problems are rooted in the fact that while the number of students and staff have virtually stopped growing at Queen's, many thousands of books and serials must be added every year to keep education up to date.

It seems impracticable, the Vice-Principal says, to add space indefinitely to accommodate more volumes; yet, at the other extreme, it would be unwise to discard one old volume for every new one acquired.

Among the possible intermediate courses are: (1) more use of microfilm and microfiche; (2) relocation of less-frequently-used materials in a storage building from which books could be retrieved in a few hours, even if storage were not on the main campus; (3) the expansion of existing 'stack' space; and (4) more co-operation with other libraries.

In connection with the last course, more computer links were put into service at Queen's last month. A computer terminal in the Douglas Library's Documents Unit was hooked up to give Queen's users access to two major data bases — the Canada Institute for Scientific and Technical Information (engineering, electronics, physics, chemistry and life sciences) and QL Systems Ltd. (social sciences, environment, law and metallurgy). Both data bases are available from computers in Ottawa.

MEDLINE, a computer service for health professionals, has been available through a terminal in the

One aspect of the library's space problem is shown in photo taken in the Archives, where George Henderson begins cataloguing the papers of Dr. John J. Deutsch. Archivists, historians, classicists, English scholars, etc., would agree that it is no solution to discard one old book for each new acquisition.

Health Sciences Library since last September. It offers on-line access to some 2,500 medical and nursing journals and other special bibliographies.

For the three computer reference services, access costs from 90¢ to $1.40 per minute, with each search averaging about 15 minutes.

Meanwhile, the quest for solutions continues. Chief Librarian D.A. Redmond called his annual report The Unstable Library in the Steady-State University, and added three rather wistful subtitles: "You can't lock the stable door, but all the stalls are full; OR, the horse hasn't been stolen, but everyone wants another; OR, build bigger barns; we need more hay."

Students helping students

The AMS recently increased its own fund for short-term student loans. Five years ago the AMS established the fund with a capital of $6,000 and operating funds of $4,000, held in trust and administered by the University with other student aid.

Now the AMS Directors, at the urging of Outer Council, have reaffirmed their commitment to the program by increasing the loan fund to $10,000 for current use (30- to 90-day loans) and $10,000 for capital investment. According to Vice-President Paul Steep, "We are convinced that this is one of the most worthwhile uses that can be made of AMS money."

Letters

"The Queen's English"

The article "The Queen's English", Alumni Review, November-December 1976, provides an ironical example of an existential situation: standards of writing have changed (I won't say "declined", or not in this particular context) over the years. The very first sentence of your report contains an example of lack of agreement in number between subject and verb that would have been counted a major error back in the old days of Grade 13 Composition... "only one out of every 100 Queen's students were literate..."

Where do we place our own publication on the literacy scale?

I'm curious: How many of us supposedly literate grads noted the error and wrote to you about it? Among those that did, how many identified the error as well as correcting it? How many made the correction, but were unable to specify, or did not specify, the fault? The sentence should, of course, have read, "...only one out of every 100 Queen's students was literate..."

PRISCILLA GALLOWAY (Pris Peebles),
Arts '51
Willowdale, Ont.

Editor's note: The following two letters were the only others received on this subject.

Recently I read your article entitled, "The Queen's English"... I was somewhat annoyed for, in the first sentence, I discovered a grammatical error. The sentence read, "When it came to writing in English, only one out of every 100 Queen's students were 'literate' when they received their three-year degrees from the Faculty of Arts and Science last year." I was under the impression that when applying the correct rules of basic grammatical construction "one", which is a singular subject, required a singular predicate. I find it distressing that an article concerning the literacy of university students should contain such an obvious grammatical error. Apparently the author of the article was one of those graduates who received a three-year degree last year of which the article spoke.

How can students apply appropriate grammar if published articles do not set a better example than this? I believe if the media were to implement appropriate speech the average Canadian would speak with more accuracy.

I trust that you will rectify this mistake in your next issue of the Queen's Alumni Review? Thank you very much.

JENNIFER CULLEN, B.A. '72
Brockville, Ont.

I'm confused! "The Queen's English" now makes it correct for me to say that I were one of several hundred Science Frosh entering Queen's in 1942!!

DON CRICHTON, Sc. '47
Pointe Claire, Que.

Would it be possible to enter the following note in the Review? We would like all our friends around this good earth to know where we all are.

R.W. (McGee) Laidlaw, Sc. '75,
K.A. Milne, Arts '75, Ed. '76, C.W. (Chuck) Parker, Sc. '75, and A.R. (Wacker) Wachman, Sc. '75, are presently residing at 1718 12th St. S.W., Calgary, Alta.

Our humble abode has been the scene of many a jovial soiree. Our loyal cry of Queen's! Cha Gheill! has echoed over the foothills and through the maintains. All friends of Queen's are invited to come out and get roped, tied and branded.

A.R. WACHMAN (and friends)

To Whom It May Concern,
I cannot tell you how much we have enjoyed receiving the Alumni Review during our stay in Geneva. Thank you so much for sending it, each publication. I trust you have heard of the recent Geneva get-together of Queen's people.

We are moving to England in March and hope we will continue to receive the Review there. Thank you very much for keeping the Queen's spirit alive! [For more news of the Beresfords, see "Names in the News".]

MRS. DAVE BERESFORD (Peggy Cowan),
Arts '70
Geneva, Switzerland

I must agree with the report on "illiteracy" (November-December 1976) and hope people in the right places can get this across to the high schools.

We have felt very fortunate in having a closeness to Queen's and having our youngest of five children graduate from such a fine university (Colleen Welch, B.A. '75). I especially like the size of the student body and concern between teacher and student. I know this (the small size) means disappointment for many, but a greater advantage for those who are accepted.

We wish to extend our best wishes for success with the drive which will take place next year.

MRS. A.F. (CATHERINE) WELCH,
Chatham, N.Y., U.S.A.

Letters [continued]

Editor's Note: Have you ever thought of looking up old classmates or other Queen's people while travelling in a foreign country? One of the services of the Alumni Office is to help you find old friends and make new ones in a strange country. The following letter was written to Murray Gill, Director of Alumni Affairs, by former Vice-Principal Russell J. Kennedy, Sc. '41, who is also former President of your Alumni Association. Before leaving on a round-the-world trip, Professor Kennedy obtained a list of Queen's people in the Far East and Australia.

Bandar Seri Begawan,
Brunei State, Borneo
Dec. 26, 1976

Our tour has gone beautifully so far, and your list has been useful wherever there was enough time. At the moment I'm sitting on sister Franki Beames' (Frances M. Kennedy, Arts '53) north veranda which looks out over a sloping 'garden' of flowering shrubs to Borneo jungle. The coconuts on the nearest palm are just at eye-level and Chris (Beames) says we'll pick some in a day or two if the monkeys don't get them first.

We were surprised and touched to be met at Tokyo airport by Hirokatsu Hiraga (on campus 1973-74) and Jiro Kikuchi, each of whom has had one year at Queen's. Hirokatsu is a brother of some friends, and we knew that he might telephone our hotel — but to trek all the way out to the airport!

I think that the boys were prepared to show us Tokyo then and there, but we didn't have the stamina. They did pick us up at our hotel the following afternoon and we thoroughly enjoyed their conducted tour of the Ginza and dinner at a tempura restaurant.

We had hardly registered in our hotel in Manila before the telephone rang. It was Mike Wise, Sc. '68. I had written a note to John Shaw, Sc. '63, who manages the Marcopper mine on an island 100 miles or so from Manila. He received it just before we arrived and telexed Mike, who is their consulting geologist and who was in Manila with his wife Carmen and six-year-old daughter Elizabeth for the monthly weekend leave.

We were going out to see jai-alai on our last evening in Manila when the phone rang again and it was Howard Collins, Arts '52, who has been a lay missionary with the Episcopal Church in Manila for the last 10 years or so. I had never known Howard before meeting him in Manila, but his older brother Ken was in Sc. '41. Howard had been a fairly close friend of Franki's and we'd seen something of his sister Shirley when she was training at KGH. Also, Padre Laverty and I had an evening with Shirley and husband, Peter Faris, Arts '54, Theol. '56, B.D. '67, in Nelson, B.C., when we made our Alumni Western Tour in spring 1975. As you can see, the Queen's connection out East isn't a bit different from that in Canada.

My wife (Marjorie Rice, Arts '39) and I have a few more days in Borneo, then it's south to Australia by way of Singapore and Bali. There is a letter here from Dr. Wally Breck, Sc. '51, and his wife Vi whom we'll be meeting at James Cook University in Townsville.

Happy New Year to our friends in the Alumni Office.

RUSSELL J. KENNEDY, Sc. '41

The Weekend University

My wife Nadine and I recently spent a weekend at the Donald Gordon Centre. We have wanted to revisit it ever since we attended the official opening, but only made it in November. For anyone bored of being inactive, the Weekend University is a god-send. We enjoyed it thoroughly, and, as you can see from the following, I took a small part.

JOHN S. CORBETT, Sc. '33
Morrisburg, Ont.

An Occasional Poem

(Lines written while attending the Weekend University seminar Come, Come, Ye Sons of Art: Music, Literature in late 17th Century England)

Hail! Bright Cecilia, dost thou know
The groves of Roselawn here below?
Hear Stewart and Pullen both expound
On what sweet unity they found
'Twixt Dryden's verse and Kneller's art,
And you, our Patron, play a part
For Rudolph with the aid of tape
Thy heavenly choirs doth ape.

In transports* of delight we go
Sitting neatly, row on row,
On our way to Kingston Town,
Torn no more by 'Town and Gown',
And there in renovated splendour,
Purcell hymns, now loud, now tender.
Then back to groves of Academe
Where music, love and laughter teem.
(*Bennett's Bus)

While others play on viol and lute,
I will for thee, sweet Saint, be mute.
Fond farewell, melodious Muse,
Calliope — it's back to the booze.
— J.S.C.

At the Branches

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

Monty Hall, host of the popular ABC national network game show "Let's Make a Deal", will be the guest of honour at the 1977 meeting of the Canadian Universities Associated Alumni of Southern California. Monty Hall is a graduate of the University of Manitoba (B.Sc. '55). He will be at The Town and Country, U.S.C., Los Angeles, on April 12, 7:00-9:30 p.m. All Queen's alumni and their friends in the area are welcome.

The 1976 speaker was Dr. Laurence Peter, Canadian-born author of both The Peter Principle and The Peter Plan. Queen's graduates among the Canadian alumni who heard his address were Bob Dagen, Dr. Allan Wolfe, Dr. and Mrs. George C. Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony H. d'Argos, Donald W. Huff and Ms Donna Sexsmith. Queen's people in the area who would like more information should contact the President of Canadian Universities Associated Alumni of Southern California: Wiley J. Millyard, Consul and Senior Trade Commissioner, Canadian Consulate General, 510 West Sixth St., Los Angeles, California 90014.

WASHINGTON, D.C.

Queen's graduates in the Washington area were among those invited this month (March 11) to a dinner of the Canadian Universities Alumni, held at Indian Spring Country Club, Silver Spring, Maryland. The dinner was organized by the Washington - Baltimore Branches of the Alumni Associations of McGill University and the University of Toronto (currently celebrating its Sesquicentennial).

*Dr. Laurence Peter (second right), author of The Peter Principle and The Peter Plan, addressed the last meeting of the Canadian Universities Associated Alumni of Southern California. With him, left to right, are Mrs. W.J. Millyard, Mrs. Peter, and Wiley J. Millyard of the Canadian Consulate General in Los Angeles, host of the event. Guest in April will be popular TV host Monty Hall.*

Guest Speaker: the Hon. J.H. 'Jake' Warren, Canadian Ambassador to the U.S. since March 1975 and a distinguished graduate of Queen's — Arts '41, LL.D. '74.

BERMUDA

The Bermuda Branch celebrated the 10th anniversary of its founding with a dinner at the Hamilton Princess Hotel on Feb. 5. Guest speaker was Dr. Duncan Sinclair, Dean of Arts and Science. The Branch President, Dr. Iris Marsh, also introduced as a special guest Ross Wardle, Director of the Department of Extension at Queen's.

Currently there are 66 Queen's graduates living in Bermuda. Fourteen students from Bermuda are registered as full-time students, 68 attended Summer School last year, and another 104 registered for the Spring Term as Extension students. Among foreign countries, only the United States and Hong Kong register more students in Queen's programs than Bermuda does.

KINGSTON

The Kingston Branch is well into its busiest season. In November the Branch repeated its Harvest Country Supper and Old-Fashioned Hoe-Down, held in the village of Verona. Jan. 11 was Hockey Night in Kingston, with grads getting together for buffet supper and drinks, then proceeding en bloc to the Ottawa-Queen's game. (Despite the special cheering section, the Gaels lost, 8-5.)

(Continued)

ANNUAL ALUMNAE ASSOCIATION MEETING

On Campus in Kingston

May 6 & 7

FRIDAY

Sherry, from 5 p.m.
Faculty Club, King St. W.

Dinner at 6 p.m. (Dutch treat)
All Alumnae welcome
Faculty Club

Executive Meeting, 8 p.m.
Faculty Club

SATURDAY

Breakfast in Chown Hall

Annual meeting of the QUAA
Ban Righ Common Room, 9:30 a.m.

Luncheon in the Skylight Dining Room of the new John Deutsch
University Centre, 1 p.m.
SPEAKER: FLORA MacDONALD,
Member of Parliament for Kingston and the Islands

OVERNIGHT ACCOMMODATION for Friday night is available in Chown Hall for $9.50. Reservations are necessary. Fees for meals and rooms may be paid after you arrive on campus. Kingston members should buy luncheon tickets from MRS. GRACE
GILL before April 25. Reservations for accommodation and/or luncheon and dinner should be sent to Mrs. Gill at 24 Bonny-castle Court, Kingston, Ont. K7M 2S3 (544-0795) prior to April 25.

At the Branches — continued

Something new came along on February 11 — something other branches might like to consider:
an Oyster Party. For $4.00 per person, the Branch served up lobster, oyster stew, cheese and crackers in Ban Righ's lower dining room.
Beer and dry wine were available.
Coach Doug Hargreaves and several of the Golden Gaels attended and showed a film of their Ottawa-
Queen's football thriller last fall.

One of the year's traditional highlights, the Wine and Cheese Party at the Agnes Etherington Art Centre, will be held April 15. Local Mc-Gill alumni have been invited, and Principal Bell of McGill, with Mrs.
Bell, will be special guests. Attendance must be limited to 150 people.

On the service side, Kingston area alumni pitched in for a Telethon in aid of the Annual Alumni Fund.
Through the co-operation of Gordon
Eligh, Simpsons-Sears sales office was the site of the three-night effort (March 7,8,9). Alumni canvassers were assisted by members of Commerce '77.

TORONTO

The Toronto Branch continues to sponsor a series of Luncheon Speakers' Programs "designed to be interesting, informative, and to provide an opportunity for discussion and debate on topics of current interest." Two recent speakers were Walter Pitman, President of Ryerson Polytechnical Institute, and lawyer Arthur N. Maloney, Ombudsman for the Province of Ontario.

There is no meeting this month
(March), but on April 22 the guest speaker will be the Hon. James C.

McRuer, Vice-Chairman of the Ontario Law Reform Commission and former Chief Justice of the Ontario
Supreme Court.

For information about the program or for reserved tickets ($5.00 each), please call Kathy Owen at 445-0908.

LONDON

The combined Alumni and Alumnae branches in London, Ont., held their annual Wine and Cheese Party on Saturday, Feb. 19. Hosts were Dr.
Lionel Reese, Med. '48, and his wife
Shirley. The price was held to $3.50 and reservations were necessary. As always, this party was a very enjoyable event for Queen's loyal London friends.

MONTREAL

A Wine and Cheese Party was also a mid-winter blues chaser for Montreal area alumni and friends. The informal evening (Tuesday, Feb. 22) was hosted by La Maison Secrestat on the Trans Canada Highway at Dorval. Organizers were from several areas of the Branch: Mrs. Shirley Cohen of Mount Royal; Stephen
Leahey, Nun's Island; Keith Mc-
Key, Beaconsfield; and Mrs. Joan
Miller, St. Lambert. The therapeutic sipping and nibbling was only
$3.00 per person.

Earlier in February, several Branch members joined Queen's alumni from other parts of Canada for a luncheon held at Commerce
House in conjunction with the annual conference of the Canadian Pulp and Paper Association. Guest speaker was Principal Watts.

Names in the News

Births

Beresford — To Dave Beresford, Arts '70 (B.A., York), and Mrs. Beresford (Peggy Bowman), Arts '70 (M.Ed., Ottawa), Geneva, Switzerland, Dec. 8, 1976, a son (Todd Edward).

Bond — To David St. C. Bond, Arts '70 (L.B., Windsor), and Mrs. Bond (B.A., Western), Kitchener, Ont., Nov. 20, 1976, a daughter (Kristen Jennifer), sister for Jeffrey David.

Booth — To Rick P. Booth, Arts '71, and Mrs. Booth (Jane Billings), Arts '71 (M.A., McMaster), Montreal, Que., a daughter (Robin Leslie).

Callan-Jones — To Craig Callan-Jones, Law (B.A., Carleton), and Mrs. Callan-Jones (erry Renton), Arts '67, M.Sc. (Arts) '71 (Ed., Toronto), Ottawa, Ont., Sept. 19, 1976, a son (Andrew Craig), brother for Christine.

Cluff — To James C. Cluff, Sc. '70, and Mrs. Cluff, Azilda, Ont., Nov. 3, 1976, a daughter (Heather Elizabeth).

Cousineau — To Bernie Cousineau, Sc. '70, and Mrs. Cousineau (Diane Hutchison), Arts '70, Arvida, Que., Dec. 29, 1976, a son (Charles Andre), brother for Darren and Paul.

Cronin — To Dr. Robert J. Cronin, Med. '71, and Mrs. Cronin (Carolyn Legue), Arts '71, Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., Oct. 4, 1976, a daughter (Marionne Hélène).

Cutt — To Brian Cutt, Sc. '69, and Mrs. Cutt, Calgary, Alta., Nov. 10, 1976, a son (Arrell Ross), first grandchild for John Cutt, Arts '49.

Daubney — To David Daubney, Arts '70 (L.B., U.W.O.), and Mrs. Daubney, Ottawa, Ont., Nov. 24, 1976, a daughter (Jennifer Catherine).

Davison — To Alan G. Davison, M.B.A. (B.A., C.A., Western), and Mrs. Davison (Perth, Western Australia, Oct. 25, 1976, a son (Philip Glen).

Dobiech — To Henry Dobiech, Arts '71 (M.A.C., Ottawa), and Mrs. Dobiech, Belleville, Ont., Dec. 28, 1976, a daughter (Heather Marie Teresa), sister for Steven and Craig.

Dowsley — To Gordon Dowsley, Arts '66 (M.G.A., Pennsylvania), and Mrs. Dowsley (Waterloo Lutheran), Toronto, Ont., Sept. 13, 1976, a daughter (Martha Gwynn McColl), sister for Sarah.

Gardner — To Peter N. Gardner, M.A. '70 (B.A., Victoria), and Mrs. Gardner, Calgary, Alta., Oct. 12, 1976, a daughter (Genevieve Mary). Mr. Gardner is presently an Assistant Professor of Economics at the University of Calgary.

Graham — To William O. Graham, Sc. '70, and Mrs. Graham (Jennifer Bell), Arts '72, Toronto, Ont., Nov. 5, 1976, a daughter (Amanda Jean Anne).

Hagerman — To Douglas R. Hagerman, Com. '74, and Mrs. Hagerman (Corinne Wood), Arts '73, M.B.A. '75, Ottawa, Ont., Dec. 12, 1976, a daughter (Kara Elizabeth).

Harju — To Edmond Harju, Ed. '74, Arts '75, and Mrs. Harju (Penny Switzer), Arts '71, Mindemoya, Ont., Oct. 18, 1976, a daughter (Jennifer Lynn). Mr. Harju is a science teacher at West Bay High School.

Heckman — To John Heckman and Mrs. Heckman (Jill Franklin), Arts '66, Ottawa, Ont., April 13, 1976, a daughter (Martha Anne), brother for Erik.

Henderson — To Michael Henderson, Sc. '73, and Mrs. Henderson, Hamilton, Ont., Nov. 8, 1976, a daughter (Heather Alice), grandchild for Howard Henderson, Arts '42, and Mrs. Henderson (Jean Cameron), Arts '42; great grandchild for Dr. J.C. Cameron, Arts '29, LL.D. '73. Mr. Henderson is currently in second-year Medicine at McMaster University.

Knowles — To Lain Knowles, Com. '74, and Mrs. Knowles, Ottawa, Ont., Dec. 15, 1976, a daughter (Sarah Dawn).

Kranz — To Jorg Kranz and Mrs. Kranz (Linda Burgess), Arts '66, Richmond Hill, Ont., Oct. 23, 1976, a son (Thomas Robert).

Lane — To Frederick Lane, Sc. '71, and Mrs. Lane (B.A., Waterloo), Sudbury, Ont., Dec. 15, 1976, a daughter (Susan Regan).

Mathews — To Dr. John Mathews, M.Sc. (Med) '64 (M.B., B.S., Kerala), FAAP, FRCP (C), and Mrs. Mathews, Suffield, Conn., Dec. 5, 1976, a son.

McAteer — To Brian W. McAteer, Arts '68, and Mrs. McAteer, Ottawa, Ont., Nov. 23, 1976, a son (Robert William), brother for Brian Richard, grandson for Lanceley R. C. McAteer, Sc. '25. Mr. McAteer, formerly an analyst with Queen's Computing Centre, is employed by Univac in Ottawa.

McLaughlin — To Bill McLaughlin, Com. '71, and Mrs. McLaughlin (Janet Simpson), Arts '71, Oakville, Ont., July 21, 1976, a daughter (Michelle Kathryn), granddaughter for H.G. Simpson, Com. '49.

Milne — To David Milne (M.S.W., Carleton) and Mrs. Milne (Mary Montgomery), Arts '67, Trenton, Ont., April 16, 1976, a daughter (Stephanie Dawn).

Muller — To George W. Muller, Com. '72, and Mrs. Muller, Etobicoke, Ont., Oct. 29, 1976, a son (Ryan Lloyd George).

Myers — To Roderick MacKay Myers, Sc. '72, M.Sc. '76, and Mrs. Myers (Dip. Nsg., M.G.H.) Halifax, N.S., July 7, 1976, a son (Roderick Douglas). Mr. Myers is presently Coastal Engineer for MacLaren Atlantic, Consulting Engineers, Halifax.

Reeves — To Philip Reeves, Arts '73, and Mrs. Reeves, Schefferville, Que., May 17, 1976, a daughter (Erin Marie), sister for Nigel. Mr. Reeves is Senior Geologist with Iron Ore Co. Canada and is currently on leave doing a Master's degree at Carleton University.

Riggs — To Randall W. Riggs, Arts '72, and Mrs. Riggs (Ryerson), Toronto, Ont., Nov. 12, 1976, a son (Sean Cameron).

Ritza — To Stephen Ritza, Sc. '74, and Mrs. Ritza (B.A., Western), Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., Oct. 6, 1976, a daughter (Stephanie Anne).

Robertson — To Scott Robertson and Mrs. Robertson (Mary Dixon), Arts '72, Ed. '73, Iroquois, Ont., Dec. 18, 1976, a son (Stephen Dixon).

Robinson — To Doug Robinson, Sc. '74, and Mrs. Robinson, Cobalt, Ont., Nov. 17, 1976, a son (David Douglas).

Stearns — To Robert B. Stearns, Ed. '74 (B.Sc., Ottawa), and Mrs. Stearns, Ottawa, Ont., a son (Tyler Robert), brother for Erin and Heather.

Tekamp — To Bernard Tekamp and Mrs. Tekamp (Katherine A. Burton), Arts '70, Brockville, Ont., April 25, 1976, a son (Christopher Mark), brother for Jennifer Robin, born March 15, 1973. Mr. and Mrs. Tekamp are living at 1309 Brockmount Place, Brockville, Ont. K6V 5Z6.

Winters — To Stephen W. Winters, Arts '70, and Mrs. Winters, Kingston, Ont., Sept. 12, 1976, a daughter (Sharla Marie Nicole), sister for Michael.

Woodley — To Nelson R. Woodley, Sc. '68, and Mrs. Woodley (Heather Blair), Arts '65, Los Angeles, Calif., June 1, 1976, a son (Robert Nelson), brother for Mark and Andrea and nephew for W. J. Blair, Com. '60.

Marriages

Alexander-McDonald — On Dec. 17, 1976, in Toronto, Ont., Anne McDonald, Arts, P.H.E. '74 (M.S.W., Toronto), to Greg Alexander, Arts, P.H.E. '73 (M.S., Colorado). Included in the wedding party were Ralph Hembruff, Arts, P.H.E. '73, Ed. '76, and George Dawson, Arts '68 (M.Ed., Toronto). Mr. and Mrs. Alexander are living at 11908 - 82 St., Apt. 202, Edmonton, Alta.

Boudreau-Decoteau — In Kingston, Ont., May 1, 1976, Mary Lou Decoteau, Dip. O.T. '74, B.Sc. '76, to Robert J. Boudreau, Arts '74, Ed. '77. Included in the wedding party was Mrs. Catherine Douglas (Catherine Browne), Dip.O.T. '74, B.Sc. '76. The Boudreaus are living in Kingston, where Mr. Boudreau attends Queen's and Mrs. Boudreau is working at the L.S. Penrose Centre.

Beech-McLaughlin — In Toronto, Ont., Nov. 6, 1976, Lesley K. McLaughlin, Arts '76, to John W. Beech, Com. '75. Included in the wedding party were Bill McLaughlin, Com. '71, Jim Fenton, Sc. '75, Allan Beech, Arts '79, Rosemary Helmer, Arts '76, and Mary Clark, Arts '76. Mr. and Mrs. Beech are living in Toronto, where Mrs. Beech is employed by Bell Canada and Mr. Beech is with Touche Ross and Co.

Daly — In Lambeth, Ont., Aug. 14, 1976, Susan Burnett (B.A., Western), to Eric W. Daly, Arts '70. Mr. and Mrs. Daly are living at 90 Delemere, Toronto, Ont., where Mr. Daly is with Central Mortgage and Housing Corp.

Haig-Berghout — On Dec. 4, 1976, Cornelia (Corry) M. Berghout, Artsci '75, to David

C. Haig, Sc. '74. Mr. and Mrs. Haig are living in Kingston, Ont., where both are enrolled in a Master's program with Queen's Department of Computing and Information Science.

Hoskin-Rogers — In Kingston, Ont., July 3, 1976, Marilyn Gail Rogers, Arts '72, to Richard John Robert Hoskin, Artsci '74, Ed. '75. Included in the wedding party were Pamela Hunt, Arts '73, Ruth Humphries, Arts '72, Com. '75, Dr. Ann Hoskin, Med. '73, Douglas Hoskin, Sc. '76, and Gary Rogers, Com. '75. Mr. and Mrs. Hoskin are living in Kingston, Ont., where Mr. Hoskin is a teacher.

Lowe-Gransden — In Tara, Ont., June 26, 1976, Susan E. Gransden, Artsci '74, M.Sc. '76, to Dr. Richard S. Lowe, Sc. '73, Ph.D. '76. Included in the wedding party were Deborah Egglestone, Artsci '74, M.Sc. '76, Ken Laver, Sc. '73, M.B.A. '76. The Lowes are living in Houston, Texas, for two years while Dr. Lowe completes a National Research Council postdoctoral fellowship. Mrs. Lowe is a research assistant. Both work in the Department of Chemistry, Rice University.

McCracken-McGreer — On July 17, 1976, in Napanee, Ont., T. Marlene McGreer, Arts '74, Ed. '75, to W. Brian McCracken, Sc. '75. Mr. and Mrs. McCracken are living in Kincardine, Ont., where Mr. McCracken is employed by Ontario Hydro at the Bruce Nuclear Power Development, and Mrs. McCracken is teaching elementary school.

McRae — On Oct. 9, 1976, in Kingston, Ont., Kathryn Anne McRae, Artsci '75, to Peter M. Kazmaier (B.Sc., Calgary). Mr. and Mrs. Kazmaier are living in Kingston, Ont., while Mr. Kazmaier does graduate work at Queen's.

Nelson — In Toronto, Ont., Sept. 11, 1976, Leslie A. Nelson, Arts '70 (M.S.W., Waterloo Lutheran), to Stephen R. Haas. Mr. and Mrs. Haas are living in Toronto.

Newburgh-Barker — On Oct. 2, 1976, in Apple Hill, Ont., Colleen Marie Barker, N.Sc. '75, to Richard Joseph Newburgh, Arts '75. Included in the wedding party were Sandra Dunn, N.Sc. '75, Philip Romeril, Sc. '77, Connie Barker, Arts '73, Ed. '74, Tom Kaemmer, Arts '77, and Anne Humeniuk, Arts '75. Mr. and Mrs. Newburgh are living in St. Catharines, Ont.

Nickerson — In Thunder Bay, Ont., Dec. 23, 1976, Debbie Nickerson, Arts '75, daughter of Dr. J.A. Nickerson, Med. '54, to Dr. Paul de Bakker. Guests included Kiloran German, Arts '74, Susan Peart, Com. '75, C.A., and Elizabeth Barr, Arts '76, all of whom were in Thunder Bay for the annual reunion of the Addy Two Virginity Squad. Dr. de Bakker and Ms Nickerson will reside in Thunder Bay after Ms Nickerson completes her law degree in Toronto this spring.

Ouellet-Horn — In Peterborough, Ont., May 29, 1976, Barbara Horn, Artsci '75, to Dave Ouellet (B.Com., Alberta). Mr.

Ouellet is completing his Master's degree in Economics at Queen's. Included in the wedding party were Bev Worrall (Bev Horn) Artsci '75, Colleen Devon, N.Sc. '76, Mary Lou Murray, Artsci '75, and Dr. Ron Horn, Artsci '67, M.Sc. (Arts) '68, Ph.D. '70. Father Ed Shea, formerly of Newman House, officiated.

Raine-Soligo — On Sept. 27, 1975, in Toronto, Ont., Norma E. Soligo, Arts '75, to George G. Raine, Arts '75. Included in the wedding party were Kate Rogers, Arts '72, Roxanne Murrell, Arts '75, and Dave Ratnayake, Com. '77. Mr. and Mrs. Raine are living at 41 Lynnwood Ave., Simcoe, Ont. Mr. Raine was recently appointed to the Public Affairs Department of the Steel Co. of Canada Ltd. and is responsible for community relations for the $1.2-billion Stelco Lake Erie Development at Nanticoke, Ont. He was previously with the Industrial Relations Department of the Henry J. Kaiser Co. (Canada) Ltd., construction managers on the Nanticoke site. Mrs. Raine is Employment Interviewer for the Canada Farm Labour Pool in Delhi, Ont.

Robins-Hrynuik — On Aug. 21, 1976, in South Porcupine, Ont., Cynthia L. Hrynuik, Sc. '75, to Jeffrey R. Robins, Artsci '74, M.Sc. '76. Mr. and Mrs. Robins are living in Hamilton, Ont., where Mrs. Robins is employed with Gulf Oil Canada Ltd., and Mr. Robins is attending McMaster University in a Ph.D. program.

Rose-O'Gorman — On July 3, 1975, Diane O'Gorman, Ed. '75 (B.A., Waterloo), to R. Fred Rose, Ed. '75 (B.P.H.E., Ottawa). Mr. and Mrs. Rose are living in Kanata, Ont.

Sherman-McKillican — In Pointe Claire, Que., on Sept. 6, 1975, Catherine Ann McKillican, N.Sc. '75, to R. Keith Sherman, Artsci '74. Included in the wedding party were Bruce Raddatz, Artsci '75, and Cheryl Lewis, Artsci '75. Mr. and Mrs. Sherman live in Toronto where Mr. Sherman is a biologist with the Ministry of the Environment and Mrs. Sherman is a nurse for Associated Gospel Churches.

Shultz-Browne — On June 5, 1976, in Kingston, Ont., Margaret M. Browne, Arts '75, Ed. '76, daughter of R. F. Browne, Sc. '33, to Gary H. Shultz, Arts, P.H.E. '75, Ed. '76. Included in the wedding party was Sharon Corneil (Sharon Browne), Arts, P.H.E. '72.

Smith — On June 12, 1976, Jane Scott (R.N., Belleville), to Geoff B. Smith, Arts '72, Ed. '73. Included in the wedding party were Terry Peter, Ed. '73 (B.Sc., Trent), Dave Ellis, Arts '75, and Penny McPherson (Penn. Smith), Arts, P.H.E. '75. Mr. and Mrs. Smith are living in Napanee, Ont.

Trousdale-Metzler — In Toronto, Ont., on May 29, 1976, Anne C. Metzler, Law '76 (B.A., Toronto), to Peter J. Trousdale, Com. '71, Law '74, son of Mrs. Noble Trousdale (Margaret Leslie), Arts '40. Best man was John W. Trousdale, Com. '75. Mr. and Mrs. Trousdale are living in Toronto.

Tsuji — On Aug. 28, 1976, in Toronto, Ont., Sylvia J. Smith to Isao Tsuji, Sc. '72. Included in the wedding party was Ted Gill, Sc. '72. Mr. and Mrs. Tsuji are living in Toronto, where Mr. Tsuji is employed by Shell Division of Shell Canada as a systems analyst/salesman in the micrographics department.

Deaths

Thomas Howard Andre, B.A. '36, B. Com. '38, in Toronto, Ont., Dec. 31, 1976. Kenneth Andre, Sc. '37, is a brother.

Douglas Argue, B.A. '36 (B.A., Bishop's, 1.A. '67, Carleton), Ottawa, Ont., Jan. 2; former head of the History Department, Lisar Collegiate. Since his retirement in 1971, Mr. Argue had taken several extended trips. Among the survivors are his wife Honour, three sons, and four grandchildren.

Robert Thomas Bailey, B.Sc. '48½, Pittsburgh, Pa., Sept. 2, 1976; Chief Engineer for the City of Pittsburgh. He was the Commissioner of Public Works for the City of Windsor, Ont., 1960-72. In 1972 he enrolled at the University of Pittsburgh, where he earned his Masters' degrees in Public Works and Civil Engineering. He was a past-president of the Institute of Municipal Engineers, a division of the American Public Works Association, and the Canadian Pollution Control Association. He is survived by his wife Mary.

Ian McFadden Barnes, B.A. '50, Manila, Philippine Islands Feb. 9, 1976. Mr. Barnes had been with American International Underwriters in Manila for many years.

Norman Lyle Booth, Q.C., B.A. '52 (LL.B., Osgoode), Orillia, Ont., Nov. 15, 1976. A senior partner of the law firm of Booth, Bourne and Emerson, Mr. Booth joined the firm of Crawford, Farr, Lewis, Worling and Booth in 1975. He was very active in community organizations. Survivors include his wife, Helen Shane (KGH '54), and two children.

Fred Ernest Cadman, B.A. '18, Montreal, Que., March 24, 1976.

Philip Charles Calnan, Arts '77, in an automobile accident in Kingston, Ont., Oct. 18, 1976. Mr. Calnan, Cobourg, Ont., was a Geological Science student. He is survived by his parents, a sister, and two brothers, including David M. Calnan, a third-year student at Queen's.

Daisy Chown, Arts '02, Kingston, Ont., Jan. 1976. Once a teacher at the Ontario Ladies College, Whitby, Ont., Miss Chown studied piano in Berlin, Germany, and for many years taught piano in Kingston. Predeceased by her mother, Mrs. H.F. Woodsworth (Ada Chown), Arts '09.

William Harold Connell, Sc. '16, Toronto, Ont., Dec. 9, 1976. Survivors include his wife

Rev. D. MacInnes

Daisy Chown

Ellen, a daughter Ruth, and a brother, Frederick M. Connell, Sc. '06.

Leo W. Copp, B.A. '25 (B.Ed., Toronto), Peterborough, Ont., Sept. 30, 1976; former Principal of the Peterborough Teachers' College. Among the survivors are his wife, Eva May Outram, Arts '41, and a brother, William R. Copp, Arts '30.

Charles Henry Cotton, B.Sc. '31 (Dip. B.A., Western), Ottawa, Ont., Dec. 5, 1976; retired as Group Captain, RCAF. Survivors include his wife Ella and two children.

Dr. Robert James Dooley, M.D., C.M. '37, Ottawa, Ont., Dec. 25, 1976. Among the survivors is his wife Margaret.

Dr. Harold F. Frank, M.D., C.M. '35 (M.A., McGill), Smiths Falls, Ont., Nov. 16, 1976. He retired in 1969 as Superintendent of the Rideau Regional Centre (for the mentally retarded), Smiths Falls; served a total of 33 years with the Mental Health Division, Provincial Department of Health. Survivors include his wife Clara, a son, Dr. Peter Frank, Med. '67, and a daughter, Dr. Jennifer Frank, Med. '70.

Hon. Mr. Justice Neil Cryan Fraser, B.A. '25 (LL.B., Osgoode), Toronto, Ont., Jan. 12; practised law for 33 years under the firm name of Creighton, Fraser, Drynan and Murdoch, Oshawa, Ont. Judge Fraser was appointed to the bench in 1961, a position he held until last year and in which he won a reputation for patience and courtesy. He was also a member of the Board of Queen's Theological College until recently. He is survived by his wife Dorothy and two daughters, Mrs. D. P. Taylor (Mary Fraser), Arts '63, M.A. '67, and Jean Fraser. Margaret Fraser, Arts '23 (B.L.S., Pratt Inst.), is a sister. Predeceased by his parents, Rev. Dr. J. R. Fraser, Arts '93, M.A. '95, D.D. '28, and Mrs. Fraser (Annie Bryan), Arts '98.

Mrs. J. M. Hazlett (Flora A. Fair), B.A. '16, Toronto, Ont., Jan. 16. Among the survivors are her daughter, Mrs. R. W. Cameron (Carolyn Hazlett), Arts '50, and son, Dr. John Hazlett. Predeceased by her husband, Dr. J. M. Hazlett, Arts '15, Med. '19.

George John Jackson, B.Sc. '09, Victoria, B.C., Nov. 10, 1976; retired civil engineer, who did topographical survey work for the Province of British Columbia.

Groves Agar Kemp, B.A. '51, Kingston, Ont., Oct. 27, 1976. Survivors include a son, Agar Edwin Kemp, Arts '65. Predeceased by his wife, Edna Anne Crowe, Arts '51.

Henry C. B. Leitch, B.Sc. '46 (M.A.Sc., U.B.C.), of West Vancouver, B.C., died July 5, 1976, in Zenjan, Iran, while on assignment as geological consultant for Canadian Executive Service Overseas. Mr. Leitch was a self-employed consulting geologist. He is survived by his wife, Bernice P. H. Smith, Arts '46, and four children, including Craig Leitch, Sc. '71, M.Pl. '72, and Henry Leitch, Sc. '77.

Rev. Donald MacInnes, Arts '22, (B.Th., Auburn), Ridgeway, Ont., Jan. 7. His 52 years of ministry in the Presbyterian Church included parishes in Port Dover, Forest, Hamilton, Milverton, Ridgeway and Chatham. Mr. MacInnes was elected Moderator of the Synod of Hamilton and London in 1952. He was Permanent Secretary of the Class of Arts 1922. Survivors include his wife Keitha, and a son, Donald MacInnes.

Malcolm Pearson MacMartin, B.Sc. '50, Ottawa, Ont., Sept. 15, 1976; Senior Research Officer, National Research Council, and author of several published papers. He is survived by his wife, Winona Giles, Arts '50, and seven children. Rev. Bruce D. MacMartin, Arts '51 (B.D., McGill), is a brother.

Christy E. Mayer, Sc. '77, Kingston, Ont., died in Hungary on Dec. 31, 1976, in an automobile accident. Survived by her father, Dr. George A. Mayer, M.Sc. (Med.) '58 (M.D., Budapest), her mother, and two brothers.

Dr. John Barron McCarthy, M.D., C.M. '35, Medway, Mass., Dec. 17, 1976. Dr. McCarthy retired in 1974 after 30 years as a general practitioner. He is survived by his wife Dagmar. Predeceased by his father, William A. McCarthy, Med. '97, two uncles, Daniel M. McCarthy, Med. '03, and H. G. McCarthy, Med. '14, and a brother, Dr. William D. McCarthy, Med. '30.

J. Milton Murdock, B.Sc. '42, Sorel, Que., Nov. 6, 1976; an employee of Beloit Canada Ltd. for many years.

Albert Ernest Nelson, B.A. '09, Whitby, Ont., Jan. 13, aged 96; public school principal for 16 years. In 1926, Mr. Nelson was appointed a school inspector and served until his retirement in 1951. He is survived by his son William and a daughter, Mrs. Carl Partanan (Jane Nelson), Arts '56. Predeceased by his son, Dr. Charles Donald Nelson, Arts '51, M.A. '52, Ph.D. '55 (Ph.D., Pennsylvania).

William Edwin Nodwell, B.A. '23, Toronto, Ont., Oct. 31, 1976; a school teacher for 37 years, 32 of them at the Central High School of Commerce in Toronto.

Elsa J. Owen, Arts '78, of Willowdale, Ont., Dec. 1, 1976, in an automobile accident near Belleville, Ont. She is survived by her parents, a sister, two brothers, and her grandfather, the Lieutenant-Governor of British Columbia.

Major William Charles Paynter, Arts '42, Oshawa, Ont., Nov. 13, 1976; former Commanding Officer of the Ontario Regiment, Oshawa. Survivors include his wife, Helen McCredie, Arts '37, and two sons.

Dr. Richard Samuel Rettie, B.Sc. '41 (D. Phil., Oxford), Ottawa, Ont., Nov. 18, 1976; Executive Director, External Relations, National Research Council of Canada and former chief of Space Research Facilities at NRC. Survived by his wife Frances and a son.

William Alexander Shaw, B.Sc. '21, Windsor, Ont., Oct. 31, 1976, in his 85th year. Mr. Shaw retired in 1956 as Chief Engineer, Hydro Division, Windsor Utilities, after 37 years with Hydro. During the early 1950's he was responsible for the successful conversion of the City of Windsor from 25 cycle to 60. He is survived by his wife Ethel.

John Richard Strathy, B.A. '44, King City, Ont., Dec. 23, 1976. Survived by his wife Georgina.

G. Marshall Sutherland, B.Com. '22, Toronto, Ont., Nov. 21, 1976; a member of the first class in Commerce to graduate from Queen's. Mr. Sutherland was Senior Vice-President of Dover Industries and President of Howell Litho and Cartons for 20 years; previously he was Vice-President and General Manager of Howell's. He is survived by his wife, formerly Doreen Lavell, Arts '22, a son, a daughter, Mrs. Farrell Hyde (Marguerite Sutherland), Arts '55, and a granddaughter, Karen Sutherland, Arts '80.

James Dugald Turner, B.Sc. '31, M.Sc. '33, Pembroke, Ont., Aug. 26, 1976. Mr. Turner retired in 1972 as General Superintendent of New Calumet Mines Ltd., Calumet Island, Que. Survivors include his wife Helen and a daughter.

Dr. Mary Estelle White, B.A. '29, M.A. '30, (B.A., M.A., Oxford; D.Litt., Acadia), FRSC, at Toronto, Ont., Jan. 7; Professor Emeritus of Ancient History, University of Toronto, one of the world's leading historians on Greece, a pioneer in archeological excavations, founder and long-time editor of the journal Phoenix. She taught at McMaster University for three years before joining Trinity College, Toronto, in 1940. She was named Worrell Professor in 1963, head of the department in 1965, and head of the Graduate Department of Classical Studies in 1966, the first woman to hold such a position. Dr. E.P. White, Med. '34, is a brother. Predeceased by a brother, Dr. F. W. White, M.D. '31.

Alfred Morris Wootton, Q.C., Theol. '28, in Dunedin, Fla., Dec. 16, 1976; partner in the law firm of Wootton and Wootton, Whitby, Ont. Survivors include his wife Grace and two sons, Frank Morrison Wootton, Arts '60, and John Wallace Wootton.

Edith Louise Young, B.A. '37, Peterborough, Ont., Nov. 11, 1976; retired high school teacher.

Rev. Dr. N. Micklem

Taught Theology at Queen's

Rev. Dr. Nathaniel Micklem, D.D. '31, LL.D. '41, (M.A., Oxford, D.D., Glasgow) Principal of Mansfield College, Oxford, for 21 years, died at his home in Abingdon, England, on December 26, 1976, at the age of 88.

Dr. Micklem was Professor of New Testament Literature and Criticism at Queen's Theological College from 1927 until his appointment as Principal of Mansfield in 1931. He returned to Queen's in 1941 to deliver the Chancellor's Lecture Series.

Dr. Micklem had an impressive and well-earned reputation as a biblical scholar, dogmatic theologian, liturgist, poet, and politician. His services to theology were marked by his being made a Companion of Honour in 1974. In 1972 he became an Honorary Fellow of Mansfield College.

In a tribute in the London Times it was said:

Micklem could do nothing ordinary. It seemed that everything he touched was lit with his own rich genius. And that was nowhere more true than in his friendships. He had a genius for fellowship, and it is typical of him that he was one of the founders of the Free Church Fellowship, and that the very fine Covenant of the Fellowship is almost entirely Micklem's work. He was chairman of the Friends of Reunion. He was the centre of any group in which he went.

Gracious, good humoured, learned, witty, and deeply religious, he was a great man to know. And those who knew him best, his own students, will remember him at his best and greatest in College Chapel at morning and evening prayers, where his theology, his poetry, his superb style, his great sense of mystery combined to make five minutes of prayer with him a veritable foretaste of eternity, joyful and creative.

Dr. Duncan W. Boucher

'One of the great surgeons'

Dr. Duncan Wilson Boucher, Med. '28, F.R.C.S., died in Kingston, Ont., December 21, 1976, after a prolonged illness. He was cited as "one of the great surgeons" and "an outstanding member of the medical profession."

As a student he played on the senior Intercollegiate hockey team. After graduating from Queen's with his M.D., C.M. degrees in 1928, he interned at Orange Memorial Hospital in Orange, N.J. In 1932 he became associated with Dr. I. G. Bogart, Med. '01, in a Kingston practice, a partnership that lasted 11 years. He practised surgery at Hotel Dieu Hospital and eventually became chief of surgery, a post he held for 10 years. He was appointed a Frontenac County coroner in 1963, and in 1972 was named an honorary consultant in surgery at Hotel Dieu. He also served on the staff of the Faculty of Medicine at Queen's for many years. He was a fellow of the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of both Edinburgh and Canada.

Dr. Boucher is survived by his wife, formerly Thelma Bogart, Arts '27, LL.D. '73 (M.Sc., Chicago), a son, two sisters, and a brother.

Was chief campus engineer

Ralph Hinton, Chief engineer and superintendent of buildings and grounds at Queen's from 1929 to 1965, died at Kingston, Ont., December 9, 1976 at the age of 75.

English-born, Mr. Hinton served in France during World War One, al-

Ralph Hinton

ough under age. Later he won an en scholarship which gave him two ars at Armstrong College. He had a ealth of practical experience in great dustries in England and Canada.

Mr. Hinton was virtually a one-man aintenance staff when he began at Queen's, at a time when Dr. W. E. Mc-Neill was virtually a one-man administrative staff. The two men held the greatest respect for each other.

"There seems to be nothing he doesn't ow how to do well and quickly," Dr.
McNeill once said of his colleague. The praisal was well merited; one of Mr.
Hinton's greatest contributions was his program to reduce operating costs of the University during the Depression, when Queen's was suffering from tight budgetary restraints.

Survivors include Mr. Hinton's wife
Nannie, a son, Dr. Norman Hinton,
ed. '51, and three daughters.

A memorial service was held December 15 in Morgan Memorial Chapel, conducted by the University Chaplain,
Rev. Dr. A. M. Laverty.

Perennial hostess to the Queen's family in N.Y.

An honorary member of the New York Society and perennial hostess at Queen's social functions, Mrs. Lyle Hammett died in a New Jersey hospital on October 15, 1976, at the age of 82.

She was the widow of Dr. John E.
Hammett, Med. '19, LL.D. '61, the driving force behind the New York Society and the Friends of Queen's College, and one-time president of the present Alumni Association. For many years she and her husband entertained the members of the New York Society at an annual cocktail party in their New York apartment and at an annual family picnic at their summer home in New Jersey.

A native of Kingston, Ont., and a graduate of Kingston General Hospital,
Mrs. Hammett worked at Broad Street Hospital in New York and was the operating room supervisor at Poly Clinic Hospital, where her husband was chief of staff and director of surgery.
She was active in various New York charities and belonged to many organizations. A mighty mite of a woman, she became a big-game hunter and accompanied her husband on African and North American safaris, and held several trophies and world records.

Survivors include two sons, Dr. D.
A. Hammett, Arts '56 (M.D.,
Toronto), and J. E. Hammett, Arts '55.

*Mrs. Hammett is shown with her late husband, Dr. John Hammett, on one of their many big game expeditions in Africa. Mrs. Hammett literally stopped this elephant in his tracks with one shot.
Among her trophies were several world records.*

Lady Fyfe, Principal's lady

Lady Fyfe, Dorothea, widow of Sir William Hamilton Fyfe, Principal of Queen's from 1930 to 1936, died at her home in Blackheath, London, England, on January 6.

Lady Fyfe was the daughter of Dr.
John Forbes White, well-known art collector. During her residency in Summerhill, the Principal's Residence at Queen's, she entered energetically into the life of the University and the community. She took an active part in social welfare work in the city.

When Dr. Fyfe left to become Principal and Vice-Chancellor of the University of Aberdeen, the Review commented that "no recent event has called forth such a manifestation of public

Lady Fyfe, Dorothea

sentiment as the departure of Dr. and Mrs. Fyfe.... This deep interest on the part of Kingston men and women can undoubtedly be ascribed to the fact that the Fyfes, in addition to being the 'first lord and lady of Queen's,' were at all times and in all ways good citizens of the city in which they made their home."

Lady Fyfe made many friends in Kingston and kept in touch with them after she left Canada. She also maintained a lively affection for Queen's, donated her husband's papers to the University Archives, and read the Queen's Review with interest.

Survivors include two sons —
Maurice, a lawyer in Ottawa, Ont., and Christopher of Edinburgh — and a daughter, Mrs. C. J. Mabey (Margaret Hamilton Fyfe), Arts '33, Birmingham, England.

Notes

1900-29

Colin A. Campbell, Sc. '22, Arts '23, Toronto, Ont., a consulting engineer, was presented with the Professional Engineers Citizenship
Award in the category of Community Service.
The Citizenship award is granted to those who have made substantial contributions to humanity as citizens and members of the community while maintaining their identity as professional engineers. Mr. Campbell played a major role in the formation of the Associated Senior Executives, a group of retired business specialists who were willing to provide a guidance and problem solving service to the small businessman.

E.W. Henderson, Sc. '05, has been living in St. Catharines, Ont., since his retirement in 1958. He had been manager of the Department of Engineering Design of Rotating Apparatus for the English Electric Co. of Canada for 24 years. At one time he was on the staff of the Electrical Engineering Department at Queen's. He recently celebrated his 97th birthday.

E.W. Henderson

A. Benidickson

Gordon R. Henderson, Sc. '25, Sarnia, Ont., retired engineer, has been awarded the Engineering Medal for members of the profession who have made a substantial and notable contribution to technical advancement of engineering in any branch. This contribution may consist of new and useful solutions to major problems, new technical discoveries, or extension or clarification of any of the engineering or natural sciences. Mr. Henderson played a leading part in the field of synthetic rubber and oil refinery. In 1966 he wrote the book Construction Safety, a 400-page manual for the construction industry.

Dr. Frank LaQue, Sc. '27, LL.D. '64, Verona, N.J., has been awarded the Astin-Polk International Standards Medal in recognition of his "unparalleled service to national and international standardization." Dr. LaQue retired in 1969 as Vice-President of International Nickel Co. but continues to serve as executive consultant. He is also consultant to the U.S. Department of Commerce and to the Advisory Committee on Reactor Safeguards of the Nuclear Regulatory Commission.

Mrs. Dorothea Walter, Arts '29, M.A. '34, Waterloo, Ont., retired in 1972 after a career as Professor of French and one-time Dean of Women at the University of Waterloo. On her retirement she was honoured with the special status of Honorary Member of the University.

McLaren Ewart of Medicine Hat: a grace note at 87 years

The Medicine Hat News recently paid tribute to McLaren Ewart, Sc. '10, "the son of one of the city's earliest settlers and one of the city's musical pioneers." In 1899 Mr. Ewart took up the violin, although it had to be second fiddle for the rigorous years he and a few other boys from Medicine Hat's first school spent in Ontario at "the much heard-and-talked about Queen's University." His first job was with CPR as a civil engineer, and although his engineering career faded with the Depression, he stayed with the railway until his retirement in 1954. Wherever his postings took him, he carried his violin, and for several years played with an orchestra in Moose Jaw. Back in Medicine Hat to stay, he soon learned that the city's Little Symphony needed not a violinist but a bassoonist. "With the same determination which got him through the math and chemistry classes at Queen's," said the News, "Ewart took up the challenge and learned to play the bassoon."

After 20 years, he sold the bassoon to a music student and decided he was through. But music was not through with him. In June 1976, Mr. Ewart was told that the Elks Club Band needed a clarinet player. Eight months later, he is still "thrilled by the intricacies" of this new instrument, practises every day and plays regular clarinet with the band. "I'm no musician," he told the News. "I just love music. I just work at it."

Mr. Ewart, now 87, is the father of Dr. D.M. Ewart, Med. '41.

A LETTER

I wanted to thank you for including a note on Liaison in the November - December issue of the Review.

While reading this article, it occurred to me that alumni might like to know more about Liaison outside Ontario. Student-Alumni Liaison Teams in Winnipeg, Vancouver, St. John's, Regina, Newcastle, N.B., Bathurst, N.B., and Yellowknife are providing first-hand information on Queen's to students who are considering application. We very much appreciate the work of these people and would be glad to hear of other alumni wishing to be involved. While staff of the Liaison Office can provide contacts for students in Ontario and Quebec, it is not feasible for them to travel further afield. The University, therefore, relies heavily on alumni to carry the Queen's banner in Eastern and Western Canada.

Liaison people at other universities are often envious of the strong support and loyalty Queen's grads have toward their alma mater and this support certainly makes our job in Liaison an enjoyable one.

Cha Gheill!

(Mrs.) ALICE THOMPSON, Arts '69,
Senior Liaison Officer,
Office of the Registrar.

1930-39

Dr. G. Malcolm Brown, Med. '38 (Ph.D., Oxford), President of the Medical Research Council of Canada, Ottawa, Ont., was among the 64 new appointments to the Order of Canada, announced just before Christmas. Dr. Brown became a Companion of the Order, the highest degree.

Edith Ferguson, Arts '31 (M.A., Columbia), Toronto, Ont., became a member of the Order of Canada at an investiture at Government House, October 20, 1976, in recognition of her work in the area of immigration. She first became interested in immigration while working as a welfare officer with the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration after World War Two. For the past 15 years she has conducted studies and written reports on problems of immigrants for both government and voluntary bodies and has been involved in organizing and conducting international seminars for the Ontario Ministry of Culture and Recreation.

M.A.B. (Ben) Fleming, Arts '36, retired from Canadian Government Service in 1974. He and his wife, Elizabeth M. (Lib) Young, Arts '37, are now living at 'Waterfall Cottage', Patricbourne, near Canterbury, Kent, England.

Oliver T. Flint, Arts '34, Guelph, Ont., is editor of The Keystone, published by the Public Relations Committee, Grand Chapter, Royal Arch Masons of Canada, Province of Ontario.

Donald E. Hillier, Sc. '36, retired in December 1976 as Patent Examiner, Department of Consumer and Corporate Affairs, Ottawa, Ont. He had served with the Department for the past 18 years.

Sister Kathleen Garvin, Arts '30 (B.Ed., B.Paed., Toronto), is accountant at Notre Dame Convent, 7 Wright Cresc., Kingston, Ont. Sister Garvin retired in 1964 after 44 years of teaching, including 29 years as Principal in Westport, Ottawa, Toronto and Kingston schools. She taught as Sister St. Gabriel of the Angels.

Dr. John McNab, Arts '33, M.A. '34 (Ph.D., Chicago), is living in Renfrew, Ont. He retired on August 1, 1975, as Vice-President of Exxon Research and Engineering Co., Florham Park, N.J., U.S.A.

Harold F. Philbrick, Arts '39, Suffield, Conn., Vice-President, Massachusetts Mutual Life Insurance Co., Springfield, Mass., has retired after more than 30 years' service. Mr. Philbrick advanced through the middle and upper management positions in the company's Actuarial Division, prior to being appointed Head Actuary.

George C. Shannon, Sc. '32 (Chem. Eng.) and Sc. '34 (Chemistry), retired on November 30, 1975, and is living in Brockville, Ont.

W.H. Shortill, Com. '33, is Vice-President of John Shortill Ltd., 40 Wynford Dr., Toronto, Ont., specializing in residential, investment, commercial and industrial real estate. He is still active, after 40 years in real estate in Toronto.

1940-49

Gordon S.J. Adams, Arts '40, M.A. '54, Madoc, Ont., is Minister of Moira Lake pastoral charge, United Church of Canada.

John W. Beaver, Sc. '49, is President and Chief Executive Officer, Churchill Falls (Labrador) Corp. Ltd., Montreal, Que. Mr. Beaver, an Ojibwa originally from the Alnwick Reserve on Rice Lake, Ont., has been visiting universities to address groups studying native peoples and to promote his belief that the reserves must be allowed to become a firm and viable land base for the Indians.

Agnes M. Benidickson (Agnes Richardson), Arts '41, Ottawa, Ont., has been appointed a Director of Mutual Life Assurance Co. of Canada. Mrs. Benidickson, also a Director of James Richardson and Sons Ltd., is Vice-Chairman of the Board of Trustees and Chairman of Queen's Fund Council.

John G.S. Billingsley, Sc. 48½, M.Sc. '52, a Senior Engineering Consultant with E.I. du Pont de Nemours Inc., Wilmington, Del., has been re-elected to serve a fifth term as Republican Member of the State of Delaware House of Representatives.

H.P. Boucher, Sc. '42, Winnipeg, Man., has retired as Manager (Mines), Manitoba Division, International Nickel Co., Thompson, Man., and is living in Winnipeg.

Tom Chadsey, Arts '49 (M.A., Ottawa), has been appointed to the staff of the Canadian High Commission, London, England, for a three-year tour. Mr. and Mrs. Chadsey can be reached through Macdonald House, 1 Grosvenor Sq., London.

D. G. Cox, Sc. '49, has been appointed Manager of all refinery programs in the fields of health, safety and security for Eldorado Nuclear Ltd., Port Hope, Ont. He has been with Eldorado for more than 20 years.

Dr. D. J. Daly, Com. '43, Arts '46, M.A. '48 (Ph.D., Chicago), Toronto, Ont., is co-author of a book entitled Tariff and Science Policies: Applications of a Model of Nationalism, published for the Ontario Economic Council by the University of Toronto Press. Last fall Dr. Daly was appointed Director of the Public Administration Program in the Faculty of Administrative Studies at York University.

Louis A. Gale, Arts '48, is Professor of Geodetic Science, University of Toronto, Erindale College, Mississauga, Ont. From 1967 to 1973 Mr. Gale was Dominion Geodesist with the Department of Energy, Mines and Resources and was later appointed Scientific Adviser to the Director of the Surveys and Mapping Branch.

Rt. Rev. Henry Gordon Hill, Arts '46 (M.A., Cambridge, L.Th., Trinity, D.D., Windsor), Kingston, Ont. Bishop of the Anglican Diocese of Ontario, has been granted an honorary degree from the University Theological Institute, Bucharest, Romania. The award was given to Bishop Hill for his "outstanding theological, scientific, didactic, publishing and ecumenical activity" through his studies, lectures and conferences. His association with Romania and the Eastern Orthodox Church dates back to the time he was a History Professor at the University of Windsor, Ont.

H.F. Philbrick

J. Billingsley

Dr. Pauline Jewett, Burnaby, B.C., Arts '44, M.A. '45 (Ph.D., Radcliffe), President of Simon Fraser University, is the first President of the Canadian Research Institute for the Advancement of Women, formed in April 1976. The Institute is a voluntary, non-profit association which will conduct research in the areas of government policy and education in order to promote the full participation of women in Canadian society.

Walter F. Light, Sc. '49, Montreal, Que., has been elected a Director of Genstar Ltd. Mr. Light is President and a Director of Northern Telecom Ltd., Montreal, Que., and also a Director of the Royal Trust Co. and Hudson's Bay Oil and Gas Co. Ltd.

James E. McGill, M.A. '40, Dalkeith, Ont., has been appointed Manager of Canadian Industries Ltd., Explosives Division. Mr. McGill joined C-I-L in 1940 and has held senior positions in production, purchasing, advertising and public relations.

Harry B. Meanwell, Sc. '42, has been appointed Manager, Supplier Development, Ford Motor Co. of Canada, Ltd., Oakville, Ont. He has had wide experience in design, engineering, sales, service and corporate planning activities since joining Ford in 1946.

Dr. F. William Southam, Sc. '46, M.Sc. '47 (Ph.D., M.I.T.), Senior Technical Consultant with Alcan, has been transferred from the plant in Arvida, Que., to the Kingston Research Centre. He and Mrs. Southam (Merle Shaver), Arts '46, are living at 36 Van Order Dr.

Ian Vorres, Arts '49 (M.A., Trinity), of Athens, Greece, was a recent visitor to Toronto, Ont., where many house parties, luncheons, and receptions were held in his honour. He was cited in the Globe and Mail as "a manufacturer's agent, author, art collector, and famous host."

SCIENCE '36 PROJECT. Dr. Robert H. Hay (centre), Sc. '36, M.Sc. '38, LL.D. '73 (Ph.D., Columbia) was honoured by his classmates on Jan. 28 and given a woodcut of Grant Hall. Mrs. Hay, Arts '34, also received a gift. Presentation was made by James McAskill, Sc. '36. Dr. Hay is permanent Secretary-Treasurer of Science '36 and Chairman of Kingston's Public Utilities Commission.

B. I. COHEN INC.
DISPENSING OPTICIANS

Suite 120 6102 Cote Des
1255 University St. Neiges Rd.
Cor. St. Catherine (Near Van Horne)
866-7778 731-6530

MONTREAL
Avron Cohen, Arts '44

Do you know about the

CLASS AGENT

program?

See page 12

Claude Root

Shirley Lewis

Milner & Steer
Barristers and Solicitors

Milner Building, Edmonton, Alta.
1125 IBM Building, Calgary, Alta.

McMILLAN & MARTYNOWICZ

Consulting Engineers

TELEPHONE 482-1632

5757 CAVENDISH BLVD.
MONTREAL, QUE. H4V 1M4

Consultants in:

- socio-political analysis
- public participation
- social impacts of development
- human services policies and programs

Suite 300, 2 Toronto Street, Toronto, Ontario. M5C 2B6. 416-368-9643

LAKEFIELD RESEARCH
OF CANADA LIMITED

*Ore Testing and Mineral
Processing Research*

A. G. Scobie, Sc. '37

Laboratories and Pilot Plant

Lakefield, Ont. Phone 652-3341

A. H. ROSS
& ASSOCIATES

Consulting Chemical and
Metallurgical Engineers

A. H. Ross, Sc. '36 D. F. Lillie, Sc. '44
D. H. Eberts, Sc. '50

Suite 1706, 80 Richmond St. W.
Toronto M5H 2A4 366-1653

J. L. RICHARDS & ASSOCIATES LIMITED

Consulting Engineers and Planners

OTTAWA — KINGSTON — SUDBURY — FROBISHER BAY — OVERSEAS

D.M. Bracken, Sc. '76
R.P. Cheek, Sc. '67, M.Sc. '73
G.A. Clark, Sc. '72
A.E. Fee, Sc. '47
J. T. Fitzpatrick, Sc. '73

W.F. Flude, Sc. '59
G.A. Hearnden, Sc. '53
D.R. Hunter, Sc. '72
I.C. Kennedy, Sc. '70

C.N. Kirby, Sc. '51
G.T. McCaffrey, Sc. '71
P.A. Midgley, Sc. '57
J.L. Richards, Sc. '44/'47
D.G. Shillington, Sc. '70

1950-59

Jacques Baylaucq, Com. '55, has been appointed Vice-President, Operations, St. Lawrence Cement Co. He is responsible for the total operation of Demix and Les Mir, both based in Montreal, Que., and involved in heavy civil engineering construction, aggregate production and ready mix concrete.

John Bermingham, Arts '53, Arts '73, Vice-President and Station Manager of Radio Station CKLC in Kingston, Ont., has won the National Broadcast Award for creating Canada's most effective radio announcement in cities up to 250,000 population. It is the 16th national or international broadcasting award won by Mr. Bermingham for the station.

Michael J. Bonner, Arts '58, Law '60, is associated with the firm of Stikeman, Elliott, Roberts and Bowman in the practice of law at Suite 4950, Commerce Court W., Toronto, Ont.

J. Douglas Cameron, Sc. '57, Arts '59 (LL.B., Ottawa), was named a Queen's Counsel on the New Year's honours list. He is a barrister with the regional government in Ottawa, Ont.

Harold P. Harkness, Sc. '50, Ottawa, Ont., has joined Reed Paper Ltd., Toronto, Ont.

Mrs. A. C. Henning (Catherine MacLean), Arts '54, now lives in Burlington, Ont. Husband Andy is Plant Manager for Stanton Pipe, Hamilton, Ont.

Mrs. K. F. Lewis (Shirley Proctor), Arts '58 (B.L.S., Toronto), former Director of Library Services for Cooperative Book Centre of Canada Ltd. in Toronto, now has her own firm, Shirley Lewis Consultants, in Islington, Ont.

Robert A. Little, Arts '58, Law '61, was named a Queen's Counsel on the New Year's honours list. He is a partner in the firm of Cunningham, Cunningham and Little, Kingston, Ont.

Wilbur M. Patterson, Arts '53, retired in June 1976 from the principalship of King Edward Public School, Peterborough, Ont., (Continued on page 30) their common cause:

Leonard Hall's Common Room

Many alumni will have heard of rainbow 0027: the refurbishing of the East Centre Common Room in Leonard Hall. The project was initiated by residents of Leonard, and for a couple of years they had undertaken various projects to raise the money themselves, since financial constraint was a fact of campus life. John MacDonald, Com. '56, heard of their efforts from alumni members of the Residence Board when he and Mrs. MacDonald (Jeanette Stuart), Arts '55, came to Queen's for Reunion. Mr. MacDonald, who is President of North-West Pine Products, Campbellton, N.B., offered to donate $7,000 worth of furniture if the students would continue working to contribute a certain percentage of the other money needed.

Another alumnus, Ken Atwood, Arts '54, agreed to provide lamps at cost price through the Ethan Allan gallery in Toronto.

In mid-January, walls were papered, ceilings and doors painted, floor carpeted and drapes hung to complement the new furniture and lamps. The 260 men of Leonard Hall now have a common room fit for Queen's. It was a fine collaboration.

Graduates of 1970, '72, '73

Queen's rings, 10K gold, are available as described below:

1970 B.A.	red stone	Sz. 5-3/4
1972	blue stone	9
1972	red stone	9-1/2
1973	blue stone	9-3/4

The cost is $80, representing 33% off the regular price of $120. Send a cheque or money order to:

Michael Driscoll, Sc. '77,
8 Division St., Apt. 2,
Kingston, Ont. K7L 3M6

Rings will be shipped by registered parcel post upon receipt of payment.

The Weekend University at the Donald Gordon Centre for Continuing Education offers a unique approach to life-long learning and enjoyment among old friends, new acquaintances and scholars from Queen's faculty. Arrive on Friday evening for complimentary cocktail reception, dinner and opening session. Leave on Sunday after lunch. All-inclusive fee covers Friday evening reception, all gourmet meals, lodging and seminars. Bar available. Single: $100 per weekend. Couple: $175. Senior citizens and students: 15% discount

MARCH 18-20 (Seminar 77-1)

THE PROCESS OF POLITICS

The practical workings of politics in Canada. Discuss the How's and Why's of the system before policy or legislation is announced or presented. Discussion leaders include Professors H.C. Thorburn, T.C. Plunkett and E.R. Black of Queen's; Mr. Jack McNie, former Minister in the Government of Ontario; and others.

MARCH 25-27 (Seminar 77-2)

A WEEKEND OF DRAMA

Canadian actress FRANCES HYLAND will offer her insights into the play in general and Canadian theatre in particular. Also involved in discussions and workshops will be Prof. William (Doc) Angus, "father" of drama at Queen's, playwright Maurice Breslow, current head of Drama, professor-actor-set designer Russ Waller, and others from the Department of Drama. Included in the weekend program is a performance by Queen's Drama Department of Molière's Tartuffe.

APRIL 15-17 (Seminar 77-3)

ARMS, THE MAN, AND THE UNIFORM

Delve into the Battles of Trafalgar and Waterloo and the military scene of the period. Who was involved? Why were they involved? What did they do? Spend a weekend analyzing this vital period of military history with experts in the field: Don Schurman, Naval Historian, Queen's; Barry Hunt, Military Historian, R.M.C.; Lou Karchmar, Military Historian, Queen's; George Betts, Political Historian, Queen's; and Ron Haycock, Military Antiquarian.

APRIL 22-24 (Seminar 77-4)

MORAL EDUCATION IN A SECULAR SOCIETY

Where should it take place: In the home? In the schools? In church? How? When? Spend a weekend with philosophers and political scientists discussing this vital question. Among the discussants will be Professors A.M. Macleod and P.S. Ardal of Queen's Philosophy; Dr. Clive Beck, Co-ordinator of Graduate Studies at O.I.S.E.; and Prof. John Meisel, Political Studies, Queen's and Yale.

Write to: Dr. H.O. Helmers, Donald Gordon Centre, Queen's University, Kingston, Ont. K7L 3N6, or phone (613) 547-5529

after 42 years in the teaching profession. He had served as Principal for the past 15 years.

Claude M. Root, Arts '55, I.R. '56, formerly Vice-President of Sales and Marketing Division, Royal Trust, has been appointed Vice-President, Real Estate, for the company. He will be located at Royal Trust's head office in Montreal, Que.

Dr. Douglas A. Sallis, Med. '55, is doing a two-year medical assignment in New Guinea as a CUSO volunteer. He is at Kundiawa General Hospital, Kundiawa, Chimbu, Papua, New Guinea.

Gary E. W. Schreider, Arts '56 (LL.B., Ottawa), was appointed a Queen's Counsel on the New Year's honours list. He is partner in the firm of Dunlop and Schreider, Ottawa, Ont.

Rev. A. Gardiner Skelly, Theol. '57 (M.A., Trinity College, Dublin), Senior Minister of Ryerson United Church, Hamilton, Ont., for the past 12 years, has become the first person outside the United States to complete the new Doctor of Ministry (D.Min.) degree from Princeton Theological Seminary, N.J. Dr. Skelly has also had sermons published in the past year in national religious journals in the U.S. and Canada and had a sermon included in the Cathedral Press volume entitled The Best of Master Sermons.

H. Marie Vincent (Marie Demick), Arts '50, is Principal of Midland Avenue Collegiate Institute, Scarborough, Ont.

Dr. John W. Wilkinson, Arts '50, M.A. '52 (Ph.D., North Carolina), is the new editor of Technometrics, a learned magazine of the physical and engineering sciences. Dr. Wilkinson is Professor and Chairman of the Operations Research and Statistics Program at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, Troy, N.Y. He is also a Fellow of the American Statistical Association and an active member of its executive. Early in his career (1956-58)

Dr. Wilkinson lectured in the Mathematics Department at Queen's.

Dr. D. A. Winter, Sc. '53, M.Sc. '61 (Ph.D., Dalhousie), is adjunct Professor of Electrical Engineering at the University of Manitoba.

1960-69

Kenneth T. Bullen, Sc. '61, has been elected to the City Council for Woodstock, Ont., and to the County Council of Oxford for the 1977-78 term.

Derek Burney, Arts '62, M.A. '64, Ottawa, Ont., is Pacific Division Director of the External Affairs Department.

Heather A. Chambers, Arts '68, P.H.E. '71, is Head of Girls Physical Education, West Ferris Secondary School, North Bay, Ont. She was formerly with the W.A. Porter Collegiate Institute in Scarborough, Ont.

Michael A. Coulter, Sc. '65, has been elected President of Coulter Copper and Brass Ltd., Toronto, Ont. and Booth-Coulter Coppersmithing Ltd., Montreal, Que. Mr. Coulter joined the company in 1969 and was appointed Vice-President in 1971.

J. H. Crosbie, Sc. '69, has joined Eldorado Nuclear Ltd., Port Hope, Ont., as an environmental project engineer.

Dr. Douglas W. Ellenor, Arts '66 (Ph.D., U. of New England, Australia), and Mrs. Ellenor (JoAnne Sherk), Arts '67, and children are now living in Valle De Laciana 15, Madrid, Spain. Dr. Ellenor is a review geologist with Shell Espana.

Madelaine MacInnes Elliot, Arts '68 (M.A., Niagara), Niagara Falls, Ont., is the author of the Canadian revised and updated editions of English the Easy Way and Basic English Review, prepared at the request of Gage Publishing.

Lyle S. Fairbairn, Arts '63 (LL.B., Osgoode), and Mrs. Fairbairn (Eileen Hall), Arts '62, Mississauga, Ont., have moved to Ottawa where Mr. Fairbairn has accepted a position with the Department of Justice as Special Adviser on Legal Aid. He had been Counsel to the Ontario Law Reform Commission for the past three years.

John C. Hunter, Sc. '69, M.Sc. '73, is working on an overseas assignment with Exxon Services Venezuela. He is employed as Section Head, Process Engineering Group. Mr. Hunter and his family are living in Judibana, Venezuela.

Kenneth A. Keyes, Arts '65, has been elected Mayor of the City of Kingston. Mr. Keyes is Principal of Frontenac Public School and a 12-year veteran of City Council. The office of Mayor was formerly held by lawyer George Speal, Com. '54 (LL.B., Osgoode), who declined to run for a third term.

Dr. J. Wilkinson

Madelaine Elliot

Dr. Larry D. Komer, Arts '68, Med. '72, Mrs. Komer (Joan Chandler), Arts '69, Ed. '70, and their children - Harvey, Charlie and Kimberly—have moved to 1526 Moss Glen Ct., Burlington, Ont. Dr. Komer has completed his residency in Obstetrics and Gynaecology at McMaster University, was successful in his Fellowship examinations, and has opened an office for private practice. Mrs. Komer continues as a high school guidance counsellor in Brantford, Ont.

Peter J. Radley, Law '65 (B.A., Ottawa), Kingston, Ont., lawyer and regional Vice-President of the YM-YWCA for Eastern Ontario, was honoured at the annual meeting of the YMCA National Council. Mr. Radley was presented with a plaque in appreciation of outstanding service to the YMCA for the past two years.

Dr. J. R. Richardson, Sc. '62 (M.Sc., McGill, Ph.D., Waterloo), has joined J. T. Hepburn Co., Malton, Ont., as General Manager of their Mechanical Division.

Larry L. Steacy, Arts '69, Law '72, was acclaimed to office as a town councillor in Gananoque, Ont. He has practised law in Gananoque for the past two and one-half years and has also been chairman of the Planning Board.

D. Glenn Stevens, Arts '67 (M.B.A., Western), has been appointed Vice-President, Sales, Life Savers Ltd., Hamilton, Ont.

Results: Elections to the Board of Trustees

Elected by the Graduates: Mrs. Mary Collins, B.A. '61, Toronto, and Norman M. Rogers, B.A. '43, both of whom will complete three-year terms of office on April 20, were re-elected by acclamation. They will serve until April 1980.

Elected by the Benefactors: H.S. Ladd, B. Eng., Montreal, who will complete a three-year term in April, was re-elected by acclamation to another term ending April 20, 1980. T.D. "Terry" French, Sc. '50, Kingston, was also re-elected by acclamation and will begin a new four-year term when his current term ends on April 20.

"WHAT'S MY CHARITABLE DEDUCTION FOR A GIFT-IN-KIND -- 4,989 COPIES OF MY LAST VOLUME OF POEMS?"

Dr. Walter A. Szarek

Donald N. Stevens, Sc. '67, owner and administrator of Meadow Park Nursing Home, London, Ont., has been elected Secretary of the Ontario Nursing Home Association. The Stevens family lives at 12 Stuyvesant Place, London.

Dr. Walter A. Szarek, Sc. '69, Ph.D. '64 (M.Sc., McMaster), has been named the first director of the Carbohydrate Research Institute at Queen's. Dr. Szarek will continue his regular teaching duties in the Department of Chemistry. From 1965 to 1967 he taught biochemistry at Rutgers University, New Jersey, returned to Queen's in 1967 as a faculty member, and has earned an international reputation for research into carbohydrate derivatives for antibiotics and potential anticancer drugs.

Douglas N. Trerice, Sc. '67, is Project Manager, Energy Sources Division, Kaiser Engineers, Walnut Creek, Calif.

Dr. Alan K. F. Turner, Sc. '63 (M.A., Columbia, Ph.D., Purdue), is Associate Professor at the Colorado School of Mines, Golden, Colorado, and a consultant at the Los Alamos Scientific Labs in New Mexico.

*Cedric E. Ritchie
Chairman,
Queen's Quest*

Campaign Chairman Honoured

Cedric E. Ritchie of Toronto, who has accepted the responsibilities of chairing Queen's Quest 1978-83, the University's next major financial campaign, has recently been honoured by the Canadian Council of Christians and Jews. He was one of three recipients of the Human Relations Award for "outstanding contribution in promoting understanding and co-operation among the people of Canada." Mr. Ritchie is Chairman of the Board, President and Chief Executive Officer of the Bank of Nova Scotia.

John Waugh, Law '69 (B.A., U.W.O.), was recently appointed to the position of Assistant Crown Attorney in St. Catharines, Ont., having previously been with the London office for three years. He and Mrs. Waugh (Katherine Crothers), Arts '71, and family are living in St. Catharines where Mrs. Waugh is involved in free-lance yachting journalism.

Robert A. Witzel, Sc. '65, C.A., has been elected Vice-President, Secretary-Treasurer, Black and Decker, Canada. During the four years Mr. Witzel has been with the company he has assumed continuing responsibility in the finance area. As Secretary-Treasurer he is the chief financial officer for the company.

Tom Yung, Sc. '63, M.Sc. '66, has been appointed Engineering Manager, Department of Physical Plant, Queen's University. Mr. Yung was formerly Mechanical Superintendent.

1970-76

E. Peter Birch, Arts '70, has been appointed Vice-President, Personnel and Employee Relations, Spar Aerospace Products Ltd., Toronto, Ont. Mr. Birch joined the company in 1975.

Gordon J. Z. Bobesich, Arts '71, Law '74, has opened an office for the practice of law under the partnership name of Bobesich and Goodearle at 45 Elm St. E., Ste. 507, Woolworth Building, Sudbury, Ont.

Dr. Walter H. Chan, Arts '70, M.Sc. (Arts) '71 (Ph.D., Western), has accepted the position of Applications Chemist at Digilab, Inc., Cambridge, Mass.

Donald L. Citron, Law '72 (B.A., Toronto), has opened an office for the practice of law at Westown Plaza, 235 Dixon Rd. (at Islington), Weston, Ont.

William D. Cowling, Arts '74, M.B.A. '76, is working as a Financial Planning Analyst with the Industrial Chemicals Division of C-I-L, Montreal, Que.

Col. Ira E. Creelman, Arts '72, was promoted to the rank of Colonel in July 1976 and appointed to the position of Base Commander, CFB Greenwood, N.S.

Jim Decker, Sc. '70, has been appointed Mine Superintendent for Byron Creek Collieries Ltd., Blairmore, Alta. Mr. Decker was formerly with the Iron Ore Co. of Canada, Schefferville, Que., as Supervisor in the Operations Department. He and his wife (Sophie Martschuk), Arts, Ed. '70, are living in Coleman, Alta., with their two children, Allison, 2, and Colin, 4 months.

Rev. Stephen G. Dunkin, Com. '72, has received his Master of Divinity degree from Knox College. Following his ordination to the ministry of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, he and his wife (Diane Saunders), Arts '74, and son Matthew, moved to Warkworth, Ont., to take up a two-point pastorate.

Hugh G. Dysart, Sc. '74, has received his M.A.Sc. degree in Electrical Engineering from the University of Ottawa, and is employed by Bell Canada in Ottawa.

Doug Evans, Sc. '73, M.B.A. '75, and his wife (Elizabeth Semple), Arts '70, have moved to Houston, Texas, where he is employed with the Pipeline Division of Bechtel Inc. Their new address is 14022 Briarhills Parkway, Houston, Texas 77077.

La Seigneurie St. Laurent

Grads open restaurant of note along Seaway near Cornwall

Last November two young Queen's graduates gave new life to an old manor house; Don McKay and his wife (Patty Assaly), both Arts '75, opened La Seigneurie St. Laurent, an elegant dining lounge at Glen Walter, Ont., about five miles east of Cornwall on Highway 2. The restaurant is housed in the historic 1858 Craig mansion, one of the finest pre-Confederation homes in the Seaway Valley.

There are four licensed dining rooms open for lunch (except Saturdays), dinner and Sunday brunches. The chef was formerly with the Dorchester on London's Park Lane and Altitude 737 at the Queen Elizabeth in Montreal. La Seigneurie St. Laurent has already been acclaimed as a great tourist attraction (it's not far from northern New York) for its cuisine, decor and wine list, and has been called "the best place between Montreal and Toronto for splendid eating." The McKays are now considering an open-air theatre (Don studied drama as well as business) and docking facilities across the highway.

MOVING?

If you have a new address, please cut off the address label from your copy of the REVIEW and mail it, along with the following information to:

Alumni Office
Queen's University,
Kingston, Ont. K7L 3N6

NAME

DEGREE/YEAR

NEW ADDRESS

(include Postal Code where applicable)

(Remember to send your old address label)

PHONE NUMBER

ANY NEWS about you we should have in the Review? (Births, marriage, promotion, honours, change of job, etc.)

If you receive The Queen's Review but do not receive notices of local Branch activities, please let us know.

Stanley D. Goldberg, Law '70 (B.A., Waterloo Lutheran), and David S. Wilson, Law '70 (B.A., Toronto), have opened their offices for the practice of law in partnership under the firm name of Goldberg, Wilson, Suite 1509, 180 Dundas St. W., Toronto, Ont.

Nancy Hamilton, Arts '70 (B.L.S., Toronto), has been promoted to Assistant Head Librarian, Municipal Reference Library, in City Hall, Toronto, Ont.

Peter S. Hubbard, Sc. '75, is a Process Engineer with Syncrude Canada Ltd., Edmonton, Alta. Mr. Hubbard was formerly with Imperial Oil Ltd., Sarnia, Ont.

Larry B. Kennedy, Arts, P.H.E. '75, Ed. '76, is a Mathematics teacher at George Vanier Secondary School in North York.

R. John Knight, Artsci '70, has completed his Ph.D. degree in Geology at McMaster University and is doing postdoctoral studies at the Smithsonian Institution, Washington, D.C.

Donald V. Macdougall, Law '73 (B.A., Toronto), is presently an Assistant Crown Attorney in Ottawa, Ont. His wife, Lois Hardy, Arts '73 (B.Sc., Toronto), is publications officer for The Canadian Biotechnical Journal and the Journal of Civil Engineering at the National Research Council in Ottawa.

Susan Ann Macintyre, Ed. '75 (B.A., Valparaiso), is a teacher with the Lutheran Association of Missionaries and Pilots (L.A.M.P.), on a Slavey Indian Reserve in Northern Canada. She may be reached at General Delivery, Chateh, Alta. T0H 0S0.

Ron Marchuk, Arts '75, is a Horticultural Technician with the Plant and Soil Sciences Department, Olds Agricultural and Vocational College, Olds, Alta.

John H. McKay, M.B.A. '71 (B.Sc., Mount Allison), has been appointed Director of Marketing, Parke, Davis and Co. Ltd. Mr. McKay was previously employed by Warner-Chilcott Laboratories Division of Warner-Lambert Canada Ltd., and held various marketing responsibilities.

Patrice Merrin, Arts '71, has been appointed by the Minister of National Health and Welfare, Marc Lalonde, to his exempt staff as Special Assistant.

R. Robert Mutrie, Arts '74, Toronto, Ont., has been appointed a Reporting Manager with Dun and Bradstreet of Canada Ltd. He has been employed with the company since May 1974.

Tian P. Oei, Arts '71 (M.A., New South Wales), has completed his Ph.D. degree from the University of Newcastle, Australia, and is now Assistant Professor, Department of Psychology, LaTrobe University, Bundoora, Australia.

Susan Peart

Donald Price

John Peart, Law '71 (B.Sc., Carleton), is a partner in the law firm of Nicol, O'Connor and Peart, 331 Cooper St., Ottawa, Ont.

Susan H. Peart, Com. '75, C.A., joined Clarkson-Gordon, Toronto, Ont., in September 1975 as a student chartered accountant. She recently passed her C.A. examinations.

Donald G. Price, Sc. '74, has received a Rotary Fellowship to study business and international trade at the Australian National University in Canberra during the 1977-78 academic year. Mr. Price, a second-year Master of Business Administration student at Queen's, was one of 800 students throughout the world to win a fellowship.

Kenneth Rossiter, Arts '73, is living in West Berlin where he is teaching English as a foreign language at an Adult Education Centre and studying linguistics at the John F. Kennedy Institute of the Frei Universitat.

Barbara Sampson, Arts '73, was one of six awarded a McGill University National Law Program Scholarship for 1976-77. On successful completion of the program, each scholarship winner will be a Bachelor of Civil Law eligible for the Quebec Bar and a Bachelor of Laws, admissible to the legal profession in the common-law provinces. While at Queen's Miss Sampson won a Gold Medal in French and was an announcer on a French-language CFRC program. She received a Canada Council scholarship to study towards her Master's degree in French at McGill. While not ruling out the practice of law, Miss Sampson is now especially interested in a foreign service career.

Dr. D. J. Scott, Dip. Med. Radiology '71 (B.Sc., M.D., Manitoba), has been promoted to Lieutenant-Colonel and appointed Chief of Radiology, Forces Hospital, Halifax.

Ian Tod, Sc. '71, and Mrs. Tod (Mary Bingham), Artsci '71, are living in Vancouver, B.C., where Mary has gone back to school for a Master's degree in Computer Science and Ian is continuing with second-year Law at U.B.C.

Len Wilen, Sc. '71, formerly an employee of Kimberly-Clark of Canada Ltd. at their mill in Kapuskasing, Ont., has been transferred to the mill in St. Catharines, Ont.

Special Group Offer on THE new ENCYCLOPAEDIA BRITANNICA a revolutionary new Home Learning Center

An important announcement for Members of the Alumni Association

ENCYCLOPAEDIA BRITANNICA offer to members an opportunity to obtain the new ENCYCLOPAEDIA BRITANNICA at a reduced price, a price considerably below the normal retail price available to any individual. You will also receive as a special bonus, your choice of additional educational materials.

The new ENCYCLOPAEDIA BRITANNICA now expanded to 30 volumes — is not just a new edition . . . but a completely new encyclopedia which outmodes all other encyclopedias. Never before has so much knowledge, so readily accessible, so easily understood — been made available as a complete home library.

The new edition of Britannica is reorganized to better serve the three basic needs for an encyclopedia. First, the need to "LOOK IT UP" is handled by the Ready Reference and the Index. These ten volumes are a complete index to everything in the set. At the same time, they serve as a 2-million word short entry encyclopedia that is helpful to look up accurate information quickly.

Second, the need for "KNOWLEDGE IN DEPTH" is fulfilled by the main text, a 28-million word, 19 volume collection of articles arranged logically which provide full and authoritative information for the student, for research in business, or for new insights into new fields of knowledge.

Third, the need for "SELF EDUCATION" is met by the Outline of Knowledge and Guide to Britannica, a unique volume which acts as a giant study guide, more comprehensive and more detailed than a college course outline.

The new ENCYCLOPAEDIA BRITANNICA is more useful in more ways to more people.

Members who would like to receive further details on this exciting Group Offer are invited to fill out and mail the postage paid reply card.

This offer is available for a limited time only, and may be withdrawn without further notice.

If the card is detached, please write to Britannica Special Group Offer, 2 Bloor Street West, Suite 1100 Toronto, Ontario M4W 3J1

Britannica 3 ~ more useful in more ways to more people.

It's kind of nice to stand out.

Which is what Carrington Canadian does. But for many more good reasons than merely the look of the bottle. Carrington is distilled in small batches, aged and mellowed in seasoned oak casks; it's light in look and smooth in taste. Carrington, it's special, and, in our opinion, like no other whisky in the world.

A whisky of outstanding quality.

CARRINGTON CANADIAN WHISKY

QUEEN'S

ALUMNI REVIEW

MAY - JUNE 1977

THE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION OF QUEEN'S UNIVERSITY

BRANCH PRESIDENTS 1977

BERMUDA

Dr. Iris Marsh,
Box 275, Somerset 9, Bermuda

BROCKVILLE

Clarence Marshall,
Box 54, Mallorytown, Ont.

CALGARY

Dr. Ernie Johnson,
1028 Bel-Aire S.W., Calgary, Alta.

CORNWALL

Donald McDonald,
Box 161, Williamstown, Ont.

FREDERICTON

Dr. Lowell Trembath,
Department of Geology,
University of New Brunswick,
Fredericton, N.B.

GUELPH

William Johnson,
65 Glenburnie Dr., Guelph, Ont.

HAMILTON

Sandra Black,
109 Aberdeen Ave., Hamilton, Ont.

KENT COUNTY

David Patterson,
9 Owen Ave., Chatham, Ont.

KINGSTON

Henry Fleming,
67 Sydenham St., #206, Kingston, Ont.

KOOTENAY

Michael Walker,
Box 787, Rossland, B.C.

LONDON

Ron Martindale,
796 Westbury Cres., London, Ont.

MONTREAL

Keith McKey,
111 Thackeray Rd., Beaconsfield, Que.

NEWFOUNDLAND

William Wegenast,
2 St. Laurent St., St. John's, Nfld.

NEW YORK CITY

Dennis Monaghan,
c/o Exxon Corp., Esso International,
1251 Avenue of the Americas,
New York, N.Y. 10020, U.S.A.

NORTHERN CALIFORNIA

Dr. Carson Flammer,
26680 St. Francis Dr.,
Los Altos Hills, Cal. 94022, U.S.A.

OSHAWA

William Hall, Hampton, Ont.

OTTAWA

Robin Ritchie,
370 Lewis St., Ottawa, Ont.

PETERBOROUGH

Thomas Cole,
Box 658, Lakefield, Ont.

PORCUPINE

Keith Youngblut,
29 Platt Vet Property, Schumacher, Ont.

ALUMNAE ASSOCIATION BRANCH PRESIDENTS

LONDON

Christine Townsend,
569 Cayley Dr., London, Ont.

OTTAWA

Fran Thompson,
670 Broadview Ave., Ottawa, Ont.

SMITHS FALLS

Dr. Christine Rice,
16 Isabella St., Perth, Ont.

QUEBEC CITY

Steve Prosenyak,
2209 Parc de Lotbiniere, Quebec, Que.

REGINA

George Devlin,
34 Martin St., Regina, Sask.

RENFREW COUNTY

New Executive to be announced soon

SAULT STE. MARIE

Donald Nixon,
38 Thorneloe Cres.,
Sault Ste. Marie, Ont.

TORONTO

Dr. Margaret Whitfield,
216 St. Clair Ave. W., Toronto, Ont.

U.S.A. (FRIENDS OF QUEEN'S)

Dr. N. Garand,
33 Fifth Ave.,
New York, N.Y. 10003, U.S.A.

VANCOUVER

The Hon. John Parker,
1946 W. King Edward Ave.,
Vancouver, B.C.

VICTORIA

Earl Byrnes,
3956 Lexington Ave., Victoria, B.C.

WASHINGTON, D.C.

Wilf Mable,
13116 Chestnut Oak Dr.,
Gaithersburg, Maryland 20760, U.S.A.

WINDSOR

Lorne Abramson,
2441 Academy Dr., Windsor, Ont.

WINNIPEG

David Nesbitt, 239 Ash St.,
Winnipeg, Man.

Editor
CATHERINE PERKINS MORTON,
Arts '58

Editor, Personal Notes
FAYE PATTEN

Editorial Advisory Board
H.J. HAMILTON, Arts '31, LL.D. '75
MURRAY A. GILL, Sc. '47
BERNARD F. TROTTER, Arts '46
PETER DORN, R.C.A.

COVER: That special moment at Convocation — the individual hooding of each graduate. Cover designed by Peter Dorn, RCA, from a photo by Betsy Greenlees. For a calendar of Spring Convocations and speakers, see inside back cover.

Alumni Award for Excellence in Teaching	2	Prof. A.R.C. Duncan winner
Speakers' Platform	3	An invigorating variety of 'imported teachers' this year
More of Geordie Grant	6	By Lilian Vaux MacKinnon
Harnessed Energy Against Starvation	8	By W. Bennett Lewis, 'Atoms for Peace' winner
An Octogenarian Valedictory	12	By T. Watson Kirkconnell
Around the Campus	13	Gifts from Friends of Queen's; Basmajian Award; another Grad House; Carrel Scholarships for Quebeckers; new Archivist; Debating Union still winning; Geology students going west; Golden Gals champions; honorary degrees for six
Play It Again, Sam	18	Treasure hunt restores Memorial Room
At the Branches	20	London, Vancouver, Toronto, Hamilton, Vancouver, Bermuda
Time for Re-examination	20	Letter from Alumni President
Oral History of Women at Queen's	22	Students tape-recording their roots
Ban Righ Foundation offers an 'investment'	22	Continuing education for women
Names in the News	23	Births, Marriages, Deaths and other alumni milestones
Letters	28

PHOTO CREDITS: Betsy Greenlees, Tricolor '77, cover and page 17; Carol Franks, Queen's News Dept., 2, 13; Willey and Clarke, Guelph, 6 (MacKinnon); Fred Van Driel, Queen's Journal, 5 (Clark); Whig-Standard, Kingston, 15, 19; Cheryl Scott, Queen's News, 14; Wallace R. Berry, 26; Al Byers, Toronto, 29; Jim Henderson, 30; Gaby of Cornwall, 31 (Lynch); Bill Baird, Kingston, 31 (Norton).

The Queen's Review is published bi-monthly: January, March, May, July, September and November. Address all communications to THE QUEEN'S REVIEW, Alumni Association, Queen's University, Kingston, Ont. K7L 3N6. Typeset, printed and bound by 1000 Islands Publishers Ltd., Gananoque, Ont. Member, CASE.

Advertising Representatives: Alumni Media, Toronto (416) 781-6957, and Vancouver (604) 688-6819.

Postage paid in cash at third-class rates. Permit no. 1019, Kingston, Ont.

A.R.C. Duncan is 1977 winner of the Alumni Award for Excellence in Teaching

*Prof. A.R.C. 'Sandy' Duncan,
Head of the Philosophy Department at Queen's since 1949:
"a superb teacher"*

A.R.C. 'Sandy' Duncan, Professor of Philosophy in the Faculty of Arts and Science, is the choice of his students and peers for the 1977 ALUMNI AWARD FOR EXCELLENCE IN TEACHING.

The award was established in the fall of 1974 to recognize faculty members whose knowledge of their field of study and whose ability to impart that knowledge and motivate students is clearly outstanding.

Professor Duncan will receive an award of $1,000 plus a certificate at Spring Convocation for Arts and Science on the morning of Saturday, June 4. He will be presented to Chancellor Michener by Eric G.A. Jorgensen, President of the Alumni Association.

Professor Duncan was chosen from among 20 excellent candidates nominated for the award. The Teaching Award Committee, which includes students, alumni and members of faculty, was chaired this year by last year's award-winner, Prof. H.R.S. Ryan, acting on behalf of Vice-Principal Morris Love.

One of the students who nominated Professor Duncan wrote to the Committee as follows:

Professor Duncan...has the qualities that I consider most important in a teacher. His enthusiasm, ability to capture student interest, encouragement of student participation in the teaching-learning process, demand for high standards, motivation of students to achieve these standards, ability in communication, both general and detailed knowledge of his own discipline and others and, finally, his accessibility all point out just how deserving he is of this award. ...His curriculum vitae also speaks very highly of his knowledge and ability.

In the assessments submitted to the judges by students in three different Philosophy courses, Professor Duncan is repeatedly called "superb teacher", "outstanding professor" and "the finest professor encountered in my career as a student".

"If this teacher has not yet received an award for excellence," wrote one young woman in Philosophy 116, "then it is long, long overdue."

Sandy Duncan has been at Queen's for 26 years. He joined the faculty in the fall of 1949 as the John and Ella Charlton Professor of Philosophy and Head of the Department, posts he still holds. For the period 1959-64, he also served as Dean of the Faculty of Arts and Science.

Professor Duncan is a native of Scotland and a graduate of the University of Edinburgh. After distinguishing himself as a philosophy student at both undergraduate and graduate levels, he embarked on his teaching career at his alma mater in 1937. The following year he went as lecturer to the University of London, but was soon caught up in the war, mostly with Military Intelligence in the Middle East, Africa, Italy and the War Office. Following the war he returned to the University of Edinburgh, where he taught until accepting his appointment at Queen's.

His chief interest is in the field of philosophical ethics and the work of John MacMurray. His training has been classical, and he has full command of both French and German, as well as a good understanding of Italian. (One of his three books is a translation of a major German work.)

He has long been recognized as one of the most stimulating teachers and lecturers on the staff of Queen's University, but as one of his admirers wrote to the Committee: "Anybody who can inject life into that deadly duo (Plato and Aristotle) as Professor Duncan does, deserves more than the Alumni Award. He deserves an award for initiative and imagination!"

Mordecai Richler

Kimon Valaskakis

Speakers' Platform

University audiences were challenged, stimulated, informed, cajoled, entertained, enlightened and occasionally provoked by this year's long list of guest speakers. Among them were Opposition leader Joe Clark, outspoken feminist Germaine Greer, novelist Mordecai Richler, a British nobleman, an African chief and two top-ranking diplomats.

Feminist author Germaine Greer spoke on Feminism and Fertility. She blasted Western sexual obsession and aroused her largely female audience with the observation that "the female body is precious — not to be eternally accessible and continually doped and rugged with contraceptives about which little is known". A few days earlier, the Women's Centre at Queen's had sponsored a day-long seminar on Women in Revolution.

Progressive Conservative Leader Joe Clark was one of three speakers in Queen's most distinguished forum, the Dunning Trust Lectures, named for former Chancellor Charles Avery Dunning. Mr. Clark admitted that federal-provincial relations had become antagonistic, but argued that the solution was not to be found in Constitutional change. Accompanied by M.P. Flora MacDonald, always a popular campus visitor, and M.P.P. Keith Norton, Arts '62, Law '69, Ontario Minister of Social Services, Mr. Clark also met informally with students.

U.S. cultural historian William Irwin Thompson, another in the Dunning series, warned that "if modern industrial society is not transformed, it will explode." Third speaker was Kimon Valaskakis, a member of the Montreal scholars' group GAMMA which concerns itself with enlightened planning for the future. "If our society adopts conserver rather than consumer habits," he said,

"our future can be bright."

The fall series of Dunning lectures was on the theme Violence, Politics and the State and featured Robin Bourne (Deputy Minister, Solicitor General's Department), George Rude (historian from Concordia University) and journalist Hugh McCullum (co-ordinator of Interchurch 'Project North').

Mordecai Richler, one of Canada's most successful novelists and screenplay writers, brought tears — of laughter — to his listeners' eyes by recounting what it's like to be "world-famous in Canada". Richler, whose visit was part of Arts Festival Week, advised aspiring Canadian writers to "forget all about the words 'identity' and 'culture'; seek only excellence."

Two of this country's most exciting poets — Dorothy Livesay, "mother of modern Canadian poetry", and Irving Layton, the man who "put passion back into poetry" — read to appreciative audiences from their own works. John Montague, much-honoured Irish poet, also visited during this term as part of the Department of English program.

The campus visit of the American Ambassador to Canada, Thomas Enders, was kept low key at his request. He concentrated his address on Canadian-American relations, despite demonstrators' attempts to provoke discussion of his alleged role in the Cambodian bombings of 1973.

J.H. 'Jake' Warren, Canada's man in Washington, chose a subject made newly topical by President Carter: cross-border environmental issues. Mr. Warren, Arts '41, LL.D. '74, called his AMS-sponsored talk Sharing Lakes, Rivers and a Bed with the Elephant.

The same week in March, the P.C. campus association sponsored a panel

With new faculty appointments curbed by steady enrolment and financial constraint, the visiting lecturer has a greater campus role as an "imported teacher", helping to maintain that revitalizing exchange of thought and opinion

Germaine Greer

"It may be that men are also victims of the performance ethic. Modern opinion wrongly equates virginity (past the age of 17) with insanity."

Stanley E. Seashore

Dr. Howard Spiro

Thomas Enders

Jake Warren

J.K. Galbraith

Claude Ryan

discussion on Canada and a Planned Economy, featuring the Hon. Robert Stanfield and Professors S.F. Kaliski and Richard G. Lipsey.

Just after the Quebec election last fall, Alberta Premier Peter Lougheed came to Queen's to visit his son Steve, Com. '77, and he agreed to lecture in Dunning Hall. He drew a standing ovation from the overflow crowd with his commitment to "working within the Canadian context" — "working together to keep it together."

Back on the international scene, another important guest was Sir Walter Perry, seventh Brockington Visitor to Queen's. Sir Walter, Vice-Chancellor of the Open University in Britain, is a world authority on higher education using correspondence and television. His predecessor as Brockington Lecturer last fall was the eminent and controversial economist, John Kenneth Galbraith.

Another of the "great voices", who was Brockington Visitor last year, returned this spring as preacher at the traditional Baccalaureate Service: Claude Ryan, the pre-eminent journalist of French Canada.

Memorial lectureships brought a wide range of medical specialists to their fellow scientists on campus. Dr. Robert Terry of Albert Einstein College presented both professors and students with new theories on Aging of the Brain (Maitland Baldwin Lecture). Dr. Sak Sabry, co-author of the syndicated column "Eating Right" aired The Credibility of Vitamin E, the vitamin for which so many claims are made. An osteoarthritis expert, Dr. Leon Sokoloff, lectured on The Biology of Degenerative Joint Disease (Wallace Graham Lecture). Dr. Thomas F. Hornbein, who has climbed Mount Everest, shared his findings on Men at High Altitudes (A. William and Austin Friend Memorial Lecture).

Other medical visitors were Dr. Harry Shizgal of McGill (The Effectiveness of Intravenous Feeding) and Dr. Malcolm Veidenheimer, Med. '54, of the Lahey Clinic in Boston (Serious Bowel Diseases). Dr. Balfour Mount, Med. '63, came as the Aesculapian Society's annual lecturer. He spoke on advanced cancer: What to do when nothing more can be done.

Dr. Jay Katz, Yale law professor and practising psychiatrist, combined medicine and law in an address about Informed Consent in Physician-Patient Interactions. He was the second Willis G. Cunningham Memorial Lecturer.

C.W. Daniel, Shell Canada

The Hon. Joe Clark

Sir Walter Perry

Emil Fackenheim

"Jews are forbidden to despair of the world as the domain of God, lest the world be handed over to the forces of Auschwitz...handing Hitler posthumous victories."

Peter Gordy, exploration manager for Shell Canada, had an audience from several disciplines when he came to talk about gas fields in the foothills of Alberta.

So did his boss, C.W. Daniel, President of Shell Canada, when he came to lecture for the AMS Education Commission on The Energy Situation in Canada: A Corporate Perspective. In response to suggestions that the future shortage of oil was contrived by large oil companies to boost prices, Mr. Daniel explained that earlier optimistic estimates of oil and gas did not distinguish between "potential" and "proven" reserves.

Emil I. Fackenheim, German-born Jewish theologian, came as the Donald Mathers Memorial Lecturer and gave three nightly lectures on The Nazi Holocaust as a Challenge to Faith. "Jews must ever remember Auschwitz...and be witnesses to the world," he said, "or else hand Hitler posthumous victories." Although the events were unconnected, his visit was followed in January by a World Religions Symposium, with speakers from on and off campus.

Law students were among those who enjoyed "imported teachers", too. Dr. Henry Abraham, the third annual Corry Lecturer, is an author-scholar in political science. He chose the topic Judging or Legislating: Reflections on the Judicial Dilemma. Allan Borovoy, lawyer for the Canadian Civil Liberties Association, outlined Strategies for Social Change (or how to raise hell). "Pressure without reason is irresponsible," he said, "but reason without pressure is ineffectual." A Kingston branch of the Association is now being formed, under the direction of Prof. Stuart Ryan.

Another recent crowd-stirrer was Chief Michael Lukumbuzya, High Commissioner for Tanzania in Canada. Speaking of Rhodesia and South Africa, he insisted that "human dignity must be won at all costs." Dudley Gibbs, a member of the Committee for the Liberation of South Africa, shared the same platform, under the aegis of the International Centre.

Stanley E. Seashore, considered the foremost expert on conditions in the North American working place, talked about The Quality of the Working Life, as Mel Williamson Memorial Lecturer. He confirmed what many people, especially student-watchers, are sensing: People's attitudes towards their jobs are changing; they expect greater fulfillment from their work, not just a good salary and steady employment.

One of the year's last visitors was Dr. Howard Spiro of Yale, who gave the W.T. Connell Memorial Lecture on A Visceral Viewpoint. He urged medical faculty, students and area practitioners "to get back to respect for the person and to the person-oriented approach" (as opposed to problem-oriented). "Physicians have lost the conviction that they are more than a conduit of drugs and technical skills and they can be a direct and important therapeutic agent," he said.

So far, it has not been possible for The Review to chronicle the travels and topics of those experts on our own campus, the Queen's professors and researchers who are the "imported teachers" on other campuses in Canada and abroad.

*Peter Lougheed
Premier of Alberta*

"I'm all for patriating the Constitution, but we're in an important part of our history right now and we really shouldn't get involved in issues unnecessarily which tend to divide us."

More of 'Geordie' Grant

By Lilian Vaux MacKinnon, 1879-1975

What I regret about Miriam of Queen's is not the length of time I spent in writing it, but that I did not spend still more. It might have led me to eliminate some extraneous paragraphs and insert more of "Geordie". Did I make him live? Did I introduce him to those who had never come under his potent spell? Why did I not tell of my personal encounter with him? Is it still too late?

During my first autumn at Queen's the Principal's wife gave an afternoon tea for the lady students. Of the reception my memory is shadowy. What lives in my mind was the day I went to pay my "party call".

Card-case in hand I ascended the broad verandah steps. Timorously I rang the bell. I expected old "Janet" to open the door. Behold Principal Grant in person.

"Is—is Mrs. Grant at home?" I faltered.

A smile irradiated his face. "She is at home," he answered kindly, "but she is not very well. Come in!"

I followed him into the interior of Summerhill, the old stone residence which once had housed all Queen's.

"You are Miss Lilian Vaux," he said. My face flooded with colour. Was I known to him? There were 130 girls in college and this was my first term.

"And you come from Brockville. We have a good many students from there." He named all our town boys who were scattered among the 800 men.

"Now, was there anything particular about which you wanted to see Mrs. Grant? I'm afraid you will have to excuse her."

"No, Doctor—Principal Grant," I stammered. "It was just—I mean—I came to call—after her reception."

Light broke across his face. "Oh, yes. That was kind of you. I hope you enjoyed it. Let me see. What subjects are you taking?"

I should have grown more and more at ease. But the fact of this great man in conversation with me alone, unnerved me. And how was I to achieve a graceful exit?

"I am taking Junior Latin," I began. He nodded sympathetically. "And Junior Philosophy."

"Yes," he said, "that is not often taken the first year."

—"And Senior English." I stopped to swallow my nervousness. He thought I had concluded.

"That should not be a hard year," he remarked, and proceeded to give me hints anent the subjects mooted, so entrancingly that my lips refused to utter additional information—"And Senior French! And Senior German!")

"And now," he leaned forward pleasantly. "I am interested in what led you to come to Queen's. Your father was not a graduate?"

"No, Principal Grant."

"And why did you come?"

Of course I should have mentioned T. G. Marquis, Principal of Brockville Collegiate, who instilled into us the notion that Queen's was the only university. Instead I floundered on, "Mother thought it better for a young girl in a smaller city; she lived here as a girl herself." And then, crediting my father with fancied, mercenary motives, I blundered on.... "And Daddy thought it would be cheaper."

"I see," said Geordie, kindly. Was there a shade of disappointment in his voice? Did he ever hear that although we moved to Toronto that same year, I still came down to Queen's? It might have pleased him, being human, though we thought him a god.

I recollect the afternoon with pleasure akin to that whereon he sent for me, full two years later. He was beside the grate-fire, stretched on his couch, weary with illness. But he wished to warn me not to let the lure of the Dramatic Club interfere with my work in Honour English. I promised him.

And I recall my last glimpse. It was at our year At Home. As I passed near him he called out, "Remember me to your pretty sister. I met her last year in Toronto."

"Card case in hand, I ascended the broad verandah steps of Summerhill..."

The Review recently received a letter from Murdo MacKinnon, Professor of English at the University of Guelph, son of the late Murdoch MacKinnon, Arts '97, M.A. '00, and Lilian Vaux MacKinnon, Arts '02, M.A. '03. His mother was the author of Miriam of Queen's, a novel about university life in the 1890s which went into two printings in the 1920s and is now a collector's item.

Professor MacKinnon mentioned that in sorting files belonging to his mother (who died in 1975), he came on a little article which was published in a Canadian newspaper in 1921, soon after the publication of Miriam of Queen's. "It gives us a glimpse of the kindly nature of Principal George Monro Grant," he wrote. We agree, and are pleased to share it with those who came to know and enjoy so many interesting Queen's people of an earlier era, brought to life through Mrs. MacKinnon's previous articles in the Review.

*The Rev. George
Monro Grant,
Principal 1877-1902*

George Grant

MISS L. VAUX. 1902

*Lilian Vaux MacKinnon — a vivacious lady,
even in her 80s*

Harnessed Energy against Starvation

By W. Bennett Lewis

There was a conference on 'Shaping the Future' at Deep River over the last Thanksgiving weekend. Now, 'Shaping the Future' includes harnessing energy to combat poverty and starvation; it also includes avoiding nuclear war and adopting the necessary security measures and safeguards to keep nuclear energy on the peaceful path.

In quite another field, 'Shaping the Future' involves the restraints necessary in scientific research on genetic engineering—not only human genetic engineering, but genetic engineering of bacteria and all the other plants and animals that make up the whole interacting biosphere. Diseases of food crops, such as the potato blight in Ireland more than a century ago that linked Canada with starvation, are not finished and done with....The "green revolution" that has shown how crop yields can be multiplied remains a field of battle calling for all the science man can develop.

That conference on 'Shaping the Future' wrestled with the problem of what some religious writers have called man's "dominion" over animals and nature. Both the scientists and the theologians seemed to agree that a more acceptable word would be "responsibility" or "stewardship". Perhaps I should explain that in church language this conference was "ecumenical". Not every one of the 400 participants was necessarily a scientist or a Christian, but everyone could feel free to speak—not in babel or confusion or confrontation, but in creative concern for God's world and its future.

Now there is nothing unique about such concern. It is a recognized characteristic of man, homo sapiens, to be concerned and reflect about the future. If you look around at present, you will see scores of groups and associations holding meetings and publishing journals about the future.

There are, naturally, many good books about the future, despite the greater number in the 'doom and gloom' school. The good books do not see a simple future. On the future time map of Spaceship Earth, complexity grows and continues to grow. In comparison, the old picture of the growth of entropy is negligible and may be set aside. These thoughts are deep but well expounded in some works of Jacob Bronowski and Julian Huxley. Here I must keep to simpler thoughts... from three writers who see man evolving toward peace.

Teilhard de Chardin wrote: Peace therefore is certain; it is only a matter of time. But what kind of peace?...all hope of bourgeois tranquillity, all dreams of 'millenary' felicity in which we may be tempted to indulge, must be washed out, eliminated from our horizon....A world in a state of tranquil repose...has nothing to do with our advancing Universe.

J.C. Smuts wrote that when he looked at history he was tempted to be a pessimist about man. But when I look at pre-history I am an optimist. The case for progress on the evidence of prehistory is simply overwhelming. For us, children of today, prehistory is a message — a call to good cheer and faith in our future.

Robert Bigelow in his book The Dawn Warriors or Man's Evolution Toward Peace points out that there is no evidence that man ever lived at peace. War and massacre are still with us from Joshua, Genghis Khan, Hitler, the Atom Bombs, the Congo and, more recently, Cambodia, but over the last million years there has been a notable growth in the size of the human brain that may well be related to and paralleled by progress in man's habit of war. In our biological heritage, we all share the genes of the winners. We learn very early to distinguish between "us" and "them". Love and loyalty to "us" are learnt as essential to survival, and progressively fear of "them" has forced us to co-operate in larger, wider groups as our brains have become capable of learning to do so. Wrote Bigelow:

Today we have brains enough to realize that global co-operation is no mere fuzzy ideal of squeamish intellectuals, but a stark necessity for the survival of our entire species. Most of us can understand this, occasionally, when we snatch a few moments for meditation and think very hard. Whether we like it or not, we can now do this thanks to the savage co-operation-for-conflict that primitive religions demanded of our ancestors. We are the children of the winners.

...A projection of the growth of the population of the world is shown in the chart. Aside from a world calamity such as nuclear war, the momentum of the current growth is seen to carry it forward from the present 4,000 million to probably 14,000 million in a hundred years' time. On the way, from time to time, some millions will die from starvation unless we develop more confidence in each other so that we can apply harnessed energy to grow the food needed and deliver it at the right time. The authors of the population projection suggested the demand for energy might be 20 kilowatts (thermal equivalent) per head.

Apollo Over the Ganges: a case in point

Back in 1968 project was discussed that linked the harnessing of nuclear energy with the elimination of starvation. Many people in India, California and Oak Ridge, Tennessee, were involved. I will quote and paraphrase a lecture by Gale Young of Oak Ridge, entitled "Apollo Over the Ganges":

"On the way to 2070 A.D., some millions will die from starvation unless we develop more confidence in each other so that we can apply harnessed energy to grow the food needed and deliver it at the right time."

Halfway around the world from the Ganges is the desert area of California, which contains a number of pockets of alluvial soil such as the Imperial and San Joaquin Valleys. With irrigation and modern agricultural practices, many of these have been made extremely productive.

A distinguished professor of agriculture, Perry Stout, as a boy grew up in the San Joaquin Valley and has seen it transformed in his lifetime from a dreary desert into a rich productive area. Early in 1967 he visited the Ganges Valley, a focal point of the Indian famine situation at that time. What he saw, in effect, was a gigantic replica of the valley of his childhood, desolate and undeveloped. He saw in his imagination a transformation to a hundred million acres of rich productive land "turning out food in torrents" for the 200 million population of that area. Discussing this with others, he saw how it could be achieved and wrote it up in a memorandum that Gale Young suggests will turn out to be one of the "Olympian documents" of our generation.

Professor Stout's proposal embraces his own expertise in soil science, that of agricultural biologists concerned with the "green revolution", together with the nuclear and chemical engineering expertise of those organized from Oak Ridge on the study of Nuclear Powered Agro-Industrial Complexes, called "Nuplexes" for short.

Apollo comes into the title somewhat strangely. Alvin Weinberg of Oak Ridge had suggested that the United States need a project for the 1970s that would be comparable with the Apollo moon landing program of the 1960s, and saw the possibility in a number of large-scale applications of nuclear energy — for example, desalting water for Israel and Egypt. One of these projects could serve the upper plains of the Ganges.

Fear the 1970s are going by rapidly, and Weinberg's vision of the Nuplexes being the Apollo of the 1970s is being pushed back into the 1980s or further by some loss of confidence. However, confidence may return, especially with that step or leap for humankind represented by the performance of the Pickering Nuclear Generating Station in Ontario and the growing realization that human co-operation is the road that can be opened only by that key of mutual confidence.

Another very different good book on the future is Dennis Gabor's Inventing the Future, written about 15 years ago. "Till now," he remarks, "man has been up against Nature; from now on he is up against his own nature."

The terrible truth of that continues to be made abundantly clear. Men working in co-operation have the capability of feed-

Continued on page 10

Effect of Momentum in Population Growth
(A.M. Weinberg and R.P. Hammond 1971)

W. BENNETT LEWIS is an internationally respected authority on atomic energy. In 1973 he retired from Atomic Energy of Canada in Chalk River and accepted Queen's invitation to become Distinguished Professor of Science, attached to the Physics Department. The English-born scientist had been researching in the fields of radioactivity, telecommunications and nuclear disintegration even before emigrating to Canada in 1946. In addition to honorary degrees from Queen's, McGill, Toronto, Dartmouth and other universities, Dr. Lewis holds the first Outstanding Achievement Award of the Public Service of Canada (1966), the Medal of the Royal Society for his work in developing heavy water reactors (1972), and the international Atoms for Peace Award (co-winner, 1967).

This article is taken from his address to the Canadian Club, Orillia and District, in February. The complete text (with bibliography, tables and charts) is available on request from Dr. Lewis, c/o The Queen's Review, or the editor.

Harnessed Energy (continued)

ing several times the present world population, but even without war we find it possible to blame politics, economics, transportation and crop failures due to weather or blights for our failure to do so. I do not want to spell out a catalogue of the reasons given for failing to co-operate, but lack of mutual trust seems the basic cause.

The Background to Pickering

In the early years of this century, what seemed then to be a vast amount of energy was going to waste at Niagara Falls, so the nearby municipalities decided to join together as a co-operative in a venture to harness some of the energy as electric power and share it. The venture prospered and was later extended in many stages.

...However, by the 1950s, demand already exceeded all that could be taken from the Niagara River, and Ontario Hydro was reaching out and harnessing all available major rivers.

Inevitably the average cost of the delivered power was rising because of the high capital cost of some of the dams, and the longer distances of transmission.

It became clear that nuclear fission power delivered to Toronto could meet the competition, and this has actually been achieved in recent years from the Pickering Nuclear Generating Station.

Until recently there was also competition from coal and oil-fired generating stations, but for March 1975 Ontario Hydro reported that electricity from Pickering was estimated to cost 0.7 cents per kilowatt-hour, whereas from their comparable coal-fired station at Lambton it was estimated to cost 1.3 cents per kilowatt-hour. At the new cost of coal, this would, in a few months, be over 1.6 cents per kilowatt-hour, or more than double the cost of the nuclear energy.

Looking back, both the technical and economic development of the CANDU reactors (the Canadian, all heavy water [Deuterium oxide] and natural uranium oxide reactors) has been quite rapid. The basic idea for getting maximum energy out of natural uranium oxide by bi-directional fuelling was only formulated in August 1956.

In an address back in 1959, I said:

Nuclear power and hydro power have this in common, that it is the capital investment that determines the practicality. Moreover, the specific cost — dollars per installed kilowatt — is liable to be high in small plants. ...The greatest difference is that hydro power has to be developed where it is found, whereas nuclear power can be developed anywhere that cooling is available. There seems to be no other limit, i.e., other than capital and cooling, to the amount that can be provided.

By Christmas 1972, John S. Foster of Atomic Energy of Canada Limited (AECL) was able to note:

Pickering 3, the fourth full-scale unit in the CANDU series, was committed in 1967. It was in full service in five years. It reached full power only 65 days after commencement of fuel loading and only 18 days after first critical. ...It can, of course, be pointed out that the design was very advanced, many items were on order, the construction plant was in place and the construction force was fully mobilized at the time the unit was committed; and the construction and commissioning organizations benefitted from installing two identical units immediately prior to installing Pickering 3. This, however, does not explain Pickering 3 away; on the contrary, it gives Pickering 3 its significance. Pickering 3 represents what can be done when people know exactly what they are to do and are poised to do it. It is the basic standard against which future work must now be measured.

Pickering can be regarded as the first bud on the CANDU system to come into full flower promising to yield a profitable fruit. The most promising bud, however, is still the organic coolant with thorium fuel, despite its Cinderella status. Due to its current neglect, however, it is unlikely to flower before 1990.

Radioactive Wastes

As part of the development of the CANDU system, we had naturally paid attention to the management of radioactive wastes both in the short term of the next few decades and in the long term of many centuries.

We instituted experimental demonstrations in 1957, but concluded that full-scale development would not be needed for at least 10 years, and, in the event, chemical reprocessing of spent fuel is still in abeyance. This should cause no concern, because the spent fuel can continue to be managed for at least a hundred years, in safe storage in monitored water bays, comparable to extra-deep swimming pools.

When, however, it becomes economic to process the spent fuel to recycle the useful components, the general plan for long-term management seems assured. ...In 1971 highly radioactive wastes, principally strontium and caesium, although contaminated with residues of plutonium and other actinides of still longer life, were preserved by fixation in special glass blocks or pebbles cooled by water. In this way the radioactive atoms were effectively immobilized.

Surprisingly, nature has provided a demonstration of such immobilization extending over a period of 1740 million years in the natural nuclear reactor phenomenon discovered at Oklo

WORLD ENERGY FLOW

		Ratio Percent 100
Solar radiation	1.7×10^{14} kW on day hemisphere
Heat flow from interior	2.5×10^{10} kW	0.01%
Suggested world demand	3×10^{11} kW	0.1%
20 kWt $\times 1.5 \times 10^{10}$	(1.2×10^{10} kWe)
1966 World Energy consumption rate	4.5×10^9 kW	0.002%
1.2 kWt $\times 4 \times 10^9$
Utilization of 1 tonne natural uranium per year at 50 MWd/kg	1.37×10^5 kW

"The fears of nuclear power that have developed in the western world concern only hypothetical and extremely unlikely events. Such fears should not be permitted to stop the needed action."

in Gabon and reported in 1975. ...Now the Oklo phenomenon is very complex, and so details of the interpretation are open to question, but there exists a large body of scientific evidence supporting the immobilization of the actinides in cooled glass blocks and the stability of certain types of glass when cooled by water.

A small-scale demonstration of the storage of high-level radioactive wastes in glass cooled by ground water is proceeding very satisfactorily. For the last five of the 15 years of this test, the radioactive content of the water directly cooling the glass has been below the maximum permissible in public drinking water.

Other techniques are available and several are described in the 1965 book Management of Radioactive Wastes, written by C. A. Mawson from his experiences with the Chalk River waste management area.

Safety and Hazards

For the future of mankind it would be tragic and quite possibly disastrous if there were to be an outbreak of nuclear war. Materials for such a war exist in abundance, but nuclear weapons are carefully guarded and accounted for.

Since the end of World War II the possession of nuclear weapons has not conferred any military advantage or any power, and despite many actual wars no nuclear weapon has been used.

It is therefore a strange mental obsession that allows men to covet nuclear weapons, when their maintenance clearly retards the spread of abundant low-cost energy throughout the world.

The best hope is for political education so that the lesser nuclear armed powers renounce their nuclear weapons one by one. It has been generally agreed through the United Nations that no security is to be found in further proliferation of nuclear weapons.

In the meantime, it has become necessary to guard against adversaries who may seek to steal or divert nuclear materials from peaceful applications to weapons purposes. More than a hundred nations subscribe to safeguards inspected by the International Atomic Energy Agency.

There are also two international bodies, the International Commission on Radiological Protection and the United Nations Scientific Committee on the Effects of Atomic Radiation, that keep in constant review the effects on humans and animals of ionizing radiation. In fact, at the low levels adopted as safe for operators and the public, no deleterious effects have been or are likely to be observed. ...It surprises many that no case of human lung cancer attributable to plutonium is known in the nuclear power industry.

Since about 1968 there have been groups of people opposed to the development of nuclear power, and they have built up a series of fears of possible accidents. Such possibilities have from the very beginning called up special safety precautions in nuclear research laboratories and in the industry.

...Considering the alternatives or supplementary energy sources, I believe that basic economics will prevail and the whole world will allow a capable industry to harness nuclear energy rather than starve. The nuclear power industry has developed a safety record that is outstandingly good in comparison with other major industrial activities. The fears that have developed in the western world concern only hypothetical and extremely unlikely events, and it is not necessary that such fears should be permitted to stop the needed action, allowing that further precautions to minimize risk may be afforded by the rich nations for the benefit of all. The intense fears in Japan arising from the experience of Hiroshima and Nagasaki are not now stopping Japan from developing nuclear power.

Nuclear Power Potential

Under the safety and security controls, and the waste management procedures outlined above, it is possible to envisage continuing development along the lines adopted by Ontario to finance the growth of nuclear power as a truly low-cost source of harnessed energy.

...Growth even at 7 per cent per year, or doubling in ten years, can easily be financed out of revenue, especially if there is no debt. When all energy operations are combined, the growth may well be only 4 per cent per year, making it even easier to provide all capital from revenue.

...I have written more extensively on these prospects and would reference my lecture "Energy in the Future of Man: From Survival to Superliving", given at the University of Calgary in October 1975 and privately printed at Queen's University.

That lecture was a sequel to my Elizabeth Laird Memorial Lecture of 1974, with the title "Abundant harnessed energy at low cost and low risk from nuclear fission", which concluded with its refrain:

Speak through the earthquake, wind and fire// O still small voice of calm those quiet words. There is abundant energy that can be harnessed from nuclear fission without fast breeder reactors, with less man-hour effort and risk, than has ever been achieved, except for a few, to provide food, warmth, fresh water, clean air, travel, communication, inspiring work, gardens, sports, shows, leisure, etc., for all the world's population for thousands of centuries. No technical breakthrough is lacking; it is only habitual selfish distrust of others that limits the scale on which we now co-operate. Pickering has shown the way. The low cost arises from extensive co-operation working on the high concentration of nuclear energy and the abundance from that generous umbrella relation $E=mc^2$.

An Octogenarian Valedictory

In response to several requests from those who heard it, we are pleased to print this Valedictory spoken to 350 of his fellow graduates by Watson Kirkconnell at the Reunion Dinner held at Queen's on Oct. 16, 1976. Dr. Kirkconnell, who died suddenly in February, used this same address in his 1976 Christmas card, along with a photo of Grant Hall, "where Queen's '16 graduated 60 years ago". He had affiliations with several universities, but he especially treasured his connections with Queen's, as this little gem makes clear.

Early in the 1920's, after I had served for three years in the Army and had published two free-lance volumes of history, I was invited by Prof. J.L. Morison to join the staff of the History Department at Queen's. While I was completing an intervening year at Oxford University, Morison himself accepted a call to Armstrong College, Newcastle-upon-Tyne. Our private agreement lapsed, and so I never got to teach at my Alma Mater.

To compensate for that misadventure, I am going to give you this evening some odds and ends of history that may be of relevance to this university and to this occasion.

Queen's University is not far from the original site of Fort Frontenac. Acadia University, Nova Scotia, from which my wife and I have flown up for this reunion, is equally close to the original site of Grand Pré. Both Fort Frontenac and Grand Pré were destroyed by the English in the 1750's.

In 1759, the Grand Pré area was included in a new King's County, Nova Scotia. In 1783, the site of Fort Frontenac was loyally named Kingston. The honorific use of the king's title was also common in academic circles. A King's College had been founded in New York City in 1754, but in 1784 the victorious Revolutionaries took it over and renamed it "Columbia". The Loyalists who took refuge farther north founded a "King's College" in Windsor, Nova Scotia, in 1788; a "King's College" in Toronto in 1827; and a "King's College" in Fredericton in 1828.

Whereas the original King's College, New York, had been open to students and professors of any denomination, the newer King's Colleges were subject to rigid Anglican restrictions. Thus it was ordained in the charter of the college at Windsor that "no member of the university shall frequent the Romish mass or the meeting houses of Presbyterians, Baptists or Methodists."

As a result, the disadvantaged communities fought bitterly for colleges that would be open to those of any religious persuasion whatever. Success came after the accession of Queen Victoria in 1837, with almost simultaneous charters in 1841 for the Presbyterians in Kingston (Upper Canada), for the Methodists in Cobourg (Upper Canada) and for the Baptists in Wolfville (Nova Scotia). Since the monarch was now a queen, and not a king, the Presbyterian charter called for a "Queen's College". Since there could not be two Queen's Colleges in one province, the Methodists had to settle for "Victoria". The Baptists began in 1838 with a "Queen's College", but pressure in high places imposed a change in 1841 to "Acadia College".

But what has all this to do with our present occasion? Let us come down to the mid-1890's.

On May 21, 1895, in the town of Madoc, a baby was born named William Archibald Mackintosh. On May 16, in the town of Port Hope, a baby was born named Thomas Watson Kirkconnell. On May 9, in the city of Kingston, a baby was born named George Harold Ettinger. In due course, these three young May-flowers came to Queen's and graduated together in the class of Arts '16, 60 years ago. All three were double medallists. Some two decades later, all three were elected Fellows of the Royal Society of Canada. The first became a professor of economics, the second a professor of English, and the third a professor of physiology. The first became Principal of Queen's University; the second became President of the Maritime university that was born "Queen's" and christened "Acadia"; the third became Dean of Medicine at Queen's. All three published extensively in their academic fields. All three received the decorations of orders of chivalry.

I ought to emphasize that the women of the year could be just as able as the men. While "Bill" Mackintosh won the university medals in both History and Political Science, his twin sister, Agnes, also of Arts '16, won the medals in both German and English.

My father, Thomas Allison Kirkconnell, graduated from Queen's in mathematics in 1894. When he died 40 years later, I found in his personal diary a memorable entry that I should like to appropriate for the octogenarian survivors of my own class. I give it to you tonight as our one-sentence valedictory: "The shadows of evening, it is true, lengthen about me — but morning is in my heart".

Dr. Watson Kirkconnell of the Class of '16

Around the Campus

The Friends of Queen's again justify their name

The Friends of Queen's University, Inc., New York-based foundation through which alumni in the U.S.A. can support the University, has made its first allocations for 1977.

One of the chief beneficiaries is the Civil Engineering Department. It received $6,000 for the purchase of surveying equipment — two Zeiss theodolites. As Prof. H.M. Edwards, Head of the Department, explains, "There has been an increasing student interest develop in the discipline of Civil Engineering during the past few years. . . . We have virtually reached a state of saturation. The effect . . . has been to tax our facilities to the limit, and in this time of financial constraint we have had great difficulty in budgeting for new or replacement equipment. These two new theodolites will be of great assistance in maintaining our position."

A further total of US$29,225 from the Friends of Queen's was allocated to these areas:

- Barsky Prize in Ophthalmology;
- Chaplain's Fund (gift from Dr. George E. Lewis);
- Sidney P. Schiff Prize in Surgery;
- Queen's Debating Union;
- Connell Coronary Care Unit at K.G.H. (gift from John E. Claxton);
- E. Diana Blake Trust;
- Franklin Bracken Medical Library;
- John Deutsch Memorial Fund;
- Class of 1945 Memorial.

Alumni in the U.S. who wish more information on The Friends of Queen's, tax exemptions, gifts in kind, etc., should contact Dr. Norman D. Garand, President, at P.O. Box 901, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019.

Dr. Tassos Anastassiades

1977 Basmajian Award for rheumatoid arthritis work

Dr. Tassos Anastassiades, a member of the Departments of Medicine and Biochemistry since 1969 and also Director of the Rheumatic Diseases Unit, is the 1977 recipient of the Basmajian Award for excellence in medical research at Queen's.

Dr. Anastassiades, born in Greece and educated at McGill and at Rockefeller University in New York, has been engaged for some time in two particular research projects. The first, which is funded by the Medical Research Council of Canada, compares culture-grown cells from patients with rheumatoid arthritis to culture-grown cells from joints affected by other types of arthritis. His findings indicate that rheumatoid arthritic cells have distinctly different patterns of growth. Further research may determine whether this difference is unique to rheumatoid arthritis or more generally related to inflammation. In the long run, this research may help identify the cause of rheumatoid arthritis.

The second project, which is supported by the Canadian Arthritis Society, is a study of the development and repair of cartilage tissue, the gristly interfacing that allows easy movement in joints. Since the human body is not very effective in repairing cartilage damaged by arthritis, it is vitally important for researchers to understand the exact chemical processes that cause the formation of cartilage.

The award presented to Dr. Anastassiades in March was established by Dr. John Basmajian, former head of the Department of Anatomy (1957-69), in memory of his parents. The honour is given to a full-time staff member in the Faculty of Medicine "judged to have made the most meritorious contribution to medical research during the previous year or several years." Nominations are made by the candidate's peers. Last year's joint winners were Dr. Roland J. Boegman, Pharmacology, and Dr. Derek V. Cooke, Surgery.

Third Grad House open

After a gap of a year-and-a-half between "homes", the Graduate Students Society (GSS) opened a new Grad House in November — "by far the best Grad House yet," according to its Board of Directors.

It's a three-story Victorian brick house located at 162 Barrie St. at the corner of Union St. It has areas available for reading, talking, playing chess, darts, cards and other games, and watching TV. There is also a ground-floor bar, plus lunch facilities. As use of the facilities increases, the directors plan to add a billiard room.

Grad House is owned by the University, run by a division of the GSS, and open to all graduate students and others who purchase a membership. All grad students pay $16 a year towards the house in their annual student interest fees.

Around the Campus

The management is still working on ways to improve the new facility. There are about 800 grad students at Queen's, but only 200 or so visit Grad House regularly. Because of the long gap between Grad Houses II (on King St.) and III, many students aren't yet aware of their new "rest and recuperation" centre.

Carrel Scholarships forge stronger bond with Quebec

It may not be a powerful force for national unity — yet — but Queen's is developing a vital connection with bright young Quebecers through a particular group of student awards.

Due to the generosity of the late Senator Frank Carrel, Queen's is able to offer several scholarships — some for new students ($1,000 each) and some for upper-year students (also $1,000) — to candidates domiciled in Quebec. Preferably, they should be from Quebec City, the County of Quebec, or the Gulf Division of the Legislative Council (Rimouski, Bonaventure, Gaspé and Iles de la Madeleine). Senator Carrel, who was a noted publisher, executive and author, represented the Gulf Division, or riding, for many years prior to his death in 1940.

Senator Carrel's bequest also provided for several "merit and need" scholarships of varying values, plus five fellowships ($3,000 - $5,000) awarded annually for general proficiency to Quebec students enrolled in graduate studies.

If you have a potential Carrel scholar in your family or school, contact the Assistant Registrar (Student Awards), Queen's University.

Anne MacDermaid

New Archivist appointed

Anne MacDermaid has been appointed University Archivist, succeeding Ian Wilson, who resigned to become Provincial Archivist for Saskatchewan last summer.

Mrs. MacDermaid, 33, has been with the Archives at Queen's since 1969. She is a native of Napanee and a graduate of McGill (B.A., Canadian Studies) and Carleton (M.A.). She also has a diploma from the Public Archives of Canada, is working on a doctorate at the University of Toronto and completing research on Alice Chown: A Kingston Suffragette.

As University Archivist, she intends to emphasize the acquisition of regional papers and records of local businesses, Kingston families and organizations. She considers conservation a prime duty of any archives and has already initiated a program to treat 20th century papers (which deteriorate relatively fast) for preservation.

Mrs. MacDermaid is married to Queen's Director of Financial Planning, Darryl MacDermaid, and has a three-year-old son.

Future Parliamentarians?

Queen's Debating Union is not only alive and arguing; it's winning top international tournaments. The Queen's debating team so successfully resolved that "America deserves a government as good as its people" that it won the prestigious Princeton University tournament in New Jersey last fall. They were in competition with 52 other teams from both American and Canadian colleges.

The Debating Union also competed this year at Hart House (University of Toronto), the University of Ottawa, McGill and the University of Chicago.

Recently the Queen's orators faced 34 other teams from England, the United States and Canada in thrashing out whether "democracy is the last refuge of cheap mis-government" at a tournament hosted by McGill and sponsored by the Canadian University Society for Intercollegiate Debate.

While the Queen's Union has 60 members, the most active are David Corbett of Toronto (President), a first-year Arts student; Graham Sellers of Ottawa, third-year History; Neil Sweezey of Don Mills, first-year Medicine; and Keith Jarvi, also of Don Mills, second-year Mathematics.

After a history of more than a century, debating had almost died out at Queen's by the late 1960s and was revived three years ago. The success of this new 'generation' of debaters, particularly in the U.S.A., has caught the admiring eye of the New York-based Friends of Queen's University, Inc. For the second year in a row, this foundation, supported by Queen's alumni in the States, has donated $1,000 towards the travelling expenses of the Debating Union.

A man with more than two children at university is suffering from mal-tuition. (Wall Street Journal)

THE GREAT BED RACE

Looking as if he were in a wet bed (he was), Padre Laverty was trundled down Princess St. one rainy March Sunday in the Engineering Society's first bed-a-thon. The zany event was part of Queen's participation in the YM-YWCA's fund-raising campaign. Among the other soggy bed-riders were Engineering professors Bill MacKay (seen behind Padre Laverty) and Bob De Pencier, Steve Chapman, Engineering Society President, and Mayor Ken Keyes.

Convocation to salute work of six Canadians

Six distinguished Canadians have been chosen by the University Senate for honorary degrees at Spring Convocation. Several nominations came from individual graduates and from both the Alumni and Alumnae Associations.

Rev. Dr. George Irwin Taylor, Dean of Theology at the University of Winnipeg, will be awarded an honorary Doctor of Divinity degree (D.D.) the morning of May 21. In the afternoon, Dr. Glenn Ivan Sawyer, a distinguished senior member of the medical profession now living in Whitby, Ont., and writing medico-legal books, will be given an honorary Doctor of Laws degree (LL.D.).

Harold Armstrong Smith, a Queen's graduate in electrical engineering (Sc. '40) who contributed to the development of the CANDU Reactor, will receive an LL.D. at the morning Convocation, May 28. So will Lawrence G. Macpherson, retired Vice-Principal (Finance) and head of the Principal's Committee on Financial Constraint in 1974.

Dr. Ann Saddlemeyer, who received her Master's from Queen's in 1956, will be laureated (LL.D.) the morning of June 4. She is with the University of Toronto as Professor of English at Victoria College and Director of the Graduate Centre for the Study of Drama at Massey College.

On the afternoon of June 4, an LL.D. will be conferred on Nova Scotian Isabel Macneill, a former superintendent at the Prison for Women in Kingston and well-known to many Queen's women who trained for military service during W.W. II.

All the honorary graduands except Mr. Macpherson will address the graduating classes.

Around the Campus

Geology students going West for energy

With the encouragement of some major oil and mining companies, a group of Queen's students will soon have the opportunity to learn from a once-in-a-lifetime, first-hand look at Alberta's resources.

The Department of Geological Sciences is sponsoring 41 students, accompanied by two faculty members, for a two-week field trip to the Canadian Rockies to study the petroleum and regional geology of an area already extensively explored and developed.

There are more students than ever enrolling in earth science courses at Queen's; at the same time, opportunities for summer field experience have been shrinking. The Department's proposal to compensate in this unique and practical way received generous financial and moral support from geology-related industries in Alberta. The students themselves are paying part of the cost of the trip.

On May 16 the young 'explorers' will arrive by air in Calgary. While housed by the University of Calgary for three days, they will have a chance to visit the facilities of several petroleum companies in the city, the Institute of Sedimentary and Petroleum Geology, and the Alberta Energy Conservation Board. This will be followed by a 10-day field trip into the Southern Canadian Cordillera and visits to several oil and gas fields, coal and metal mines.

Student geologist Jessie Sloan, Ontario's first woman Rhodes Scholar, is one of 10 co-eds taking part.

Football at Queen's for Fall 1977 'scrambled' by seven-team East Section

The addition of the University of Quebec at Trois Rivières to the East Section of the Ontario-Quebec Intercollegiate Football Conference has left Queen's in a seven-team East Section for 1977. This odd number of teams requires a "bye" each week, unfortunately. The West Section (which includes Queen's old rivals, Toronto and Western) has a neater arrangement of eight teams in a round-robin schedule.

To make the most of an unfavourable situation, Queen's bartered for the best available schedule to include special date requests. Among them: a home game for Orientation weekend, Sept. 17, and a home game with McGill for Reunion weekend, Oct. 15.

Queen's portion of the East Section schedule is as follows. (Please remember that alumni support at both Kingston and out-of-town games is warmly appreciated by the Golden Gaels and the coaching crew.)

Sept. 17	Bishops at Queen's
Sept. 24	Ottawa at Queen's
Oct. 1	Queen's at McGill
Oct. 8	Queen's at Carleton
Oct. 15	McGill at Queen's (Reunion)
Oct. 22	Queen's at Trois Rivières
Oct. 29	Queen's at Concordia
Nov. 5	Playoff: No. 2 at No. 1
Nov. 12	Semi-final Bowl Games
Nov. 19	National College Bowl
Nov. 27	Grey Cup, Olympic Stadium

Those Golden Gals have winning ways about them

It's been a winning year for the women representing Queen's in team sports.

The figure skaters were tops for the fourth time in the competition's six-year history, finishing with a 120-point victory.

The Ice Hockey team placed first in a six-team league, ending their season with a shut-out victory of 3-0 over McMaster and becoming the Ontario Hockey champions.

In February at Guelph, the women's Curling team won the championship for the third year running, coming through the double-elimination tournament with a win-loss record of 4-1.

In Synchronized Swimming, the team displayed their winning style at York University and took top honours for the third year in a row. They ended with a solid lead of 10 points over the second-place team in the nine-university competition.

In Badminton, Education student Diana Edwards won a medal and the individual title for her first-place finish in the singles category. Queen's Badminton team placed second in the over-all standings.

In Squash, the Golden Gals finished as co-champions with York.

Diver Janet Nutter not only won the OWIAA title for Queen's, but took the national crown in the one-metre springboard event. She was named All-Canadian.

The Basketball Gals made the playoffs, but were nipped 54-53 by Waterloo in the quarter-finals.

The Alpine Skiing team finished a close second to Toronto.

With four major championships plus some outstanding individual titles, Queen's women athletes can be proud of their 1977 record.

JUST PLANE NONSENSE — that's what the Whig-Standard called this April Fool prank engineered by Science '77. Their overnight toil resulted in this "disaster" — the simulated crash of a light aircraft, dummy pilot and all, near Grant Hall. The plane's tail hangs in a tree across the road near Jeffery Hall.

Engineers' advisers meet on campus for three days

The Advisory Council on Engineering, presenting industry, government, and other universities, held its 26th annual meeting at Queen's in February. For three days more than 30 members of the engineering profession (researchers, public servants, company executives, consulting engineers, and administrators from such organizations as General Motors, Westinghouse Canada Ltd., Imperial Oil, Algoma Steel, IBM and NRC) met with students and professors from various departments both informally and in plenary sessions.

They discussed course content, research activities, employment possibilities, etc. All the Council's findings were compiled and presented to Dean Robert Uffen at the close of the session.

D.A. Lamont, Sc. '45, of Canadian General Electric, Peterborough, chaired the three-day meeting. A special dinner was addressed by J.J. Shepherd, Executive Director of the Science Council of Canada.

The Advisory Council on Engineering was organized in 1950 at the instigation of the late Norman Tisdale, B.Sc. '19, LL.D. '53. He recognized the need for "a link between the University and the engineering profession to ensure that all phases of the work of the Faculty of Applied Science were in accord with the latest practices."

Memorial to Prof. Thumm

A memorial scholarship fund has been set up in honour of Prof. Walter Thumm, 56, who died in an auto accident in Munich, Germany, on March 11. He was on sabbatical leave. Professor Thumm, a member of Queen's faculty since 1968 and an author of respected textbooks, held a joint appointment as Professor of Physics Education (Faculty of Education) and Lecturer in Diagnostic Radiology.

He is survived by his wife Eileen, three sons, and his parents in Vancouver. Mrs. Thumm has initiated a Walter Thumm Scholarship Fund, to which contributions may be made through the Alumni Office.

Treasure hunt restores Memorial Room

Memorial Room in the original Students' Union, 1929-1947

Architect's sketch for Memorial Room in the new Students' Union. Room is on the building's south-east corner, east of the main entrance on Union St.

(Based on an article by Jennifer Hunter in the Kingston Whig-Standard)

Refurbishing the Memorial Room in the John Deutsch University Centre (formerly the Students' Memorial Union) was a bit like going on a treasure hunt, as far as Norman Hart was concerned.

Mr. Hart, General Manager of the University Centre, and his staff (Wanda Kay and Sheila Royce) searched the whole building for furniture to fit the room, which is dedicated to Queen's alumni who participated in both World Wars. It took weeks to have it faithfully restored.

The search was instigated by Mr. Hart's discovery of an old picture of the Memorial Room in the original Students' Union, which was destroyed by fire in the fall of 1947.

Furniture and fixtures from the old building were saved and put in storage until the new Students' Union, erected on the same site, was officially opened in 1949. But the original furnishings from the old Memorial Room went astray. They were scattered throughout the building, and it was not until the new management began searching that the pieces were all brought together again.

"Two of the carved oak chairs were in the AMS president's office," says Mr. Hart, "and we had to find the carpeting. It's not the original carpeting (of the first Memorial Room), but it was in the original Students' Union building." The brass-bound light fixture, along with others of the oak armchairs, were found in the John Orr Room, which had become Info Bank before the current renovations began.

The refurbished room now contains all the original furniture and fixtures, in addition to the oak panelling and even large oil paintings which belong to the Memorial Room. The cost of redoing the room, including new paint, was less than $2,000.

The furniture was contributed to the university in 1929 by the Toronto Branch of the Alumni Association, which had purchased it from an old hotel in Toronto called the Queen's Hotel.

The paintings, which were a gift from the General Alumni Association, represent the branches of Canada's Armed Forces in which Queen's men and women served. They were painted in the late 1940s by Marion Long, a Toronto artist, and were set in oak panels designed and arranged by sculptor Ted Watson, also of Toronto. The many carved inscriptions around the room were chosen by then-Vice-Principal W.E. McNeill.

In addition to the furniture, there are brass memorial tablets and a stone altar honouring the Queen's men who died in World Wars I and II. There are also several stained glass windows in the room which were "rescued" by the Union's first Warden, Jim Wright, after the Douglas Library was enlarged in the 1940s.

Before it was refurbished, the Memorial Room was rarely used by Queen's students and staff, although Muslim students worshipped there weekly (as they still do). The handsome room is now available for "private meditation and organized meetings" and has become the most sought-after room in the building.

(The war mural which was originally located in the basement of the 1949 Students' Memorial Union has been reproduced and will be located in the third-floor common room, along with the C.O.T.C. colours.)

The Memorial Room today, with original furnishings restored. Paintings representing each of the Armed Forces served by Queen's men and women were a gift from the Alumni Association when the 'new' Union opened in 1949.

View of restored Memorial Room, looking toward inscribed altar and stained glass windows. The arched windows overlook Union St. Carved panels are of oak.

At the Branches

'Time is right for a re-examination'

(A Letter from the President)

At the annual meeting of the Alumni Board of Directors in Kingston last October, questions were raised concerning the role and function of the Association, and indeed concerning its relevancy. The observation was made, as it has been made before, that the annual proceeds of the Alumni Fund are just about equal to the annual operating expenses of the Association!

Actually, over the past decade, gifts to Queen's from all alumni sources (including wills and bequests) have averaged $600,000 a year. However, we are all aware that the raison d'être for our organization is measured not only in terms of financial support, of which the Alumni Fund is but one manifestation, but in countless intangible benefits that the University derives from the continuing support of its graduates. Nevertheless, the Directors have felt, properly, that the time is right for a re-examination of the activities and purposes of the Association and its Branches and have authorized me to set up a small study committee in Toronto for this purpose.

The committee includes First Vice-President Wilda Parkinson (who will commute occasionally from Ottawa), Second Vice-President Ray Bassett and your President. It will be augmented on a formal basis by a representative of the Toronto Branch and informally from time to time by other interested alumni.

At the same time, a joint Study Group under the leadership of Gladys Heintz is beginning to examine the relationship between the Alumnae Association and the Alumni Association, with a view to recommending the form in which this relationship should continue. An inter-committee liaison will be maintained so that the work of both can proceed concurrently.

This is to inform you of these role-reappraising activities. It is also a request to you to consider how best we may serve the University, locally and in the broader concept of the total Queen's community. The advice of Branch Presidents has been formally solicited. I would appreciate it if each of you would, through your Branch President if you live in an organized area, or through Murray Gill, our Director of Alumni Affairs, let me know how you relate or would like to relate to the Association's office in Kingston and to the rest of the Queen's community on campus and elsewhere.

Please give this matter your earnest consideration.

ERIC G.A. JORGENSEN, Sc. '49, P.Eng.
President, Alumni Association

LONDON (ALUMNAE)

Those active Queen's women in London, Ont., got together again for a successful Dessert and Coffee Party the evening of March 7. Mrs. Chris Townsend, Arts '69, was hostess. Miss Eleanor Glover, Arts '56, showed slides of South America.

VANCOUVER

The Vancouver Branch arranged a winter get-together on February 18. Organizer Richard Simon, Law '68, arranged for eight sheets of curling ice, with all the trimmings, at the Hollyburn Country Club in West Vancouver.

A round robin ensured that Queen's people and their spouses could curl as much as time and inclination allowed. The $4.00 'admission' also included sandwiches, coffee and lounge facilities.

TELETHONS

Thanks largely to the 45 alumni who turned out as callers, the fourth Toronto Branch Telethon was the best yet for Toronto. More callers always mean more gifts, and in three nights of 'phoning Queen's people in the Metro area, the Branch raised more than $8,000 for the University from those who hadn't already sent a donation for 1976-77.

Winter's last 'left hook' in late March virtually wiped out the third annual Ottawa Telethon. The handful of loyal callers who braved the blizzard did manage to speak about Queen's to 550 alumni and receive pledges of $4,500.

At press time, results weren't available from the Montreal Telethon, the Branch's third 'clean-up' effort for the Annual Fund.

From Kingston, there is a Telethon success story. Nine Com. '77 students and 28 alumni calling over three nights provided at least 270 additional contributions estimated at $4,500. Through the Telethon callers, Queen's renewed personal contact with 590 alumni in Belleville, Napanee, Picton and Gananoque, as well as Kingston.

TORONTO

The Toronto Branch has completed another successful season of luncheon programs. Guest speakers this year were Lyn Williams, Principal Watts, Karl Jaffary, the Hon. Roy McMurtry, Walter Pittman, Arthur Maloney and the Hon. James McRuer.

Plans for the new season will be made after the election of Toronto's new executive at the Branch's annual meeting being held this month (May 9).

(For the next major alumni event in Toronto, see the 'Spring Fling' notice on the next page.)

At Bermuda's Anniversary Dinner: Dr. Paul de la Chevotiere (Left), Dr. Iris Marsh, Branch President, and Dean Duncan Sinclair of Queen's

A first-hand report on Bermuda's anniversary

The Anniversary Dinner marking the 10th year of the Bermuda Branch was an event held, with great success, at the Pembroke Princess Hotel in Bermuda on Saturday, Feb. 5. Guest speaker was Dr. Duncan G. Sinclair, Dean of the Faculty of Arts and Science at Queen's, and special greetings were also conveyed by Mr. Ross Wardle, Director of Queen's Department of Extension. Mrs. Sinclair and Mrs. Wardle were among the guests of honour. Several representatives of the Bermuda Ministry of Education, who are also Queen's alumni, were present.

The Hon. Mr. John Patton, Sc. '39, one of the first Queen's grads in Bermuda and initiator of the idea of having a Bermuda Branch of the Alumni Association, gave the welcome.

President of the Branch, Dr. Iris Marsh, Arts '57, in addressing the assembly, described the Branch as "an intellectual and social framework for graduate activity in support of Queen's University and an avenue for further self-fulfilment for Queen's graduates." She then reviewed the history of the Branch over the decade 1967-77, giving special recognition to Queen's alumni who, during that decade, had made outstanding academic attainments and/or had obtained appointments to prestigious office in the local community.

An invocation was given by Dr. Erskine Simmons, Arts '57, and toasts were made by Dr. David Saul, Arts '68, Mr. Frederick Wade, Arts '65, and Mrs. Sheila Swan, Arts '72.

In his address, Dr. Sinclair described the evolution of Queen's University over the years and pointed up the significance of Queen's extension courses in Bermuda, outlining various avenues for locals to obtain first degrees from Queen's. He was introduced by Dr. Paul de la Chevotiere, Arts '60, Med. '70, and a vote of thanks was given by Mr. Sinclair Richards, Arts '61. Master of Ceremonies was Mr. Dudley Burchell, Arts '57. Chairman for social arrangements was Mrs. Sheila Swan.

As a follow-up to the Anniversary Dinner, an informal get-together of the visiting Queen's officials and alumni of the local association took place on the following Monday evening at the Department of Academic Studies of the Bermuda College. Presentations on behalf of the Branch were made to the Queen's guests by President Iris Marsh. This was followed by the viewing of the film Queen's '71.

The Toronto Branch would like to announce the onset of 'Spring Fever'

Come help us celebrate and join us at our

ANNUAL SPRING FLING

Friday, June 17, from 8:00 p.m. to 1:00 a.m. in the Main Ballroom of the

GRANITE CLUB
2350 Bayview Ave.

Dress is semi-formal, and $12 per person provides you with unlimited dancing and a mad mass of munchies before midnight.

Music will be provided by 'Glad Tymes', who were such a success last year.

Tickets are limited and must be purchased in advance. Call or write Kathy Owen, 24 Rustywood Dr., Don Mills, Ont.

M3A 1R8 (445-0908).

HAMILTON BRANCH

There will be a POOLSIDE PARTY and meeting

Wednesday, June 22
7 to 10 p.m.

at John and Jane Chown's, 103 Rosemary Lane,
Ancaster, Ont.

$3.00 per person includes beer, wine, light food and a dip in the pool (weather permitting)

Please Contact:

Sandra Black or Jane Chown
525-8793 648-3585

The Ban Righ Foundation for Continuing University Education

*offers an investment of $700
for the session
1977-78 in a person experienced in her chosen field who wishes to broaden or change her educational base.*

Applicants should include a statement of objectives and provide information about academic background and related experience.

The person in whom this investment is made must be resident in Kingston during 1977-78.

Applications should be submitted no later than May 31st, 1977, to:

*The Director,
Ban Righ Foundation for Continuing University
Education,
32 Queen's Crescent,
Queen's University,
Kingston, Ont. K7L 3N6*

Queen's women finding their roots through 'oral history' project

Certain questions and expressions of curiosity on the part of women now in residence prompted Dean Evelyn Reid and a group of students to set in motion a project they tentatively call "Oral History of Women at Queen's". Little seems to have been collected on the early history of women at Queen's. Students were quite unaware that Queen's women had played key roles within the University and had achieved eminence in business, industry, politics and community life across Canada and elsewhere.

Having decided that taped interviews would best transmit the personalities and points of view of such women, a committee was formed to test interest in the project and assess its feasibility. The members are Dean Evelyn Reid and her assistant, Dawn Cannon (B.A., Waterloo, B.Ed., Toronto); Marion Dick, Arts '80; Susan Jackson, Arts '76, Ed. '77; Daphne Dumont, Arts '74, Law '78 (B.A., Oxford); and Margaret Hooey, Secretary of the University Senate (B.A., Toronto, M.A., Bryn Mawr).

Consulting members are Rose Mary Gibson, Arts '34, of the University Archives; Diane Gordon, a former Queen's student now a writer and actress in Kingston; and historian Margaret Angus, LL.D. '73.

In the course of the fall term the project crystallized. It is now clear that it will involve an enormous amount of time and will probably take several years to complete.

"Our plan," says Dean Reid, "is to interview women who were involved with Queen's in many ways — as wives and daughters, as secretaries and administrators, as students, graduates and faculty members. We already have a long list of such women."

The Committee has found that a prerequisite for conducting useful interviews is having a grasp of the history of the University so that the women being interviewed — Dr. Pauline Jewett, Dr. Jean Royce, and Miss Mamie Anglin, for example — can be seen in the context of their own time.

The Committee has consulted with Professor Granatstein of York University, Professor Naomi Griffiths of Carleton, and Professors Rawlyk and Gibson of Queen's History Department.

"Our project seems to interest them," says Mrs. Reid, "and they are certainly prepared to offer their support." Other groups and organizations which have shown an interest and become involved are Queen's Archives, the Sociology Department, Queen's Women's Centre, the Ban Righ Foundation, Queen's Alumni Office, and the Hon. John Roberts, Secretary of State.

There appear to be some potential sources of financial support for the project's necessary personnel and equipment, since the history will be relevant to Canada as well as Queen's. Applications are being considered by the Canada Council, the Secretary of State, and the Canada Works Program under the Department of Manpower and Immigration.

The Committee invites suggestions of names of possible subjects for interviews and material related to these women, as well as ideas about possible further sources of funding. Such information should be sent to The Oral History Project, Office of the Dean of Women, Victoria Hall, Queen's University.

The project may expand beyond strictly aural presentation to include visual and documentary material. "However," adds the Dean, "we hope never to lose the initial aim — to provide students with some historical framework for shaping their collective and individual future."

Names in the News

Births

Allan — To Dr. David Allan, Med. '72, FRCS(C), and Mrs. Allan (Brenda Tizzard), B.A.E. '73, Kingston, Ont., Jan. 12, a son (Joseph), brother for Nicholas.

Auger — To David Auger, Arts '67 (M.Ed., Toronto), and Mrs. Auger, Lindsay, Ont., Dec. 16, 1976, a son (Gregory Eliot Sinen).

Balson — To Peter J. Balson, Sc. '70, and Mrs. Balson (Bonnie Kirkpatrick), Arts '71, Peterborough, Ont., April 10, 1976, a daughter (Melissa Jane); granddaughter for Allan Balson, Arts '40, and Mrs. Balson (Helen Smale), Arts '41; niece for Judy Milard, Arts '75, and David A. Balson, Arts '70; grandniece for Dr. Jack Lodge, Arts '43, M.A. '47, and Mrs. Lodge (Dorothy Smale), Arts '48, and Hugh Smale, Arts '44.

Barton — To Dr. J. R. Barton, Sc. '65, M.Sc. '67, Ph.D. '70, and Mrs. Barton, Kingston, Ont., Feb. 4, 1976, a son (Jonathan Robert).

Box — To Kevin H. Box, Arts '68, C.A., and Mrs. Box, Renfrew, Ont., Oct. 27, 1976, a son (Jamie Lawrence), brother for Bryan and Shane.

Brigley — To Barry Brigley and Mrs. Brigley (Ann Bibbey), Rehab '71, Calgary, Alta., Oct. 30, 1976, a daughter (Shannon Lee).

Brisbin — To David L. Brisbin, Arts '68, Law '70, and Mrs. Brisbin (Margaret Wisart), Arts '68 (B.L.S., Toronto), Burlington, Ont., Jan. 21, a daughter (Anne Katherine), sister for Ian.

Brown — To Major Brian "Bear" Brown (RMC) and Mrs. Brown (Sue Thompson), Arts '71, Halifax, N.S., July 27, 1976, a son (Christopher Casey).

Chambers — To Peter Milne Chambers, Sc. '67 (M.A.Sc., Waterloo), and Mrs. Chambers (Margo Maclellan), N.Sc. '67, Oakville, Ont., April 1, 1976, a son (Bruce Andrew Milne), brother for Susan Patricia Eleanor, born March 9, 1974.

Clark — To Brad and Anne Clark (Anne Coutu), Arts '74, Toronto, Ont., Dec. 11, 1976, a son (Brandon Owen).

Collins — To Dr. John Collins, Med. '76, and Mrs. Collins (Alison Bimm), N.Sc. '74, St. John's, Nfld., Jan. 12, a son (Christopher Leo).

Cowen — To Bruce Cowen and Mrs. Cowen (Donna Patterson), Arts '71, Ottawa, Ont., Dec. 14, 1976, a daughter (Lisa Anne).

Doran — To J. Jeffrey G. Doran, Arts '69, Ed. '71, and Mrs. Doran, Petawawa, Ont., a daughter (Kathleen).

Duncan — To Gregor A. F. Duncan, Arts '68 (M.B.A., Western, Ph.D., Strathclyde), and Mrs. Duncan, Reading, England, June 9, 1976, a son (Keith Laurie François), brother for Richard.

Evans — To H. Douglas Evans, Sc. '73, M.B.A. '75, and Mrs. Evans (Elizabeth Semple), Arts '70 (B.Ed., Toronto), Houston, Texas, Jan. 10, a daughter (Arwen Elizabeth).

Feldman — To Joe Feldman, Law '73 (B.A., Toronto, M.A., Kent), and Ann Feldman, Toronto, Ont., Jan. 27, a daughter (Allison Rebecca), sister for Jessica.

Fink — To Bruce N. Fink, Ed. '69 (B.A., Carleton), and Mrs. Fink (Jean Laird), Arts '67, P.H.E. '68, Ed. '69, Orleans, Ont., March 5, 1976, a son (Jason Oliver), brother for Sarah Bernice, born April 12, 1973. Mr. Fink is with the Ottawa Board of Education, teaching at Woodroffe High School.

Franko — To Dr. George Franko, Med. '65, and Mrs. Franko, North Bay, Ont., Jan. 3, a daughter (Felicity Anne), sister for John and George Jr.

Frogley — To Bruce Frogley, Sc. '73, and Mrs. Frogley (Lois Wightman), Arts '69, Ed. '70, Saskatoon, Sask., Nov. 15, 1976, a daughter (Elizabeth Laura), sister for Sarah.

Goring — To Peter Goring and Mrs. Goring (Erica Pratt), Arts '69, Toronto, Ont., Aug. 28, 1976, a son (Simon James).

Hannah — To W. Mike Hannah, Sc. '73, and Mrs. Hannah (Betty Christen), Arts '71, Regina, Sask., Jan. 10, a son (Robert Christen), brother for Katherine. Mr. Hannah works for Con-Force Products as a senior design engineer.

Henry — To Richard L. Henry, Arts '71, and Mrs. Henry (Mary Filman), Arts '70, Oakville, Ont., Dec. 17, 1976, a son (James Richard).

Hogle — To Hubert W. Hogle, Arts '66, Law '68, and Mrs. Hogle (Anne McElroy), Med. '71, Napanee, Ont., Sept. 21, 1976, a daughter (Karen Louise), sister for Janet.

Honsberger — To Roger Honsberger (B.A., Windsor) and Mrs. Honsberger (Mary Stockwell), Arts '70, Owen Sound, Ont., Nov. 29, 1976, a daughter (Lesley Norine).

Howden — To Doug Howden, Sc. '68, and Mrs. Howden, Ajax, Ont., Feb. 20, a son (Bryan David), brother for Kim.

King — To Douglas J. King, Sc. '69, and Mrs. King (Linda Lou Lepard), N.Sc. '71, Toronto, Ont., Aug. 29, 1976, a son (James Douglas Murray). The Kings are living in Bromont, Que., where Mr. King is employed by IBM.

Laughland — To Laurie Bruce Laughland, Arts '71, P.H.E. '73, and Camille Laughland, Ottawa, Ont., Dec. 22, 1976, a son (James Stuart); grandson for Dr. and Mrs. D.H. Laughland.

Legault — To Peter E. Legault, Arts '69 (M.B.A., Toronto), and Heather Legault (B.A., Western), Islington, Ont., Oct. 1, 1976, a son (Kevin Peter), brother for Scott. Mr. Legault is a partner and director of MacDougall, MacDougall and MacTier, Investment Dealers, Box 11, First Canadian Place, Toronto, Ont.

Lindsay — To R. John Lindsay, Arts, P.H.E. '68, and Mrs. Lindsay (Heather Rowdy), Arts '68, Oshawa, Ont., Nov. 30, 1976, a son (Wesley Cameron).

Lingwood — To Robert G. Lingwood, Arts '72, M.Pl. '73, and Aileen Lingwood (P.H.E., Calgary), Ottawa, Ont., Jan. 29, a son (Jeffrey Donald Kirby); nephew for Allan Kirby, Arts '77, Shelagh Kirby, Arts '78, and Matthew Kirby, Arts '79; grandson for Brig-Gen. C.L. 'Kip' Kirby, Arts '49.

Locke — To Stanley T. Locke, Com. '72, and Mrs. Locke (Linda M. Covey), Arts '67, Kingston, Ont., Oct. 7, 1976, a son (David Michael), brother for Timothy. Stan is currently working for Queen's University Information Systems and completing his M.B.A. this year.

Mark — To Dr. Helmut Mark (M.D., Toronto), and Mrs. Mark (Mary Abbott), Arts '71, Nanaimo, B.C., Nov. 4, 1976, a son (Sean Christian), brother for Justin; grandson for Ross Abbott, Sc. '43, and Mrs. Abbott (Marian Mayhew), Arts '42. The Marks live at 3629 Rock City Rd., Nanaimo.

McDade — To Robert McDade and Mrs. McDade (Linda Scharfe), Ed. '69 (B.A., Carleton), New Glasgow, N.S., Nov. 11, 1976, a daughter (Melissa Lee). The McDades live at 224 Almont Ave. in New Glasgow.

McKendry — To Dr. Robert J. R. McKendry, Med. '68, and Mrs. McKendry, Ottawa, Ont., Dec. 4, 1975, a second son; grandson for Dr. J. B. R. McKendry, Med. '43. Dr. McKendry is Chief of the Rheumatic Disease Unit, University of Ottawa.

McQuire — To Andrew McQuire, Sc. '70, M.Sc. '74, and Mrs. McQuire (Kathy Polito), Arts '71, Vancouver, B.C., Jan. 19, a daughter (Abigail).

McRae — To Duncan McRae, Arts, P.H.E. '71, Ed. '72 and Mrs. McRae, Rothesay, N.B., Nov. 6, 1976, a son (Andrew Duncan).

O'Brien — To Dr. Kenneth B. O'Brien, Med. '72, and Mrs. O'Brien (Catherine Cornutt), Arts '72, Peterborough, Ont., Oct. 18, 1976, a daughter (Lois Marie), sister for Robert Bruce, born Oct. 20, 1974.

Passmore — To Ted Passmore, Sc. '68, Ed. '72, and Lynn (Ryerson, '69) at Cobourg, Ont., March 12, a son (Dylan John).

Pickering — To Richard Pickering and Mrs. Pickering (D. Jane Stanyer), N.Sc. '66, Grand'Mère, Que., Jan. 31, a daughter (Sally Jane), sister for Andrew and Megan.

Pickett — To William J. Pickett, Sc. '63, Law '68, and Mrs. Pickett (Ann Paul), Arts '76, Belleville, Ont., Dec. 16, 1976, a daughter (Leslie Ann).

Powell — To Bill Powell, Arts '63 (P.H.E., McMaster), and Mrs. Powell (Annemarie Deetken), Arts '62, Orillia, Ont., Dec. 1, 1976, a daughter (Kristiana), sister for André and Simona. The Powells are both teaching at Orillia District Collegiate and Vocational Institute.

Revell — To Donald L. Revell, Law '74 (B.A., Carleton), and Mrs. Revell (Margaret Elizabeth Percy), Arts '70, Willowdale, Ont., Aug. 12, 1976, a daughter (Sara Elizabeth). Mr. Revell has been appointed a Counsel in the office of the Legislative Counsel for the Province of Ontario.

Scobie — To Peter Scobie, Arts '68, and Mrs. Scobie (B.P.H.E., Western), Ottawa, Ont., a son (Jeffrey David Saunders).

Shaw — To David Shaw (B.A., Waterloo) and Mrs. Shaw (Betty Smith), Arts, P.H.E., '72, Ed. '73, Wingham, Ont., Sept. 21, 1976, a son (Peter Fitzgerald).

Spriet — To John R. Spriet, Sc. '70, and Mrs. Spriet, London, Ont., Sept. 7, 1976, twin boys (David Christopher John and Michael Patrick John), brothers for John and Pamela.

Strickert — To Robert Strickert, Sc. '71, and Wendy Haight-Strickert, Arts '73, Port Perry, Ont., Nov. 19, 1976, a son (Bradley Rhys Haight-Strickert). The Strickerts live at R.R. 3, Port Perry.

Taylor — To Fred Taylor (B.A., M.Ed., Toronto), and Mrs. Taylor (Brenda Schott), Arts '71, Peterborough, Ont., March 5, a son (Andrew James).

Thompson — To Rev. Robert Evan Thompson, Arts '74, M.Div. '76, and Rev. Beverly Thompson (Beverly June McDougall), M.Div. '76 (B.A., Waterloo), Grand Falls, Nfld., Feb. 26, a daughter (Christy Leigh-Anne). Christy is the first child born to a woman minister in Newfoundland. Beverly is minister of the Summerford-Moreton's Harbour pastoral charge and Bob of the Campbellton-Stoneville charge.

Tissington — To Ian Russell Tissington, Sc. '68, M.Sc. '70, and Mrs. Tissington (Nancy Rutherford), Arts '69, Sudbury, Ont., Dec. 26, 1976, a son (Jeffrey Graham Russell), brother for Caley Emma, born Jan. 23, 1975; grandson for James Graham Rutherford, Sc. '37.

Tuomi — To Jack N. Tuomi, Sc. '72, and Mrs. Tuomi, Temagami, Ont., Oct. 29, 1976, a daughter (Tanis Anne).

Walli — To Dr. J. Eric Walli, Med. '71, and Mrs. Walli (C. Anne Davidson), Arts '69, Winnipeg, Man., Dec. 26, 1976, a son (John David), brother for Mark and Lisa. The Wallis live at 34 Royal Salinger Rd., Winnipeg.

Watts — To Jack Watts, Sc. '71, and Mrs. Watts (Barbara Ready), N.Sc. '71, Scarborough, Ont., Oct. 23, 1976, a son (Michael Bryant).

Webber — To L. C. Webber (RMC) and Mrs. Webber (Claudia Jamieson), Ed. '71 (B.A., Guelph), Halifax, N.S., Aug. 5, 1976, a son (Ryan Jamieson), brother for David and Mariah.

Wilby — To George A. Wilby, Sc. '68, and Mrs. Wilby, Coquitlam, B.C., Jan. 15, a son (Derek Allen), brother for Nicole and Robin; grandson for Dr. A. G. Wilby, Med. '33.

Wilson — To J. Brian Wilson, Arts '74, and Mrs. Wilson (Susan Vallery), Arts '74, Peterborough, Ont., Sept. 27, 1976, a son (Timothy John).

Marriages

Aunger — In Kingston, Ont., on Dec. 22, 1976, Sandra D. Aunger, Arts '71, to Henry Laycock (M.A., Oxford). Mr. and Mrs. Laycock are living in Kingston, Ont.

Baugh — In Orillia, Ont., on Nov. 12, 1976, Susan Baugh, Com. '75, daughter of Dr. C.W. Baugh, Med. '53, M.Sc. (Med.) '56, and Mrs. Baugh (Elspeth Wallace), Arts '49, to Andy Waywell (M.B.A., Toronto). Included in the wedding party was Margaret Hamilton, Arts '75. Mr. and Mrs. Waywell have both successfully completed their C.A. examinations and are working in Toronto.

Bothwell — On Dec. 12, 1976, in Fredericton, N.B., Connie Bothwell, Arts '68, P.H.E. '69, to Barton Jay Myers. Mr. and Mrs. Myers are living in Fredericton.

Bruce — On July 17, 1976, Beverley J. Bruce, Arts '72, to R. Bruce Bromfield (B.A., Lakehead). The Bromfields are teaching native Dogribs at Chief Jimmy Bruneau School, Northwest Territories.

Byrne — On Oct. 23, 1976, in Vancouver, B.C., Judith Ann Laird (B.A., Denison) to J. Gerry Byrne, Sc. '70.

Cooke-Matheson — In Kingston, Ont., Aug. 28, 1976, Maureen Matheson, Arts '75, Ed. '76, to Brian E. Cooke, Arts '72, M.Sc. '74, Ph.D. '77. Included in the wedding party were Mrs. Louise Donaldson (Louise Clarke), Arts '75, Jean Kellogg, Arts '75, John Hayes, Sc. '73, Robin Walker, Arts '73. Dr. and Mrs. Cooke are living in England where Dr. Cooke is doing postdoctoral work. They may be reached c/o University of Oxford, Department of Nuclear Physics, Keble Rd., Oxford, England.

Daw — On June 7, 1975, Cathie Daw, Sc. '75, to Bryan A. Vermander (B.Eng., Carleton). They live at R.R.2, Petersburg, Ont. Ms Daw is on the staff of the University of Waterloo as a systems analyst for the Computing Centre.

Frost-Laing — In Burlington, Ont., on March 20, 1976, Catherine Laing, Arts '73, Ed. '74, to Norman R. Frost, Ed. '74 (B.Sc., Toronto). Mr. Frost and Ms Laing are living at 136 Marie St., Shelburne, Ont., where Mr. Frost teaches at the Boyne River Natural Science School.

Graham-Van Droffelaar — In Brockville, Ont., on Aug. 10, 1974, M. Karin Van Droffelaar, Arts '74, to Ronald J. Graham, Ed. '73 (B.P.H.E., Windsor). The Grahams are living in Châteauguay, Que., where they are both teaching.

Harvey — On May 8, 1976, in Barrie, Ont., Mary E. Brent (Dip.P.T.) to Donald K. Harvey, Sc. '75. Included in the wedding party were Paul M. Hewitt, Sc. '75, and James O.

Fenton, Sc. '75. The Harveys live at 64 Pleasant Dr., Chatham, Ont. Mr. Harvey is employed by Union Gas Ltd.

Heaton-VanSickle — On Dec. 30, 1976, in Oakville, Ont., Barbara Joan VanSickle, Arts, Ed. '73, to Jeremy P. W. Heaton, Med. '80 (B.A., Oxon, M.A.Sc., Toronto). Included in the wedding party were Daphne A. White, Arts '74, and Peter G. VanSickle, Com. '80. Mr. and Mrs. Heaton are living in Kingston, Ont.

MacCallum — In Ottawa, Ont., on Dec. 18, 1976, Ann I. MacCallum, Arts '75, to Robert T. Deane (RMC). The Deans are living in Dartmouth, N.S.

Macklin — On July 3, 1976, in Sherston, Ont., Marion Judith Mino, R.N., to Glenn H. Macklin, Arts '70. The Macklins are living in Napanee, Ont.

McIntyre-Irvine — On Dec. 31, 1976, in Ottawa, Ont., Miriam Irvine, Ed. '70 (B.A., Ottawa), to Brent McIntyre, Com. '74. Mr. and Mrs. McIntyre are living in Kingston, Ont.

Thompson — In Glenburnie, Ont., on Aug. 21, 1976, Mae Elizabeth Thompson, Arts '74, to Bryant Fugate. Mr. and Mrs. Fugate are living in Cleveland, Ohio.

Deaths

William Eric Atkins, B.Com. '59, Toronto, Ont., Feb. 1; age 39. An employee of Canada Life Assurance Co. since graduation. Survivors include his wife Carla and four children.

Robert Malcolm Bailey, B.Sc. '66, M.B.A. '71, Oakville, Ont., March 4; age 36. Senior Systems Consultant, Canada Systems Group. He is survived by his wife Anne.

James Henry Bocking, B.A. '36, M.A. '38, Ottawa, Ont., in February. Mr. Bocking taught at Fisher Park High School for many years. He is survived by his wife Alma, a son, James H. Bocking, Arts '69, M.A. '72, and a brother, Tom E. Bocking, Arts '45.

Lt. Paul M. Bow, Arts '68, Victoria, B.C., Feb. 1, 1976; killed in jet plane crash.

Donald Absalom Brown, Law '68 (B.A., Waterloo), Toronto, Ont., in an automobile accident on Dec. 26, 1976.

Douglas Findlay Buckingham, Artsci '79, Kingston, Ont., age 24, in an automobile accident near Cornwall, Ont., Feb. 18. Survivors include his parents, K.C. Buckingham, Com. '46, and June Buckingham (June Findlay), Arts '49; two brothers, Charles Buckingham, Sc. '73, M.Sc. '75, and Alex; two sisters, Elizabeth Buckingham,

M.B.A. '78, and Margi. Nephew of George E. Buckingham, Sc. '54, and Mrs. B.C. Bickerton (Dorothy Findlay), Arts '57, M.Sc. (Arts) '59, (Ph.D.)

William Alexander M. Campbell, B.A. '12, B.A. Hon. '29, Brockville, Ont., Sept. 11, 1976, at the age of 92. He retired in 1951 as head of the Classics Department, Brockville Collegiate Institute and Vocational School; was formerly Principal of Iroquois High School. Mr. Campbell was deeply involved all his life in service to the Presbyterian Church and served as trustee, dean of the session, and a lay preacher in the mission field. His five surviving children include Eleanor Campbell, Arts '43 (B.Ed., M.Ed., Toronto), Mrs. R.E. McFayden (Jean Campbell), Arts '50, Lawrence T. Campbell, Arts '41 (M.A., Toronto), and William M. Campbell, Sc. '48.

Dr. Calvert Mitchell Carruthers, M.D., C.M. '21, FRCS (England and Canada), FACS, FICS, Sarnia, Ont., Feb. 15. Dr. Carruthers carried on an extensive practice and was consultant in surgery and chief of staff at St. Joseph's Hospital and Sarnia General Hospital prior to his retirement. Survivors include his wife Winifred and a son, Dr. John S. Carruthers. Dr. Walter B. Carruthers, Med. '20, is a brother.

Omer Chaput, B.Sc. '36, Kingston, Ont., Jan. 27; retired as Assistant Chief Engineer, Aluminum Laboratories Ltd., Montreal, Que. Mr. Chaput travelled extensively to Alcan-associated plants in Spain, Sweden and France. Survivors include his wife Edna, a son, O.G. 'Bob' Chaput, Arts '65, and a daughter. Hector Chaput, Sc. '41, is a brother.

Rev. Joseph Vernal Clarke, B.A. '41, B.D. '41, Simcoe, Ont., Jan. 8. Survivors include his wife Ruth, a son and a daughter.

Robert Wilson Drybrough, B.Sc. '27, Victoria, B.C., Feb. 14; formerly a consulting electrical engineer, Sherritt Gordon Mines Ltd., Winnipeg, Man. He is survived by his wife Margaret.

J. A. Barnet Dulmage, Q.C., B.A. '24 (LL.B., Osgoode), Smiths Falls, Ont., March 6; practised law in Smiths Falls for 46 years, and served as crown attorney for Lanark County for many years. He is survived by his wife Mae and three daughters.

Frank Wallace Earle, B.A. '42, Vancouver, B.C., Dec. 17, 1976; an employee of the British Columbia Power Commission.

Edward Vincent Gibbons, B.Sc. '37, Toronto, Ont., Feb. 1; retired in 1976 as a Research Officer, National Research Council. Survivors include his wife Mary and four sons.

Ronald Sigurdur Hafidson, B.Sc. '44, North Bay, Ont., Jan. 10; engineering consultant. For many years Mr. Hafidson was President, Consolidated Rambler Mines Ltd., St. John, N.B. He is survived by his wife Marion, a daughter, Margaret Hafidson, Arts

'73, and two sons, Ronald J. Hafidson, Sc. '72, and Stephen J. Hafidson, Com. '79.

Dr. Frank Geoffrey Hooten, B.A. '46 (Ph.D., Oxford), Ottawa, Ont., Sept. 1975; Canadian Ambassador to Finland. Dr. Hooten was a Rhodes Scholar for Manitoba and a former Vice-President of Gelco Enterprises Ltd. before joining the Department of External Affairs.

Dr. Edward Alan Larkin, M.D., C.M. '33, formerly of Amenias, N.Y., in Tavares, Fla., Dec. 13, 1976. He is survived by his wife.

Dr. J. Arnot MacGregor, M.D., C.M. '21, Laguna Hills, Calif., Jan. 29, at age 88. He served during World War I, then, following graduation, worked at the world-famous New York Skin and Cancer Hospital, specializing in dermatology. He became Director of the Hospital Syphilis Clinic, the largest of its type in New York City until 1935. He retired from practice in 1970. He is survived by his wife Raphael.

Ian Donald MacKenzie, B.Sc. '40, Montreal, Que., May 25, 1976; Geotechnical Consultant, Shawinigan Engineering Co. Survivors include a daughter and a son.

Dr. Edwin Malkin, B.A. '29, M.D. '31, Parry Sound, Ont., Feb. 25; general practitioner who served the area for over 30 years. During World War II he worked on the Army Medical Board in Parry Sound and later joined the Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps, serving in Canada, England and Europe. He retired with the rank of captain, and became a partner in the Malkin Clinic, which later merged with the Scott Clinic to form the present Medical Associates. Survivors include his wife Beulah and two children. Victoria Malkin, Arts '34, is a sister.

Elie Mauer, B.A. '18, Montreal, Que., Jan. 12. He is survived by his wife Sadie.

Dr. James William Olan, Ph.D. '73 (B.A.Sc., Waterloo), Victoria, B.C., Oct. 10, 1976; employed by the Water Investigation Branch, Department of Environment, Province of British Columbia. He is survived by his parents.

Cecil Eugene Putman, Q.C., B.A. '19, Richmond Hill, Ont., Jan. 24; practised law for many years in Toronto and Oakville. Survivors include his wife Vera, two daughters, Mary Solovie (Mary Putman), Arts '47 (M.A., Toronto), and Frances Daunt (Frances Putman), M.A. '55 (B.A., Western), and a son, Dr. Alan D. Putman, Arts '60 (M.A., Ph.D., Toronto). Irene Putman, Arts '29, is a sister.

George Henry Raitt, B.Sc. '14, Berkeley, Calif., April 1976; retired consulting engineer and former Vice-President and General Manager, Southwest Welding and Manufacturing Co. Survivors include two sisters, Helena G. Raitt, Arts '09, M.A. '14, and Jean M. Raitt, Arts '12.

Mary Dorothy Requa, B.A. '36, Brockville, Ont., June 10, 1976.

Dr. Alan Dennis Robson, M.D. '57, Massapequa, Long Island, N.Y., in an automobile accident, Dec. 17, 1976. Dr. Robson was a radiologist with offices in Massapequa Park and Lindenhurst, and was associated with Brunswick Hospital Center in Amityville. He is survived by his wife Ruth, a son Alan, and two daughters, Pam, Arts '80 and Diane.

Mrs. J. M. Sands (Lilian Reynolds), B.A. '07, Bartlesville, Okla., Feb. 10, 1976.

James Harold Smyth, Q.C., B.A. '20, Kitchener, Ont., Dec. 5, 1976; senior partner in the firm of Smyth and Amos. Mr. Smyth practised law for 51 years, was a life member of the Law Society of Upper Canada, past president of the Waterloo County Law Association, and past president of the Kitchener and Waterloo Art Gallery. Survivors include his wife Helen, a son, and two daughters.

Timothy Ray Stewart, Arts '80, Kingston, Ont., in an automobile accident near Cornwall, Ont., Feb. 18. Survivors include his parents and two sisters.

Mrs. B. M. Wakeling (Kathleen M. Jarvis), B.A. '34, M.A. '36, Saskatoon, Sask., Feb. 20. She was active in social work in Saskatoon and in later years taught English to new Canadians through the University of Saskatchewan English Department. She is survived by two sisters.

Dr. Charles Kenneth Wallace, B.A. '11, M.B. '13, M.D., C.M. '14, Hollywood, Fla., Jan. 26, from injuries received in an automobile accident. He was 86. Dr. Wallace, a native of Metcalf, Ont., was retired from the Medical Department, Travelers Insurance Co., Hartford, Conn. He is survived by his wife Patricia, two sons, two daughters, and a brother.

Dr. Clifford Sexton Wilson, M.D. '29, Conestogo, Ont., Dec. 15, 1976. Survivors include his wife, Annie A. Benson, Arts '29.

Rev. William George Wylie, B.A. '32, B.D. '35, Oshawa, Ont., Dec. 17, 1976; retired United Church minister who served for 38 years in various Ontario charges. Survivors include his wife Daisy, a son, and a brother, James B. Wylie, Arts '26.

Dr. Ted Wood, soldier-surgeon

"Physician, surgeon, soldier, author, sportsman and good citizen", Dr. Edward Howard 'Ted' Wood, Arts '11, M.B. '14, died at Ottawa, Ont., on Nov. 18, 1976, in his 87th year.

A veteran of World War One, Dr. Wood was associated with the Armed Forces all his life, starting as a private of infantry in the militia in 1906. He saw service in France, Italy and Salonica. In post-war years he served as Commanding Officer of the 34th Cavalry Field Ambulance, with Le Regiment de Hull, and finally with the Governor-General's Foot Guards, from which he retired in 1948 with the rank of Lieutenant-Colonel.

After the war he practised in Peterborough before moving to Ottawa in 1932. He was an ardent sports administrator, particularly in hockey, and was a life-long curler. He was the author of many scientific papers, and was involved in many facets of community life. He was presented with a 50-year certificate by the Ottawa Academy of Medicine in 1964.

Dr. Wood is survived by his wife, formerly Fanita A. 'Bob' Burns, and two sons, one of whom is Arthur E. Wood, Arts '38.

John Ross Houston

Friends start a book fund

John Ross Houston, Arts '70, a graduate student in Sociology, died in Kingston, Ont., on March 1, aged 28. He is survived by his wife, Suzanne Sheppard, Sc. '70, M.Sc. '72, currently a doctoral candidate at Queen's, and by his parents in Mississauga, Ont.

A memorial service was held in Morgan Memorial Chapel on March 5. "We are especially mindful," said Padre Laverty, "of John's surpassing strength, great gentleness, a dignity that no suffering could demean...He taught us 'a faithful friend is the medicine of life'."

In John's memory, his professors and fellow students in the Department of Sociology have established the John R. Houston Memorial Fund. Their objective is to raise a trust fund of $1,000 which will provide, in perpetuity, an annual prize of books in his name, to be awarded to a deserving Sociology student. Friends may address contributions to the Fund in care of the Alumni Office. (Receipts will be issued.)

Rev. D. Forrester, theologian

Rev. Dr. Donald Fraser Forrester, B.A. '13 (S.D.T., D.D., General Theological Seminary), died in Kentville, N.S., Oct. 2, 1976, after a lengthy illness. He had served on the staff of the General Theological Seminary in New York City for 40 years, retiring in 1948 to Weymouth, N.S.

One of his former colleagues wrote this tribute: "In his teaching, Donald was painstaking in preparation, eloquent in lecturing, and deeply concerned to communicate to hundreds of future priests his love of the New Testament and his devotion to the language in which it is written. ...He was deeply loved by faculty and students alike."

CAN YOU HELP US?

Mail addressed to the alumni listed below has been returned marked "Deceased". Since the Alumni Office has no way of tracing these particular people, your assistance in either verifying or contradicting their reported deaths would be appreciated. Please contact Faye Patten, Personal Notes Editor, The Queen's Review.

William Elmer Burrows, B.A. '51, Calgary, Alta.

Paul Edmund Brown, B.A. '69, Belleville, Ont.

Joseph Austin De Grace, B.Sc. '51, Montreal

James Walter Durward, B.Com. '57, Simcoe, Ont.

W. Stanley Ferguson, B.A. '19, B.A. (Hon.) '26, Lost Trails

Paul Matthew Gouett, B.Ed. '71, Sault Ste. Marie, Ont.

Francis Patrick McAuliff, B.Sc. '13, Hamilton, Ont.

Edwin Owen Morgan, B.Sc. '26, Islington, Ont.

Mrs. L.A. Richard (Julia Sexsmith), B.A. '23, Toronto

Mrs. Stanley S. Smith (Edna Musgrove), B.Com. '25, Lost Trails

Norman Ian Trower, B.Sc. '73, Orangeville, Ont.

Theodora Isabella Wilkins, B.A. '32, Saint John, N.B.

C.G. Harford, R & D specialist

Charles Gordon Harford, Sc. '22, Burlingame, Calif., died on Dec. 24, 1976, at the age of 78. A veteran of World War One, Mr. Harford was a chemical engineer by profession and worked for 40 years with the firm of Arthur D. Little, Inc. He was engaged in a wide field of research and development, first in Cambridge, Mass., and then in San Francisco.

Among his achievements was special research for the Point Four Program in Egypt, a study of the feasibility of developing low-cost housing materials for the underprivileged. He retired in 1963 and concentrated on his main hobby of making beautiful copies of antique furniture.

Mr. Harford was a grandson of James Harford, B.A. 1864; a direct descendant of the Rev. William Simpson, missionary to the Indians in Upper Canada; and a collateral descendant of the Scottish physician, Sir James Young Simpson. He is survived by his wife Margaret, a graduate of Smith College, and by two sons from a former marriage.

Dr. B.H. Harper as honorary chief

Practised in Northern Ontario

Dr. Bertram Henry Harper, M.D., C.M. '22, of Portland, Ont., died in Smiths Falls Community Hospital on Jan. 19, at his 81st year.

Dr. Harper practised in Bolton, Ont. and then in Schumacher for many years, and was also on the medical staff of Porcupine Mines. In 1947 he joined the staff of Indian and Northern Services in the federal Department of National Health and Welfare and served for 12 years at Moose Factory, near Moosonee, Ont. When he retired in 1959 to part-time practice in Portland, Dr. Harper was made an honorary Indian chief by the Cree Indians.

He is survived by a son, Leonard Harper, Arts '47, Sc. '51, and a daughter, Mrs. J. Ascah (Mary), Arts '50.

Dr. T. Watson Kirkconnell: man of letters and languages

Canada's most prolific writer, Dr. T. Watson Kirkconnell, M.A. '16, Wolfville, N.S., died on February 26, at the age of 81. He was President Emeritus of Acadia University.

Dr. Kirkconnell was the author of 40 books, 130 brochures and joint works, and 600 articles. He was the translator of 5,000 pages from the poetry of ancient and modern Europe and had been described as "a tireless Canadian scholar, who is constantly interpreting new Canadians to their English-speaking brothers through the translation of their literary heritage."

A native of Lindsay, Ont., Dr. Kirkconnell was educated in the schools of that community, Queen's, the Toronto Conservatory of Music, and Lincoln College, Oxford. He won 14 Queen's scholarships in Classics, Mathematics, History, English and General Proficiency, and Gold Medals in Greek and Latin.

His academic career included teaching posts at Wesley (later United) College, Winnipeg, and McMaster University. He was appointed President of Acadia in 1948, a position he was to fill until 1964. Administration became a full-time job, except for a month in each year when he took to a cottage in the woods and worked for ten hours a day on the writing of books. He never ceased to be a scholar.

Many honours came his way, at home and abroad, including a shower of honorary degrees, membership in various literary societies and honour organizations, and other distinctions. He was elected to the Royal Society of Canada, and he received the Lorne Pierce Medal of that Society for notable contributions to Canadian literature. He was named an officer of the Order of Canada in 1969. He was one of the organizers and the first chairman of the Humanities Research Council of Canada, president of the Canadian Authors' Association, and chairman of the Writers' War Committee for Canada.

The survivors include his wife Hope, two sons and three daughters.

Notes

1900-29

Vera Ballance, Arts '25 (Diplômée de la Sorbonne, M.A., Columbia), has retired from teaching and is living at 519 Bella Vista Dr., Pickering, Ont.

Dr. Harry Milburn, Med. '08, Vancouver, B.C., at the age of 91, has decided to close up shop as the oldest medical practitioner in British Columbia. Dr. Milburn set up practice in Vancouver in 1911. He served as President of the British Columbia Medical Association in 1935 and Chairman of the Council of the B.C. College of Physicians and Surgeons in 1944-45. His oldest patient will be 100 in June.

James H. Odell, Arts '17 (M.B.A., Harvard), at the age of 82 is an account executive with Reynolds Securities Inc., Boston, Mass. He lives at 63 Forest St., Wellesley Hills, Mass. 02181, U.S.A.

Mrs. Pete Rooney (Ada Elizabeth Hughes), Arts '08, Ed. '09, Swift Current, Sask., was recently honoured by the University Women's Club on the occasion of her 90th birthday. Mrs. Rooney was one of the ten original members of the Swift Current group when it was formed back in 1930, and has remained a loyal and enthusiastic member. Over the years she has contributed much to the community through her interest in music, little theatre and handcrafts.

1930-39

Dr. R. Glen Bell, Med. '39 (M.P.H., Columbia), has retired from the Oshawa Clinic after 24 years as a partner and industrial physician. He and his wife, Geraldine Belwa, Arts '39, are moving to 25 Swiss Heights Dr., R.R. 2, Oshawa. Dr. Bell will be pursuing his hobbies of oil painting and sculpting.

Mrs. Honor Buttars (Honor Bailie), Arts '35, retired from the Oshawa Public Library on October 31, 1976. Her husband, Rev. Melville Buttars, Arts '36, Theology '39, retired from Albert Street United Church, Oshawa, on December 31, 1976. They are now living in the Cobourg area at R. R. 1, Gore's Landing, Ont.

Rev. Dr. Samuel A. R. Delve, Arts '34, Theol. '41, D.D. '75, has retired after 39 years of service. His last pastorate was in Kingston, Ont., where the new Cooke's-Portsmouth United Church was built and cleared of indebtedness during his ministry.

R. Allan Doherty, Sc. '33, formerly design engineer, Associated Engineering Services Ltd., Edmonton, Alta., has retired and is living in Pointe Claire, Que.

Letters

Dear Friends:

Your article "Wilderness Missionaries" (Jan.-Feb. Review) interests me and also saddens me. First of all, I rejoice that the subject has come up, but how can such an article be written and not mention the name of Jesus? I'm sure at least some of the eight men you feature know Him well, but how much of that comes through to the reader? "Theology" is such a dusty term to use about the God who made us and our world, who loves each of us and who is a Person we can talk to and depend on.

...I realize that the Queen's Alumni Review is not a religious periodical, but Christianity is, I believe, a part of what happens on campus, and more on the subject in a future article would not be out of order, especially considering its universal relevance. Thank you very much.

MRS. SHARON STEWART, wife of BRIAN STEWART, Ed. '73
Christ for the Nations Institute,
Dallas, Texas

In reference to letter from Priscilla Galloway (Pris Peebles), Arts '51 (March-April Review) regarding article "The Queen's English" —

To quote one sentence from above-mentioned letter: — "Among those THAT did, how many identified the error as well as correcting it?"

Perhaps the use of the word THAT is correct, but I wonder if the word WHO would have been better?

MRS. R.J. (PATRICIA) BOWERS,
Vancouver, B.C.

There is some discrepancy between (among) figures published recently about the number of living Queen's alumni. How many of us are there?

ANNE LALONDE, Arts '74
Kitchener-Waterloo, Ont.

Editor's note: According to statistics collected in January 1977, there are 40,126 living graduates holding 44,460 degrees from Queen's.

Queen's Cooperative Day Care Centre at 169 Union St. was established in 1970 by a small group of parents in cooperation with Student Services to serve the needs of students and staff.

Demand for day care services has increased since 1970 and 40 children are now looked after by a professionally qualified staff. Parents supplement the work force by putting in work hours to help keep staff and financial requirements to a minimum, but we are finding it increasingly difficult to maintain our past standards. Fees are becoming prohibitive for many parents in need of day care services.

The purpose of this letter is to create an awareness of the availability of our service in the hope that some alumni will be interested in pledging their financial support for a relatively new and very needy facet of university life today. We are registered as a charitable organization and all donations are tax-deductible.

ROBYN DANBY, Arts and Science
Queen's Cooperative Day Care Centre

Cheques sent to the Alumni Office should be made out to "Queen's University" with a covering note if the donor wishes his or her contribution to be allocated to this specific use. Such gifts are administered through Queen's Student Affairs Centre. — Editor.

Dr. R.E. Ralph, known as "The Doc" to 1,400 Toronto firemen, has quit the Fire Department after 30 years. Above, he bandages the hand of a firefighter on the roof of Postal Station J during a fire in April 1973.

Dr. Robert E. Ralph, Med. '34, has stopped chasing fire trucks. For 30 years, in his capacity of Medical Director of the Toronto Fire Department, he has responded to all major fire alarms and has gone right into the flames and smoke to work side by side with his fellow firemen when he was needed. While the Toronto Fire Department grew from 890 men in 1946 to today's strength of 1,400, "The Doc", as he was known affectionately, worked to keep injury statistics in Toronto well below international levels, and his medical plan for firemen has been an example throughout North America. Dr. Ralph will now be able to continue his private practice with fewer interruptions.

Mrs. A. M. Kirkpatrick (Margaret Newton), Arts '36 (M.S.W., Toronto), is a Professor of Social Work at the University of Toronto.

Rhoda M. Laidley, Arts '35, formerly of Ottawa, Ont., retired in December 1975 and is now living in Kingston, Ont.

Dr. Kenneth A. Roberts, Med. '32, Toronto, Ont., has been appointed a member of the Board of Directors of Canada Trust, a result of recent amalgamation of Canada Trust and Ontario Trust. Dr. Roberts was Chairman of the Board and Chief Executive Officer of Ontario Trust from its inception, as well as of its predecessor companies. He is also President and Chief Executive Officer of Hambro Canada Ltd., principal shareholder of Ontario Trust, plus a number of corporations in Canada and the United States associated with the Hambro Banking Group.

1940-49

Douglas T. Arkett, Sc. '49, co-ordinator of room reservations and timetabling at Queen's, has also been assigned responsibility for the co-ordination of the University's central audio-visual services.

A. W. Balson, Arts '40, Vice-President, Aluminum Co. of Canada Ltd., Kingston, Ont., retired the end of January after more than 30 years with the company. In mid-February Mr. and Mrs. Balson left for India, where Mr. Balson is acting as a development and organization consultant to the Indian branches of Alcan, which have been undergoing changes since 1976 to give more decision-making power to local companies.

A. M. Clarke, Sc. '46, Toronto, Ont., has been appointed, Assistant Vice-President, Exploration and Development, Falconbridge Nickel Mines Ltd. Mr. Clarke joined the company in 1946 and for the past several years had been Chief Geologist.

A. Ephraim Diamond, Sc. '43, Willowdale, Ont., Chairman of the Board and Chief Executive Officer of Cadillac-Fairview Development Corp., is President of the Toronto chapter of the Canadian Friends of the Hebrew University. The university, in Jerusalem, is the largest in Israel, with more than 16,000 students.

Major Eric B. Forde, Arts '47, C.D. (Ret.), Sydenham, Ont., has been appointed representative of Morguard Trust Co. for Kingston and area. Mr. Forde served in the Canadian Armed Forces from 1942 until 1967.

J. Robert O'Grady, Sc. '46, has been appointed Deputy Commissioner of Public Works, Niagara County Office Bldg., Lockport, N.Y. Mr. O'Grady was formerly a civil engineer for the Town of Tonawanda, N.Y.

W. Arnold Rogers, Sc. '47, has been appointed President and General Manager of Commercial Alcohols Ltd. The company, a producer of industrial and beverage alcohols and a wholly-owned subsidiary of Canadian International Paper Co., has plants at Varennes and Gatineau, Que., and produces for the domestic and export markets. Mr. Rogers has been Assistant General Manager for the past several years.

Robert E. Schock, Sc. '48, Sales Manager, Buffalo Forge Co., Buffalo, N.Y., has been elected Secretary-Treasurer of the Air Moving and Conditioning Association (AMCA) for 1977. Mr. Schock has been in the air moving and ventilating field since 1948.

Jack D. Smith, Sc. '46, presently Vice-President and Director of Engineering of SNC/GECO Ltd. in Toronto, Ont., has been elected a Director of SNC Enterprises Ltd., Montreal, Que. SNC Enterprises is the holding company of the 28 organizations that comprise the SNC Group.

D. Boyd Valteau, Arts '48, Windsor, Ont., has been named Manager, Market Investment, Chrysler Canada Ltd., with responsibility for dealer development and business management. Mr. Valteau joined Chrysler in 1958 and most recently was Manager of Merchandising.

David W. Welch, Arts '49, I.R. '49, has been elected Vice-President, Canadian Oper-

Robert O'Grady

J.D. Smith

T.G. Kincaid

Dr. F.H. Maine

ations, Ford Motor Credit Co. of Canada Ltd., Toronto, Ont. He is responsible for directing sales and field operations across Canada. Prior to his appointment, Mr. Welch was Vehicle Sales Manager, Ford Motor Co. of Canada Ltd. He has held a wide variety of management positions in Toronto, Winnipeg and Oakville since joining the company in 1951.

D. Gordon Workman, Sc. '46, is the new General Manager of Elrond College, Kingston, Ont., a co-operative student residence. Mr. Workman was formerly Production Superintendent, Millhaven Fibres Ltd., Kingston.

1950-59

C. D. Brooks, Sc. '57, has been appointed Chief Engineer, Land Development Division, Markborough Properties Ltd., Toronto, Ont. Mr. Brooks has had 15 years' experience in the engineering disciplines concerning land development. In his new position, he will be responsible for surveying, road construction, all servicing of properties, and engineering appraisals of new ventures undertaken by the company.

Ann Carr (Ann E. Armour), Arts '52, moved from Toronto to the San Francisco Bay area in 1962, married Don Carr in 1966, and taught kindergarten until 1972. She is now with Marsh and McLennan Insurance Brokerage, Kentfield, Calif., as accounts person in the commercial department. In their spare time, the Carrs operate their own theatre company, The Marin Actors Company, out of San Rafael.

Richard F. Day, Sc. '54 (Dip. Eng., R.M.C.), has been appointed President, Tricil Ltd., Burlington, Ont. The company, a joint venture of Canadian Industries Ltd. and Trimac Ltd., operates across Canada in the waste management industry. Mr. Day has had 20 years' experience in marketing and management with Alchem Ltd., a leading manufacturer of industrial chemicals.

Wally M. Duncan, Sc. '56, is Manager, Concrete Products Division, Lafarge Concrete Ltd., Richmond, B.C.

Dr. Alan Elliott, Med. '56, a member of a group of physicians and surgeons at the Peterborough Medical Centre, Peterborough, Ont., has been named head of a medical assistance team working in Afghanistan. Dr. Elliott is in charge of a nine-member team, most of them Canadians, involved in treatment and medical education through the CARE-MEDICO international aid program. During his two-year assignment, he will be based at the new 250-bed Republic (Jamhuriat) Hospital in Kabul.

Harry S. Hebb, Sc. '57, has been promoted to Manager of Engineering and Data Systems, Boeing Co., Space Division, Houston, Texas.

Dr. Thomas G. Kincaid, Sc. '59 (S.M., Ph.D., M.I.T.), has been appointed Manager of the Non-Destructive Testing Program, General Electric Research and Development Center, Schenectady, N.Y. As head of the newly established program, Dr. Kincaid has responsibility for directing the activities of 12 scientists and engineers engaged in the development of advanced technologies and equipment for manufacturing inspection and testing. Dr. Kincaid joined the Centre in 1970. He has been author or co-author of a number of technical publications.

Allan H. Lee, Sc. '52, and Diana Lee (Diana Wellington), Arts '53 (B.L.S., Alberta), are living in Fort Saskatchewan, Alta. Diana is librarian at Stanley Associates Engineering Ltd. in Edmonton, while Al is Manager, Fabricated Metal Products, Sherritt Gordon Mines Ltd., Fort Saskatchewan. Karen, their elder daughter, has completed her third year in the Department of Music at Queen's.

Dr. Frank W. Maine, Sc. '59, M.Sc. '60 (Ph.D., Cambridge), Member of Parliament for Wellington, Ont., and a recognized authority in the field of composites, was a speaker at the International Society of Plastics Engineers' 35th Annual Technical Conference held in Montreal, Que. Dr. Maine was a former manager of both the research and development departments of Fiberglas Canada Ltd., and manager of research for the Glidden Co. Ltd. He has published many scientific papers on reinforced plastics and holds several patents issued in a number of countries.

Janet McGregor, Arts '59, is superintendent of Saint Columba House in Montreal's Pointe St. Charles. A United Church deaconess, she has previously served with Erskine and American United Church in Montreal. Established in 1916, Saint Columba is a community house which was originally concern-

Friends and fellow Queen's men: Rob Buller (standing) and Peter Watts

Goodbye to 'Uncle Bob' and 'P.W.'

By the early part of May, the Queen's campus will have lost two dedicated graduates, Rob Buller (Arts '71, M.B.A. '77) and Peter Watts (Arts '75). It seems to many that "Uncle Bob" and "P.W." have been around for a long time, and in differing ways they have both contributed large parts of their lives to Queen's.

A graduate of Frontenac Secondary School and a Kingstonian to the core, Peter Watts first entered Queen's as a Commerce student in 1970, but left soon after to enrol in the Career Academy of Broadcasting in Toronto. After completing this course, Peter returned to Queen's in the fall of '71 to begin a four-year stint as a politics student. He immediately volunteered his services to replace Jeff Simpson (Arts '71) as the football broadcaster on CFRC, and soon lent his golden voice to live hockey broadcasts, too.

Pete continued his keen interest in sports at Queen's by managing both the hockey ('71-'72, '75-'77) and football ('74-'75) teams, and by taking on various positions such as Journal sports editor, editor of College Sport Today, and Assistant Publicity Director to Eddie Deans. Peter's contributions to Queen's have twice been officially recognized by his friends and his University, first through an award he received upon graduation and most recently at Color Night 1977 where he received a special memento as a non-student for his work with the hockey team.

Uncle Bob Buller, better known to some of his peers as "Bustling Bobby"

(Queen's Journal, Jan. 8, 1970), came to Queen's in 1968, after having been a member of the 48th Highland Regiment. It has been said that Rob's hometown of Princeton, B.C., never recovered from the loss of Rob, although Queen's certainly did gain as he went on to be Speaker of the AMS, co-founder and first student manager of the Queen's Pub, member of the Queen's Bands and CFRC, and member of umpteen different committees all over campus. His efforts and contributions were recognized in his Tricolor Award in 1971.

After graduating, Rob went on to help organize and establish the Secondary Schools Liaison Office, part of the Registrar's Office at Queen's, and also took on the responsibilities of Warden of Leonard Hall. During this interval, he also went back to school for an M.B.A. and is graduating this spring to a promising position with Xerox in Ottawa.

There were many parties and tears as P.W. left his job as Public Affairs Director of Kingston radio station CKLC to take up a new sports job with CBC-TV in Edmonton.

The same will undoubtedly be true for Rob's departure, as the students of Leonard Hall have planned a big surprise farewell dinner in his honour. To Peter (who is well known for his classic line upon first meeting Principal Watts, "Watts my name, what's yours?") and to Rob the University owes a great deal and wishes them every success and happiness in their new homes and careers.

— Jim Henderson, Arts '76

ed with welfare work and now includes a wide variety of community services.

J. D. McMeeken, Com. '53 (Dip. Management, McGill), is General Manager, Abamoweg Woodworkers Co-operative Ltd., Eskasoni, Cape Breton, N.S. The Co-operative was formed on the Indian Reserve of Eskasoni to manufacture furniture for the Canadian market, and all employees are members of the Reserve. Production commenced June 1976 and consists of a small line of occasional solid pine pieces.

John Mlacak, Sc. '58, M.Sc. '65, has retired after 11 years' involvement with the March Township Council (Ottawa-Carleton area), nine of them as Reeve. During the past two years Mr. Mlacak took a leave of absence from Bell Northern Research to serve as Reeve full-time. On Dec. 1, 1976, he joined the Technology Management Group, Northern Telecom Ltd. in Ottawa.

Rev. T. Rex Norman, Theol. '52, M.Div. '61, Belleville, Ont., has served as District Secretary, Canadian Bible Society, Bay of Quinte District, since July 1972.

Donald W. Smart, Sc. '53, has been appointed Marketing Manager, Electronics Division Ferranti-Packard Ltd., Toronto, Ont. Mr. Smart, formerly the Manager of Display Components Sales, has been with the Electronics Division approximately four years.

Joan Smith (Joan O'Grady), Arts '59, South Lancaster, Ont., has sold several novels to Fawcett-Crest. The first to be published is entitled An Affair of the Heart, and is currently in the stores.

1960-69

Dick D. Abbott, Law '60 (B.A., Carleton LL.M., Harvard), is still teaching in the Department of Law at Carleton University, and engaging extensively in labour arbitration. He was appointed to the Committee of Adjustment for Ottawa for a three-year term (1977-79).

Dr. Arthur J. Askew, M.Sc. '66 (B.Sc. Birmingham, Ph.D., New South Wales), has recently accepted a post in Geneva, Switzerland, as Chief, Water Resources Project Branch, World Meteorological Organisation. Dr. Askew was formerly Senior Lecturer, School of Civil Engineering, University of New South Wales, Australia.

Dr. J. E. Black, M.Sc. '61 (B. Eng., McGill, Dip. Ed., Ph.D., Saskatchewan), received his doctorate in Physics from the University of Saskatchewan in 1966 and is now Associate Professor of Physics, Brock University, St. Catharines, Ont.

J. Robert Boxma, Law '69 (B.A. Carleton), is now associated with the law firm of Macaulay, Lipson and Joseph, 49 Eglinton Ave., W., 5th Floor, Toronto, Ont.

Major G. W. S. Brodsky, C.D., Arts '66 (M.A., Victoria), recently took up new duties with the United Nations Military Observer Group in Pakistan. Major Brodsky was formerly a lecturer in English Literature at Royal Roads Military College, Victoria, B.C.

J. 'Ted' Cashman, Sc. '63, has been appointed Manager, Marketing and Business Development, White Pass and Yukon Corp. Ltd., Vancouver, B.C. Prior to his association with White Pass, Mr. Cashman was Research Officer and Senior Development Officer, Marketing, Canadian National Railways.

Dr. D. E. Chadsey, Med '63, has joined Laig Clinic, Lethbridge, Alta., in the practice of Obstetrics and Gynaecology. Dr. Chadsey was formerly on staff at the University of Alberta.

Dr. Chin-Chi Chen, Ph.D. '70, Med. '75 B.Sc., National Taiwan, M.Sc., Alberta), and Mrs. Chen (June Carol Smith), Artsci '76 (R.N., U. of Alberta Hosp.), are living in Fort Erie, Ont.

Jose C. J. Chen, Sc. '69, is employed by the Canadian Bechtel Ltd. Syncrude Project, Refining and Metal Division, Edmonton, Alta.

Dr. William Fortescue, M.A. '68 (B.A., Oxford, Ph.D., London), is a lecturer in history at the University of Kent, Canterbury, England.

Carol Gibson (Carol Mark), Arts '67, Ottawa, Ont., is the recipient of a Canada Council Senior Arts Grant.

John D. F. Hendershot, Sc. '62, has been appointed Project Co-ordinator, Exxon Chemical Co., Florham Park, New Jersey. The Hendershot family live at 25 Florie Farm Rd., Lendham, N.J. 07945.

Paul F. Hughes, Arts '63, has been appointed Manager, Western Distribution Centre,erox of Canada Ltd. He and his wife, Everley McCormack, Arts '64, are living in Calgary, Alta.

Atto A. Ivany, Arts '61, Law '64, was bereaved by the death of his wife, Sarah MacDonald (R.N., KGH), in an automobile accident on January 20, 1977. Besides her husband, she leaves two daughters, Alexandra, 10, and Mary Jayne, 8. They live at 147 Lorwin Dr., Sault Ste. Marie, Ont.

Dr. Michael A. S. Jewett, Med. '68, RCS(C), and his wife, Dr. Brenda L. Gallie, Ed. '69, are both currently on staff at Wellesley Hospital in Toronto, where Brenda is practising Ophthalmology and Michael, Otorhinolaryngology. Their daughter (Francis Louise Mahanni) was born in New York in March 1975.

Carole D. Klipa, Arts '69, Ed. '70, received her Master's degree in Library Science (M.L.S.) from the University of Michigan in August 1976. She is currently an Ontario teacher on exchange to the Bulmershe School, Chequers Way, Woodley, Reading, Berkshire, England, until September 1977.

Keith Norton

Brian Lynch

Brian Lynch, Arts '66, has been re-elected to Cornwall City Council for a second term as alderman.

Glen S. Nishimura, Sc. '69 (M.A.Sc., Toronto), has joined the Zinc Institute as a Market Development Representative at its Canadian office in Toronto, Ont.

Keith Norton, Arts '62, Law '69, recently assumed the Community and Social Services portfolio in the Ontario Provincial Cabinet. Mr. Norton is M.P.P. for Kingston and the Islands and was formerly Parliamentary Assistant to Ontario Treasurer Darcy McKeogh.

John M. Partridge, Artsci '66, has been transferred to the Calgary office of Thorne Riddell and Co., Calgary, Alta. Mr. Partridge lives at 356 Oakside Circle S.W.

George Putnam, Sc. '60 (Dip. in Management, McGill), has been appointed General Manager, Oxy Metal Finishing of Canada Ltd., Rexdale, Ont. This division of Can Oxy manufactures and markets metal-treating chemicals under the Parker trade name and precious metal plating chemicals under the Sel-Rex trade name.

Bruce O. Regensburg, Sc. '66, and his wife (Marsha Green), Arts '67, have moved to Fort McMurray, Alta., where Bruce is Mine Superintendent at Syncrude. The Regensburgs and their two children, Paul and Nicole, live at 186 Highland Close.

Murray W. Rielly, Arts '67, Law '74, has opened an office for the practice of law at 346 1/2 Princess St., Kingston, Ont.

Dr. C. Harvey Rorke, Com. '66 (M.B.A., Calif., M.S. Rochester), was recently awarded a Ph.D. degree from the University of London in Economics and Finance. Dr. Rorke is Assistant Professor of Finance at McGill University.

Rev. L. D. Smith, Theol. '67 (B.A., Western), has received his Ph.D. degree from Glasgow University, Scotland.

Dr. Alan B. R. Thomson, Arts '65, Med. '67, M.Sc. (Arts) '70, Ph.D. '71, has been awarded the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons' 1977 Medal in Medicine for excellence in research. Now at the University of Alberta in Edmonton, Dr. Thomson is involved in research on the mechanisms of intestinal absorption, which may be useful in treating nutritional problems.

Susan A. Walker, Arts '69, Ed. '71, Agincourt, Ont., will spend the next two years in Nigeria as a volunteer teacher with CUSO.

Vicki Weston (Vicki Lee), Arts '68, after spending six months as a lady of leisure, has been appointed Executive Director of the Big Sisters Association, Ottawa, Ont. Mrs. Weston was formerly head of Secondary School Liaison at Queen's.

Ross H. Wilby, Com. '60, has been appointed Assistant Director of Personnel Resource Planning, Dominion Foundries and Steel Ltd., Hamilton, Ont.

1970-76

Jim R. Amundrud, M.Sc. (Arts) '70, Ed. '71 (B.A., Sask.), is now teaching junior high school in Meadow Lake, Sask. He and Mrs. Amundrud (Susan Etcher), Arts '70, may be reached c/o General Delivery, Meadow Lake.

Nancy Baines (Nancy Armitage), Artsci '76, is now part of the Product Development Department, Proctor and Gamble Co., Hamilton, Ont. Her husband, Ian D. Baines, Sc. '74, is working in computer engineering at Dofasco. The Baines' now live at 426 Smith Ave., Burlington.

Louise H. Beney (Louise Dench), Ed. '74 (B.A., Guelph), has opened a handcraft shop in Elora, Ont. The shop, located on Mill St.

POEMS WANTED

The National Society of Published Poets is compiling a book of poems by Canadian poets as a cultural exchange project. If you have written a poem and would like our society to consider it for publication, send your poem and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to:

NATIONAL SOCIETY OF PUBLISHED POETS, INC.

P.O. Box 1976

Riverview, Florida 33569, U.S.A.

[Deadline is June 30]

DON'T FORGET!

If you have a new address, please cut off the address label from your copy of the REVIEW and mail it, along with the following information to:

Alumni Office
Queen's University,
Kingston, Ont. K7L 3N6

NAME

DEGREE/YEAR

NEW ADDRESS

(include Postal Code where applicable)

(Remember to send your old address label)

PHONE NUMBER

ANY NEWS about you we should have in the Review? (Births, marriage, promotion, honours, change of job, etc.)

If you receive The Queen's Review but do not receive notices of local Branch activities, please let us know.

W., features such items as weaving and tapestry.

David M. Beresford, Arts '70 (M.B.A., York), and Mrs. Beresford (Peggy Cowan), Arts '70 (M.Ed., Ottawa), formerly of Geneva, Switzerland, are now living in Reading, England, where Mr. Beresford is employed by Digital Equipment Co. Ltd.

James J. Browning, Arts '75, was awarded the H. R. MacMillan Fellowship to the University of British Columbia Graduate School of Psychology.

Gordon M. Burns, M.P.A. '74 (B.A., Laurentian), and Mrs. Burns (B.Sc.N., Laurentian), live at Palmerston, Ont., where Mr. Burns is Clerk-Treasurer, Wallace Township, Perth County.

Lt. Doug C. Christensen, Arts '75, has taken up duties as Canadian Forces Exchange Officer at the United States Naval Station in Argentina, Nfld.

J. J. Cornacchia, Law '75 (B.A., Toronto), has joined the law firm of Moore and Costello, 5 Fairview Mall Dr., Suite 105, Willowdale, Ont.

Ken Cuthbertson, Arts '74 (M.A., Journalism, Western), works in Regina as an Information Officer for the Saskatchewan Department of Education.

Sharon Di Meo (Sharon Fiori), Arts, P.H.E. '72, Ed. '73, and husband, Sam Di Meo (Waterloo), are living in Thunder Bay, Ont.

Dr. James Fagan, Med. '71, is presently a Casualty Officer with the Bismarck Hospital, Bismarck, N.D. Dr. Fagan and his wife, Barbara Farrar, Arts '69, have three children: Michael, 6; Thomas, 3; and Patricia, 1.

Stephen J. Flett, Com. '73, received his M.B.A. degree from York University in 1976 and is presently employed with Coopers and Lybrand, Chartered Accountants, Toronto, Ont. Mr. Flett and his wife, Anna May McCloskey, live in Etobicoke, Ont.

David Hurren, Law '73, (B.A., Brock), and Mrs. Hurren (Dianne Agnew), N.Sc. '73, are living in Fort Erie, Ont., where Dave is practising law with the firm of Tyrill and Hurren and Dianne is employed as a public health nurse with the Niagara Regional Health Unit.

Brand R. Inlow, Law '74 (B.Sc., Calgary), formerly with the law firm of Jones, Black and Co., Calgary, Alta., is now employed by the City of Calgary Law Department.

Dr. David S. Irwin, Ph.D. '75, and Mrs. Irwin (Sheila K. McAlpine), M.Sc. (Arts) '71 (B.Sc., Glasgow), have been appointed lecturers at University College, Port Harcourt, Nigeria, in the departments of Chemical and Biological Sciences, respectively. Their mailing address is University College, P.M.B. 5323, Port Harcourt, Rivers State, Nigeria.

Ann E. Ketcheson, Arts '75, Ed. '76, is currently teaching in the French Department at Adam Scott Collegiate, Peterborough, Ont.

Cheryl Lewis, Arts '75, is a biologist for Kawartha Lakes Fisheries Assessment Unit, Ontario Ministry of Natural Resources, Lindsay, Ont.

Christine Oldfield, Arts '74, has been working since October 1976 as a volunteer for Pueblito Canada in Costa Rica, a private Canadian organization working with abandoned children.

Catherine L. Orr (Catherine Beattie), Arts '71, is currently working in the Current Affairs Department, CBC-TV, Toronto, Ont.

Dr. John A. H. Porter, Med. '71, after 18 months in private practice in Milwaukee, has established Neurological Consultants, S.C., in the city's Euclid Medical Bldg., 3201 South 16th St. Dr. Porter completed his residency in Neurology at the University of Colorado Medical Center in 1975.

Wendy Ramsay, Arts '74, is living in Port Elgin, Ont., and works as a programmer for C.I.A.G. Insurance in Owen Sound, Ont.

Nancy Riedel, Arts '74, graduated in June 1976 with a Master's degree in Social Work from Wilfrid Laurier University, Waterloo, Ont. She is presently employed with the Children's Aid Society, Cambridge, Ont., as a family worker. Her present address is 66 Paisley Rd., Apt. A-1, Guelph.

Sister Leona Spencer, M.A. '72 (B.A., Ottawa), has been Principal of Marymount College, Sudbury, Ont., since September 1975. She joined the high school in 1972 as head of the Mathematics Department.

Brian W. Stewart, Ed. '73 (B.Sc., Trent), and his wife Sharon are attending Christ for the Nations Institute in Dallas, Texas. Following graduation Brian taught science for three years in a high school in northern Newfoundland.

Paula J. Travers, Arts '75, is employed by the Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce St. Thomas, Ont., as an Assistant Accountant.

Janice L. Wager, Arts '76, is with the Sales Department of Hyatt Regency, Vancouver.

Dr. J. Eric Walli, Med. '71, is Assistant Professor, Department of Medicine, at the University of Manitoba and is in private practice with the Winnipeg Clinic.

E. Anne Young, Arts '75, is a secretary with the Department of Political Studies at Queen's University.

Brenda Zanin, Arts '72, formerly Director of Queen's News Department, has accepted position as Enquiries Officer in the Information Branch of the Ministry of Energy, Mines and Resources, Ottawa. She is to institute a tour program and displays for school children and tourists.

Campus 'Hotels' Open to Alumni

As a member of Queen's Alumni Association, you are entitled to share in a plan that offers accommodation in residences at Canadian universities to summer travellers. Rates vary but in all cases compare favorably with commercial facilities in the same cities.

At least seven universities are participating: Queen's in Kingston, the University of Ottawa, the University of Western Ontario in London, Dalhousie in Halifax, Laurentian in Sudbury, McGill in Montreal and the University of Toronto. More may have joined by press time.

For details of where to write for rates and reservations, contact Murray Gill, Director of Alumni Affairs, at Queen's.

B. I. COHEN INC. DISPENSING OPTICIANS

Suite 120 6102 Cote Des
1255 University St. Neiges Rd.
Cor. St. Catherine (Near Van Horne)
866-7778 731-6530

MONTREAL

Avron Cohen, Arts '44

The Canadian War Museum's collection of cap badges from the Canadian Expeditionary Force 1914-18 is missing the officer's cap badge of the 46th BATTERY QUEEN'S CFA.

If you can help, please contact: L.F. Murray, Chief Curator, CWM, 330 Sussex Dr., Ottawa K1A 0M8

Milner & Steer Barristers and Solicitors

Milner Building, Edmonton, Alta.
1125 IBM Building, Calgary, Alta.

McMILLAN & MARTYNOWICZ

Consulting Engineers

TELEPHONE 482-1632

5757 CAVENDISH BLVD.
MONTREAL, QUE. H4V 1M4

Consultants in:

- socio-political analysis
- public participation
- social impacts of development
- human services policies and programs

Suite 300, 2 Toronto Street, Toronto, Ontario. M5C 2B6. 416-368-9643

LAKEFIELD RESEARCH OF CANADA LIMITED

Ore Testing and Mineral
Processing Research

A. G. Scobie, Sc. '37

Laboratories and Pilot Plant

Lakefield, Ont. Phone 652-3341

A. H. ROSS & ASSOCIATES

Consulting Chemical and
Metallurgical Engineers

A. H. Ross, Sc. '36 D. F. Lillie, Sc. '44
D. H. Eberts, Sc. '50

Suite 1706, 80 Richmond St. W.
Toronto M5H 2A4 366-1653

J. L. RICHARDS & ASSOCIATES LIMITED

Consulting Engineers and Planners

OTTAWA — KINGSTON — SUDBURY — FROBISHER BAY — OVERSEAS

D.M. Bracken, Sc. '76
R.P. Cheek, Sc. '67, M.Sc. '73
G.A. Clark, Sc. '72
A.E. Fee, Sc. '47
J. T. Fitzpatrick, Sc. '73

W.F. Flude, Sc. '59
G.A. Hearnden, Sc. '53
D.R. Hunter, Sc. '72
I.C. Kennedy, Sc. '70

C.N. Kirby, Sc. '51
G.T. McCaffrey, Sc. '71
P.A. Midgley, Sc. '57
J.L. Richards, Sc. '44/'47
D.G. Shillington, Sc. '70

Spring Convocation

SATURDAY, MAY 21

Morning: School of Graduate Studies and Research, Theological College, Faculty of Education.

Speaker: Rev. Dr. George Irwin Taylor

Afternoon: Faculty of Medicine, Faculty of Law, School of Nursing, School of Rehabilitation Therapy.

Speaker: Dr. Glenn Ivan Sawyer

SATURDAY, MAY 28

Morning: Faculty of Applied Science, School of Business (B.Com & M.B.A.). Speaker: Harold Armstrong Smith, Sc. '40

SATURDAY, JUNE 4

Morning: Faculty of Arts and Science. Speaker: Dr. Ann Saddlemeyer

Afternoon: Faculty of Arts and Science, School of Physical and Health Education. Speaker: Isabel Macneill

REUNION '77!

OCT. 14-16

OFFICIAL REUNION YEARS

1917	1930	1948	1950 ★ ★ ★	1967	1970
1927	1931	1948 ½	1952	1968	1975
1929 ★	1932	1949 ★ ★		1969

OTHERS PLANNING REUNIONS

Sc. '37	Med. '51	Sc. '66
Med. '37		Com. '66

ANY CLASS MAY HOLD A REUNION AT ANY TIME

- * Med. '29 will hold its Reunion this year, but on Sept. 23-24
-  Arts '49 will hold a Reunion in 1978 instead
Med. '49 and Sc. '49 will hold Reunions in 1979
-  Arts '50 has postponed its Reunion until 1978 or '79
Sc. '50 will not have a Reunion till 1985
Med. '50 will have its next Reunion in 1980

For help with your newsletter, class lists, mailing of notices, hotel reservations, party bookings, etc., contact Sheila Mayo, Reunion Secretary, Queen's Alumni Office, Queen's University, Kingston, Ont. K7L 3N6 (547-6560).

DOUGLAS LIBRARY
*
ARCHIVES
KINGSTON ONT
K7L 5C4
1-023-0621

En nombre
troisième
classe
Kingston

QUEEN'S
ALUMNI REVIEW
JULY - AUGUST 1977

REUNION '77

OCTOBER 14 - 16

SPECIAL ANNIVERSARIES

The Class of '17 (60th Anniversary!)
The Class of '27 (50th Anniversary!)
The Class of '32 (45th Anniversary!)
Science and Medicine '37 (40th Anniversary)
The Class of '52 (Silver Anniversary!)
Arts and Science '57 (20th Anniversary!)
The Class of '67 (10th Anniversary!)

WHO ELSE IS COMING?

Arts '29	Medicine '30
Science '30	Science '31
Arts '31	Commerce '66
The Class of '48	The Class of '69
Medicine '51	Law '72
Science '66	The Class of '75
The Class of '68
The Class of '70

Medicine '29 is having its 1977 Reunion on September 23-24*

ANY CLASS MAY HOLD A REUNION AT ANY TIME

For help with your newsletter, class lists, mailing of notices, hotel reservations, party bookings, etc., contact Sheila Mayo, Reunion Secretary, Queen's Alumni Office, Queen's University, Kingston, Ont. K7L 3N6 (547-6560).

Editor
CATHERINE PERKINS MORTON,
Arts '58

Editor, Personal Notes
L. YE PATTEN

Editorial Advisory Board
H. J. HAMILTON, Arts '31, LL.D. '75
MURRAY A. GILL, Sc. '47
BERNARD F. TROTTER, Arts '46
PETER DORN, R.C.A.

OVER: Summer campus, summer students. Photo by Richard Webb. Design by Peter Dorn, RCA. Trees by Project Green.

Curtain Rising on a New Queen's Woman	3	The Ban Righ Foundation's first three years, by Helen Mathers and Janet Troughton
Focus on Queen's Quarterly	7	"A quantum leap in support"
Letters	9
University Council Meets	10	Four honoured for Distinguished Service to Queen's
Around the Campus	13	Choral Ensemble acclaimed; Santo Domingo may become 'south Cam- pus'; Faculty and student awards; Theological College Convocation; MBA students helping small busi- nesses; Staff changes; Cancer re- search grants; New Dean for School of Nursing
Alumni Fund Analyzed	17	More help from more grads
At the Branches	20
Lost Trails	21	Class of '17
Names in the News	22	Births, marriages, deaths, positions and transitions

PHOTO CREDITS: Cheryl Scott, Queen's News Department, 4, 5, 6 (Cox), 7, 10 (Workshops), 11 (Rousehorn); Wallace R. Berry, 6 (Mathers), 18, 20 (Conn, Hamilton), 26 (Hannah, Edmison); Paul Berry, Tricolor, 10 (Michener), 13; Sparks and Associates, Kingston, 11 (Hill); University of Waterloo Information Services, 28 (Fraser-Reid); Belair, Kitchener, 28 (Packull); Oxford Mail & Times, 32.

The Queen's Review is published bi-monthly: January, March, May, July, September and November. Address all communications to THE QUEEN'S REVIEW, Alumni Association, Queen's University, Kingston, Ont. K7L 3N6. Typeset, printed and bound by 1000 Islands Publishers Ltd., Gananoque, Ont. Member, CASE.

Advertising Representatives: Alumni Media, Toronto (416) 781-6957, and Vancouver (604) 688-6819.

Postage paid in cash at third-class rates. Permit no. 1019, Kingston, Ont.

HERB'S BOOK IS ALMOST HERE!
Queen's Queen's Queen's will be available on or about September 1st. In it, Herb Hamilton shares his rich experiences as student, alumnus, counsellor to the Alma Mater Society, Director of Alumni Affairs, and editor for almost 40 years of the Queen's Review. His characteristic humour, bonhomie, kindness and insight flavour these accounts of historical incidents, sports highlights, and such memorable campus characters as W.E. McNeill, Alfie Pierce, Frank Tindall, Dollar Bill and Leonard Brockington. Hundreds of Queen's men and women enliven each era, from the Hell Fire Club of the Thirties to the streakers of the Seventies. He gives a fresh perspective to the lives and times of the seven Principals he knew – "none interchangeable" from R. Bruce Taylor to Ronald L. Watts.

Queen's Queen's Queen's is a personal history, an inspiring and entertaining gift from one extraordinary Queen's man to every other man and woman who cherishes a tie with this University.

Queen's Queen's Queen's is a 312-page soft-cover edition with more than 60 illustrations. The price of $6.00 includes mailing and handling.

ADVANCE ORDER FORM

To: Alumni Office, Queen's University,
Kingston, Ont. K7L 3N6

Please send me copy/copies of Queen's Queen's Queen's at $6.00 per copy. My cheque or money order for $, payable to "Queen's Alumni Association", is enclosed. I understand that the book will not be available for mailing until September.

NAME (please print)

ADDRESS

. Postal Code

If possible, I would like the author's autograph ☐

The curtain is rising on a new Queen's woman

A consideration of the role of the Ban Righ Foundation
for Continuing University Education for women
after the first three years

By Helen Mathers, Director

One hundred years ago the first female student, Elizabeth de St. Remy, cautiously (or boldly — our research doesn't tell us) attended a class at Queen's University. The Queen's College Journal of those days conducted a literary battle as to whether women were fit for higher education. One article suggested that all classes might be open to ladies until an "institution specially adapted to the educational necessities of women was established." The concept of continuing education obviously was not prevalent in those days but needed a century to evolve.

That first woman student in 1876 attended classes in Logic. She was not allowed to take courses leading to a degree, nor was any other woman allowed to do so. Today things are different. It is no surprise to find women enrolled in all faculties and in all departments. The surprise is to discover that 600 of these women are between the ages of 24 and 74. Another 1,200 women over age 23 are enrolled in the Department of Extension, with an additional number taking courses by correspondence.

The day of continuing education is certainly here. The Ban Righ Foundation serves as a resource centre for women continuing their education, or starting in for the first time. Some women who are now graduating started their studies at the time the Ban Righ Foundation was opening its doors in September 1974. At least two women are finishing their B.Ed.'s, having received their B.A.'s last year, both degrees in little more than three years. Some have completed a year at the Faculty of Education and are finishing their first year of teaching. Others with Arts and Science degrees are seriously hunting for employment. Some have been accepted into Graduate School. Many are taking courses for sheer educational interest with no career goals, while others who must be self-supporting are very concerned about employment prospects. Many are taking full course loads. Others are studying part-time.

The house at 32 Queen's Crescent is very inviting as a resource centre. Many women cautiously inquiring about coming to university for the first time find the uncomplicated entrance to the house much more to their liking than the large limestone buildings. Throughout the past three years there has been a steady stream of people coming to inquire about the prospects of studying.

The house is open throughout the day as a drop-in centre. Women taking courses find it a welcoming place to come to study or to enjoy a few moments of relaxation over a cup of tea, exchanging ideas with other students. Beginning this fall, students as well as faculty and support staff will be encouraged to bring a sandwich and enjoy a cup of hot soup with us. Visitors are welcome.

The programs that have been offered weekly over the last three years have revolved around the changing roles of women in society today. "Philosophies of Feminism: Implications for the Family" and "Mid-Life Crisis" and "Two Career Families" are titles of three such presentations over this season.

Members of the Queen's teaching faculty have participated in a number of program events at the centre. Bruce Berman spoke about "Women and Work in a Capitalist Society". Annette Hayward of the French Department and Catherine Harland of the English Department opened up the intricacies of Canadian novels in the "Women and Literature" series. Ms Kay Herman and Mrs. Marion Meyer of the Sociology Department have led discussions, as well as Mary Morton, who presented a paper entitled "The Social Control of Femininity: Women and the Social Justice System". Janet Wray spoke about "Creative Job-hunting in the Field of Nursing" and Grace Orzech and Joan Geramita conducted a "Math Allergy Clinic". "Teaching — Is It All That It's Cracked Up to Be?" was the title of a discussion introduced by Mary Balanchuk of the Faculty of Education.

Speakers who came from off-campus included Nancy Flatters, Director of Interval House, and reporter Donna Barnett, who spoke about "Mid-Career Change". Dr. Lynn Ginsberg and Dr. Sandra Fisman related their experiences in "Job-sharing a Residency in Psychiatry" while Mimi Small told about "Organizing a Play Group".

Additional group sessions were conducted at intervals throughout the year, one dealing with study skills and another on assertiveness training. A group of wives of Theological students met throughout the year, as did a group of young mothers who studied Children — the Challenge, a book by Rudolph Dreikurs.

The programs are drawing as many women who are not taking courses at the moment as those who are. Those with course commitments have a "full plate" already and may not be needing any more stimulation or advice, but other women whose time commitments revolve around family or employment welcome the opportunity to discuss issues that are of serious interest to them and to measure their thinking with that of other women. In this way the Foundation serves as a link with the community at large.

The Foundation has been called upon for more than advice and data. Just this year, for example, its limited bursary funds have been well used to help 32 women take from one to three courses each. The Board of the Foundation recently announced a special bursary, designated as "an investment in an experienced person wishing to broaden or change her educational base." (See Review, May-June.) Alumnae awareness of our role seems to be growing, and it was most encouraging when the Alumnae Association, at its annual meeting in May, decided to add $500 to the Foundation's bursary resources.

Bursaries are perhaps the most tangible way in which we can help the women who come to us. There are other tangibles, such as helping returning students develop study skills, or helping them find their way around the complex library system or around the campus itself, with all its resources, but we believe that the intangibles encouraging women to make the most of their own resources, for their own sake and that of society, are perhaps the most important.

It was to facilitate those goals that the Ban Righ Foundation was established and our various programs initiated. The possibilities for development are almost unlimited.

Janet Troughton

Janet (Cole) Troughton graduated from Queen's in 1961 and after teaching, marriage, and three children, returned to Kingston in 1971 when her husband entered Law School. Suffering the usual painful transition of the housewife returning to the work force, she opted for jobs other than teaching. She wanted to balance the roles of mother, wife and working woman who does not intend to remain permanently in the work force. Her decision to become a student again was based partly on the fact that she was living in a university town, and partly on an interest in rehabilitative counselling. Janet is particularly interested in working with alcoholics.

She has taken four make-up psychology courses in the social sciences to qualify for the Master of Education program in Counselling offered by the Faculty of Education. She has been accepted, but has delayed her entry into the M.Ed. program because of the need to work and to invest time in her family.

Like many of the women coming to the Ban Righ Foundation, she is concerned about the marketability of her skills after she has finished her university work, and she is pressed for time to handle all her responsibilities. Janet is currently taking the intensive secretarial course at St. Lawrence College and is looking for full-time employment. She hopes to enter Queen's this fall as a part-time M.Ed. student. Eventually and ideally, Janet would like to share a job with another person who also has additional responsibilities.

Sekai Muzondo

Sekai Muzondo is a Rhodesian who left Africa to study in England, met her professor husband there, and came to Kingston 18 months ago when her husband joined the faculty of Queen's School of Business. In Britain she had trained as a registered nurse with special training in psychiatry. However, she was unable to find work for many months after settling in Kingston.

During this quite lonely period of adjustment, she took a secretarial course and, at her husband's urging, registered in two courses in the Department of Psychology. During these first courses she met Terry Cox and through her was introduced to the Ban Righ Foundation. It was only after having registered for two more courses that she was offered — and accepted — a nursing position at the Regional Psychiatric Unit of Kingston Penitentiary. Since then she has been working full-time and studying part-time. Sekai is hoping to complete a split major (Honours B.A.) in Psychology and Sociology, emphasizing studies in criminology. Her job and her studies complement each other, and she plans to carry both forward. Currently she is taking two spring term courses in Psychology, working evenings to accommodate them.

Sekai especially appreciates the encouragement she has received from the Ban Righ Foundation and the opportunity the Foundation provides for exchanging ideas and views with other women who also study during their busy lives.

Virginia Bazilli

Virginia Bazilli has just finished her first year teaching in the business education department at the Belleville Collegiate Institute and Vocational School. She feels very fortunate to have become qualified and to have secured such a position, but two years ago she was not feeling so sure of herself. A gradual emerging from uncertainty to confidence would describe the metamorphosis she has gone through. When first introduced to the Ban Righ Foundation, Virginia had recently moved to the Kingston area, into new surroundings, with four teenage children, two of whom were at the threshold of university.

Virginia had earned a degree, but long enough ago that she wondered about its current value. Would her degree qualify her for any career opportunities? Would it qualify her for entry to the Faculty of Education? Would she feel comfortable and accepted in the student milieu if she did get in? She felt the risks were high, having little experience of this kind to draw upon, and not knowing what the outcome would be of investing a whole year in an educational venture.

She did not feel very hopeful, but was encouraged by a few women who had run some risks and "made it". The positive encouragement and some assistance with tuition fees were enough to get her started. Her own competence and resourcefulness carried her on from there.

The first mark of success was her acceptance into the Faculty of Education. Much to her surprise and pleasure, her 'old' degree did qualify her for admission. The second measure of success was her growing awareness that she could be at ease in the university scene and manage all her other responsibilities at the same time. The stimulation of being "where the action was" and finding she could fit in gave her the sense of confidence to carry through. She is happy with her teaching position and reports that her colleagues and students are wonderful. At the end of her second year of teaching, Virginia will have a permanent certificate.

(Continued)

Profiles written by Janet Troughton

Terry Cox

Terry Cox is the mother of two young children and lives near Kingston. Her husband has a full-time job, but he has given her considerable help, encouraging her in her decision to become a full-time undergraduate Arts student after six years out of high school. For Terry the major problems involved in returning to school even half-time have been practical ones — the problems of finding adequate, affordable day care for her children, and locating suitable housing for a family of four in which only one parent is a breadwinner. Through OSAP, Ontario provides a daycare allowance of $20 per week for two children; Queen's Co-operative Day Care Centre charges $45 per week per child. Terry has been paying an average of $145 per month for babysitting.

Her area of academic interest is in the sciences, particularly Chemistry, but she has found it virtually impossible to do adequate work in this field in spring and summer sessions because Queen's offers few science courses outside the fall and winter curriculum. However, because of family responsibilities and the concern that her children receive good care, she has decided to withdraw from Queen's for one year and from full-time studies for two years.

Terry is a good example of a woman student who is doing well in university but who, because of the lack of support services of the sort she needs, has had to postpone her formal academic work. Ban Righ Foundation provides continuing contact with Queen's for women like Terry who are temporarily outside the University environment.

Helen Mathers / Director of the Ban Righ Foundation since it opened in September 1974, graduated from Occidental College, California, in 1948 and did two years' graduate work at Union Theological Seminary, New York. She came to Kingston in 1953 with her husband, the late Rev. Dr. Donald M. Mathers, who became Principal of Queen's Theological College. Their son James just graduated with Arts '77 and plans to enter Law. Alastair has completed two years in Biology, and David is in high school.

Alumnae are helping

As both counsellor and administrator, Helen Mathers receives important help from Queen's women of various ages, vocations and geographical areas. Members of the Ban Righ Foundation's Board of Directors are:

- Margaret (Thompson) Griffin, Arts '65, Kingston;
- Margaret Hooey, Secretary of the University Senate;
- Bonnie (McCloskey) Judge, Arts '45, Toronto;
- Gail (Ward) Stewart, Arts '54, Ottawa;
- Eveline Flint, Personnel Services, Queen's;
- Margaret (MacKay) Gibson, Arts '46, President of Queen's Alumnae Association, Kingston;
- Mrs. Evelyn Reid, Dean of Women.

They also share the wisdom and experience of an Advisory Council:

- Rosemary (Dougherty) Richardson, Arts '53, Harrowsmith, Ont.;
- Sylva (Rowley) MacKay, Arts '43, Montreal;
- Norah (Cassidy) Froid, Arts '49, Ottawa;
- Prof. Mary Vipond, Arts '64, Concordia University, Montreal.
- Mrs. J.M. Sherwood, Queen's History Department.

'A quantum leap in support'

Who says Queen's Quarterly is the best Canadian quarterly of academic and general interest? Prof. J.L. Granatstein of York University does, and so do scores of other distinguished historians, along with political scientists, literary critics, scholars and Queen's alumni in several fields.

And now the Canadian government, through the Canada Council, has put some money where their mouth is. Queen's Quarterly has received a grant of $18,700 for 1977, with the same amount promised for the next two years. This is considerably more than the annual $5,000 grant in aid of publication and distribution received for the past four years.

According to co-editor Kerry McSweeney, "There seem to be two reasons for the quantum leap in support: first, the Canada Council is putting more emphasis on general interest intellectual journals and less on those whose audience is scholars working in a specific subject area; secondly, the grant recognizes the quality of Queen's Quarterly and the role it plays in Canadian intellectual life."

Poet Al Purdy, whose own work appears in the Summer edition, reinforces both points: "Queen's Quarterly manages the difficult feat of being both an academic magazine and having a great deal of popular appeal as well. In fact, it's the only 'official' university magazine...that I pay any attention to at all."

Co-editor arrangement

To achieve and maintain this reputation had become a heavy editorial burden, since the editor traditionally has teaching responsibilities as a member of faculty, as well. Although there was only slight precedent for it in the 84-year history of QQ, the Editorial Board decided that it would be appropriate to move to a co-editor arrangement. The men who now share the responsibility first shouldered by Principal George Monro Grant in 1893 are Professors Michael Fox and Kerry McSweeney.

Dr. McSweeney, a Toronto graduate who joined the Department of English in 1967, has been editor since 1972, except for a sabbatical leave spent on research in England. He teaches graduate and undergraduate courses in Victorian and American literature, does work in contemporary literature, and has published more than 20 articles.

Dr. Fox, a graduate of Cornell and Toronto, has taught in the Department of Philosophy since 1966, specializing in areas of 19th Century European philosophy, existentialism, philosophy and psychology, metaphysics, and current moral issues. His publications include articles on Leibniz, B.F. Skinner, Kierkegaard, the "relevance" of philosophy, unconscious emotions, and "animal liberation". He edited Queen's Quarterly while Kerry McSweeney was on leave in 1975-76.

"We both have wide disciplinary interests in humanities and social sciences," says co-editor Fox, "and we hope our collaborative effort will make QQ into an even better and more authoritative journal and expand the range of its interests and the size of its issues."

They are proud of a coup scored last year in connection with the Mackenzie Valley pipeline debate, which is again so topical. Judge Tom Berger, the one-man commission, gave QQ publication Queen's Quarterly now has a co-editor arrangement. The two young professors who share the editorial responsibilities are Dr. Kerry McSweeney (left), Department of English, and Dr. Michael A. Fox of the Philosophy Department.

"The best Canadian quarterly of academic and general interest"

J.L. Granatstein, York University

"(Among university quarterlies) Queen's Quarterly probably succeeds best in reconciling the artistic and academic factions that ought, theoretically, to complement each other. Queen's Quarterly has always had better-than-average book reviews, articles that are fairly jargon-free, and a sound taste in poetry and short fiction..."

Quill & Quire

"Queen's Quarterly is notable, among the diminishing company of general-purpose critical journals, for its scope and consistently keen analysis."

Edgar Z. Friedenberg, Dalhousie University

"Other journals fulfill our specialized needs in art and literature and to an extent in political affairs. There are monthlies that deal with a mixture of affairs and the arts on a popular level. But the serious polymathic monthly does not exist among us. Until it does, Queen's Quarterly is the best substitute; one day, I hope, it will appear among us more frequently."

George Woodcock

Since 1893 QUEEN'S QUARTERLY has provided readers with lively and authoritative discussions of current social, political and cultural events, and with articles on a variety of other subjects.

Isn't it time you subscribed?

Name.....

Address.....

..... Postal Code.....

I enclose

☐ $8.00 for 1 year
($8.25 outside of Canada)

☐ $20.00 for 3 years
($20.50 outside of Canada)

Mail to: Queen's Quarterly, Queen's University,
Kingston, Ontario, Canada K7L 3N6

QUEEN'S Quarterly

(Continued)

rights to his Corry Lecture, "The Mackenzie Valley Pipeline Inquiry". After its appearance in the Spring 1976 issue, 5,500 reprints bearing the Quarterly's imprint were ordered for distribution at hearings all over the north and in southern cities at which hearings were also conducted.

But there is no living in the past in the Quarterly offices, now in Watson Hall. The Summer 1977 issue came off the press at the end of June. Half the Autumn issue is already in hand, and key Winter features are being negotiated with writers.

The contents page of Volume 84 Number 2, shows the diversity-with-depth for which QQ has become respected. D.A.L. Auld tackles "Inflation, Unemployment and Income Policies in Canada", while H.V. Livermore looks at "Portugal After Three Years". Rosemary Brown offers "The Possibilities for Social Change in Canada: A Feminist Viewpoint". Richard Courtney describes "The Discipline of Drama". There are reviews — of new recordings (Kuerti, Schnabel and Toscanini), new books, recent Caribbean writing ("Exiles, Guerillas and Vision of Eden"), and of three Russian histories ("The Shadow of Saint Petersburg"). Among the more provocative titles: "From Up the Gum Tree: Wyndham Lewis and The Revenge for Love" by George Woodcock, and "Arms and the Poltroon" by John Mills.

In fact, the last word here will go to that same Professor Mills (Simon Fraser University): "Queen's Quarterly was about the first magazine I read in Canada when I arrived here in the fifties. ... It is first of all eclectic, secondly informative without being dull. I think of journals such as the New York Review of Books and Encounter in connection with Queen's Quarterly and I wish the latter appeared as often as the former."

Letters

THE QUEEN'S ENGLISH

I thought your singular use of the plural verb was somebody's subtle put-down in your "The Queen's English" piece (January-February Review). And I'm sure I was no exception.

As to the communication problem itself, is it not possible there's a diminishing interest in cerebral interplay itself back of it all? (Perhaps not just cerebral interplay.)

Consider.

Good writing is good manners, is courtesy, is concern for the time spent by, and the pleasure and esteem of, the person addressed. One tries. Or one doesn't.

V.J. FRANKLIN, Arts '48
New York, N.Y.

THE LAST WORD

Three letters in your March-April 1977 issue found fault with the sentence "When it came to written English, one out of every hundred Queen's students were 'literate'..." Much as I'd love to share the letter-writers' delight in catching Teacher's obvious slip, the sentence as it stands is perfectly correct grammatically, and shows a careful concern for correctness of meaning and a sensitive ear for the sound of good English.

The sentence is correct for the same reason that this sentence is wrong: "One per cent of the students was literate." We say "one out of every hundred was literate" for several classes of 100 students each, with exactly one literate in each class; but "one out of every hundred (i.e. twelve) were literate" for a class of 1200 students, with 12 literate, and with no subdivision into classes of 100 each. The letter-writers err in supposing "one" to be the subject: the true subject is "one out of every hundred Queen's students".

This point is carefully discussed, under the heading "Number", in H.W. Fowler (rev. Sir Ernest Gowers) A Dictionary of Modern English Usage, Oxford 1970, and in T.M. Bernstein The Careful Writer, Athaenum 1968. Fowler has a particularly full discussion, under the sub-heading "Nouns of multitude". One key ingredient of literacy is familiarity with, and regular use of, standard reference books such as these.

Actually, the problem as I have encountered it in student writing is NOT illiteracy, but carelessness, self-centred lack of concern for the welfare of others (the readers), and lack of pride and craftsmanship. For example, it was carelessness, not illiteracy, that caused one letter-writer to use the word "predicate" incorrectly, and to write "those graduates...of which the article spoke". The remedy, as I see it, is not more courses on how to write, but practice in everyday class work, with careful editorial comment from instructors.

In closing may I say that I tried and tried — and failed — to resist the temptation to observe that all your readers, excepting three, appear to be literate. (Sorry about that!)

COLIN R. BLYTH, Arts '44, M.A. '46,
Kingston, Ont.

FROM THE SILENT WORLD

After reading "Names in the News" here in Germany for the past 10 years and observing how well the male graduates are doing in their jobs, I have decided to write a notice from the silent world of all the hard-working, home-making female graduates of Queen's!

Wendy (Philips) Trutnau, Arts '64, is pleased to announce that she is still relatively sane after four years of raising two boys! Frau Trutnau will send in another report in five years. In the meantime, keep up the good work, Ladies!

MRS. H.P. (WENDY) TRUTNAU, Arts '64
Hirtenbrink 41, West Germany

HELPING YOU HELP US

As a follow-up to the article on the Secondary School Liaison Office which appeared in the Review (Nov.-Dec. 1976), I wish to inform you and the readers of a change in personnel in this office.

Alice Thompson, Arts '69, left Queen's on May 13 to travel to British Columbia with her husband Steve, Med. '77, who will be interning in that province. I have assumed the position of Senior Liaison Officer and I was joined on May 30 by Becky-Jean Hjartarson (B.A., Alberta, M.A., Regina), a new Liaison Officer.

As a member of the Executive of the Kingston Branch (Queen's Alumni) and as joint Warden, with my wife, of Leonard Hall, I find myself in an advantageous position to draw on experiences and resources in my contacts with prospective students.

I am extremely proud and pleased to be able to continue serving my Alma Mater in this area of liaison between Queen's and her future students, and I hope that alumni will look to this office for accurate and up-to-date information on the university for students considering Queen's.

JIM HENDERSON, Arts '76
Queen's University

Editor's note: Your Future at Queen's, a Guide to Undergraduate Studies 1978 is now available from the Liaison Office, 131 Union St., Queen's University, Kingston, Ont. K7L 3N6. So is information on day-long campus visits for interested secondary school students.

University Council — Session 1977

Workshop session on the theme 'Freshman Admissions: Past, Present and Future' Left to right around the table: George Jewett, Evelina Thompson, Liz Hooper, Herb Harmer, Pat Douglas-Murray, Assistant Registrar David Ellis.

Meet the Councillors you elected in 1977

From the 26 names on the University Council ballots this spring, nine graduates have been re-elected to another six-year term and seven alumni have been elected to their first term.

Those re-elected are as follows: Ray Basset, Toronto (Arts '49), Mrs. Norah C. Frood, Ottawa (Arts '49), David H. Hill, Ottawa (Law '75), Dr. Richard T. G. Milne, Kingston (Arts '53, Med. '58), Mrs. Wilda Parkinson, Ottawa (Arts '43), Donald A. Ross, Montreal (Arts '39), Brian M. Scully, Toronto (Arts '68), Mrs. Jane M. (Kirkpatrick) Taylor, Ottawa (Nursing Sc. '69), and

Dr. Norval L. Williamson, Ottawa (Arts '37, Med. '42).

The new University Councillors are: Marvin R. Bloos, Regina (Arts '72, Law '75), Mrs. Mary (Lazier) Corbett, Toronto (Arts '63), Susan E. Harper, Sudbury (Arts '75), Mrs. Shirle (Proctor) Lewis, Islington (Arts '58), Mrs. Megan M. (Moore) Nutbeam, Harbour Grace (Arts '51), and Anthony J. Wolman, Toronto (Com. '75).

John Kostuik, Toronto (Sc. '34), was also elected but has since been appointed to the Board of Trustees, and sits on the Council in that capacity.

(There will be more coverage of Council business in the September-October issue.)

To the accompaniment of a standing ovation, the Rt. Hon. Roland D. Michener, former Governor-General of Canada and Queen's devoted Chancellor since 1974, was unanimously re-elected to another three-year term as Chancellor of the University and Chairman of the University Council.

Another shirtsleeve workshop: Prof. Janet Wray, Prof. Gerry Doyle, K.R. MacGregor and Principal Ronald L. Watts. Seven others were in this group.

Trustees, Senators and alumni: Around the table, starting with Dean Jean Hill (back to camera), Bernard Burgess, Bert Trenouth, Bruce Alexander, George Jewett, Dave Gordon, Dr. John Gray and Dr. Jim Nelles.

Four Distinguished Service Awards and Life Memberships

Mrs. Kaye (Christian) Rousehorn was one of four people nominated for the University Council's Distinguished Service Awards for 1977. She received the award at a dinner following the annual meeting on May 27th. Principal Watts (left) read the salute and Chancellor Michener presented the leather-bound citation. The event was held in the Skylight Dining Room of the John Deutsch University Centre.

Dean Jean Hill, D.S.A.

Judge John R. Matheson, D.S.A.

Harvey Ian Marshall, D.S.A.

JEAN HILL, A.B. (Kansas), B.N. (Yale), M.Sc.N. (Western Reserve), Ed.D. (Columbia), in a decade at Queen's has put her distinctive stamp on the quality of education and the status of women.

Born in Montana, raised in Hampton, N.B., and Brandon, Man., and graduate of four distinguished American universities, Dr. Hill was a seasoned educator when she left the faculty of Boston University in 1968 to become the first Dean of Queen's School of Nursing. Buttressed by experience and fortified by initiative, she set about the complex task of instituting a four-year degree program combining the academic, scientific and medical aspects of nursing. She has worked diligently, both in the School and on the Senate, to update the curriculum, reinforce the faculty, and integrate nurses into the university setting. She retires this year, having built up one of the finest baccalaureate degree nursing programs in Canada.

Through her active membership in several professional associations, important conferences have been attracted to Queen's and the reputation of Nursing here has been carried across the continent.

Dean Hill has also devoted herself to achieving recognition for the role of women and was a co-author of the far-reaching 1974 Report on the Status of Women at Queen's.

This Distinguished Service Award pays tribute to Jean Hill as a pioneering Dean of Nursing, conscientious Senator, gifted teacher and administrator, and an outstanding woman whose charm and strength have been sources of support for her students, colleagues and alumni.

Citations continued on page 12

'...for Distinguished Service to Queen's University'

HARVEY IAN MARSHALL, B.Sc., M.Sc., P.Eng., a nationally respected patent and trademark consultant, has been in and at the service of his alma mater, Queen's, for nearly four full decades.

While a student in Mining Engineering, he was Chief Justice of the Science Court, Chief of the AMS constabulary, manager of the Queen's Band, convener of the Science Formal, and winner of a prestigious Tricolor Award in 1941.

For the next four years he combined teaching with graduate studies. When he put his Master's degree to work for Alex E. MacRae and Company, patent and trademark agents in Ottawa, Queen's kept her seal on his affections. He became active in the Alumni Association, President of the Ottawa Branch, a Director of the national association, national President for two terms, and then chairman of the alumni canvass in the Capital Appeal of 1964-70.

Since 1950 Harvey Marshall has been a member of this Council and its various committees. In 1965 he was elected to yet another Queen's 'career' on the Board of Trustees, serving as member of the Executive Committee, representative to the University Council Executive, co-chairman of the Committee on Campus Planning, and a member of the Building Committee.

In brief, as student, alumnus, teacher, engineer and head of a Queen's family, Harvey Marshall has been a promoter and preserver of Queen's spirit, a watchdog over her goals and ideals, and a designer of her destiny.

JOHN ROSS MATHESON, C.D., B.A. (Queen's), M.A. (Mount Allison), LL.M. (Western), is Queen's Counsel by vocation and Queen's Councillor by long dedication.

Son of a loyal Queen's clan (and father of another), he came to campus in the right spirit: his presidency of the Arts Society and his AMS activities earned him a Tricolor Award and election to the permanent executive of Arts '40.

By always impressing on people his ties with Queen's, he has since honoured us all through his valorous military service and subsequent career as Brockville barrister, Member of Parliament (Leeds, 1961-68), Parliamentary Secretary to Prime Minister Pearson, a prime mover of the Canadian flag, and now Judge in Carleton County. He has affiliated himself with the Order of St. John, the Conference of Defence, the Canadian Olympic Association, Amateur Boxing, and the War Amps, and is Honorary Colonel of an artillery regiment stationed in Germany. From such pursuits, he has brought back laurels to Queen's: sound judgement, generous financial support and important archival papers.

Specifically, he has been Chairman of the Board of Management of Queen's Theological College (which made him a Life Member), a University Councillor, and a founding member of the Cha Gheill Society. Two decades on the Board of Trustees and its several committees have amply demonstrated his fidelity, zeal, experience, eloquence and spiritual insights. John Matheson has always had a gift for recognizing history while it was yet in the making; may this award help confirm to him his puissant place in the chronicles of Queen's.

KAYE CHRISTIAN ROUSHORN has given Queen's 35 years of devotion, and in the process has raised the role of 'Girl Friday' to levels of both art and science. Five Principals ago, she joined the staff of the Registrar's Office as a gifted graduate of Notre Dame Convent. Over the next two decades, her informed and cheerful collaboration was successively prized by the Director of Endowment, the University Treasurer and the Secretary of the University Council. At one stage she looked after personnel records, counselled staff on fringe benefits and helped them with health insurance claims. Many long-time employees continue to come to her for help. And she still tends to ushering at all Convocations and oversees a complex mortgage plan for faculty and staff.

Since becoming administrative assistant to the University Secretary in 1966, Mrs. Roushorn has arranged the Board of Trustees' meetings, prepared agenda and recorded the minutes. Historians studying the records of administrative decisions over the years will always be grateful for the quality of her work, her accuracy and clarity.

Long service and attendance at Board meetings have combined to make her a human encyclopedia of university data, and if a question about Queen's seems difficult to answer, the usual — and usually effective — course is to "Ask Kaye." The University Council now 'asks Kaye' to accept this recognition of her fund of knowledge, her ability and loyalty, and the benefaction they have been to this University.

Around the Campus

Washington success for Choral Ensemble

Queen's Choral Ensemble was judged the finest choir competing at the Festival of Nations in Washington, D.C., on May 8. Under the direction of Prof. Denise Narcisse-Mair, the 42-member choir received the Superior Award, the highest honour given at the 1977 festival. Queen's also received a standing ovation from the other competitors.

The Festival of Nations, considered one of the most prestigious musical competitions in North America, drew 12 choirs from across the U.S., plus one other Canadian group. The choirs did not compete against one another, but against an established set of festival standards, and were adjudicated by 12 representatives of noted American schools of music. The Queen's singers performed a compulsory piece entitled O Magnum Mysterium by Vittoria, plus their own choices — a Newfoundland folk song called She's Like the Swallow and Ching-a-Ring Chaw, arranged by Aaron Copeland. Judges described the ensemble's performance with such phrases as "excellent choice of repertoire", "a very beautiful overall sonority", "excellent tone quality", and "an outstanding musical effect".

En route to Washington for the competition, the group (26 women and 16 men) had a pleasant stop-over in Scranton, Penn., with lunch and a televised school concert under the auspices of alumna Ann (Nicholson) Cahoon, Arts '49, and Providence United Church. The group was also invited to sing at the Eastern Mennonite College in Virginia. In Washington, the Ensemble sang parts of the high mass at St. Matthew's Cathedral on Sunday morning and was later received at the Canadian Embassy by Ambassador Jake Warren.

Choir members helped finance their trip by selling oranges and grapefruit door-to-door during the spring term.

They also received support from U.S. alumni through the Friends of Queen's University, Inc.. In the future, Professor Narcisse-Mair would like to see Queen's Choral Ensemble compete in Europe. But that would take a lot of orange and grapefruit peddling, and so, for the moment, the singers are content to decide where in the Music Department their plaque and medal from the Festival of Nations will be hung.

Santo Domingo to be our 'South Campus'?

The Rector of a Dominican Republic university was in Kingston recently to thank Queen's for outstanding contributions of time and effort toward the establishment of health care laboratory facilities in his country and to explore closer ties with Queen's in other disciplines.

Dr. J.T. Mejia of the Universidad Nacional Pedro Henriquez Urnea (UNPHU) in Santo Domingo met with Principal Watts and an interfaculty committee to discuss how the Dominican university could best benefit from a broader association with Queen's, and vice versa. Dr. Mejia showed special interest in chemistry, physics, engineering, humanities and continuing education.

Dr. H.G. Kelly, Vice-Principal (Health Sciences) and a key figure in the original health care collaboration, says that an expanded educational relationship with UNPHU, now in the formative stages, could eventually lead to an exchange of students and staff.

Queen's medical connection with UNPHU began in 1970 and may be seen today in a Biomedical Institute in Santo Domingo and a modern laboratory which provides support services for most of the country's hospitals and clinics. Queen's contributions to this co-operative venture have been guidance and advice, administration of project funds, and the ordering of laboratory equipment. Initially, financing was three-fold: Canadian government support through CIDA, contributions from Canadian industries which have interests in the Caribbean, plus the support of the Dominican government and UNPHU itself. The project is now self-supporting.

Members of Queen's Faculty of Medicine were heavily involved in the early stages. In particular, Dr. Sergio Bencosme of the Department of Pathology spent 1973, his sabbatical year, in his native Santo Domingo, overseeing the construction of the Institute and the training of personnel, several of whom have come to Queen's for specialized training.

The results of the project are readily apparent: an improved quality of service to hospitals, clinics and patients; an upgrading of scientific and professional standards on the island; and more Dominican physicians electing to practise in their own country.

Spring Session student finds a shady seat for studying. Her perch is a planter on University Ave., part of Project Green. Behind her: a glass-topped campus directory, another new landscaping feature appreciated by incoming students and conference delegates.

Around the Campus

Several staff changes

Dr. George Whalley, a member of Faculty since 1950, has once again been named Head of the Department of English, this time succeeding Professor J. M. Stedmond. He recently received an honorary degree from Carleton University.

Dr. R.D. Fraser will be Acting Head of the Department of Economics from August till July 1978 during Dr. D.C. Smith's absence on sabbatical leave. Dr. Fraser has been with the department since 1965.

Prof. Henry A. Becker, who has taught at Queen's since 1963, will become Head of the Department of Chemical Engineering this month. He succeeds Prof. John Downie.

Prof. T.J. Plunkett, who has been Director of the Institute of Local Government and Professor of Public Administration since 1972, has been appointed Director of the School of Public Administration. He succeeds Prof. E.R. Black, who will return this fall to his full-time appointment in the Department of Political Studies.

Prof. W.J. Nichols has had his term extended as Acting Director of the Department of Film Studies. Professor Nichols came to Queen's three years ago after graduating from Duke, Stanford and UCLA.

Queen's and Hotel Dieu Hospital have made three recent joint appointments, in conformity with the development of the Queen's-Kingston Health Sciences Complex, wherein the two city hospitals function together as the principal teaching hospital for the University. Dr. D. Lawrence Wilson is now Head of the Hospital Department of Medicine and Physician-in-Chief at Hotel Dieu. He continues to be Professor and Head of the Department of Medicine at Queen's and Physician-in-Chief at KGH. Dr. John A. Milliken recently decided to resign his position as Physician-in-Chief, a post he had held at HDH since 1956, but will continue as director of the Medical Intensive Care Unit, the Coronary Care Unit and the Cardiographic Unit. ...Dr. J.J. Waldron, Head of Psychiatry at Queen's and KGH, is now Head of Hotel Dieu's Department of Psychiatry and Psychiatrist-in-Chief. The former incumbent, Dr. Paul Hoaken, transferred his activities to KGH in 1976. ...Dr. Andrew W. Bruce has succeeded Dr. Perry White as Head of the Hospital Department of Urology and Chief of the Urological Service at HDH.

Dr. C.E. Bird, Professor of Endocrinology in the Department of Medicine, has been chosen for the new post of Assistant Dean, Research, in the Faculty of Medicine. The post involves responsibility for research administration and reviewing research activities, granting policies and related matters which should support growth and development in this medical field.

Prof. M. Vernet, a member of faculty since 1966, has been appointed Head of the Department of French Language and Literature. He will begin a five-year term when he returns from sabbatical leave in July 1978. In his absence, Dr. Marie Surridge will be Acting Head of the Department. She came to Queen's from Oxford in 1970.

Name change in Radiology

Senate has approved changing the name of the Department of Therapeutic Radiology to the Department of Radiation Oncology. "Oncology" means the study of cancer, and the department's work has moved increasingly to treating cancer patients with radiation or chemotherapy. The new terminology also was required by the Licensing body.

Major grants for five campus cancer studies

Five projects at Queen's received $252,000 (out of a total of $5.3 million) in grants awarded this year by the National Cancer Institute (NCI) from funds raised by the Canadian Cancer Society.

The largest single Queen's grant — $190,000 — will support the research of Dr. Nathan Kaufman and his four-man team into the regulation and alteration of the body's defences against cancer tumours. Dr. Kaufman, Head of Pathology, and his associates in Pathology and Immunology — Drs. Denis Blakeslee, Ralph Mankowitz, Robert Kerbel (Ph.D. '72) and Bruce Elliot (Artsci '70, M.Sc. '72, Ph.D. '74) — have received funding from NCI since 1972 and foresee that their research will extend into 1979.

Another grant went to Dr. David Eiding, Department of Microbiology and his two research associates. Their project, funded by NCI since 1967, is an analysis of factors which regulate how effectively the body immunizes itself against a tumour.

Dr. Albert Clark, Professor of Biochemistry and of Pathology, was encouraged to further his research on cancer of the prostate gland, a common form of cancer which affects the reproductive tract of older males.

Dr. P.H. Jellinck, also a Professor of Biochemistry, received funds for more studies into breast cancer, particularly the enzymes connected with successful treatment through the removal of a hormone source such as the ovaries.

The fifth grant went to Dr. J.A. Camichael, Med. '53, Department of Obstetrics and Gynaecology. He observes that cancer is now the leading cause of death for women ages 35 to 54.

MBA students have counselled 200 small businesses

For the fifth consecutive year, Queen's School of Business is offering low-cost consulting services to small businesses in Eastern Ontario. This joint project, sponsored by Queen's and the Ontario Ministry of Industry and Tourism, helps small businesses, community organizations or registered charities solve their management problems without the expense of professional consultants. A nominal fee is charged — usually $20 a day for a two-man team. In the case of very small firms experiencing serious financial difficulties, the fee is waived.

The manpower is provided by 12 MBA students working in pairs. Graduate Chip Vallis, Artsci '73, MBA '77, and Prof. John Gordon are supervising the group's activities this summer.

"Not only is it excellent experience for our students," says Professor Gordon, "but our consulting advice has been well received by our clients."

In the past four years, more than 200 businesses in the Kingston-Brockville-Smiths Falls area have used the consulting service. Firms' activities have ranged from manufacturing to wholesaling, from retailing to tourism. The program defines "small" as any firm with fewer than 60 employees.

Student consultants are prepared to tackle problems in the areas of marketing, finance, accounting and general management. The teams' strategy includes identifying the business's problems; considering alternatives for solving them; then making a final report which is reviewed by the faculty adviser but is otherwise confidential.

Engineering for open pit mines

A Course at the Donald Gordon Centre,
Queen's University

October 12-13-14

A course to present the best current technology in Drilling & Blasting
Explosives
Geotechnical Design
Maintenance
Equipment, performance, solution & control

Instruction by
Dr. A. Bauer
Dr. P. N. Calder
Mr. W. Croshy
and industrial experts

Enrolment will be limited to 70.
Registration fee of $300 (Cdn.) is all-inclusive.
For details, contact the
Donald Gordon Centre, Queen's University
(613) 547-5529

Around the Campus

Talents recognized

Awards are almost as sure a sign of spring on campus as the tulips blooming in front of the Union or bikes 'blossoming' around the Library. As was announced in the last Review, Prof. A.R.C. Duncan won the third annual Alumni Award for Excellence in Teaching, chosen from among 20 nominees.

Another faculty honour is the Golden Apple, awarded by the Engineering Society. This year's winner is Prof. Mike Sayer, who was nominated by all three years of his Engineering Physics students. "His door is always open to us," read the nominations, "and it is a privilege to have such an internationally known authority as our staff adviser." Dr. Sayer has also been appointed Head of the Physics Department, succeeding Prof. G.T. Ewan as of July 1.

TRICOLOR. On the student side, three Tricolor Awards (the highest non-academic awards that can be received by Queen's students) were presented for 1977. Winners were Dave Gordon, Sc. '76, Urban and Regional Planning '78, a student Senator and founder of Project Green; Kathy Wood, Arts '77, AMS Vice-President, Senate committee-person, Hockey Gal and member of the Provincial Committee on the Status of Women; and Moe Chochla, Sc. '75, Law '78, AMS Education Commissioner and Rector of the University.

CONN AWARDS. The relatively new H.G. Conn Awards are made to students graduating from Applied Science for valuable service to both the Engineering Society and the university as a whole. Three such awards were made this spring. Kim Sturgess has been extensively involved in Orientation and was a major organizer of the National Engineering Society Conferences. She also served a term as Engineering Society Vice-President. Chris McNally, a former President, had worked on restructuring the Engineering Society. Bob Turner represented Engineering students on the Senate and did much to improve their campus image and impact.

MACRAE AWARD. Jamie Avis, President of the AMS for 1976-77, won the A.E. MacRae Award in Social Engineering, founded by the late Queen's graduate (Sc. '14, LL.D. '54) for a student whose contributions to the University recognize "the dignity, freedom and responsibility of the individual."

ATHLETES. The highest award to an athlete, the Jenkins Trophy, went to Darrell Penner, Med. '77, who "brought the most honour to Queen's by his athletic and scholastic ability." Darrell, a five-year veteran of the Golden Gaels, also won the Johnny Evans Trophy as most valuable player in football — for the third year in a row. The PHE '55 Alumnae Trophy is being shared by Mary Anne Drinkwater and Pam Scothorn, both Ottawans in PHE '77.

Three women among Theology graduates

A class of 26 -- three of them women -- graduated from Queen's Theological College at an evening Convocation ceremony on May 12 in Sydenham St. United Church.

Graduates received a chalice and a "testamur", or certificate, stating they have completed academic requirements for ordination into the ministry of the United Church of Canada. Those who decide to enter the ministry will be ordained later.

Rev. William Hendry, Arts, Theol. '64, Minister of Sydenham St. United, delivered the invocation and Rev. Ronald Smeaton, B.D. '63, President of the Bay of Quinte Conference of the United Church, read the scripture. Rev. Dr. Robert Bater, Principal of the College, gave the annual report.

Faculty members Daniel Fraikin and Robert Mumford addressed the Convocation on the topic The Limits and Lyrics of Theology, Dr. Fraikin pointing out that the Christian tradition has a definable body of resources, namely the Biblical stories, and Professor Mumford reassuring students that freedom and spontaneity are also part of the Christian tradition.

This year's winner of the Canadian Bible Society Award for excellence in scripture reading was David J. Logan of Kingston. For attaining the highest academic average over three years of study, Janet Cawley, also of Kingston, received a $1,500 travelling scholarship.

'Travelling music' for Padre Laverty

Padre Laverty, so familiar a Queen's figure, is almost as well known at still another university. Since the early '50s, he has been part of Canada Week activities every spring at St. Lawrence University in Canton, N.Y.

This spring was no exception — except that the Padre was accompanied by 48 members of Queen's Choral Ensemble. When Padre preached a sermon at the traditional service in the University chapel, the choir sang the anthem O Magnum Mysterium (the piece which later helped win them top honours at the Festival of Nations). That afternoon in the same chapel, the Choral Ensemble performed a short concert of Canadian compositions.

Padre Laverty, who received an honorary degree from St. Lawrence University in 1963, remains one of only four Canadians so honoured.

A strong show of support

I am delighted to report that our 1976/77 Alumni Fund has been most successful. 5,853 graduates responded to our annual programs with gifts ranging from $5 to $2,000 to set a new Fund record of $245,679.

The spring Telethons were a success story in themselves, with 894 gifts totalling $22,630. We appreciate deeply the work of the Alumni Branch co-ordinators and the 30 volunteers who gave their time to make this possible.

A solid base for our Fund was again established by the members of Queen's Chancellors Society, whose annual leadership gifts of at least $100 provided more than $100,000. The large number of alumni giving for the first time (775) and those who increased their gift (1,789) combined to add $52,000 to last year's total. Further strong support was given by those who have now joined the regular Annual Donors (RAD) program. The icing on the cake came in the form of a large number of additional modest contributions.

The Annual Alumni Fund helps Queen's provide more than the bare essentials of a university education. Those of us who have spent a few years there know something of the warm atmosphere for human development that goes hand-in-hand with the Queen's spirit.

On behalf of the Alumni Association and the Fund Committee, I wish to express sincerest thanks for this strong show of annual support and for what it makes possible.

George O. Toller

George O. Toller,
Chairman,
Alumni Fund Committee

Thanks

On behalf of Queen's, I wish to express warmest thanks to the 6,545 alumni and friends who this past year showed their continued interest and their concern for the University by contributing financial support totalling $710,530.* This generosity helps provide us with that measure of flexibility needed to maintain the special qualities of Queen's.

Ronald L. Watts

Principal and
Vice-Chancellor

*6314 Alumni gifts — $675,410
231 non-alumni gifts — $35,120

Where did the money go?

RESTRICTED FUNDS: Approximately 70% of total alumni giving was designated by the donors to support specific areas of interest, such as the Ryan Foundation, scholarships and bursaries, the John J. Deutsch Memorial, the library system, Project Green, research, residences, continuing education, various departments, schools and centres, and special memorials.

UNRESTRICTED FUNDS: The remaining 30% of total alumni giving has been managed by the Board of Trustees to meet priority needs for which there was no other source of funds: the library system, landscaping, laboratory equipment, scholarships and bursaries, student aid, residence renovation, etc.

THE FRIENDS OF QUEEN'S: The Friends of Queen's, Inc., based in New York, made grants totalling $107,425. Support was given to the Art Centre, the Dean's Fund (Medicine), Health Sciences Library, Chaplain's Trust Fund, Friend Lectureship, the Barsky Prize in Ophthalmology, the Schiff Prize in Surgery, Queen's Choral Ensemble, the Debating Union, the Coronary Care Unit, the John J. Deutsch Memorial, Sc. '45 Memorial, and others.

SUMMARY OF ALUMNI GIVING

ALUMNI FUND
Canada and overseas	$196,911
U.S.A.	21,392
Telethons: Montreal	2,525
Toronto	9,280
Kingston	5,325
Ottawa	5,500
Matching Gifts from Corporations	4,746
	$245,679
SPECIAL GIFTS
Canada and overseas	$ 69,810
U.S.A.	76,411
U.S.A. Matching Gifts	2,026
	$148,247
ALUMNI-SPONSORED GIFTS
Canada and overseas	$ 25,461
U.S.A.	6,150
	$ 31,611
GIFTS IN KIND
Alumni in Canada	$ 12,100
BEQUESTS
Canada	$232,465
QUEEN'S CAPITAL PROGRAM (1970-75)
Canada and U.S.A.	$ 5,305
TOTAL ALUMNI GIVING	$675,410

1976/77 Highlights

- * Annual Fund: $245,679
- * Alumni donors: 5,853
- * 1789 increased gifts
- * 775 first-time gifts
- * Participation 22.1%*
- * $22,630 from Telethons
- * 231 non-alumni friends gave an additional $35,120
- * 461 alumni gave $429,731 to Queen's through programs other than the Annual Alumni Fund

*Solicited: 26,500
Donors: 5,853, or 22.1%

Around the Campus

New Dean named to School of Nursing

Prof. Alice J. Baumgart has been named Dean of the School of Nursing to succeed Dr. E. Jean Hill, who is retiring after nine years as Dean.

In making the announcement, Principal Watts expressed confidence that Professor Baumgart will successfully guide the School in meeting the challenges and opportunities that lie ahead.

The new Dean is a former faculty member of the University of British Columbia's School of Nursing and Interprofessional Education Division. She has also acted as a nursing education consultant in various Canadian institutions.

In 1970 she was awarded a prestigious Milbank Foundation Fellowship to help integrate the teaching of health sciences at the post-secondary and continuing education levels. She has travelled throughout North and South America visiting new projects in health science and nursing education. Her research interests are in the fields of nurse-physician teamwork, compliance with medical regimens and continuing education for nurses. She has published several professional papers in these areas.

Currently Professor Baumgart is completing her doctoral studies at the University of Toronto. She received her Bachelor of Science in Nursing from the University of British Columbia in 1958 and a Master's degree from McGill four years later.

In announcing the new Dean, Principal Watts also expressed his appreciation to Dean Hill for her outstanding work and dedication to both her colleagues and her students in the School of Nursing. (See page 11 for Dean Hill's citation for the University Council's Distinguished Service Award.) She has agreed to a post-retirement sessional appointment at Queen's for the coming year.

Prof. Alice Baumgart

Judith Mack, Arts '71, wins Marty Award

Judith E. Mack, Arts '71, M.A. '73, has won the Marty Memorial Scholarship for 1977-78. The scholarship, valued at $4,000, is offered annually by the Alumnae Association in memory of Dr. Aletta Marty.

The award is intended to assist a woman graduate of Queen's to undertake a year of study and research.

Miss Mack, whose home is Port Hope, Ont., is currently working on her Ph.D. in Psychology at York University, Toronto. Her special field of research is autism in children.

GALE TROPHY TO QUEEN'S LAW GRADS

It's no moot point; they're the best in Ontario. Four Queen's Law students succeeded in bringing the Gale Trophy back to Macdonald Hall for 1977-78 by winning the Ontario Inter-Law School Mooting Competition held this past spring in London, Ont. Shown above with their trophy are (left to right), Stephen Marcus, Pat Schmidt, Robert Anderson and Celia Kavanagh, all members of Law '77.

Canada Report

A concise summary for senior executives

Today, what is happening in the second largest country in the world may effect your life.

Do you know what is going on in Canada?

The Canadian scene is changing rapidly. Yet you may be finding that you do not have time to read all the data from all the sources.

To help you, over six years ago we created a special weekly newsletter. It gives you the basic Canadian picture — quickly and accurately — in just a few minutes. The content is drawn from the press, key-note speeches, etc. It is all factual, dependable, easy to read. No editorial viewpoint is involved. It is air mailed to be on your desk every Monday morning.

The president of a major international organization says, "This is the best service of its type that I have ever seen."

SUBSCRIBE NOW TO THE CANADA REPORT

... and use it every Monday morning to brief yourself on what is happening in Canada and how it could effect you.

Since 1970, people of influence around the world have read and used Canada Report to their personal and corporate advantage. More than 9 out of 10 of our clients renew year after year ... proof that they value this service.

Because it is the only newsletter of its kind available, its importance is growing. This may be the only time you are ever asked to subscribe. We urge you to seize the opportunity.

CHECK AND RETURN THIS FORM PROMPTLY

CANADA REPORT

Box 5040, Toronto M5W 1N4 — Canada

Please airmail me the weekly* Canada Report for ...

☐ 6 months $24 ☐ 1 year $48 ☐ bill company
☐ bill me ☐ payment enclosed

Name _____

Title _____

Address _____

Cheque may be made payable to CANADA REPORT.

REFUND GUARANTEE: The unused portion of your payment will be returned to you on request at any time.

*50 issues per year

At the Branches

MINGLING IN MARYLAND

These Queen's people in the Washington area were among the Canadian Universities Alumni who enjoyed a spring dinner organized by the Washington-Baltimore alumni branches of McGill and Toronto. Special guest and speaker was the Hon. Jake Warren, Arts '41, LL.D. '74, then Canadian Ambassador to the U.S.A. Above, left to right: Mrs. D.H. Connor (Norma Miller), Arts '53; Daniel Connor, Arts '75; Mrs. M. Graham (Ronwin McLennan), Com. '54; Murray Gill, Sc. '47, Queen's Director of Alumni Affairs; Mrs. J.C. Chapman (Mary Alice Archibald), Arts '43; Mrs. Gill (Grace Miller), Arts '46; the Hon. J.H. Warren; Dr. H.J. Manz, M.Sc. '70; Mrs. W.F. (Mary) Mable; Mrs. Manz; Mrs. R.C. Abraham (Margaret Akins), Arts '44; and Mrs. Muriel (Lamothe) Hanson, Arts '48.

NIAGARA PENINSULA

An inaugural meeting on April 23 in Welland, Ont., launched the Niagara Peninsula Branch in style. Two Queen's visitors — Principal Watts and Vice-Principal James Courtright (Development and Information) — presented the 130 guests with their Branch Charter (which all signed to commemorate the occasion), a slate of officers was elected, and an informal evening of refreshments and dancing followed.

Meet the executive of the new branch:

President — Alan D. MacKinnon, Sc. '67, Law '74, St. Catharines;

Vice-President — Rev. Leicester Bigby, Arts '72, B.D. '73, M.Ed. '75, Welland;

Secretary and Chairman of Publicity — Remas Slavickas, Sc. '71, Welland;

Treasurer — Dr. Ron Pond, Med. '56, Port Colborne;

Membership — Mrs. Salli MacDonald, Arts '65, St. Catharines;

Entertainment — Mrs. June Chen, Arts '76, Fort Erie;

Nominations — Dr. Bob Manning, Med. '60, St. Catharines.

According to 'goodwill chief'

Slavickas, "This is the first of many meetings where Queen's grads of all ages and their friends will be able to enjoy good fellowship in a friendly and relaxed atmosphere."

MONTREAL

On April 23 the prestigious Montreal Medal was presented to Hugh G. Conn, Emeritus Professor of Mechanical Engineering, former Dean of Applied Science (1955-63) and Vice-Principal (Administration) (1963-70).

The medal has been awarded annually since 1939 by the Montreal Branch to "Makers of Queen's" — people who have made meritorious contribution to the honour of Queen's University.

In making the presentation at a reception in Pointe Claire, President Keith McKey, Sc. '56, pointed out that Professor Conn's perceptive teaching of thermodynamics for more than 30 years had earned him the attention, respect and affection of generations of mechanical engineers now working in many nations. Concurrently, he brought honour to Queen's by winning the highest tributes possible from his professional peers.

H.G. Conn
Montreal Medal

H.J. Hamilton
Kingston Award

KINGSTON

At a campus dinner meeting held in Ban Righ's lower dining room on May 4, the Kingston Branch made its 11th annual award, elected a new executive and saluted Mr. and Mrs. Robert Duns more on their 60th wedding anniversary. The Kingston Award "for outstanding service to Queen's and the community" went to Dr. H.J. 'Herb' Hamilton, Arts '62, LL.D. '75, Director Emeritus of Alumni Affairs and author of a lively soon-to-be-published account of his five decades on campus (Queen's Queen's Queen's). Retiring President Henry J.T. Fleming presented Herb with a handsome woodcut of Grant Hall.

The business meeting was brief, since a review of branch activities had been circulated in advance, including the April wine and cheese party at the Art Centre, at which Principal Robert Bell, McGill, Principal Watts, and their wives were guests of honour. This fall the Branch plans to repeat its successful Campus Garage Sale of last year. In addition to offering students inexpensive furnishings and decorations, the garage sale made possible donations to scholarships, CFRC operations, athletics, etc., and enabled the branch to establish an annual prize of $150 for a student in Physical and Health Education.

Mr. Fleming has been succeeded as president by Barbara Carson. Vice-presidents are H. Gordon Mylks and J.S. Cuthbertson. Murray Gill was re-elected Secretary-Treasurer.

OTTAWA

Mrs. Grace Dardick's home was the scene of the Ottawa Alumnae Branch's annual Spring Salad Bowl, held the afternoon of June 4. Mrs. Nancy Sawyer again donated a fine handcrafted quilt which was raffled to raise money for several branch-supported aids to Queen's.

On June 17 another Ottawa home was graciously opened to the alumni when Senator and Mrs. W.M. Benidickson hosted an evening reception for Principal and Mrs. Watts. Other Queen's guests included Vice-Principal and Mrs. Ann Courtright and Murray and Grace Gill. Between 6:00 and 9:00 p.m., about 200 alumni and friends attended the reception, including an enlivening number of recent graduates.

SOUTHWESTERN ONTARIO

Fifty alumni from Southwestern Ontario 'pooled' their resources on June 18 and made a fair-sized splash at the home of Don and Jean Zarfes in London. The happy occasion was a combined Annual Meeting and Pool Party, complete with smorgasbord and beverages. Names of the new executive will be published in the next issue.

With pool and patio parties becoming so popular with alumni branches, BYOC (Bring Your Own Chair) may become as familiar an abbreviation as BYOB was in those economizing student days.

DEAN SOBERMAN'S TOUR

The annual tour of the branches in Western Canada was taken this spring by Dan Soberman, one of Queen's best-informed and most articulate professors, a member of the Faculty of Law since its inception in 1957, and Dean since 1968. (He retires as Dean this fall to return to full-time teaching.)

Dean Soberman took his 'Queen's update' to five major branches in nine days of travelling: to Winnipeg, where grads met at the home of Andy and Edith Gilliland on April 19; to Calgary, where the meeting was held at the Glencoe Club on April 21; to Edmonton, where Queen's 'borrowed' the Petroleum Club on April 25; to Victoria for a campus meeting on April 26; and finally, on April 27, to Vancouver, where Tom and Norma Calder held a wine and cheese party at their home.

Dean Soberman, who was accompanied by Murray Gill, Director of Alumni Affairs, renewed contact with many of his former students and spoke with hundreds of other alumni, spouses, friends and prospective Queen's students.

WHAT'S '17 MINUS 20?

Not as good a Reunion as there could be if the following members of Arts '17 were 'found'. If you know where these Lost Trails are, please contact Sheila Mayo, Reunion Secretary, Alumni Office, Queen's University, Kingston, Ont. K7L 3N6.

MRS. J. CRAWFORD (Hilda V. Castleman)
MRS. JAMES RONAN (Lulu Fleming)
MRS. EDITH A. TAYLOR (Edith Foreman)
MISS MARGARET FORESTER
MRS. A. ELLIOT (Margaret T. Girven)
W. McG. MITCHELL
R.M. SCOTT
MRS. H.W. GORDON (Nelida Vessot)
REV. C.H. BALLARD
MARGARET C. CRUIKSHANK
J.H. ERWIN
HAROLD INMAN
W.J. McNAB
MISS EDNA NEIL
MISS RUBY PERCIVAL
R.P. RICHARDSON
R.E. SHIELDS
DR. L.H. THORNE
MRS. C. NEY (Muriel Walsh)
MRS. R. SCOTT (Marjory Wingard)

The Masonic Temple

welcomes

Queen's students and alumni in the Kingston area to

Queen's Lodge No. 578

A.F. & A.M., G.R.C.
Instituted 1921

Meetings are held on the second Wednesday of each month
7:30 p.m.

Details: E.G. Carmichael
548-4625

Names in the News

Births

Backstrom — To Robert J. Backstrom, Com. '74, C.A., and Debbie Backstrom, Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., on March 18, a daughter (Jennifer Gail), sister for Robbie.

Baldock — To David Baldock, Arts '68, and Nancy Baldock, Simcoe, Ont., on Dec. 16, 1976, a son (Bren Sihler), brother for George.

Benson — To Peter Benson, Com. '76, and Doris Benson, London, Ont., on Jan. 11, a daughter (Cindy Elizabeth Ann), sister for Andy.

Bower — To R. Barry Bower, Sc. '66 (M.B.A., Western), and Mrs. Bower (B.A., Western), Toronto, Ont., Feb. 4, a son (Christopher Paul).

Breckenridge — To Dr. Carl Breckenridge, Artsci '65 (M.Sc., Ph.D., Toronto), and Mrs. Breckenridge (Jeanne Clarkson), Artsci '65, Scarborough, Ont., July 28, 1976, a son (David Gordon Clarkson), brother for Heather and Catharine; grandson for Hillary W. Clarkson, Com. '33.

Brooks — To Dr. Douglas E. Brooks, Med. '73, and Susan D. Brooks (Susan Hall), Arts '71, Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., on April 7, a daughter (Kimberly Nicole), granddaughter for John G. Hall, Sc. '36.

Campbell — To Douglas R. Campbell, Sc. '67, and Sharon Campbell, Fort McMurray, Alta., on April 9, a son (Mark Douglas).

Cornish — To Roy and Kathy Cornish (Kathy Vyvyan), Arts '69, Mississauga, Ont., on Feb. 6, a son (Jeffrey Allan).

Cornish — To Dr. William D. Cornish, Sc. '69 (M.A.Sc., Ph.D., U.B.C.), and Mrs. Cornish (Diane Robertson), Arts '68, Ottawa, Ont., Feb. 7, a daughter (Hilary Jane), sister for Malcolm Mackenzie.

Dobbin — To David M. Dobbin, Arts '72, and Janice Dobbin (B.A., Toronto), Kingston, Ont., Jan. 27, a daughter (Emily Janice).

Fairbairn — Dr. Tom Fairbairn, Med. '72, and Dr. Linda Fairbairn (Linda Seaman), Med. '72, Bismarck, N.D., Jan. 22, a daughter (Josie Lynn), sister for David, born March 8, 1974.

Forbes — To Michael Forbes, Sc. '75, and Karen Forbes, Arts '75, Wabush, Labrador, Jan. 13, 1976, a son (John David), brother for Danny.

Fox — To John G. Fox, Sc. '69, and Mrs. Fox, Vankleek Hill, Ont., on Nov. 1, 1976, a daughter (Sarah June).

Friend — To Bruce Friend (B.A., Ohio Wesleyan, M.S., Cornell), and Mrs. Friend (Diane Kell), Arts '67, Berkley, Calif., a son (Alexander Lawrence).

Gillan — To Dr. Robert D. Gillan (D.D.S., Western), and Mrs. Gillan (Judy McBroom), Artsci '69, Brockville, Ont., Feb. 9, a son (James David).

Glynn — To Patrick Glynn (B.Sc., Brock), and Mrs. Glynn (Karen Knisley), Arts '66, N.Sc. '69, Edmonton, Alta., May 10, 1976, a son (Bryan Paul), brother for Dawna Marie.

Guthrie — To John H. Guthrie, Com. '74, and Sandra Guthrie, Thunder Bay, Ont., April 25, a son (Joshua Paul).

Hodgson — To Geoffrey and Linda Hodgson (Linda Schultze), N.Sc. '71, Ottawa, Ont., May 2, a daughter (Sharon Elizabeth).

Hough — To Dr. Paul T. Hough, Sc. '69 (Ph.D., London), and Mrs. Hough (Janet Ramesar), Arts '68, Arvida, Que., Dec. 12, 1976, a son (Christopher).

Hutchings — To John Hutchings, Sc. '72, and Mrs. Hutchings, Mallorytown, Ont., March 3, a daughter (Karen Elaine).

Knight — To Thomas and Ann Knight (Ann McKinnon), Arts '71, Bracebridge, Ont., March 21, a son (Jeremy McKinnon).

Laughlin — To Dr. Bruce Laughlin, Med. '71, and Mrs. Laughlin, Brighton, Ont., Feb. 28, a daughter (Kerry Anne), sister for Nikki and Lisa.

Lewis — To Dr. J. Randolph Lewis, Med. '69, FRCP (C), and Mrs. Lewis (Linda Burgoyne), Arts '66 (M.A., McGill), Kingston, Ont., Dec. 21, 1976, a daughter (Anne), sister for Patrick; granddaughter for Dr. John E. Lewis, Med. '33.

Lomer — To Noel Lomer, Arts '67, and Valerie Lomer, Ottawa, Ont., on Feb. 1, a daughter (Amber Kathleen Swinton).

Lynch — To Mike Lynch, M.B.A. '72 (B.Eng., Nova Scotia Tech.), and Marilyn Lynch, Sydney River, N.S., March 5, a daughter (Erin Dawn).

Martschuk — To John Martschuk, Sc. '75, and Jackie Martschuk, Lively, Ont., on Nov. 18, 1976, a son (Jason).

McGurk — To Ronald J. McGurk, Law '61 (B.A., Sir George Williams), and Claudette McGurk, Ottawa, Ont., on Nov. 29, 1976, a daughter (Jennifer Lynn), sister for Lee-Ann and Ted.

McNaughton — To D. Ross McNaughton, Ed. '74 (B.A., Carleton), and Mrs. McNaughton, Dartmouth, N.S., on March 8, a daughter (Angela Eileen), sister for Renate Lee, born Feb. 25, 1975.

Munnoch — To Gordon Munnoch, Sc. '65, and Mrs. Munnoch (Karla Spacek), Arts '69, Ed. '70, Kapuskasing, Ont., Jan. 1, a daughter (Katherine Margaret), sister for Kenneth.

Munro — To David Munro, Arts '75, and Mrs. Munro (Cheryl Armstrong), Rehab. '71, Maxville, Ont., on Feb. 1, a son (Blair Alexander Armstrong), brother for Christopher, born Sept. 30, 1974.

Munro — To Glenn and Marg Munro (Marg Wilson), Arts '69, Whitehorse, Yukon, their chosen son (Scott Wilson), born May 19, 1975. The Munros have spent the past 3 1/2 years in Whitehorse, where Glenn is a partner with MacKay Peachey and Co., chartered accountants.

Nidd — To Eric Nidd, Sc. '69, and Mrs. Nidd (Cynthia Duff), Arts '69, Unionville, Ont., April 24, a son (James William), brother for Michael, Christine and Jennifer.

Norman — To Dr. Bruce Norman, Med. '74, and Mrs. Norman, Toronto, Ont., on April 2, a daughter (Jennifer Lynne).

Palonen — To Dr. Pentti Palonen, Artsci '68 (M.Sc., Ph.D., Calgary), and Mrs. Palonen (Penny Schell), Arts '69 (B.Ed., Calgary), Sioux Lookout, Ont., Dec. 10, 1976, a son (Matti Rai), brother for Mark and Senja.

Pemberton — To Norman and Dianne Pemberton (Dianne Jones), Arts '69, Markham, Ont., March 5, a daughter (Jennifer Dianne), sister for Christopher; granddaughter for George Jones, Sc. '48¹/₂.

Peters — To Albert Peters, Sc. '69, and Mrs. Peters (Andrea Studd), Arts '68, Ottawa, Ont., on April 6, a daughter (Sarah Christina), sister for Rebekah Anne. Mrs. Peters teaches school in Ottawa and Mr. Peters is with the Department of Environment.

Rabetoy — To Dr. Gary Rabetoy, Med. '71, and Mrs. Rabetoy (Lorna Weir), Med. '71, Coronado, Calif., March 26, a son (Timothy John), brother for Anna. The Rabetoy's were bereaved in December by the death of their son Michael, age 2.

Seidler — To Eberhard Seidler, Sc. '74, and Jean Seidler (Jean E. McEwan), Sc. '74, Bathurst, N.B., on March 15, a son (Craig Michael).

Sharkey — To Richard and Norma Sharkey (Norma McIntosh), Arts '70, Chesterville, Ont., March 11, a daughter (Andrea May).

Stray — To Albert R. Stray, Arts '67 (M.L.S., Western), and Mrs. Stray, London, Ont., April 1, a daughter (Natalie Jeanne), sister for Michael. The Strays live at 558 Rosedale Ave., London, Ont.

Sweatman — To Scott Sweatman, Arts '68, M.B.A. '71, and Susanne Sweatman (B.Sc.N., Western), Etobicoke, Ont., March 15, a daughter (Beverly Anne).

Watts — To Capt. John J. Watts (RMC), and Julia E. Watts (Julia Hunt), P.T. '73, Moose Jaw, Sask., on Dec. 20, 1976, a son (Cameron Alexander). The Watts live at 916 Alder Ave., Moose Jaw.

Marriages

Campbell — In Stonewall, Man., Dec. 27, 1976, Mary Elizabeth Campbell, Arts '67 M.A., National University of Mexico, M.B.A., Toronto, to Jack Vandenhoff. Included in the wedding party was Carol Dufton, Arts '67. Mr. and Mrs. Vandenhoff are living in Ottawa where Mary is employed by the Department of Industry, Trade and Commerce.

Cleave — On June 26, 1976, Jean E. Cleave, B.H.E. '77, to Ross Leckie (Guelph). Mr. and Mrs. Leckie are living in Richmond, B.C. Mr. Leckie plans to enroll at Vancouver School of Theology, University of British Columbia, in the fall.

Boyle — In Kingston, Ont., on March 19, Jacqueline Rose Cleland to Edward Kevin Boyle, Sc. '73 (M.Sc., Western).

Dufton — On Jan. 29, in Ottawa, Ont., M. Carol Dufton, Arts '67, daughter of Mrs. F. Dufton (Josephine Tett), Arts '33, to Len W. Russell (M.Sc., U.N.B.). Included in the wedding party was Mrs. Mary Vandenhoff (Mary Campbell), Arts '67. Mr.

and Mrs. Russell are living in Ottawa.

Engbloom-Stafford — In Toronto, Ont., on May 29, 1976, Nancy J. Stafford, Law '76, to Robert J. Engbloom, Law '75 (B.A., Alberta). Included in the wedding party were John Simpson, Law '75, and Diane Stafford, Ed. '75. Mr. and Mrs. Engbloom are living in Calgary, Alta., where Robert was admitted to the Bar in September 1976.

Gardner-Boldrick — In Belleville, Ont., on Aug. 14, 1976, Maureen Dianne Boldrick, Arts '73, to William John Gardner, Arts '71. Mr. and Mrs. Gardner are living in Oshawa, Ont.

Hannaford — On Dec. 27, 1976, in Winnipeg, Man., Allyson L. Treleaven (B.A., Winnipeg), to Rod V. Hannaford, Arts '75. Mr. and Mrs. Hannaford are living at 9526-81 St., Edmonton, Alta., and both are employed by the provincial government. Mr. Hannaford is a systems analyst, Department of Recreation, Parks and Wildlife, and Mrs. Hannaford is an economist for the Bureau of Statistics.

Hill — In London, Ont., Feb. 12, Sandra Elaine Harkness to John Lorne Hill, Arts '69, M.A. '71, Law '73. Mr. and Mrs. Hill live at 24 Chestnut St., St. Thomas, Ont. Mr. Hill is the senior in the law firm of Hill and Associates, 526 Oxford St. E., London.

Johnston — On July 10, in Toronto, Ont., Nancy Rukavina (R.N., K.G.H. '73), to Dr. Craig R. Johnston, Med. '74 (B.Sc., Toronto). Dr. and Mrs. Johnston are living in Indianapolis, Ind.

Johnston — On Oct. 2, 1976, Heather A. E. Johnston, Arts '72, to Peter Simon de Muink. Mr. and Mrs. de Muink are living in Richmond, B.C.

Jones — In Williamstown, Ont., on May 7, Sandra McAuslan to Graham E. Jones, Arts '70. Mr. and Mrs. Jones are living in Kingston, Ont.

Knoop-Demeza — In Montreal on Aug. 7, 1976, Heather Anne Demeza, Arts, Ed. '75, to Robert F. Knoop, Sc. '73, M.B.A. '77. Included in the wedding party were Debra Demeza, Arts '77, Cheryl Lewis, Arts '75, Dr. John Earle, Med. '75, Jamie Bowland, Com. '73, and Mike Kenny, Sc. '73. Mr. and Mrs. Knoop are living in Kingston.

LeGresley — On May 8, 1976, in Brockville, Ont., Susan E. Proctor (B.A., Western), to Barry P. LeGresley, Sc. '72. Included in the wedding party was Brian MacEwen, Sc. '72. Mr. and Mrs. LeGresley are living in Brockville.

McAdam — On Dec. 23, 1976, at Toronto, Ont., Marjorie L. McAdam, Arts '71, to Bryan Knox. Mr. and Mrs. Knox are living in Toronto.

McDonald — On Feb. 24, in Trenton, Ont., Penny Elizabeth Cavell (B.Sc.N., Ottawa), to Donald James McDonald, Sc. '68, Ed. '71. Mr. and Mrs. McDonald are living in Williamstown, Ont.

Oraziatti — In Sudbury, Ont., on July 3, 1976, Natalina F. Oraziatti, Ed. '74 (B.A., Laurentian), to Antonio F. Filippone (B.Sc., Laurentian). Nat and Tony are living at 51 Tuddenham Ave., Sudbury.

Pennington-Hunter — In Mississauga, Ont., on Jan. 15, Hannah G. Hunter, Arts '76, to James R. Pennington, Sc. '75. Included in the wedding party were Dr. David H. Young, Med. '76, L. Bruce Corneil, Arts '71, David E. Howard, Sc. '75, Paula A. Clee, Arts '76, and Kerry R. Esling, Arts '76. Mr. and Mrs. Pennington are living in Sudbury, Ont., where Mr. Pennington is a sales engineer for Westinghouse of Canada Ltd.

Pitchers — On July 31, 1976, at Bishops Mills, Ont., Susan Marlene Pitchers, Arts '74, to Donald Archibald Sherman. Mr. and Mrs. Sherman are living at R.R. 2, Gananoque, Ont.

Pitt-Barber — In Ottawa, Ont., on March 19, Nancy Helen Barber, Ed. '74 (B.A., Carleton), to Wally F. Pitt, Arts '73. Mr. and Mrs. Pitt are living in Oshawa, Ont., where Mr. Pitt is a principal and Mrs. Pitt a teacher with the Northumberland and Newcastle Board of Education.

Skinner — On April 17, in Burnaby, B.C., Gail Chester to Dr. David Skinner, Arts '66, Med. '71. Included in the wedding party was Dr. Tyrone Turner, Med. '71. Ms. Chester and Dr. Skinner are living in Whitehorse, Yukon, where Dr. Skinner is practising family medicine.

Snell-Urie — In Ottawa, Ont., on Sept. 24, 1976, Janet Elizabeth Urie, daughter of the Hon. Mr. Justice John J. Urie, Com. '41, granddaughter of the late Dr. G. Norman Urie, Med. '13, and the late Dr. Ivan W. Jones, Med. '21, to David John Snell, Com. '72. Included in the wedding party were Gordon Booth, Com. '72, and Alison Urie, Com. '77. The Snells are living in Ottawa, where Mr. Snell is with I.B.M. and Mrs. Snell with the Harrington Personnel Agency.

Swan — On Jan. 22, in Toronto, Ont., Suzanne M. Bradbury (B.A., Toronto), to Gordon W. Swan, Sc. '72.

Yorke — On July 10, 1976, Barbara L. Yorke, Arts '69 (Maîtrise es Lettres, Sorbonne), to Bill Nieuwland (B.A., McMaster). Mr. and Ms. Nieuwland live at Perkinsfield, Ont.

Deaths

Mrs. R. Gordon Armour (Hilda A. F. McLaren), B.A. '19, Perth, Ont., Dec. 23, 1976; retired high school teacher. She is survived by her husband.

Robert Malcolm Bailey, B.Sc. '66, M.B.A. '71, Oakville, Ont., March 4; a senior systems consultant for Canada Systems Group. Former Don and Warden of Donald Gordon House at Queen's and lecturer in the School of Business, September 1971-Deember 1972. Mr. Bailey is survived by his wife Anne, who now lives at 518 Wicklow Rd., Burlington, Ont. L7L 2H8.

Colin Anthony Blandy, Arts '77, April 24, at Kingston, Ont. He is survived by his parents in Ottawa, a brother and a sister.

William Stewart Brass, Arts '43, Islington, Ont., March 11; salesman with Can-Car Trailer Sales. He was formerly General Manager, Reo Division, White Motor Co. of Canada Ltd. Survivors include his wife Helen and two sons.

Donald Macalister Cornett, B.A. '47, Ottawa, Ont., April 9; a member of the Department of External Affairs since 1947. He held various positions in the High Commissioner's Offices in Norway, Denmark, Australia, Ghana and Pakistan. He is survived by his wife, the former Marjorie Lindsay, Arts '40, a daughter, Mrs. Sheila Taylor, Arts '69, M.A. '72, a brother, Dr. William Cornett, Med. '46, and two sisters, one of whom is Mrs. Marion Frank, Arts '47. Predeceased by his parents, Rev. Dr. A. D. Cornett, Arts '07, Med. '11, D.D. '45, and Mrs. Cornett (Jean Macalister), Arts '10.

Dr. Leo Joseph Corrigan, M.D. '11, Milton, Fla., Feb. 5, at age 90. Dr. Corrigan carried on a private practice in Watertown, N.Y., for many years, specializing in dermatology and x-ray therapy. Survivors include his wife Sarah and a daughter.

J. W. Scott Dalziel, B.Sc. '50, Toronto, Ont., May 30; mechanical engineer. Survivors include his wife Jean and three daughters. Norman H. Dalziel, Sc. '48, is a brother. Predeceased by his father, William Dalziel, Sc. '13.

Eric D. Davidson, B.Sc. (Arts) '74, Kingston, Ont., March 29. Survivors include his parents and a sister.

Dwight Campbell Dillabough, B.Com. '47, Midland, Ont., on March 14, 1976; on staff of Bank of Montreal for many years. He is survived by his wife.

Mary Catherine Dunnigan, B.A. '54, Edmonton, Alta., Dec. 7, 1976.

Dr. Deward O. Ferris, M.D. '31 (M.S., Minnesota), Rochester, Minn., April 6; retired in 1972 as head of a section of surgery at the Mayo Clinic. After interning in Kingston and Hamilton, Ont., Dr. Ferris set up private practice in his native Niagara Falls, Ont., and also served as coroner until 1937. He went to the Mayo Clinic as a graduate school fellow in 1937, was appointed temporary head of a surgery section in January 1943 and in 1945 became a member of the Clinic's permanent staff. He is survived by his wife Edythe and two children.

Mrs. S. H. Gandier (Nell M. Clinton), B.A. '17, Simcoe, Ont., April 24; a resident of Edmonton, Alta., for many years.

Herbert Clarke Green, B.Com. '38, Ottawa, Ont., Feb. 26; former President, G. T. Green Ltd. Survivors include his wife Dorothy and two children.

Dr. George Frederick Guest, B.A. '14, M.D. '19, North Bay, Ont., March 29; retired in 1967 after 45 years in the medical profession. Dr. Guest specialized in ophthalmology and otolaryngology. He is survived by his wife Evelyn and two daughters.

Joseph Roy Hoffman, Q.C., B.A. '43, M.A. '44, Cote St. Luc, Que., May 13, 1976.

Mrs. Annie Lyall Kerr (Lyall Erskine), B.A. '30, Stratford, Ont., Feb. 27; a former resident of St. Andrews East, Que.

George Albert Lott, B.A. '22, Toronto, Ont., March 3. Survivors include his wife Alfreda.

Dr. James Ross Loudoun, M.D., C.M. '42, Guelph, Ont., Feb. 17; general practitioner and a member of the medical staff of Guelph General Hospital, St. Joseph's Hospital and Homewood Sanatorium. Survivors include his wife Mary and three daughters.

Gerald Thomas MacEwen, B.A. '67 (B.A. Hon., Simon Fraser), March 18 in Sydney, Australia. Mr. MacEwen had taught English and History for the past six years in New South Wales. Survivors include his parents in Ottawa and a sister, Catherine A. MacEwen, Arts '71.

Elizabeth Terry 'Bessie' Macpherson, B.A. '24, Guelph, Ont., April 19; formerly of Toronto. Survivors include her sisters, Mary Kate Macpherson, Arts '17, and Mrs. H. S. Van Patter (Jean Macpherson), Arts '19. Predeceased by a brother, Kenneth P. Macpherson, Sc. '14.

Athol Peter McDiarmid, B.Com. '38 (B.A., Manitoba), Toronto, Ont., Feb. 23, in Atlantis, Fla. Mr. McDiarmid was a director of Lever Brothers Ltd., responsible for all financial operations of the company and its subsidiaries.

Douglas Ward McGill, B.Com. '32, B.A. '33, Almonte, Ont., Jan. 13. Mr. McGill owned and operated a professional consulting service in Canadian customs and tariffs and had been Chief Dominion Customs Appraiser in Ottawa.

Frank Douglas McPherson, B.Com. '29, St. George, Ont., Jan. 30; retired civil servant. Survivors include his wife Margaret and three children.

Earl Roe Mitchell, B.Sc. '40, Ottawa, Ont., March 18; head of the Canadian Combustion Research Laboratory, Department of Energy, Mines and Resources. Survivors include his wife Katherine and three children.

Dr. Donald Malcolm D. Murphy, M.D., C.M. '41, Prince George, B.C., March 17, while on vacation in Hawaii. Dr. Murphy served as medical superintendent at Wrinch Memorial Hospital, Hazelton, B.C., for seven years before moving to Prince George in 1948. He served for 16 years as a member of the council of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of B.C., serving a term as president in 1968. He is survived by his wife

Winnifred, a sister and a brother, Dr. H. S. Murphy, Med. '28.

Mrs. Sydney V. Perry (Hazel Bigford), Arts '23, Cherry Hill, N.J., Jan. 24, 1976. Survivors include her husband, Sydney Perry, Sc. '23, a son and a daughter. Mrs. R. G. Brown (Ina Bigford), Arts '23, is a sister, and Dr. R.A. Bigford, Med. '23, is a brother. Mr. Perry lives at 'Manor Care', 1412 Marlton Pike, Cherry Hill, N.J. 08034.

George Edward Milton Shouldice, B.A. '39 (B.Paed., Toronto), Collingwood, Ont., May 22, 1976; retired teacher and principal of CDDHS. He is survived by his wife Lillian and a daughter Catherine.

Douglas George Arnold Smith, B.A. '65, Ottawa, Ont., in March. Mr. Smith was formerly Personnel Administrator, Department of National Revenue, Customs and Excise Division, Toronto, Ont. He is survived by his wife, the former Vivienne Stock, Arts '61.

Frederick Arnold Sproule, B.Sc. '21, Ottawa, Ont., March 28; retired President, Sproule, Phillips & Co. He is survived by four children.

Mary Anne Staples, B.A. '72 (M.L.S., Western), Toronto, Ont., Feb. 15. Survivors include her parents, a sister and a brother.

Dr. Felix Stein, B.A. '33, M.D., C.M. '37, Brooklyn, N.Y., Jan. 28, 1976; specialized in pediatrics.

Mrs. L.E. Roy Stephens (Lillian Mary Newell), B.A. '28, Kingston, Ont., Jan. 30. As a resident of Sudbury, Ont., 1929 to 1955, she was very active in community work. Mrs. Stephens was a part-time lecturer in the English Department at Queen's from 1955 until 1963 and was for several years a tutor with the Department of Extension. She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Marilyn Sutherland, Arts '56, M.A. '69, a son, Richard Stephens, Arts '59, and a sister, Mrs. Eva Bradfield, Arts '26. Predeceased by her husband.

Alexander George Stewart, Sc. '08, Edmonton, Alta., June 22, 1976; survived by his wife.

John Stanley Vail, B.Com. '72, C.A., on April 30 when his motorcycle was struck by a car near Smiths Falls, Ont. A chartered accountant, Mr. Vail had been employed by the Audit Services Bureau in Ottawa since November 1975. He was formerly with Thorne Riddell Associates Ltd., Kingston. A rugger enthusiast, Mr. Vail played for Queen's as a student and later joined a Kingston team. He is survived by his wife, Dr. Linda Chartier-Vail, Ph.D. '74, Med. '74 (B.Sc., Montreal), of 85 William St., Kingston, and by his parents, Gordon and Josephine Vail, two sisters, Patty and Ronnie, and a brother, Gordie.

Mrs. James F. Whiting (Lois Kennedy), B.A. '52, member '48, Kingston, Ont., March 31; former school teacher. Survivors include her husband, James F. Whiting, Sc. '41, and ve daughters, one of whom is Mrs. Joan Noble, Arts '69, Ed. '70. Mrs. C. P. Williams (Helen), Dip. Nursing '54, is a sister.

Harold Joseph Wyman, B.A. '13, Feb. 26, at Halifax, N.S., in his 100th year. He lived for many years in Yarmouth.

Dr. Louis Zacks, M.D., C.M. '38, Ottawa, Ont., May 23; Medical Advisor, Department of Veterans Affairs, Ottawa. Survivors include his wife Adelyn.

John S. Vail

Dr. J.K.N. Jones

Prof. J.K.N. Jones: an acclaimed Queen's chemist

Dr. John Kenyon Netherton Jones, B.Sc., Ph.D., D.Sc. (Birmingham), Chown Research Professor in Chemistry since 1953, a world-known chemist and one of the founding members of the Queen's University Carbohydrate Research Institute, died at Kingston, Ont., April 3. He was 65.

Dr. R. D. Heyding, Head of the Department of Chemistry, paid this tribute to his colleague: "In his 24 years at Queen's he developed a school of carbohydrate chemistry which gained an international reputation of the highest order. He supervised over 120 M.Sc. and Ph.D. theses, published well over 100 research papers and contributed nine chapters to books on his discipline. His laboratory attracted postdoctoral fellows and research associates to Queen's from all over the world."

Dr. Jones was a Fellow of the Royal Society of Canada, the Royal Society of London, and the Chemical Institute of Canada. A brilliant academic, he was in great demand as a lecturer, and in recent years established a strong bond with the Universidade Federal do Parana in Brazil. Recent honours included the Anselme Payne Award by the Cellulose Division of the American Chemical Society, and the Haworth Memorial Medal by the Chemical Society (London).

A memorial service was held in Ellis Hall. Mrs. Jones survives.

Dr. Stuart Daly of Trail: 'Meant so much to so many'

Dr. James Stuart Daly, B.A. '25, M.D., C.M. '27, died in Trail, B.C., on Feb. 13. He was 73.

One of the Kootenay area's best-known citizens and most highly respected physicians (he was Trail's Citizen of the Year in 1962), Dr. Daly specialized in internal medicine. He also took a great interest in mental health and was a leader in opening general hospital beds to psychiatric patients. He gave many years of service to mental health organizations in his province and to societies concerned with alcoholism.

Dr. Daly was Past President of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of B.C., served for several years as chairman of the C.S. Williams Clinic in Trail, and had been invested by Gov.-Gen. Michener as Serving Brother in the Order of St. John. He had been Honorary President of both the Legion and the Junior Board of Trade. He also served as Sunday School Superintendent of East Trail United Church, with 450 boys and girls in his care.

A memorial service was held in the church, which was filled to overflowing as a tribute to "the man who meant so much to so many in this town." According to a columnist in the Trail Times, "If anyone ever went to a life in glory, it was Stuart."

Survivors include his wife, formerly Catherine Urquhart, two sons, of whom Dr. Donald S. Daly, Med. '66, is one, and three daughters.

From Kingston roots she grew a life of service

Mrs. J.S. Corbett (Nadine Harty), wife of John S. Corbett, Sc. '33, Morrisburg, Ont., died on April 28 in her 68th year.

Mrs. Corbett was a niece of Dr. J.J. 'Jock' Harty, one-time Queen's hockey player and coach, whose name is perpetuated in the Jock Harty Arena. She grew up in "Roselawn", the Kingston Commandant's home which has become the University's Donald Gordon Centre for Continuing Education. As a student she was active in the Drama Guild and directed Lorne Greene in his first play, Priestly's Dangerous Corner.

Mrs. Corbett was associated with the Girl Guides from her youth until her last illness and had been Chief Commissioner for Canada and Western Hemisphere chairman.

While she lived in Montreal she was president of the auxiliaries at both St. Mary's Hospital and the Douglas Hospital, chairman of the board of Miss Edgar's and Miss Cramp's School (of which she was an alumna), a founding member of two bilingual associations — Recreation for the Handicapped and Tel-Aide — and an organizer of Forward House. After moving to Morrisburg five years ago, Mrs. Corbett became president of Seaway Community Services and was involved in forming the Dundas County Co-Op.

Among the survivors are her husband, two daughters, and three sons, one of whom is William Charles Corbett, Arts '68.

Miss Janet Saunders' career spanned Queen's and Geneva

Miss Janet F. Saunders, M.A. '18 (B.L.S., Pratt), a former librarian with the International Labour Office both in Canada and Switzerland, died at Ottawa, April 2, at the age of 83.

Miss Saunders was the daughter of Kingstonian Dr. Herbert James Saunders, M.D. 1869. After graduation she served as private secretary to Dr. O.D. Skelton, then Dean of the Arts Faculty at Queen's. After obtaining her B.L.S. in 1921 at the Pratt Institute, she took a position as head of cataloguing at Princeton University Library. From 1923 to 1940 she served on the staff of the League of Nations Library at Geneva, Switzerland. Then she was appointed assistant librarian in the International Labour Office (ILO) in Montreal and in 1946 was promoted to librarian. From 1949 until her retirement in 1956, Miss Saunders was associate librarian with the ILO in Geneva.

She is survived by her sister Kathleen in Kingston.

Dr. Jason A. Hannah

Medical pioneer - historian and generous benefactor

Dr. Jason A. Hannah, B.A. '26, M.D. '28, LL.D. '74, who pioneered in the field of prepaid medical services, died May 2 in Toronto after a lengthy illness. He was 77.

Following graduation, Dr. Hannah did postgraduate work in neuropathology, first at Queen's as the Richardson Fellow in Pathology, then in Edinburgh and Madrid. From 1930 to '37, he was neuropathologist for the Ontario Government and concurrently a research fellow at the Banting Institute in Toronto. Original research into the structural changes underlying mental diseases won him both the Institute's silver medal and world acclaim in 1936.

Concerned that lower and middle income families were suffering unduly from the burden of medical costs, Dr. Hannah resigned his government post in 1937 to organize and preside over Associated Medical Services, Inc. (AMS) — Canada's first prepayment plan operating on a fee-for-service basis.

When the Ontario Government entered the medical insurance business in the 1960s,

Dr. Hannah turned his attention from AMS to the history of medicine, convinced that "doctors could make their lives more productive and interesting if they were brought into closer contact with their predecessors."

In 1973, AMS pledged $250,000 each to Queen's and four other Ontario medical schools to establish Jason A. Hannah Chairs in the History of Medical and Related Sciences. Dr. Hannah had earlier purchased a core of reference material for these new studies: 2,000 volumes and folios from the library of the Medical Society of London, England, called the Jason A. Hannah Rare Book Collection.

Dr. Hannah was a senior member of the Canadian Medical Association, an honorary life member of the Academy of Medicine, a Queen's University Councillor for three decades, and an active member of the Board of Trustees from 1965 to 1974. It was in 1974 that Queen's marked Dr. Hannah's many medical and social achievements with an honorary degree.

Dr. Hannah, a native of Stittsville, Ont., is survived by his wife Ruth, a daughter and two grandchildren.

Dr. G. Malcolm Brown

Physician to the nation

Dr. George Malcolm Brown, M.D., C.M. '38 (Ph.D., Oxford), FRCP(C), FACP, FRCP (London), President of the Medical Research Council of Canada, died on May 19 in Toronto. He was 60.

His distinguished 39-year career as physician, teacher, researcher and government administrator included a Rhodes Scholarship, service with the Army Medical Corps, presidency of both the Ontario College of Physicians and Surgeons and the Royal College, five honorary degrees, and appointment to the Order of Canada. He was deeply involved with cancer research organizations and was associated with the founding of the Ontario Heart Foundation and the Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society.

A specialist in internal medicine and arctic acclimatization, Dr. Brown taught in Queen's Faculty of Medicine for 19 years. It was in 1965 that he left to head MRC, and for a time he lectured at the University of Ottawa. Since 1967 he had served Queen's on the Board of Trustees.

Dr. Brown was the son of another long-time Trustee, the Rev. George A. Brown,

B.A. '04, M.A., B.D. '07, D.D. '33, and his wife, Elizabeth Stewart, B.A. '07. He is survived by his wife Helen in Ottawa, a son Malcolm, two daughters, Alison, Arts '73, and Alexandria, Arts '77, and two brothers, Dr. R. Stewart Brown, Arts '32, M.A. '34 (Ph.D., McGill) and Douglas R. Brown, Arts '39.

A.M. 'Brad' Bradburn

'Brad' meant books

Well and favourably known to generations of Queen's students, Albert Merritt (Brad) Bradburn, former manager of Tech Supplies, died on April 26 in Kingston, Ont. He was 71.

A native of Manvers Township in Ontario, Brad came to Kingston in 1929 to manage the Technical Supplies Department for the Engineering Society. The following year the word "department" was dropped and the business was operated as Tech Supplies. Later the name was changed to the Campus Bookstore, but not until after Brad's retirement in 1971.

Under his management the business flourished and the quarters were enlarged several times. The operation was regarded as a model of its kind and was made a frequent study by other universities. His business acumen was recognized and appreciated in the Canadian publishing industry, as well. Brad's unfailing good nature, ready smile, and pleasant nature made him a low-profile but popular figure on campus over four decades.

Among the survivors are his wife, Genevieve and a daughter.

Ceremony commemorates Queen's man who was master of Lakefield

Queen's men of the 1920s were in evidence when the late G. Winder Smith, Arts '37, was memorialized through the unveiling of a plaque on May 28 at old Christ Church, now a museum in Lakefield, Ont. Mr. Smith was Headmaster of Lakefield College School from 1940 to 1966, and with his wife was a generous supporter of the church's restoration and maintenance. Dr. J. Alex Edmison, Arts '26, LL.D. '74, Mr. Smith's friend for 50 years, gave the address and Dr. George Donald Cameron, Med. '27, LL.D. '51, former Deputy Minister of Health, unveiled the memorial plaque.

Notes

1900-1929

Mrs. E. Mitchell

Dr. John Lansbury

Dr. J. Alex Edmison, Arts '26, LL.D. '74, retired in March from the Board of Governors of Trent University, Peterborough, Ont., and was made an Honorary Governor for Life in recognition of his 10 years of dedication. He is one of only four people so honoured. Dr. Edmison is now serving his 36th year on the Board of Management of Queen's Theological College.

Mrs. Eva Mitchell (Eva Miller), Arts '02, will celebrate her 100th birthday on July 26. Mrs. Mitchell, a native of the Napanee area, attended Teachers' College in Hamilton after graduating from Queen's, taught English at Woodstock High School 1903-07, and then married Dr. James Mitchell, M.D. 1899. They moved to Michigan, where Dr. Mitchell practised in Gladstone until his death in 1944. Mrs. Mitchell now lives with her only surviving daughter, Mrs. Agnes Crow, at 2817 Ashby Rd., Midland, Mich., U.S.A., and continues to take an active interest in reading and bridge.

Mrs. Paul Wolverton (Ethel M. Miller), Arts '14, was bereaved by the death of her husband on Feb. 16. Mrs. Wolverton is living at Desert Crest Retirement Home, Phoenix, Ariz. 85016, U.S.A.

Rheumatologist honoured by peers

Dr. John Lansbury, Med. '26 (M.Sc., Med., Minnesota), Huntingdon Valley, Pa., has received the Joseph Lee Hollander award of the Arthritis Foundation (Eastern Pennsylvania Chapter). As clinician, scholar and author of 91 studies, Dr. Lansbury has been identified for over 40 years with Philadelphia medicine and Temple University.

"He has made some of the most original and important discoveries in the field," said Dr. Hollander, "and has been one of the most inspiring lecturers and teachers of arthritis in America" (4,000 students at Temple). His pioneering Lansbury Index, a method of measuring the disease activity of rheumatoid arthritis, is used internationally.

Since 'retiring' 10 years ago at the age of 70, Dr. Lansbury has been working to improve medical care for psychiatric patients at Philadelphia State Hospital.

Dr. N. Williamson

Dr. C.B. Crawford

930-39

Nelson F. Batchelder, Arts '37, retired Jan. 1 as Vice-President, Marketing, Sunoco Ltd., Grantford, Ont.

Aubrey Fudge, Sc. '34 (B.A., McMaster), Kingston, Ont., is secretary of the Synod of Ontario Diocese of the Anglican Church. Mr. Fudge retired as Principal of Kingston Collegiate and Vocational Institute in 1975 after a 35-year career in teaching in Brockville, Sarnia, and Kingston.

Mary O'Connor, Arts '38, is Chief Librarian of the Fort Frontenac Library, a facility which serves the National Defence College and the Canadian Land Forces Command and Staff College at Kingston, Ont. This is a specialized library with 60,000 volumes and a subscription list of about 280 journals and newspapers. It is not open to the general public, due to the nature of the courses held at NDC, but is in constant use for group research projects as required.

Ronald Ross, Arts '39, is Vice-President, Canada Starch Co. Ltd., Montreal, Que. Very active in community affairs, he is Chairman of the Executive Committee, Stanstead College, a member of the Board of Directors of Constance Lethbridge Rehabilitation Centre, and a member the University Council at Queen's.

Dr. Norval L. Williamson, Med. '42, FRCS, general surgeon in Ottawa and a past president of the Ottawa Alumni Branch, is a member of the University Council at Queen's.

940-49

Dr. Walter Avis, Arts '49, M.A. '50 (Ph.D., Michigan), Kingston, Ont., edited the recently published Canadian edition of Funk and Wagnall's Standard College Dictionary, which features many current Canadianisms. Dr. Avis, Professor of English at RMC, is president of the Canadian Linguistic Association.

Paul A. Beneteau, Sc. '48, has been appointed to the newly created post of Executive Vice-President, Marketing, Northern Telecom Ltd., Montreal, Que. He is responsible for the development and direction of the company's world marketing activities. Mr. Beneteau has had 29 years' experience in the telecommunications and telephone industry. Prior to joining Northern Telecom, he was Chairman, President and Chief Executive Officer of British Columbia Telephone Co.

Edward F. Charlesworth, Sc. '44 (AMP, Harvard), has been promoted to General Manager, Houston Division, C-E Lummus Combustion Engineering, Inc., Houston, Texas. The Lummus Co. is an international engineering contractor with offices in the United States, Canada, Europe and South America.

Dr. Carl B. Crawford, Sc. '49 (M.Sc., Northwestern, D.I.C., London), Director of the Division of Building Research, National Research Council, Ottawa, Ont., has been elected an honorary member of the American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM) by the Board of Directors. ASTM is the world's largest source of voluntary consensus standards for materials, products, systems, and services. Dr. Crawford is author of more than 60 papers and articles dealing with geotechnical problems and other aspects of building technology.

Mrs. Norah P. Frood (Norah Cassidy), Arts '49, Ottawa, Ont., has been appointed Associate Director of Information, Carleton University. She is also a member of the Federal Advisory Council on the Status of Women and an executive member of the National Council of Women. Mrs. Frood was recently re-elected to the University Council at Queen's.

Mrs. E. R. Gray (Mary Jane Barclay), Arts '47, and Mrs. R. E. Bowley (Kathleen Barclay), Arts '49, were bereaved by the death of their mother on May 4.

Helen Howard (Helen Creighton), Arts '49 (B.L.S., M.L.S., McGill), has completed her Ph.D. in Library Science at Rutgers University. Her field of specialization is administration. On July 1, Mrs. Howard joined the University of Toronto Faculty of Library Science as an Associate Professor.

Daniel Kelly, Sc. '45, has been appointed Vice-President, responsible for process research and technology of Inco Metals Co., Toronto, Ont., a new unit of Inco Ltd. Mr. Kelly is also Director, Process Development, for the parent company. He joined Inco at Copper Cliff in 1945 as a test engineer in process research and has held positions of increasing responsibility.

Robert D. McEwen, Sc. '48, has been appointed Chief Estimating Engineer, Texaco Canada Ltd., Don Mills, Ont.

Dr. William H. 'Bill' Merrilees, Med. '42, has been reappointed Chairman of the Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology at St. Joseph's Intercommunity Hospital, Cheektowaga, Buffalo, N.Y. Dr. Merrilees is also on the teaching staff of the State University of New York at Buffalo and on the medical staff of E. J. Meyer Memorial Hospital, the Millard Fillmore Hospital, Buffalo Children's Hospital and the Buffalo General.

Sy B. Moro, Sc. '45, retired May 1, 1976, as General Manager, Tar Sands and Coal, Shell Canada Ltd. Mr. and Mrs. Moro are living at 1235 Beverley Blvd. S.W., Calgary, Alta.

Continued on page 28

Lorne Greene
Revisited
Page 11

Portrait by Ed de Rooy

His range gets wider

According to an article by Mel Durslag in TV Guide (April 9), Dr. Lorne Greene, Arts '37 LL.D. '71, at 62 is far from pursuing retirement on his mini-Ponderosa near Los Angeles.

Episodes from 14 years of the international TV hit series Bonanza are re-running in several countries. He has a current series, Last of the Wild, and has appeared in several movies since leaving Bonanza and Griff behind: Earthquake, The Money Changers, SST-Death Flight and Roots. Right now he is developing a syndicated series called Lorne Greene's World of Tomorrow, about living conditions over the next 15 years.

He is board chairman of the UN's American Freedom from Hunger Foundation, western president of American National Theater and Academy, vice-chairman of the board of the American Horse Protection Association, and has recently aligned himself with a group that is fighting the standard retirement age of 65. "It is the cruelest stroke I know to make a perfectly functional man retire at 65," he says. He is also fighting the "punitive" U.S. Social Security rule making it illegal to collect benefits before age 72 if a person is able to find work and earn more than a minimum sum.

Terrence Podolsky, Sc. '49, M.Sc. '50, has been appointed Vice-President, responsible for exploration and mineral resource development, Inco Metals Co., a new unit of Inco Ltd. Mr. Podolsky joined Inco at Copper Cliff, Ont., in 1954 as a research geologist. He moved to positions of increasing responsibility and became Director of Exploration in the Toronto office in 1973 and Vice-President in 1975.

Sister Mary Teresa (Zelda Cole), Arts '44 (M.A., Ottawa), Belleville, Ont., was recently chosen 1977 Educator of the Year in the Bay of Quinte area and presented with the Sir Mackenzie Bowell Award. For over 30 years Sister Mary Teresa has dedicated her services to the Belleville district. Although Principal of Nicholson College for the past 18 years, she has always maintained contact with the students as a classroom teacher of English and Latin.

J. B. Slack, Arts '44, M.A. '46, Kingston, Ont., Director of the Frontenac County Board of Education, will resign his position on December 31 after nine years as director and more than 38 years in education.

Mervyn A. Upham, Sc. '41 (B.Sc., Mount Allison), has been elected President of the Mining Association of Canada. Mr. Upham is President of International Minerals and Chemical Corp. (Canada) Ltd., Toronto, and President, International Minerals and Chemical Resource Development Group. Following service in the Second World War, he returned to a mining career in 1945 and held several senior positions with Canadian, American and British companies.

Dr. J. H. 'Jake' Warren, B.A. '41, LL.D. '74, Canada's former Ambassador to the United States, has been appointed Canada's Co-ordinator of Multilateral Trade Negotiations in Geneva. His duties include liaison with all the federal departments involved in the GATT talks, plus close co-operation with provincial governments and the private sector on the evolution of federal trade policies. Mr. Warren was once a Deputy Minister of Trade and Commerce.

1950-59

Jayne F. Coons (Jayne Lawlor), Arts '59 (LL.B., Toronto), was called to the Bar of Ontario in March and is associated with Frances M. Smookler in the practice of law at the Sheppard Centre, 4881 Yonge St., Suite 502, Willowdale, Ont.

Stanley A. Cowtan, Sc. '50, has been appointed President, Great Canadian Oil Sands Ltd., Edmonton, Alta. Mr. Cowtan joined GCOS in 1975 as Vice-President and General Manager. Previously he was with Sun Oil Co. Ltd., where he held a number of management posts.

Darwoko M. Doerjat, Sc. '59, is Production Manager, P.T. Industrial Gases Indonesia, in Pulo Gadung, Jakarta, Indonesia. The company is an industrial gases manufacturing plant producing oxygen, nitrogen, acetylene and carbon dioxide. Mr. Doerjat is married with four children ranging in ages from 5 to 13 years.

B. Fraser-Reid

W.O. Packull

Dr. B.O. 'Bert' Fraser-Reid, Artsci '59, M.Sc. (Arts) '61 (Ph.D., Imperial College), a Professor of Chemistry at the University of Waterloo since 1966, has received the Merck, Sharp and Dohme Lecture Award for 1977. The award is made by the Chemical Institute of Canada to recognize outstanding contributions on the part of young (under 40) Canadian organic chemists and biochemists. Dr. Fraser-Reid's research interests are primarily concerned with the chemistry of sugars — not the ordinary sugar one puts in coffee (though he has found a synthetic way to make that kind) but "modified" sugars which occur in antibiotics and other chemicals and which are helpful in treating a variety of diseases, including tuberculosis and cancer.

Leslie L. Hartford, Sc. '57, has been appointed Vice-President, Operations, Northern and Central Gas Corp. Ltd. Mr. Hartford was formerly Vice-President, Marketing and Development, and has held several senior management positions since joining the company in 1963.

Dr. Gerald A.L. Irwin, Med. '55, Masepequa Park, N.Y., has been appointed Chairman of the Department of Radiology at the Norwalk Hospital, Norwalk, Conn. For the past seven years, Dr. Irwin had been with the Nassau County Medical Center as Professor and Chairman of the Department of Radiology at the State University of New York-Stony Brook. He is author and co-author of 50 articles on radiology and nuclear medicine.

Donald G. MacEachern, Arts '58, has joined the firm of Towers, Perrin, Forster and Crosby, Toronto, Ont. TPF&C is an international management consulting firm specializing in actuarial, benefits and human resource management services. Mr. MacEachern will be responsible nationally for client organization and management services, with particular emphasis on organization and manpower planning and personnel administration.

Peter M. Nixon, Sc. '53, has been appointed Group Vice-President, Manufacturing and Mining, Algoma Steel Corp. Ltd. Mr. Nixon is responsible for the Mines and Services functions and for Engineering, Administration and Steelworks operations.

John D. Redfern, Sc. '58, has been appointed President and Chief Executive Officer, Canada Cement Lafarge Ltd. Formerly Executive Vice-President, Mr. Redfern has had broad experience in technical sales, marketing and management, having held positions of responsibility in Ottawa, Moncton, Calgary, Toronto, Halifax, and Montreal during the past 18 years.

Cameron M. Smith, Arts '58 (LL.B., Dalhousie), editorial writer for the Globe and Mail, received another National Award in April. Mr. Smith was a Toronto lawyer before joining the Globe as a reporter in 1965. He is assistant to the editor.

Peter N. T. Widdrington, Arts '53 (M.B.A., Harvard), President of John Labatt Ltd., has been elected a director of BP Canada Ltd.

1960-69

Robert C. Brown (RMC), and Mrs. Brown (Sandra Edwards), Arts '64, and their four children have moved from Nova Scotia to 58 Meredith Cr., Cobourg, Ont., where Mr. Brown has been appointed Senior Manufacturing Manager, General Foods Ltd.

Dr. John E. Clark, Sc. '65, Ph.D. '71, is Chief Engineer, Applications, Syncrude Canada Ltd., Edmonton, Alta.

Margaret Code, Arts '68, is employed as a personnel officer with the Ministry of Roy McMurtry, Ontario's Attorney General.

R. A. 'Dick' Dodds, Arts '62, has accepted the position of Superintendent of Schools, Peel Region Board of Education, Mississauga, Ont. Mr. Dodds had held a similar position with the Lennox and Addington County Board of Education in Napanee since March 1969.

Bryan A. Dudek, Com. '68, C.A., has been appointed Vice-President, Mercantile Bank, Winnipeg, Man. In his new position, he will be responsible for the bank's activities throughout Manitoba. Mr. Dudek was previously Assistant Vice-President in the bank's Toronto office.

David W. Jackson, Sc. '61, has been appointed Environment and Energy Conservation Supervisor, Technical Department, Price Co. Ltd., Kenogami Kraft Mill, Jonquiere, Que. Mr. Jackson was formerly Chief Chemist.

Dr. W. O. Karvinen, Artsci '68, Ph.D. '74 (M.Sc., U.B.C.), is Resident Geologist with the Ontario Division of Mines in Sudbury Ont.

John M. McInnes, Arts '67 (M.Ed., Toronto) Brantford, Ont., has been elected as Canadian representative on the executive of the International Association for Education of the Deaf-Blind and appointed a member of the North American Committee of the Deaf-Blind.

Patricia M. Minnes, Arts '72 (M.Phil., Edinburgh), has accepted the position of Deputy Superintendent at Kingsbury Centre for the Mentally Handicapped, Melbourne, Australia, where she has worked as Clinical Psychologist for the past two and a half years.

Dr. Balfour M. Mount, Med. '63 (Dip. Urology, McGill), was the 1977 Aesculapian Society Visiting Lecturer at Queen's. He spoke on Advanced Cancer: What to Do When Nothing More Can Be Done. Since 1971, Dr. Mount has been Associate Professor of Surgery at McGill and staff member at the Royal Victoria Hospital, where his role in developing a special care unit for terminal cancer patients has won him national and international recognition.

Raymond M. Roy, M.B.A. '65 (B.A., Montreal), has been appointed Vice-President, Investment and Exchange Department, Mercantile Bank, Montreal. Mr. Roy will be responsible for all the bank's money market activities, including deposit gathering with institutions, investments for liquidity purposes, foreign exchange responsibility and international transactions for the entire bank. He has held a number of different positions in the bank and most recently was Chief Inspector.

Frank Sebestik, Arts '63, M.B.A. '65, has been appointed Manager, Management Information Services, Associated Biscuits of Canada Ltd., Montreal, Que.

Dr. David Skinner, Arts '66, Med. '71, is practising medicine at 106 Lambert St., Whitehorse, Yukon, with particular emphasis on humanistic psychology. Following graduation Dr. Skinner spent a year in general practice at the Department of National Health and Welfare, Inuvik, N.W.T., and four years of locum tenens general practice throughout British Columbia, the Yukon and in Inuvik. He did postgraduate training in humanistic psychology. Dr. Skinner welcomes any Queen's students or graduates wishing an introduction to the area.

John Takach, Com. '64 (LL.B., Toronto), Crown Attorney for Hamilton-Wentworth County since November 1975, now heads one of nine provincial areas recently established by the Ministry of the Attorney General. As a regional Crown he has supervisory jurisdiction of the Niagara region, which includes the counties of Haldimand, Brant, Niagara North and South, as well as Hamilton-Wentworth.

Judge George Thomson, Arts '62, Law '65 (LL.M., Berkley), former family court judge in Kingston, Ont., has been appointed Associate Deputy-Minister of Community and Social Services with the Ontario Provincial Cabinet. Judge Thomson will be responsible for his ministry's new division of amalgamated children and youth services which began operating on July 1, under Keith Norton, MLA, Arts '62, Law '69.

Ken Thrasher, Arts '69, M.Sc.(Arts) '70, was promoted to Chief Geophysicist, Murphy Oil Co. Ltd., in March 1977. Ken, Georgette and their three children, Jacqueline, Jeffrey and Joelle, live in Calgary, Alta.

B. I. COHEN INC. DISPENSING OPTICIANS

Suite 120 6102 Cote Des
1255 University St. Neiges Rd.
Cor. St. Catherine (Near Van Horne)
866-7778 731-6530

MONTREAL
Avron Cohen, Arts '44

Queen's Quest

1978 - 1983
will be counting on your support

Milner & Steer Barristers and Solicitors

Milner Building, Edmonton, Alta.
1125 IBM Building, Calgary, Alta.

McMILLAN & MARTYNOWICZ

Consulting Engineers

TELEPHONE 482-1632

5757 CAVENDISH BLVD.
MONTREAL, QUE. H4V 1M4

Consultants in:

- socio-political analysis
- public participation
- social impacts of development
- human services policies and programs

Suite 300, 2 Toronto Street, Toronto, Ontario. M5C 2B6. 416-368-9643

LAKEFIELD RESEARCH OF CANADA LIMITED

*Ore Testing and Mineral
Processing Research*

A. G. Scobie, Sc. '37

Laboratories and Pilot Plant

Lakefield, Ont. Phone 652-3341

A. H. ROSS & ASSOCIATES

Consulting Chemical and Metallurgical Engineers

A. H. Ross, Sc. '36 D. F. Lillie, Sc. '44
D. H. Eberts, Sc. '50

Suite 1706, 80 Richmond St. W.
Toronto M5H 2A4 366-1653

J. L. RICHARDS & ASSOCIATES LIMITED Consulting Engineers and Planners

OTTAWA — KINGSTON — SUDBURY — FROBISHER BAY — OVERSEAS

D.M. Bracken, Sc. '76
R.P. Cheek, Sc. '67, M.Sc. '73
G.A. Clark, Sc. '72
A.E. Fee, Sc. '47
J. T. Fitzpatrick, Sc. '73

W.F. Flude, Sc. '59
G.A. Hearnden, Sc. '53
D.R. Hunter, Sc. '72
I.C. Kennedy, Sc. '70

C.N. Kirby, Sc. '51
G.T. McCaffrey, Sc. '71
P.A. Midgley, Sc. '57
J.L. Richards, Sc. '44/'47
D.G. Shillington, Sc. '70

PLACE IN THE SUN FOR RUGBY GAELS

The Golden Gaels Rugby Club collected tans and fans on a 10-day tour of Bermuda in May. On a visit officially sanctioned by the Bermuda Rugby Football Association, the Queen's party of 26 impressed the islanders with their friendliness and singing ability, as well as their rugby skills. According to Prof. Gavin Reid, the Gaels' coach, the tour highlight was Queen's 14-3 victory over the Bermuda Police, island champions.

SNOWY WESTERN REUNION FOR '66ers

Several members of the Class of 1966, with spouses and children, held a skiing reunion in Vernon, B.C., during the first week of March. Shown on the sunny slopes of Silver Star Mountain (from left to right) are: Dr. Fred Malby, Med. '66, Dr. Dorothy (McWatters) Fisher, Med. '66, Dr. Helen Macdonald, Med. '66, Dr. Ian Macdonald, Med. '66, Dr. Anne (Darby) O'Grady, Arts '66 (Ph.D., Alberta), and Dr. Terry O'Grady, Med. '66. Representatives of the 11 children who accompanied the group are shown in the foreground. The photo was taken by Sandra Malby, R.N., wife of Dr. Fred Malby.

Dr. Werner O. Packull, Ph.D. '74 (B.A., Guelph, M.A., Waterloo), Assistant Professor at Renison College, University of Waterloo, Waterloo, Ont., is author of the new scholarly book, Mysticism and the Early South German-Austrian Anabaptist Movement, 1525-1531 (Herald Press, Kitchener).

John R. Parks, Arts '72, Law '74, is associated with Gordon G. Landeg, Q.C., in the practice of law at 20 Hughson St. S., Suite 1005, Hamilton, Ont.

Allan M. Proulx, Arts '74, has been appointed Assistant Manager of the Bank of Montreal, Little Current, Ont.

Sydney A. Rowe, Ed. '76 (B.A., Guelph), is teaching geography in rural Australia at Echuca High School, Echuca, Victoria. Mr. Rowe reports no snow, but lots of locusts.

Mrs. Thomas M. Sagar (Jane A. MacNamara), Arts '70, is a teacher-librarian at North Albion Collegiate, Etobicoke, Ont.

Dr. Yale M. Samole, Med. '72, has joined the faculty of Rush Medical School and has been appointed Director of the Coronary Care Unit, Mount Sinai Hospital, Chicago, Illinois.

Dr. Campbell Sharman, M.A. '70, Ph.D. '72 (B.A., LL.B., Adelaide, M.Sc., London), and Mrs. Sharman (Jane McEwen), Ed. '70 (B.A., Adelaide), have transferred from the University of Tasmania to the University of Western Australia, Nedlands, W.A. 6009.

Jeffrey Simpson, Arts '71, has been appointed to the Ottawa bureau of the Globe and Mail, at 150 Wellington St. W., Suite 904.

Dr. Carolyn F. Small, Sc. '73, received her Ph.D. degree in Bioengineering from the University of Strathclyde, Glasgow, Scotland. Dr. Small will work in Scotland as a research fellow until fall.

Dr. Walley Temple, Med. '70, FRCS, is a research and clinical fellow in the Department of Surgical Oncology, Jackson Memorial Hospital, Miami, Fla. The Temples have three children: Lara, Claire and Philip.

Dr. Tyrone Turner, Med. '71, recently returned from Sri Lanka (Ceylon) where he studied Acupuncture at Colombo South Hospital, the world's largest acupuncture clinic. Dr. Turner intends to increase the scope of acupuncture and other drugless therapies in his central Toronto family practice.

Patricia Walkinshaw, Ed. '75 (B.A., Carleton), has been teaching French for the past two years in Burlington, Ont.

Leon Wing-King, Sc. '75, has resigned his position with the Department of Northern Affairs, Engineering Services and Construction Division, Thompson, Man., and is living in Ottawa.

Liese Zerber, Ed. '76 (B.Sc., Guelph), is teaching at Minj High School, P.O. Box 53 Minj, Western Highlands Province, Papua New Guinea.

Shane M. Watson, Arts '69 (M.A., Toronto, LL.B., McGill), has opened an office for the general practice of law at Suite 800, Professional Arts Bldg., 155 James St. S., Hamilton, Ont.

Marian Webb, Arts '69, Kingston, Ont., a social worker, has been appointed to the Ontario Advisory Council on the Physically Handicapped by Premier William Davis for a period of three years. Miss Webb is senior worker with the Regional Rehabilitation Centre at Kingston General Hospital and a clinical assistant in the Department of Rehabilitation Medicine at Queen's.

Dr. John R. Wood, Arts '63, B.A. Hon. '68, is a research scientist at Domtar Research, Dorion, Que. After leaving Queen's in 1968, he took a Ph.D. degree at the Pulp and Paper Research Institute of Canada and McGill University. Dr. Wood spent one year at the Centre Technique du Papier in Grenoble, France, under the auspices of the Comité pour la Coopération Franco-Québécoise.

N. R. Wood, Sc. '62, has been promoted to Vice-President in charge of Knowlton Realty Ltd. in California. Mr. Wood was formerly with the firm in Vancouver, B.C.

970-76

David M. Armstrong, Sc. '75, has completed his second year of Law at Dalhousie University.

Robert J. Backstrom, Com. '74, Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., passed his C.A. examinations in December 1976.

Judith C. Beaman, Arts '71, Law '75, is associated with Richard C. Oaks in the practice of law at 93 Clarence St., Kingston.

Ilen Borak, Sc. '73, and Ellen (Slavin), Arts '74, are living at 132 Medland St., Toronto, Ont. Allen has completed his Master's degree in Computing Science from the University of Waterloo and is working for Imperial Oil in Toronto. Ellen has completed her first year of an M.B.A. program at Western.

Christine Boyle, LL.M. '72 (LL.B., Queen's, Belfast), is Associate Professor, Faculty of Law, University of Windsor, Windsor, Ont.

Neila E. Carnall, Arts '71, M.A. '76, Kingston, has won a Queen Elizabeth II Scholarship, one of five awarded in Ontario for 1977-78. She will use the $7,000 award to complete her doctoral thesis and will continue as a senior tutor in the Department of English at Queen's.

R. Larp Chitnuyanondh, M.Sc. '73, Ph.D. '76 (B.Ed., Adelaide), is a research associate in the Department of Civil Engineering, University of Alberta, Edmonton.

Alan E. Cooke, Artsci '72, M.Sc.(Arts) '74, who is doing postdoctoral studies in nuclear physics at Oxford University, has received a National Research Council fellowship of $12,000 to continue his research for another year.

Kenneth H. Cramer, Law '74 (B.A., Western), is a partner in the newly formed law firm of Chiarelli, Thompson, Cramer and Graw, 1316 Carling Ave., Ottawa, Ont.

Michael De Rubeis, Com. '72 (LL.B., Toronto), is practising law at 65 Queen St. W., Suite 2101, Toronto, Ont.

Peter Dickie, Artsci '75, and Betty (Jong), Arts, P.H.E. '75, are living in Edmonton, Alta., where Peter is working on his Masters' degree in Microbiology at the University of Alberta, and Betty is teaching Physical Education and Science at Highlands Junior High.

Mrs. Rhonda Fields (Rhonda Knight), Ed. '73 (B.A., McGill), is on the teaching staff of the Ottawa Board of Education's psychiatric school for emotionally disturbed children, the M. F. McHugh School.

Walter H. Gibson, M.Sc. '70 (B.S.A., Guelph, B.E., Nova Scotia Tech), has been named a senior engineer in the Toronto office of Dames and Moore, engineering and environmental consultants. A specialist in geotechnical engineering, Mr. Gibson joined the firm in 1971. Most recently he was Project Manager for the construction of tailings control facilities for UME's Thierry Project at Pickle Lake, Ont.

Alan D. Gold, Law '70 (B.Sc., Toronto), is practising law under the firm name of Greenspan, Gold and Moldaver at Suite 1110, 390 Bay St., Toronto, Ont.

Elizabeth Ann Grainger (Elizabeth Fortune), Ed. '71 (B.A., Loyola), her husband and two children, Kathleen, born June 1972, and John, born March 1975, live at 2305 Halifax St., Regina, Sask.

Nick Gudewill, Sc. '72 (M.B.A., Western), Victoria, B.C., has joined his father in the Coca Cola and Canada Dry soft drink business operating throughout British Columbia under the firm name of Goodwill Bottling Ltd. Mr. Gudewill spent the past three years with Okanagan Helicopters Ltd., logging 600 hours as a pilot in Newfoundland and Labrador. His work involved mining projects, forest fires, wildlife, ambulance, search and rescue, etc.

Jim Henderson, Arts '76, and his wife, Mimi, will be joint Wardens of Leonard Hall beginning with the 1977 fall term. Jim joined the Liaison Office at Queen's in August 1976 and was recently appointed Senior High School Liaison Officer. Friends visiting the campus are invited to contact the Hendersons at Leonard Hall.

Stephen H. Hill, Ed. '72 (B.A., Carleton, B.Th. Ottawa), was ordained to the diaconate of the Roman Catholic Church on April 7 in Ottawa.

Harold C. Jarrell, Artsci '72 (M.Sc.(Arts) '75, Kingston, has won a postdoctoral fellowship of $12,000 from the National Research Council to study immunal chemistry under Dr. R. U. LeMieux at the University of Alberta.

Michael H. Kassner, Com. '74, has been promoted to Assistant Sales Manager, Marketing Department, Bell Canada, Ottawa, Ontario.

Helen Patricia King, Arts '73, Law '75, is associated with Stuart Willoughby, Q.C., in the practice of law at 295 Brock St., Kingston, Ont.

Michele La Rose, Arts '74, formerly of Ottawa, has transferred to the Canadian Conservation Institute in Quebec City which opened on May 2. The Institute is responsible for the conservation of artistic and historic works on paper.

Rhonda Leeman, Arts '76, is employed as an aquatic director for the Kapuskasing Board of Education.

Gary D. Lisle, Arts, P.H.E. '76 (B.Ed., Western), and Mrs. Lisle (Maureen Bouris), Arts, P.H.E. '72, Ed. '73, are living in Wingham, Ont., where they are employed as high school teachers.

Rev. K. G. Lowe, Theol. '72, formerly of Middleton, N.S., has been called to Grace United Church, Digby, N.S.

Jennifer Lynch, Arts '72 (LL.B., Osgoode), was called to the Ontario Bar on March 29. At present Jennifer is working with a federal task force on law enforcement. She lives at 1604-40 The Driveway, Ottawa, Ont.

Sister M. Claire MacNeil, Ed. '76 (B.A., St. Francis Xavier, B.Mus., Alverno), is teaching grades 4 and 5 at St. Patrick's School in Lethbridge, Alta. Sister MacNeil will spend the next four summers in San Francisco, Calif., working on her Master's degree in Theology.

Garry R. McDonald, Com. '73, Sarnia, Ont., has been promoted to Assistant Buyer, Sears Ltd., Mississauga, Ont. Mr. and Mrs. McDonald have two children, Melissa, born in 1973, and Laura, born in 1976.

Ken T. Miller, Com. '76, Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., is employed in the Marine Division of Algoma Central Railway. He is involved with Great Lakes shipping.

Allan D. Millman, Sc. '70, M.B.A., '72, has joined American Can of Canada Ltd. as Manager, Consumer Products, Rexdale, Ont. Mr. Millman has had extensive package goods marketing experience in industrial and service companies.

L. Logan Naftel, M.B.A. '74 (B.A., York), is Supervisor, IAC Limited Credit Administration, 45 St. Clair Ave. W., Toronto.

Dwight E. Neddow, Arts '71, is a life underwriter with Crown Life Insurance Co., Kingston, Ont. Mr. Neddow is very active in sports and civic affairs and is president of both the Kingston and District Sports Council and the Eastern Ontario Olympic Track and Field Club.

MOVING?

If you have a new address, please cut off the address label from your copy of the REVIEW and mail it, along with the following information to:

Alumni Office
Queen's University,
Kingston, Ont. K7L 3N6

NAME

DEGREE/YEAR

NEW ADDRESS
(include Postal Code where applicable)

(Remember to send your old address label)

PHONE NUMBER

ANY NEWS about you we should have in the Review? (Births, marriage, promotion, honours, change of job, etc.)

If you receive The Queen's Review but do not receive notices of local Branch activities, please let us know.

At home in Oxford: Dorris Heffron with her second novel for teenagers — Crusty Crossed, set in England and Canada during the years of World War Two

Novelist Dorris Heffron: first fiery, now Crusty

Dorris Heffron, Arts '67, M.A. '69, of Oxford, England, has had a second novel, Crusty Crossed, published recently. Her first, A Nice Fire and Some Moonpennies, was set in Kingston, Ont., and earned her a Canada Council grant. Crusty is set in Oxford and Canada during the war years. A third novel, set in Thailand, is in the works.

Since 1968 Ms Heffron has made her home in Oxford, where her husband, William Newton-Smith, Arts '66 (D. Phil., Oxford) is a fellow at Balliol College. She zeroed in on teenagers in her novels because she believes that this age group has been neglected from a literary point of view. In an interview published in the Oxford Times, she is quoted as saying, "I was always short of the sort of books I wanted to read when I was a teenager; there was Ann of Green Gables and that was about it."

Moonpennies and Crusty, which deal forthrightly with such topics as marijuana and falling in love, will never be confused with Ann of any kind of gables, but they are earning their author "considerable critical and popular approval," according to the Times.

Dorris writes during the mornings, when her two little daughters, Apple and Raine, are at school and playgroup. She also manages to teach literature for the Open University, give dinner parties, work with husband Bill on the rebuilding of a half-derelict farm they've acquired in Wales, and attend writers' conferences. As Helen Turner says in her interview in the Oxford Times, "She gives an impression of amazing vitality."

Queen's Engineering essayists dominate CIMM competition

With a hand from Metallurgy student Hedy Brambat, Sc. '78, Mining Engineering's Class of '76 dominated the 1977 essay competition of the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy, taking eight of 12 national prizes.

With essays written a year in advance of the judging, the Queen's Engineers took first and second prizes in four divisions.

Coal: Leslie Hicks, St. John's, and James W. Hendry, Thunder Bay.

Industrial Minerals: Miss Brambat and Norman Lecuyer, Espanola.

Metal Mining: Paul E. Reid, Sudbury, and James Morrison, Schefferville. (Mr. Morrison is now in the Master's program at Queen's.)

Mechanical-Electrical: A. Bruce Goard, Lively, Ont., and Brian Saul, Kingston.

The Premier of Ontario

Parliament Buildings
Queen's Park
Toronto Ontario

Dear Mr. Southam:

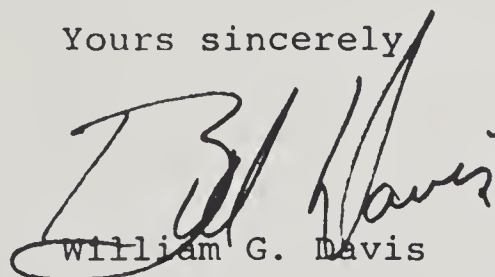

I am very pleased to learn that Queen's University intends to conduct a major appeal for financial support from the private sector over the period 1978-83. The Government of Ontario fully recognizes the very real need for private support if the universities are to meet the changing concerns and interests of students and the public.

Queen's University has an outstanding record of distinctive performance and service to this province and indeed to the Canadian nation. It is important that this contribution be continued. The government does provide support for the basic needs of universities, realizing at the same time that the institutions must have private support to continue in their own individual directions, combining the way in which things are done and the atmosphere in which students and faculty do their work together. This policy leaves a significant and very true need for private support. I wish to assure you that the funds Queen's collects through your proposed campaign will not in any way be offset by a reduction in government grants.

Queen's University is unquestionably a leading post secondary institution with a proud history of service and achievement and this government fully supports the campaign to improve library services, upgrade scientific and technical facilities and strengthen efforts in research, academic development and scholarships.

I extend to you my best wishes for every success with the campaign.

Yours sincerely

William G. Davis

Mr. R. W. Southam,
Chairman, Board of Trustees,
Queen's University,
c/o The Citizen,
P. O. Box 5020,
Ottawa, Ontario.
K2C 3M4

It's kind of nice to stand out.

Which is what Carrington Canadian does. But for many more good reasons than merely the look of the bottle. Carrington is distilled in small batches, aged and mellowed in seasoned oak casks; it's light in look and smooth in taste. Carrington, it's special, and, in our opinion, like no other whisky in the world.

A whisky of outstanding quality.

CARRINGTON CANADIAN WHISKY

SEPTEMBER-OCTOBER 1977

QUEEN'S

ALUMNI REVIEW

Car
Post
Rate
10

Postes
Canada
Port payé

En nombre
troisième
classe
Kingston

QUEEN'S UNIVERSITY
KINGSTON ONT
K7L 3N6

*
QUEEN'S LIBRARY
1-022-9371

REUNION '77

Registration will begin at 2:30 p.m. on Friday in the Polson Room of the former Students' Memorial Union, now part of the John Deutsch University Centre.

The schedule of Reunion events above does not include the many special parties, dances and dinners arranged by individual classes. For details contact your Class Secretary or Sheila Mayo, Reunion Secretary, Alumni Office, Queen's University, Kingston, Ont. K7L 3N6 (547-6560)

Friday, October 14

- 2:30 p.m.: Conducted Bus Tour of campus and City of Kingston
- 4:00 p.m.: Tours of new John Deutsch University Centre (student guides)
- 7:00 - 9:00: Faculty Reception for Applied Science grads, Clark Hall, Engineering Society Lounge (Cash Bar)
- 8:00 p.m.: Homecoming Dance, Jock Harty Arena
- 9:00 p.m.: Principal's Reception in Grant Hall, with Principal and Mrs. Watts
- 9:00 p.m.: Medical Formal, Martello Room, Holiday Inn

Sunday, October 16

- 11:00 a.m.: University Church Service in Grant Hall, with Padre Laverty

Saturday, October 15

- 8:00 a.m.: Pancake Breakfast, Sidewalk Cafe, John Deutsch University Centre (till 10 a.m.)
- 9:00 a.m.: Buildings open for visits; Walking Tours available from Registration Desk
- 10:00 a.m.: 1927 Class pictures taken in Bartlett Gym
- 10:30 a.m.: 1917 Class pictures taken in Bartlett Gym
- 11:30 a.m.: Alumni Reception and Buffet, with Queen's Bands and Cheerleaders, Physical Education Centre (Cash Bar)
- 1:30 p.m.: Football Parade from foot of University Ave, along Union St. to Richardson Stadium on West Campus
- 2:00 p.m.: Queen's-McGill Football Game
- 4:30 p.m.: Coffee and doughnuts, McArthur Hall (West Campus)
- 7:00 p.m.: Reunion Dinner for Classes up to and including 1952, Skylite Dining Room, John Deutsch Centre
- 9:00 p.m.: Student-Alumni Dance

They're Coming Back

The Class of '17, the Class of '27, Arts '29, Science '30, Arts '31 and Science '31, the Class of '32, Science '37 and Medicine '37, Arts '48 and Science '48, Medicine '51, the Class of '52, Arts '57 and Science '57, Medicine '62, Commerce '66 and Science '66, the Class of '67, Arts '68, the Class of '69, Arts, Science and P.H.E. '70, Commerce '72 and the Class of '75.

Everybody will be looking for someone.

Someone will be looking for you.

Come on back

Editor
CATHERINE PERKINS MORTON,
Arts '58

Editor, Personal Notes
NAYE PATTEN

Literary Advisory Board
J. HAMILTON, Arts '31, LL.D. '75
MURRAY A. GILL, Sc. '47
BERNARD F. TROTTER, Arts '46
PETER DORN, R.C.A.

COVER: At Queen's, those autumn glads and reds aren't all on the trees; on any football weekend they're also in the stands at Richardson Stadium. Cover designed by Peter Dorn, RCA, from a photo by Betsy Greenlees, Arts
'77.

Honorary Graduates, Spring 1977	3	Six Canadians cited
Play It Again, Sam	5	By Dr. Ann Saddlemeyer
More from the University Council	6	The Principal reports; the taxpayer retorts
Nominations, Please	8	Invitation to involvement with the Board of Trustees, University Council, Committee on Honorary Degrees, and Alumni Award for Excellence in Teaching
Queen's Impact on Four Communities (Part One)	10	By Dr. Duncan Sinclair, Dean of Arts and Science
The Weekend University	13	Six Seminars announced for fall and winter
Around the Campus	14	New Chief Librarian; First-year writing tested; Scholar-in- Residence at Victoria Hall; Memorials: J.K.N. Jones and Dr. G.M. Brown; CFRC Alumni invited to celebrate 55 years on the air
Queen's on Skis!	18	Alumni charters to Colorado and Europe
At the Branches	19	Hong Kong to charter a Branch
Someone You Know	21	Class Agents for 16 classes announced
Names in the News	22	Births, marriages, deaths and good news of graduates
Support the Golden Gaels and Gals	31	Calendar of out-of-town intercol- legiate competitions

PHOTO CREDITS: Ron Fairley, 3, 4; Zawalsky, 5 (lakeshore); Tricolor '71, 5 (football game); Cheryl Scott, 6; Wallace R. Berry, 7 (Lavery), 10, 17; Paul Berry, 7 (foreign students); Herb Nott, 7 (Kostuik); Carol Franks, Queen's News, 14.

The Queen's Review is published bi-monthly: January, March, May, July, September and November. Address all communications to THE QUEEN'S REVIEW, Alumni Association, Queen's University, Kingston, Ont. K7L 3N6. Typeset, printed and bound by 1000 Islands Publishers Ltd., Gananoque, Ont. Member, CASE.

Advertising Representatives: Alumni Media, Toronto (416) 781-6957, and Vancouver (604) 688-6819.

Postage paid in cash at third-class rates. Permit no. 1019, Kingston, Ont.

If genetic screening had begun in your generation would you be here today?

Dr. Daniel Callahan may convince you otherwise. His lecture is part of a major symposium, Values and Morals in Modern Life, honoring the Centennial of the University of Manitoba. If you're interested in the future you'll want to attend.

A meeting of minds An international group of highly qualified people will examine the ethical aspects of their own fields of interest. Some, like Sir Roger Bannister, M.D., are world celebrities. Some are just quietly brilliant. All are engaging speakers, widely respected in their fields. A distinguished panel of experts will be on hand to provide the audience with an opportunity for discussion, questions, and answers.

A significant event A major symposium in ethical thought. Speakers of great stature with something to say. Plan now to attend. Reserved seating, and attendance limited. Send the coupon below.

PROGRAM

Monday, October 17

10:00 a.m. RESPONSIBILITY: ITS PLACE IN AN ETHICS FOR THE TECHNOLOGICAL AGE

Speaker: Dr. Hans Jonas, Department of Philosophy, New School for Social Research, New York, N.Y.

2:00 p.m. CRIME AND PUNISHMENT TODAY

Speaker: Jessica Mitford, Author
The Hon. Mr. Justice Patrick Hartt, Supreme Court of Ontario, Former Chairman, Canadian Law Reform Commission

Tuesday, October 18

10:00 a.m. THE FAMILY IN CRISIS: THE ROLES OF MEN, WOMEN AND CHILDREN

Speakers: June Callwood, Author and Broadcaster; Anne Francis, Author and Broadcaster, Former Chairman, Royal Commission on the Status of Women.

2:00 p.m. ETHICS AND CONTEMPORARY BIOMEDICINE

Speakers: Dr. Daniel Callahan, Director, Institute of Society, Ethics and Life Sciences, The Hastings Center, Hastings-on Hudson, New York. Eric Cassell, M.D., author and famed medical ethicist from Cornell University.

Wednesday, October 19

10:00 a.m. VALUES IN PROFESSIONAL SPORTS

Speaker: Sir Roger Bannister, M.D., London, England.

2:00 p.m. ARE VALUES ASSOCIATED WITH EVER-INCREASING ECONOMIC GROWTH VIABLE FOR THE FUTURE?

Speaker: Dr. Robert Heilbroner, Department of Economics, The New School for Social Research, New York, N.Y.

VALUES AND MORALS IN MODERN LIFE

A CENTENNIAL SYMPOSIUM
OCTOBER 16-19/ WINNIPEG, MANITOBA

UNIVERSITY OF MANITOBA CENTENNIAL SYMPOSIUM
c/o The Great-West Life Assurance Company
Box 6000 Winnipeg, Manitoba R3C 3A5

Please send me full information on the Centennial Symposium, VALUES AND MORALS IN MODERN LIFE, along with an Advance Registration form.

Name _____

Address _____

City/Town _____

Province/State _____

Postal/Zip Code _____

Reserved Seating.

OU1

Co-sponsored by
The University of Manitoba and The Great-West Life Assurance Company

UN100

Great-West Life

Citations for Queen's
Honorary
Graduates
Spring 1977

GEORGE ERWIN TAYLOR, D.D.

- Genial Dean of Theology at the University of Winnipeg;
- Distinguished teacher of the Greek New Testament to generations of students, before whose wondering eyes he also revealed the mysteries of the Bodmer Papyri and the Nag Hammadi manuscripts;
- Diligent minister of the United Church of Canada, whose compassion for neighbour was shaped and tested in North Winnipeg's All Peoples Churches, where he followed strongly in the footsteps of J.S. Woodsworth and Dr. Jim Shaver;
- Able educator and administrator who has laboured creatively and consistently to lift the quality of theological education in Canada and the United States;
- Seasoned by the pressures and crises of his times, he has weathered many an ecclesiastical and academic storm with grace and strength in steadfast pursuit of scholarly excellence.

Rev. George Erwin Taylor, D.D.

GLENN IVAN SAWYER, LL.D.

- Native of Perth County who completed an apprenticeship in Pharmacy before studying Medicine at the University of Western Ontario;
- For 15 years a busy family practitioner in Port Stanley and St. Thomas, whose patients bore him so sturdy a loyalty that they sought his advice by telephone long after he had left medical practice for administration;

Dr. Glenn Ivan Sawyer, LL.D.

Harold Armstrong Smith, D.Sc.

- For 21 years the Chief Executive Officer of the Ontario Medical Association, where he earned the affection and gratitude of a generation of Ontario physicians whose concerns and initiatives he fostered and projected with wisdom, integrity and imperturbable good humour;
- Learned in the law through years of professional interest in medicolegal issues and, in 1976, a graduate in Law from the University of Western Ontario;
- Bringing to his successive vocations as physician, administrator and lawyer a perpetually youthful openness to social change and innovation and bringing, too, a formidable skill in debate, illuminated by an incisive wit and a warm concern for his fellows which an urbane and inscrutable manner could never quite conceal.

HAROLD ARMSTRONG SMITH, D.Sc.

- Distinguished graduate of this university in Electrical Engineering, whose continuing career has been devoted to the engineering and planning of Ontario's vital electric power system, and whose originality and leadership have contributed heavily to the development of Canada's unique and dependable system of natural-uranium, heavy-water, nuclear-power generation;
- Recognized by his peers in professional engineering and by members of the international scientific community for his contributions to electric power generation and to power system engineering;
- As Vice-President of Ontario Hydro, he has earned the thanks of a vast public for his skill, imagination and perseverance in ensuring that the electrical needs of Ontario are met with economy and safety;
- Far-sighted and steadfast in surmounting difficulties and sometimes opposition, he has made us confident that in the years ahead our life-supporting electrical world in factory, place of business, farm and home will continue to turn, hum and glow at the push of a button or the flick of a switch.

Continued on page 4

"...honoris

causa..."

Lawrence G. Macpherson

E. Ann Saddlemeyer

Isabel J. Macneill

LAWRENCE GLADWYN MACPHERSON,
LL.D.

- Graduate of Brandon College;
- Versatile and accomplished chartered accountant, who has applied his talents to higher education, professional practice and financial administration and who has been unequalled in driving home the hard lesson that two and two are always four and never come to five or three;
- The demands for his skill, scrupulous care and wisdom by many persons and agencies, public and private, across the country and for many years have been matched only by his generosity in responding to them.
- As the prototype of the public citizen, he is ingenious in discerning alternative lines of policy and implacable in demonstrating the price of each.
- Throughout 40 years, his first loyalty has been to this University, which he has served successively and with ever-increasing distinction as teacher, Director of the School of Commerce, first Dean of the School of Business, Vice-Principal (Finance) and Special Adviser to the Principal.

- As the first Director of Research for the Canadian Institute of Chartered Accountants, he was a pioneer in making accountancy in Canada a learned profession. Never relenting, he has been tenacious and even brutal in awakening those who sleep-walk through the jungle of accounts and adroit in pulling the rescued into his circle of admiring friends.

ELEANOR ANN SADDLEMYER, LL.D.

- Fellow of the Royal Society of Canada;
- Twice winner of Guggenheim Fellowships;
- Graduate of the University of Saskatchewan in her native province, of Queen's and of the University of London;
- Captivating lecturer, distinguished scholar and teacher, prolific author;
- She has sounded the deep mysteries of modern Irish poetry and drama and has won acclaim at home and abroad for the style as well as the substance of her thoughtful and imaginative analysis.
- To the world of letters, she has brought a new understanding of the cult of the Celt, revealed the influence of the Gaelic in the development of English language and literature, and in interpreting the "Image Makers for Ireland" has caught the cadences of the lyrics of its poets and playwrights.

- Professor of English and, for the past five years, Director of the Graduate Centre for the Study of Drama at the University of Toronto, she has brought her multiple gifts to the enrichment of theatre in Canada.

- She has generously served her second alma mater as a member of the University Council and as Chairman of the selection committee for the Marty Memorial Scholarship for graduate women.

- Skilled in the art of fencing, her championship form two decades ago made memorably real the duel scene which she staged for a Queen's production of Hamlet and proved that in interpreting Shakespeare the sword may be as mighty as the pen.

ISABEL J. MACNEILL, LL.D.

- Born in Halifax;
- Officer of the Order of Canada;
- Awarded the Order of the British Empire for distinguished leadership as wartime commander of basic training for Canada's WRENS;
- Zealous advocate of post-war reform in Ontario and federal corrections institutions;
- Champion of individual identity within the disciplined collectivities of armed forces and prisons alike;
- For six years Superintendent of the Kingston Prison for Women, where she courageously pioneered more humane approaches to discipline and rehabilitation through education, library services and pre-release programs;
- Throughout a varied, sometimes turbulent, career of public service, she has struggled to ensure that Canada would pass what Winston Churchill called "one of the most unfailing tests of the civilization of any country" - the treatment of crime and criminals - with "an unaltering faith that there is a treasure, if you can only find it, in the heart of every man."

Play It Again, Sam

(An excerpt from the Convocation Address of Dr. Ann Saddlemeyer, June 4, 1977)

Twenty-one years ago I came to Queen's. It was my first journey east from the prairies and I marvelled at the limestone buildings, the height of the trees (two stories high! I reported lyrically to my Saskatchewan classmates), the majesty of the great lakes (we shouted Anglo-Saxon verbs to the grey winter waves), my first football game (we beat Toronto!) and my first umbrella (we paraded down University Avenue on a dry run, nearly putting out the eye of an innocent passerby).

Suddenly life expanded; anything was possible. We established a choral society and had the temerity to charge for our first concert in Grant Hall. We — and I trust the privilege of immunity extends to this platform — perfected four varieties of home-brewed beer on the top floor of the Old Arts Building. Some of us made a daring raid on the neighbouring states in the name of George III. Others (once again) rediscovered Hamlet.

We were cocky, shy, obstreperous, earnest, naive and — to our minds at least — extraordinarily sophisticated. We were eagerly engaged in the great adventure of self-discovery.

...Today, once again embarked on a voyage of discovery, I return to Queen's, to this Convocation and the drama of a ritual in which I am no longer the interested observer, but an active participant. Truly, "the way forward is the way back."

...Nowhere has it been expressed with more telling simplicity than in this passage from T.S. Eliot's "Four Quartets":

*We shall not cease from exploration
And the end of all our exploring
Will be to arrive where we started
And know the place for the first time.*

"...We shouted Anglo-Saxon verbs to the grey winter waves...eagerly engaged in the great adventure of self-discovery."

"I marvelled at the limestone buildings and the height of the trees (two stories high!)."

A September connection: "My first football game and my first umbrella." (Tricolor '71 photo)

The Principal reports
The taxpayer retorts
Laval consorts
French encouraged
Differentials discouraged
Rector to speak
Enrolment to peak

News and views from the 1977 meeting of your University Council

Principal Ronald L. Watts (left) with Alumni President Eric G.A. Jorgensen, a Queen's Trustee and University Councillor

Twinning with Laval

Although there are no formal arrangements, Queen's has, in effect, "twinning" with a specific Quebec university — Laval. Beginning with the efforts of Prof. John Meisel and joint weekend seminars for students, Queen's has built up many contacts, friendships and academic liaisons with Laval.

It was suggested that friendship be offered to all Quebec universities on many fronts. Further, it was recommended that the idea of twinning be considered on a wider scale to encompass, for example, national studies of transportation, financing, etc. The objective would be to make unbiased, accurate and useful facts available to the public at the earliest possible date.

Problems at the "Interface"

There does not appear to be any substantial opinion among Councillors that the quality of incoming students has declined. Rather, it is seen as having improved. The problems arise from the variability of achievement levels among high school graduates. The Council's consensus was that these problems could be substantially alleviated by the improvement of co-ordination and communication between the University and secondary schools (and even public school educators) and a return to university involvement with high school curriculum.

Demographic forecasts:

Queen's on a rollercoaster

According to demographic trends in enrolment targets, Canadian universities may look for a rollercoaster effect. The numbers of young people seeking admission will increase until 1981-82, then decline sharply (below present levels) to 1990, and climb again in the mid-1990s. There will be significant regional variations: B.C. will have no decline; the drop will be sharpest in Quebec, the Maritimes and the Prairies.

Such long-range forecasts are of importance in the training of teachers, but have other implications. Because of increasing pressures on enrolment to 1981 or '82, the Government of Ontario is looking at temporary expedients and not more buildings. (In fact there are still thousands of student places unfilled in the Ontario university system.)

At Queen's, existing pressures will grow for four or five years, but after that we must be ready "to defend our attractiveness to students." Queen's must maintain her quality and be more active in high school liaison if the University is to be kept full during the highly competitive slump period. Then, when the growth trend reappears in the 1990s, Queen's must have retained her quality, staff and facilities. (Principal Watts)

Padre Laverty:
irreplaceable?

John Kostuik: Grade
13 bad for GNP?

Chaplaincy endorsed

Retention of the position of University Chaplain was warmly endorsed by the Council following expressions of concern by Judge John Matheson and Dr. Andy Pipe. Acknowledging that Padre Laverty (who retires in October 1978) has served the University in a unique way by dint of special personal gifts, Council agreed that his office itself has been a significant expression of Queen's family feeling.

It was moved by Dr. Pipe, seconded by Mrs. Willie Kellam, that the Council go on record as strongly favouring the retention of the office of University Chaplain and that this resolution be communicated to the Senate and Board of Trustees in their continuing deliberations on resource allocation.

Reflections on admissions

Prof. Alistair MacLean, a Psychology Professor especially involved with a Senate committee considering the secondary/post-secondary interface, made these points:

Queen's doesn't judge applicants just by grades, especially in smaller faculties with time to investigate individual qualifications.

There is potential danger to borderline students (re admissions and entrance scholarships) if some high schools continue to inflate their marks.

- Queen's is fortunate in the quality of students applying. More than 50 per cent of all Ontario Scholars (averages of at least 80 per cent) in 1976-77 chose to come to Queen's.

Queen's as a national and international university

Ottawa's withdrawal of direct support for university operations after 25 years of federal-provincial sharing is a major step in the decentralization of education and a potential encouragement of provincialism. If Queen's is to maintain her national character and outlook, she must take the initiative to renew and redouble her efforts in this area. (Principal Watts)

In 1976-77 the proportion of students from provinces outside Ontario was slightly higher than it was 20 years ago (12.5 per cent). Foreign students (those on visas) constitute 4 1/2 per cent - 5 per cent of the student population, or 7 per cent if children of Canadians living abroad are included. The Principal contends there is benefit in maintaining a foreign registration of at least 5 per cent because of the exchange of ideas and cultures. This characteristic of Queen's is threatened by the Ontario government's ruling that the University must charge foreign students two-and-a-half times the tuition fees charged Canadians.

One workshop group recommended that Queen's continue to express concern, through the Principal's efforts, about the possibility of differential fees for non-Ontario students.

Other recommendations from Council workshops

- There would be cost benefits — and savings for taxpayers — if Grade 13 were eliminated and Grade 12 widened in Ontario. ...It may be that Ontario Scholars (those with averages of at least 80 per cent) are being held back for a year behind their out-of-province peers. The elimination of Grade 13 could also have good effects on the Gross National Product. (John Kostuik)

- Good Queen's students should be sent back as "missionaries" to their own high schools, under the auspices of the Liaison Office. They could be valuable as first-hand spokesmen where they are known, since the image of Queen's varies greatly. More liaison effort should also be concentrated on schools that don't send any students now.

- The French-speaking capabilities of Queen's graduates should be improved. (a) Jointly with other Ontario universities, Queen's should make proficiency in French a condition of admission, beginning in 1982. (b) Queen's should offer students more opportunities to take immersion courses in French or spend time at French-speaking universities. (This recommendation acknowledged the problem of encouraging French-Canadian teachers to settle in an Anglophone community such as Kingston.)

- The Rector should deliver a public lecture annually, and the Dunning Trust lecturers should return to "good printable material." These moves would help to enhance the power of oral and written communications at Queen's. Also, public speaking by students should be encouraged.

NOMINATIONS INVITED FOR UNIVERSITY COUNCIL

The effectiveness of the University Council is largely dependent upon the quality of its membership. The Constitution of the University gives you the right to select candidates for election. The procedure for making nominations is outlined below.

Graduates may nominate 16 candidates to succeed the following Councillors, whose terms expire in 1978. All are eligible for re-election except the first five listed, since they have already served for 12 consecutive years. Members elected will serve until March 31, 1984.

Not Eligible for Re-election

Y.O. Fortier, B.Sc., M.Sc., Ph.D., Ottawa
H.J. Hamilton, B.A., LL.D., Kingston, Ont.
Eric G.A. Jorgensen, B.Sc., Don Mills, Ont.
K.R. MacGregor, E.D., B.Sc., Waterloo, Ont.
Stewart A. Searle, B.Com., Winnipeg

Eligible for Re-election

George T. Carson, M.D., C.M., FRCOG, FACOG, FRCS(C), Ottawa
James Charters, M.D., C.M., Hamilton
Mervin Daub, B.Com., M.B.A., Ph.D., Kingston
David D. Haun, B.Sc., M.Sc., Calgary
George A. Jewett, B.Sc., Toronto
Patricia Lambert, B.A., Mississauga, Ont.
W. Craig Moffat, B.Sc., M.Sc., D.Sc., Kingston
David L. Rigsby, B.Sc., Pointe Claire, Que.
Ian Stewart, B.A., M.A., Ph.D., Ottawa
A.B. Susman, B.A., M.D., C.M., New York
R.M. Wood, Cambridge (Galt), Ont.

Candidates must be graduates of Queen's and must receive five or more separate nominations in order to qualify. Permission must be obtained from the nominee to allow his or her name to appear on the ballot. Nominations must be in writing, signed, and received by the Secretary of the University Council on or before November 30, 1977.

Nominations, Please

The Board of Trustees

To All Queen's Graduates and Benefactors:

The Constitution of Queen's University gives to graduates and benefactors the right to select candidates for election to the Board of Trustees. Your nomination is invited, and the procedure is outlined below. A booklet entitled You And Queen's: How to Participate in the Work and Government of the University is available on request from the Alumni Office for those interested in the nature and roles of the various organs of University government and the procedures for appointment and/or election to such bodies.

Nominations for Election to the Board of Trustees by Graduates

Graduates may nominate two candidates for election to the Board of Trustees to succeed Jean I. Royce, B.A. '30, LL.D. '68, Kingston, Ont., and Russell K. Thoman, B.Sc. '36, Hamilton, Ont., whose terms expire on April 20, 1978.

Mr. Thoman is eligible for re-election, but Dr. Royce is ineligible. No other members of the Board should be nominated and no members of the University staff are eligible. Candidates must be nominated by five or more graduates. Nominations must be in writing, signed, and received by the Secretary of the University on or before December 31, 1977. The Trustees elected will serve until 1981.

Nominations for Election to the Board of Trustees by Benefactors

Benefactors who have contributed $100 or more to the University may nominate two candidates for election to the Board of Trustees as follows - (a) One Trustee to serve until April 20, 1982, in succession to J.S. Dewar, B.Sc. '41, Toronto, Ont. Mr. Dewar is not eligible for re-election. (b) One Trustee to serve until April 20, 1981, in succession to G.C. Gray, B.Com. '50, F.C.A., C.P.M., F.R.I., Toronto, Ont. Mr. Gray is eligible for re-election.

No other members of the Board should be nominated, and no members of the University staff are eligible. Candidates must be nominated by five or more benefactors. Nominations must be in writing, signed, and received by the Secretary of the University on or before December 31, 1977.

Current Board Members

B.B. Alexander
D.B. Annan
R.D. Armstrong
Alfred Bader
Elspeth Baugh
Agnes Benidickson
S.R. Blair
Beatrice Bryce
Mary Collins
J.S. Dewar

T.D. French
Dr. J.D. Gibson
G.C. Gray
L.G. Greenwood
H.J. Hamilton
E.G.A. Jorgensen
J. Kostuik
H.S. Ladd
A.H. Lemmon

W.F. Light
Judge Walter Little
H.I. Marshall
Joe Morris
W.V. Moore
K.R. MacGregor
D.L. Rigsby
C.E. Ritchie
N.M. Rogers
Jean I. Royce

R.W. Southam
E.V. Swain
R.K. Thoman
Evelina Thompson
Mrs. G.S. Watts

Ex-officio members
Rector Morris Chochla
Chancellor Roland Michener
Principal R.L. Watts

Get Involved Again

The Alumni Award for Excellence in Teaching

The Board of Directors of Queen's Alumni Association invites the general membership to share with students and faculty in nominating candidates for the 1978 award.

WINNERS:

Prof. W.D. Gilbert, Department of Mechanical Engineering, 1975

Prof. H.R. Stuart Ryan, Faculty of Law, 1976

Prof. A.R.C. Duncan, Philosophy Department, 1977

PRIZE AWARD: A certificate and a tax-free sum of $1,000

ELIGIBILITY: Candidates must be full-time members of the University's teaching staff who have completed three years of full-time teaching.

CRITERIA: It is expected that the following criteria will be among those considered by both nominators and evaluators alike. Candidates should: (1) Have a comprehensive knowledge of their subject. (2) Be habitually well prepared for teaching sessions, be they lectures, laboratories, seminars or tutorials. (3) Have enthusiasm for the subject and the capacity to arouse interest in it among students. (4) Encourage student participation in the teaching-learning process. (5) Set a high standard. (6) Successfully motivate students to attain such a standard. (7) Communicate effectively at levels appropriate to the student's capacity. (8) Utilize methods of evaluation of student performance which stress understanding of the subject rather than just the ability to memorize. (9) Be accessible to students outside class hours. (10) Have a reputation for superior teaching and be recognized for this quality by students and colleagues alike.

NOMINATIONS: Each nomination must be signed by five students, staff members or alumni and submitted to the Director of Alumni Affairs on or before December 31. All nominations will be reviewed by a Teaching Award Committee consisting of representatives from faculty, the student body and the Alumni Association.

ANNOUNCEMENT AND PRESENTATION: Normally, the name of the award recipient will be announced in the May issue of the Queen's Review and an early April issue of the Queen's Journal. The award will be presented by the President of the Alumni Association at the appropriate Spring Convocation.

NOMINATIONS FOR HONORARY DEGREES

The Senate Committee on Honorary Degrees invites nominations for the Award of Honorary Degrees at the 1978 Convocations.

These nominations must be submitted to the Registrar by December 1, 1977. Nominations received after that date can not be considered for 1978. Please include the following information with each nomination:

- (a) Name in full
- (b) Permanent address
- (c) A brief biographical outline, including education and employment
- (d) Reasons for recommending the award of an Honorary Degree.

Remember the football games?

Remember the Science Formal?

Remember arriving in first year?

Remember the Journal?

The Journal, publishing twice weekly, is entering its 105th year as the newspaper of the Queen's community. Widely read and respected on campus, the Journal covers the events and outlooks that constitute university life at Queen's and across the country.

A limited number of yearly subscriptions to the Journal, mailed automatically at the time of printing, are available for $10.00 from:

Queen's Journal,
John Deutsch University Centre,
Queen's University,
Kingston, Ont. K7L 3N6

*Subscribe to the Journal
-- and remember Queen's*

ALL QUEEN'S ALUMNI

The Annual Meeting of Queen's Alumni Association will take place at 4:30 p.m. on Friday, Oct. 14. All graduates and former students are members of the Association and are most cordially invited to attend.

Chairman: Eric Jorgensen, Sc. '49.

John Deutsch University Centre
(near the Reunion Registration Desk)

Queen's and its impact on four communities

Extracts from a talk by Dr. Duncan Sinclair, Dean of Arts and Science, to Queen's Staff Association

Part One

Dr. Duncan G. Sinclair, Arts '55, Ph.D. '63 (D.V.M., M.S.A.), Dean of the Faculty of Arts and Science.

One of the problems that has developed in the modern university is that some of its segments have been protected from the complexities of running the modern university organization. For example, as students walk through a registration line, they have no idea or appreciation of the amount of organizational work required to move them from point A to point B. When they go to pay their fees, what's the administrative cost? The Calendar, which takes a great deal of preparation, is leafed through in a pretty cavalier sort of way. Similarly, faculty members are often very isolated from the real work of making the place function.

The University depends for its existence on its reputation. If it doesn't have a reputation for providing good education, then it will cease to exist. We can advertise and make our educational opportunities known far and wide by the Calendar and other devices, but our reputation is carried most effectively by satisfied customers, students, who leave at the end of each term or on graduation. They are our best boosters.

Who's in Charge Here? The Invisible Workers

Paradoxically, one of the things that satisfies those customers is not having to be diverted by the complexity of the place. If the organization is invisible — if they are easily registered and find it easy to pay their fees and settle into their residence accommodation — the better it is from their perspective. But at the same time, it means that all kinds of important labour and thousands of administrative dollars are invisible to the majority of people.

Similarly, the University's reputation depends on the research it generates, because that's what we sell outside the place — research and the quality of education. Faculty members who may not realize what makes the place operate require a degree of detachment to accomplish great things in research; at the same time, their research is accomplished with a certain lack of realism because of the expectation that things will automatically run, and things won't run unless they are run by somebody.

The Function Was Clear; The People Were Four

To discuss the topic Queen's University and its impact on our community, I'm trying to put on a community 'hat' and look at Queen's from the perspective of someone who hasn't been at the University or doesn't know much about it first-hand. That's difficult for me to do, because I've been associated with Queen's since I came here as a little boy in 1937. My father was a professor. In fact, I was called 'Little Sinc' around here for many, many years. The University was a small place then, and roles were more strictly defined.

Students had a clear function. They studied and they learned, they disciplined themselves, and in that respect they were different from students in other universities. The Alma Mater Society is the oldest self-governing student body in the country, and has had responsibility for student discipline since long ago. In fact, it was a forerunner of similar organizations elsewhere. Students, then, had a very defined function and they performed that with no thought of having other roles in the university. Faculty members, similarly, had a well-defined function. They were here to teach and do research and not really to do anything else.

Queen's was run by a small cadre of devoted generalists who really made the place go, and they were absolutely invisible to most people because they just did things and nobody worried about the Senate or committees. The Senate used to meet every once in a while and approve degrees, but basically it carried out none of the administrative committee work that is now the vogue.

Those people who made the place run really were four in number and I knew them. One was the Principal (Principal Wallace in the '30s), and he looked after faculty primarily and anything else in a sort of overview.

Then there was Dr. Jean Royce, the Registrar. She looked after the students. Jean decided who was admitted and how they proceeded and what programs they should take, and when they didn't measure up she decided that they should leave. I can remember as a student coming in to see her. It was 'Yes, Miss Royce' and 'No, Miss Royce' and 'Thank you three bags full, Miss Royce' and no fooling around. She ran the place in that respect completely.

Bursar W.E. McNeill, who was a Professor of English who didn't get to profess much English, ran the finances of the place absolutely, and he got us through the Depression without great deterioration when many other universities were very seriously damaged. He was the Vice-Principal (Finance), the Bursar, the Investment Board and the whole shebang rolled into one.

And the fourth person who really ran the place was Ralph Hinton, who was affectionately called 'Old Man Hinton' because 'young Hinton' was his son Norman, a Professor of Microbiology. Old Man Hinton built the buildings and he looked after them. He also looked after the grounds and did everything else. If you wanted something done, you phoned one of these three people: Jean Royce if it had anything to do with students, Bursar McNeill if it was about money, and Ralph Hinton for anything else. It all got done and Queen's was extraordinarily efficient.

Now we have the same categories of people around campus, but those simple functions have become blurred. Now students get involved with advising on policy structure and faculty members do more than teaching and research — they get involved with administrative chores — and administrative officers get involved in policy formation. This is all to the good. It makes a large and complex university more cohesive. If we had continued on the same kind of clear division of responsibilities as outlined while Queen's was growing to this size, very few of these constituencies would really talk to one another now. In the old days when there were 1,500 students, this could be managed. With 10,000 or more it would be very fragmented, and so the melding of responsibilities has become important.

The First Community: Kingston

Let me return to my theme of Queen's as it is seen by our communities. First, how do the citizens of Kingston see the University? (For now I'll bypass the economical and cultural impact of Queen's on the city, although it's major.) As a Kingstonian I think most citizens see the University as a large and somewhat threatening place — a little mysterious, perhaps. It's made up primarily of students who are not Kingstonians. Fully 90% of them come from somewhere outside the immediate Kingston area, and as a consequence Queen's is the largest residential university in Canada. The citizens look on students as being somewhat akin to tourists — a mixed blessing. They are alright to have at some times of the year, but it's nice when so many of them go home, too.

Those who see Queen's as an employer like other employers (such as Alcan, Dupont, shops and stores) look on the University as being full of neighbours and good citizens who work there. I think it's important that the Kingston citizen sees the University as being populated in part by fellow citizens (hundreds of whom are also Queen's alumni).

Faculty members are seen as somewhere in between — not real Kingstonians. Most of them have come here from somewhere else and their work is only vaguely understood. A man walking his dog in the middle of the morning gives the University a bad name, although he may be 'working'. A number of faculty members, particularly those whose work is in the area of theory, don't require any apparatus. They don't require a room. They may not need to do anything visible but scribble things down on bits of paper and once a week pull them out and think about them. That's a very mysterious kind of work, and it's hard for people to understand that, in fact, it is work. Nonetheless, these mysterious people are, I think, generally tolerated by the citizens of Kingston and are looked upon as a good resource, particularly when one of them appears on national television or in the newspaper.

The Second Community: Ontario

In Ontario as a province, Queen's is regarded as a small, high-quality university in a relatively small community. I think many Ontarions, especially if they live in a large centre such as Toronto or Ottawa, look at Queen's as the place to go as a student, or to send their children if they choose to go to university. Queen's provides an opportunity for young people to live away from home

Jean Royce, the Registrar: 'She looked after the students...and no fooling around.'

Bursar W.E. McNeill: 'He got us through the Depression without serious damage.'

Prof. George Ewan (left) who, with fellow physicists Alex Stewart and Bennett Lewis, is one of Queen's research 'stars.'

"In the third community, Canada, Queen's still carries a reputation as the source of powerful federal mandarins."

Jurist/Principal Corry with a distinguished fellow jurist, Prime Minister Pearson (1965)

Man in the middle: Economist/Principal Mackintosh with Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent (left) and Ontario Premier Leslie Frost.

Principal Deutsch sending Prime Minister Trudeau 'back to Ottawa with more confidence' (1968) without having to make new adjustments in a somewhat threatening community. The word Kingston, to them, means a good community and a fine university; both aspects are important in maintaining Queen's image.

In Ontario, Queen's is being looked on as a source of expertise by government and industry — and it was not always so. The change has occurred in the last four or five years. Previously Queen's had had an image of being a federal and national university, oriented more toward the federal government and Ottawa politics than the provincial system, but this is shifting more than slightly. Provincial governments now need a lot of expertise, and they are looking to Queen's as a source.

The Third Community: Canada

In Canada, I am told, Queen's is now looked on as a small, prestige university with a particularly strong reputation for research in economics, political studies and business. Queen's continues to carry a reputation as the source of powerful, senior civil servants who ran Ottawa in the days when government did what it was supposed to do — O.D. Skelton, Frank Knox, W.A. Mackintosh and most recently, of course, John Deutsch. They were important, influential mandarins in Ottawa, and they all came from Queen's. As a matter of fact, at Dr. Deutsch's installation as Principal, when the Prime Minister was given an honorary degree he remarked that having got his degree from Queen's, he could go back to Ottawa and face his colleagues with greater confidence.

The Fourth Community: The World

If the University is going to be anything, it really should seek to have an international reputation. Queen's is being recognized to an increasing extent. It was not many years ago when I went to Columbia as a young post-doc, and even in New York City many of my colleagues did not know of Queen's. The Canadian university, the only one, was McGill. In the last 10 years the University of Toronto has gained some degree of international prominence. Reputations of universities are built very slowly; it takes years and years and years, and so the productivity that Queen's has had in the last 25 years is only now beginning to bear fruit.

What reputation we have in the world is a research reputation, and that's based on the work of a few people — the so-called 'stars' that shine far beyond their campus environment, and we have several of them. David Easton is recognized the world over as a real first-class bona fide hummer in political studies. Richard Lipsey has a similar name in economics. Dr. Deutsch's reputation extended well beyond Canada. In chemistry, J.K.N. Jones was a world-renowned Fellow of the Royal Society, won every medal possible in carbohydrate chemistry, and carried a big reputation for Queen's. In physics, George Ewan and Alex Stewart both have phenomenal reputations outside the country, and our Distinguished Professor of Science, Bennett Lewis, who chose to retire to Queen's (and I use the term 'retire' very loosely indeed), is a primary developer of the Candu reactor. Apart from what you've heard about the way in which it was sold, that's a good reactor; it's the best one going and the least polluting. Principal Corry, of course, is a jurist of substantial international reputation. A.R.M. Lower represents Canadian history and is himself the textbook. (In fact, he has written several textbooks.) Then there is George Whalley in English, Donald Wood in Industrial Relations — the list can go on, and such people carry our international reputation.

It is important to a university to have professors of this calibre, and again I would refer you to our product: the quality of a Queen's education and the substantiveness of the research that we do.

Dean Sinclair's comments on Queen's impact in terms of health care, research, art, music and drama will appear in the November-December issue.

Part Two will also put in provincial and national perspective the work of Professors Atherton (Maglev), Anhalt and Narcisse-Mair (music), Botterell (health services to Ontario agriculture), Smith and Fraser (economics of health care), Simeon (intergovernmental relations), Cooke (Arctic ecology), Rawlyk and Gibson (Canadian history).

Weekend University

Queen's University at Kingston
Donald Gordon Centre

In 1977-78 Queen's continues its highly successful Weekend University program.

Come for a weekend at the Donald Gordon Centre to learn about and discuss a favourite subject with scholars from Queen's faculty.

Meet old friends and make new ones.

Arrive on Friday evening for cocktail reception, dinner and the opening session. Stay till after lunch on Sunday. All-inclusive fee covers two cocktail receptions, all gourmet meals, accommodation in single rooms and the seminars. Bar available.

SINGLE: $100 per weekend COUPLES: $175 per weekend

A non-refundable deposit of $15 is required with each registration

Seminars on the following topics are being offered on weekends this fall and next spring:

OCTOBER 28-30 (77-5)

CANADIAN LITERATURE — with Irving Layton. Poet-professor Tom Marshall and his colleagues in the Department of English will join Irving Layton for a weekend of readings and discussions.

NOVEMBER 18-20 (77-6)

JUST CANADA FAIL?: THE FUTURE OF THE CANADIAN COMMUNITIES. Richard Simeon and other distinguished members of the Queen's community will direct discussion on the roots of the current crisis in Confederation and the range of options and alternatives open to Canadians for the future.

NOVEMBER 25-27 (77-7)

STURM UND DRANG — "The Storm and Stress" of the stylistic revolution in the music of Haydn and Mozart around 1700. Spend a weekend with Denise Narcisse-Mair, Michelle Fillion and Beverly Cavanagh of the Music Department, along with the celebrated Vaghy String Quartet, artists-in-residence. A Friday night concert by the Vaghy Quartet and a choral concert on Saturday will highlight the weekend.

MARCH 31-APRIL 2, 1978 (78-1)

CANADIAN THEATRE — HERE AND NOW? In the past ten years, a greater proliferation of professional theatre in Canada has taken place than occurred in perhaps the preceding two centuries. The many questions surrounding this statement will be explored with members of the Queen's Drama Department. A Drama Department production and well-known Canadian theatre figures will be highlights of the weekend.

APRIL 14-16 (78-2)

REDISCOVERING SMALL TOWNS. There is a resurgence of interest in small towns. Is it nostalgia or do they offer, as some claim, an important alternative to urban and suburban life? Weekend leaders will be Pat Hodge, a Director of the Community Planning Association (Ontario), and Gerald Hodge, Director of Queen's School of Urban and Regional Planning.

APRIL 28-30 (78-3)

HISTORY — IN THE CITY OF KINGSTON AND THE TIME OF SIR JOHN A. Explore the historic sites of Kingston and discuss the history of the time with faculty from the History Department and other members of the Queen's community.

Please enrol me (us) in the following Weekend University seminar(s):

77-5 Oct. 28-30 ☐ 77-6 Nov. 18-20 ☐ 77-7 Nov. 25-27 ☐ 78-1 Mar. 31-April 2 ☐ 78-2 April 14-16 ☐ 78-3 April 28-30
Deposit enclosed ☐ Full fee enclosed ☐ Please send more information ☐

Name

Address

Postal or ZIP Code Telephone

Return to: Hugh Smith, Donald Gordon Centre, Queen's University, Kingston, Ont. K7L 3N6

Around the Campus

Mrs. Margot B. McBurney

New Chief Librarian

Margot B. McBurney of Alberta has begun a five-year term as Chief Librarian of Queen's 20-branch library system, based in Douglas Library. She succeeds Donald A. Redmond, who has been in charge of the burgeoning library system for the past 11 years and who has made outstanding contributions to both the library and the University Senate in that time.

Mrs. McBurney is a native of Edmonton, but was educated in Illinois at Principia College and the University of Illinois in Urbana (M.L.S. '69). After receiving her Master's degree, she returned to Principia to be reference librarian for one year. She joined the library staff of the University of Alberta in July 1970 as systems librarian, and became successively reference librarian, serials cataloguer and head of acquisitions.

She serves on the Council of the American Society for Information Science and is chairman of the Western Canada chapter. She also belongs to both the Canadian and American Library Associations.

Mrs. McBurney recently completed the first year of a Master of Business Administration program at Alberta. She has special interest in organization studies and the use of automation in libraries.

Mr. Redmond plans to take a year's leave of absence in England and will return in 1978 with new responsibilities within Queen's library system.

News of the faculty: Promotions and honours

Until July 1978, Dr. P.L. Roeder will serve as Acting Head of the Department of Geological Sciences. He succeeds Dr. R.A. Price, who will return to full-time academic duties after completing his current sabbatical leave.

Professor Roeder (B.Sc., Tufts, Ph.D., Penn State) joined the Department in 1962. His major research involves experiments at high temperatures on silicate melts and the application of these experiments to volcanic processes.

Prof. James Inglis of the Psychology Department was named president-elect of the Canadian Psychological Association at its annual meeting this summer in Vancouver. Dr. Inglis, 49, a member of Queen's faculty since 1968, will serve three years on the executive of the 2,200-member association. A native of Edinburgh, Dr. Inglis has published 60 scientific papers and reports and has also written a book on abnormal psychology.

Two Queen's professors were among 52 eminent scholars and scientists elected to fellowship in the Royal Society of Canada recently: Dr. David T. Canvin, 46, Professor of Biology, and Dr. A.C. Hamilton, 56, of the English Department. Professor Canvin came to Queen's from the University of Manitoba in 1965. An expert in plant physiology, he has more than 70 published papers on the subject to his credit. Dr. Hamilton was formerly at the University of Washington. He came to Queen's in 1968 as a specialist in English Renaissance literature, and has since published widely in the field.

The Royal Society of Canada was founded in 1882 by the Marquess of Lorne, then Governor-General, and total membership is now 880.

First-year students to be tested for writing skills

During the first six weeks of the fall term, departments in the Faculty of Arts and Science will evaluate the writing ability in English of each student registered in a first-year course. Any regular course work can be used as a basis for assessment, and departments are setting their own standards of written English.

Students whose work is judged unsatisfactory will be advised to report to the English Department for remedial teaching. In supporting the plan, Dr. George Whalley, Head of English, emphasizes that writing English is not a separate "skill" to be learned or tested independently, but an integral part of each student's studies in every discipline.

It is hoped that testing within the various departments will show students that correct writing is part of the normal learning process in every field of study.

According to Dean Robert J. Uffen, the Faculty of Applied Science is studying similar testing procedures, but with emphasis on the ability of students to write clear, technical reports. In Arts and Science, testing is under the direction of Prof. David B. McLay, Associate Dean of Studies.

Third Scholar-in-Residence at Victoria Hall this fall

Historian Jo Vellacott Newberry, B.A. (Oxon), M.A. (Oxon and Toronto), Ph.D. (McMaster) is Scholar-in-Residence at Victoria Hall for the fall term. Dr. Newberry has specialized in British, European and Imperial History and is interested particularly in the development of ideas and institutions in social history, the history of women, pacifism, internationalism and the search for alternatives to war.

She moved into the Scholar's Apartment in Victoria Hall on Sept. 12 and until Dec. 21 will be available for consultation and discussion with undergraduate and graduate students and other members of the university community. She has also placed her high academic qualifications and extensive experience in teaching and research at the service of individuals who are planning a teaching career, who are choosing a specialty, who wish help in developing necessary basic skills (e.g., how to read for and write an essay), and those who are adjusting to academic work after an absence from formal studies.

Dr. Newberry is the third Scholar-in-Residence since the program was initiated last year under the aegis of the Dean of Women, Mrs. Evelyn Reid. She succeeds Dr. Elsie MacGill, who has had a noteworthy career both in aeronautical engineering and public ser-

They pledged to stay in touch

CLUSTER '77. The Alumnae Association recently received a gift from a group calling itself Cluster '77 — those who held donships in the women's residences in '76-'77. Dean of Women Evelyn Reid explains that their sense of community was an experience which the Dons wanted to preserve, even though they were completing their studies and going to work in provinces across the country. "It was felt," she says, "that in our world, life affords few such opportunities for this kind of good human experience, and one should hold carefully such friendship." Their contri- bution to the Alumnae Association was a visible way of sealing their pledge to stay in touch over the years. Standing along the stairs, left to right: Joanne Hayhow, Jim Rodger, Christina Brown, Jannice Istead, Catherine Lech, Dawn Cannon, Susan Pearson, Joan Dawkins, Kathleen Humpage, Nancy Spies and Denise Seguin. Middle: Ruth Peters, Patricia Nutter and Madeleine L'Italien. Front: Dean Reid, Alison Rodger, Cynthia Hall, Susan Walsh, Daphne Dumont, and Gary and Susan Berezny.

CFRC am-fm

Celebrating 55 years on the air

Are you receiving our signal?

If you ever did anything at Queen's Radio, CFRC would like you to join in its 55th anniversary celebration. "After all," as Station Manager Steve Cutway puts it, "it is because of you that we are where we are today."

This is the weekend anniversary program:

Thursday, Oct. 27

(the actual anniversary of the first broadcast from Fleming Hall back in 1922) CFRC will officially open its stereo control room, the first step towards being able to broadcast in stereo. Tours of the expanded station will be conducted, refreshments served, and former station broadcasters will be welcome to participate in the on-air programming. (Carruthers Hall)

Saturday, Oct. 29

An anniversary banquet will be held in the Skylite Dining Room in the John Deutsch University Centre. Seating will be limited. (Tickets $10 per person.)

For tickets and further details, contact Steve Cutway, CFRC, Queen's University, Kingston, Ont. K7L 3N6 (547-6677). Tickets will be mailed upon receipt of money.

"After 55 years," says Steve, "CFRC and CFRC-FM continue to flourish and prosper. The Student Radio Club continues to grow in size and enthusiasm. The future looks bright, due in no small part to encouragement from the Kathleen Ryan Foundation, and it is CFRC's objective to celebrate the 60th anniversary with a new FM transmitter and seven-day-a-week stereophonic programming. In the meantime, I look forward to seeing all the CFRC alumni here this fall."

Open House — Oct. 22

The AMS is sponsoring a University Day followed by an Open House, running back-to-back on Friday and Saturday, Oct. 21 and 22. The Open House happily coincides with the official opening of the John Deutsch University Centre.

Mike MacMillan, AMS Education Commissioner, says the aim of the combined weekend events is "to stimulate thinking and discussion among students, staff, faculty and the community about what the function of a university is (especially Queen's University), and what it could and should be as we near the 1980s." The University Day will feature a major discussion by a panel of well-known speakers and a program of films and group discussions.

"The Open House will provide an avenue for various members of the Queen's community to know ourselves better and should also be a warm way of encouraging a closer relationship with the people of Kingston," say the organizers. "We hope that large numbers of students, staff, faculty, parents and high school students will attend."

For details, contact Mr. MacMillan c/o the AMS Office as the events draw closer.

Around the Campus

vice. During her residency, she was a special resource person for the 150 women in Engineering at Queen's and a guest lecturer in the Faculty of Applied Science.

Memorial to J.K.N. Jones

At the instigation of many old friends and colleagues, Prof. J.K.N. Jones is to be memorialized through the establishment of a research fellowship in his name at the post-doctoral/visiting professor level.

Prof. R.D. Heyding, Head of the Chemistry Department, announced the fellowship fund during a symposium on carbohydrate chemistry held in May and dedicated to the memory of Professor Jones.

Personal contributions may be made through Dr. Heyding. Corporations in the sugar industry will be canvassed for their support as part of Queen's Quest.

Friends of Dr. Malcolm Brown initiate memorial fund

As a tribute to the late Dr. G.M. Brown, M.D. '38, a group of his family and friends has established the G. Malcolm Brown Memorial Fund, the income from which will be used for the advancement of research in the health sciences in Canada. Contributions (payable to the Fund) will be acknowledged by: The Secretary, Medical Research Council, Ottawa, Ont., K1A 0W9.

Awards will likely take the form of annual lectureships, bearing Dr. Brown's name, in conjunction with meetings of major national organizations of physicians, surgeons and biological scientists.

Queen's squashes Brits on two-week tour

In May, four members of Queen's Squash Team were invited to tour the counties of Cornwall and Devon in England. They began at the Cambourne School of Mines in Cornwall and finished off in Swanage, County of Devon. According to team member Blair Baldwin, "The two-week tour was an immense success. Queen's won six of seven matches and has been invited back next spring to play against tougher competition in Bournemouth."

Besides Mr. Baldwin, the group included Bob Moffat, Adrian Devlin, Dave Lang and coaches Ron Eastdeal and Paul Wilson. Their tour was financed by Wintario, the Arts and Science Undergraduate Society, and the Class of Artsci '77.

Engineering for Open Pit Mines

Course dates changed

Due to a conflict in mining conference dates, the course at Queen's in Engineering for Open Pit Mines (announced in the July-August issue) has been moved to November 7, 8 and 9.

As outlined, the course will present the best current technology in drilling and blasting, explosives, geotechnical design, maintenance, plus equipment performance, selection and control. All-inclusive fee for course material, accommodation at the Donald Gordon Centre and all meals is $420 (Canadian).

Those interested may contact the Donald Gordon Centre, Queen's University, Kingston, Ont. K7L 3N6 [(613) 547-5529].

HERB HAMILTON

Queen's Queen's

In his new book, Queen's! Queen's! Queen's!, Herb Hamilton shares his rich experiences as student, alumnus, counsellor to the A.M.S., Director of Alumni Affairs, and editor for almost 40 years of the Queen's Review. Historical incidents, sports highlights and colourful campus figures (W.E. McNeill, for example, Alfie Pierce, Frank Tindall, Dollar Bill and Leonard Brockington) come to life through Herb's characteristic humour, bonhomie, kindness and insight. The names of hundreds of Queen's men and women pepper the book's 312 pages. There are more than 60 illustrations. The lives and times of the seven Principals he knew — from R. Bruce Taylor to Ronald L. Watts — are given a fresh perspective.

Queen's! Queen's! Queen's! is a personal history, an inspiring and entertaining gift from one extraordinary Queen's man to every other man and woman who cherishes a tie with this University.

(Due to factors beyond the control of the Alumni Association, the book was unavailable for mailing in September. Our apologies to those who sent advance orders. An October delivery date is anticipated.)

On Saturday morning during Reunion, the author will be available to autograph Queen's! Queen's! Queen's! after 10 a.m. Inquire at the Registration Desk in the Polson Room.

ORDER FORM:

To: Alumni Office, Queen's University,
Kingston, Ont. K7L 3N6

Please send me copy/copies of Queen's! Queen's Queen's! at $6.00 per copy (soft-cover edition). My cheque or money order for $, payable to "Queen's Alumni Association" is enclosed. If possible, I would like the author's autograph ☐

Name (please print)

Address

..... Postal Code

Queen's on Skis!

Exclusive Ski Charters for Queen's Alumni,

Pick a Package:

ASPEN/SNOWMASS, COLORADO

February 19-26, 1978

$462 inclusive (Cdn.)

Aspen/Snowmass beckons again with its combination of on-hill accommodation, excellent restaurants and super skiing for everyone. A whole new section of the 'Big Burn' offers challenging runs for the better skiers. Of course, the Colorado powder and sunshine will be back in great quantities for you to enjoy.

TELLURIDE, COLORADO

February 19-26, 1978

$407 inclusive (Cdn.)

Telluride provides an alternative for those who feel they really must try something different. An old mining town with a new ski area provides fantastic scenery, some very challenging runs for the experts, and 'no lift line' skiing for all. First-class accommodation and excellent restaurants provide all the ingredients for a great ski vacation.

Both packages include air travel. (Toronto-Grand Junction return), airport transfers, luxury accommodation for seven nights, twin room with bath, six-day lift tickets, complimentary welcoming reception and all applicable taxes.

Space on these charters is limited and registration will be made on a first-come, first-served basis.

About Registration, Payments, Cancellation and Baggage

Registration: With Queen's Alumni Association

Deposit: A deposit of $75 is required at the time of booking

Final Payment: Balance due 30 days prior to departure

Cancellation: Up to 30 days prior to departure — subject to $75 cancellation charge

Within 30 days of departure — subject to $150 cancellation charge; Within three days of departure — subject to full holiday cost

Full refund is made when passenger finds a substitute

A full refund less $25 is made when the tour operator finds a substitute

Baggage: 66 lbs. allowance per person, including skis, boots and poles

Their Families and Friends

EUROPEAN SKI VACATION

FEBRUARY 4-18, 1978

A two-week, two-country European ski package is being planned. Full details are not available at the moment, but the following will be sufficient to determine whether you are interested. The ski package will include one week in Austria and one week in Switzerland at famous ski areas. The price includes air transportation via SWISSAIR from Toronto or Montreal, ground transfers, luxury accommodation and all applicable taxes. Two meals per day and lift tickets are included for the first week only, leaving you free to 'do your own thing' the second week.

The price is estimated to be $900 per person from Toronto ($30 less from Montreal).

These tours are sponsored by the Queen's Alumni Association and operated by SkiCan Ltd., 443 Mt. Pleasant Rd., Toronto, Ont. M4S 2L8. The Alumni Association and SkiCan, which acts only as agent in respect of air and ground carriage, accommodation and ski lifts, therefore have no responsibility for damages resulting from any acts or omissions relating to those services. Carrier's liability and any limitations thereto may be determined by reference to applicable laws, the provision of passenger tickets and baggage checks and applicable tariffs. Rates quoted are based on tariffs and exchange current at time of printing and are subject to change at or before time of final payment.

No revision of included features is anticipated. However, SkiCan reserves the right to make such changes as it may deem necessary and to provide reasonable notice thereof if possible, with the mutual understanding that any additional expense resulting therefrom will be paid by the individual passenger. In the event cancellation of a tour becomes necessary by reason of factors beyond its control, the liability of SkiCan Ltd. is limited to the applicable tour price or such portion thereof which has been paid.

TO: Queen's Alumni Association, Queen's University, Kingston, Ont. K7L 3N6

- ☐ Enclosed is a deposit of $_____ for _____ reservations on the Aspen/Snowmass OR Telluride ski excursion. (Please make cheques payable to "SkiCan Ltd.")
- ☐ Yes, I am interested in the two-week European Ski Vacation. Please send more information.

NAME(S) _____
(please print)

ADDRESS _____

PHONE (residence) _____

SIGNATURE

At the Branches

A view of the Queen's alumni luncheon in Hong Kong, June 20. Host was Queen's Quest Chairman Cedric E. Ritchie, who is also Chairman and President, Bank of Nova Scotia. Luncheon Chairman was Ho Hau Veng, Sc. '70.

Hong Kong alumni rally to Queen's Quest

On June 20, 23 Queen's graduates and parents met for lunch in the Mandarin Hotel in Hong Kong. Their host was Cedric Ritchie, who was on a business trip as Chairman and President of the Bank of Nova Scotia and who made his visit an opportunity to tell Queen's people in Hong Kong about Queen's Quest. Mr. Ritchie is Chairman of the upcoming campaign and a member of Queen's Board of Trustees.

The luncheon was chaired by Ho Hau Veng, Sc. '70, who was encouraged by the group's enthusiasm to begin organizing a formal Branch for Hong Kong and Kowloon. In his efforts to reach all Queen's alumni and members of the Parents Association in the area, Mr. Ho is being assisted by Trevor Taylor, senior representative of the Bank of Nova Scotia in Hong Kong. Anyone not yet contacted who is interested in joining the Branch may reach Mr. Taylor at 2011 Connaught Centre (5-250084-5) or Mr. Ho, Director, Kuenti Group of Companies, 79-83 Queen's Road C.

Graduates who attended the first meeting were: Clement Chow, Henry Fei, Bill Leung, Kam Li, Peter K.K. Wong, Andrew Wong, Samuel Chung, Warren Chan Wing Tung, Wilson Wong

P.H.E. ALUMNAE

The P.H.E. Alumnae Association of Queen's University will hold its annual meeting on the morning of Saturday, Oct. 15 (Reunion Weekend). For details, please contact: Mrs. Margaret Broadfoot, President, R.R. 6, Peterborough, Ont. K9J 6X7.

Po Hang, M.L. Chiu, Edmond Ma, Ng Kui Len, Peter Woo, Prof. Y.H. Chan, Lee Tak Wing, Ho Yun Chuen, Chan Ping Cheung, Kim Cham, Albert Ho Yee Wai, and Lawrence Tsui.

Parents Association members: Robert Wong, Yeung Shiu Ming, and Yung Wei Nien with his student son, Chi Ho.

President Irish Marsh reports from Bermuda

On Saturday evening, June 18, the Bermuda Branch held a 'Coffee-Time Social' in honour of the spring lecturers in Bermuda, Drs. W.P. Zion and K.B. Sayeed, and their wives. A short address with a political orientation, depicting differences in social conditions in certain countries, was delivered by Professor Sayeed. The remainder of the evening was spent mainly in reminiscing about student life at Queen's and in discussing avenues for encouraging Bermuda students to complete degrees at Queen's. The venue for this social activity was the Department of Academic Studies at the Bermuda College.

The summer social gathering was a buffet supper at 'Dealton', the home of Mrs. Barbara Harries in Warwick, on Saturday, Aug. 6. This was in honour of the three summer lecturers from Queen's: Dr. F.S. Colwell, Dr. F. Knowles and Dr. F. Clarke, and their wives. No formal speeches were made.

Branch President Iris Marsh welcomed the alumni and introduced the guests after which all three professors spoke briefly in appreciation of the hospitality extended to them by the Alumni Association.

Both events were happy occasions, well attended by regular members of the Bermuda Branch, as well as by undergraduates currently enrolled in courses at Queen's.

Someone You Know

As of August, classes from 18 graduating years had joined the initial phase of Queen's new Class Agent program. (See March-April Review.) If your class is among those listed below, you may be hearing from one of your classmates any day. We welcome those who have already agreed to serve Queen's as Class Agents, and we would like to hear from others who are willing to renew old friendships and strengthen the bonds of both fellowship and financial support between alumni and the University. Please contact Sandra Woods, Associate Fund Director, Queen's Alumni Association (613-547-6560)

CLASS AGENTS

1935	Arts	George Ault Barbara Gowans George Leng	1960	Science	Gary Tucker Douglas Hilliard	1976	Artsci	Anne Brown John Ronson Timothy Shoniker Jim Henderson David Searle Gordon Taylor Ferelyth Bruce-Lockhart Dawn Henderson Rosemary Helmer Brad Honsberger Paul Bitove Monte Ray McMurchy Janet McMillan Howard Campbell Paul Philbrook Christopher George James Gillis Allan Austin Ian Fraser Gloria Dawn Thomson Linda LeSueur John Palmer Beverly Watson
	Medicine	Dr. George Elliot		Nursing	Donna (Crosland) Blight
1940	Arts	Alan Clark Edna (O'Sullivan) Faulkner J.M. Purvis Alexander Ross	1963	Phys Ed	Jan (Elliott) Galasso
	Science	G.W. Neumann William Newby H.F. 'Ding' McGill		Medicine	Dr. Bill James
1945	Arts	Gwendolyn (Thoms) Manchester Glenn Clark	1965	Artsci	Peter Kennedy Ann (Cranston) Blair Edward Franchuk Marline (Bourdreau) Maycock
	Medicine	Dr. K.L. Clark		Science	Tom Beynon
	Science	Bob Bannard Donald Craig	1968	Law	Judge Brian Stevenson
				Law	Guy Potvin
1950	Arts	Eric Toller Irene (O'Grady) Power	1969	Phys Ed	Marg (Closson) Broadfoot
	Medicine	Dr. Angus MacMillan					Medicine	Dr. Don Mintz Dr. Greg Thomson
	Science	James Kirk Donald Smellie	1970	Artsci	Bruce Fournier David St. Clair Bond David Daubney Doug Rigsby Roslyn (Kaye) Stollery Thomas Wright		Law	David McFadyen Dean Samaras James 'Jay' Munsie
				Medicine	Dr. Al Maloney		Education	Mary Lea Earle
1955	Arts	Norm Dyson Mary Conlon Marion 'Min' (Jarrett) Elliott		Science	John Wood Bruce Flexman Jeff Thomson		Nursing	Claire T. Baillargeon
	Science	H.A. Zuzek Norris Eades H.K. Sandlos		Law	Kelvin Ford		Phys Ed	Kathy Jackson Ian King
1958	Arts	Cathy (Perkins) Morton Frank Pickard		Business	N. Nikolaiczuk John Banks		Business	James Hooper Karyn Brooks Leslie Ann (Clark) Sedore Douglas Johnstone Peter Ian Benson Christine Thompson Michael duManoir Larry Humphries
				Grad Studies	Thomas McMillan Dr. H.J. Manz
1959	Nursing	Sheila (Lucas) Murray
1960	Artsci	Dirk Van Raalte Michael Gray Jean (Chamberlain) Haynes Diana Pappas Rev. Robert Clark	1971	Artsci	Don MacLeod		Rehab Therapy	Sarah Mulligan Brenda Boucher
	Medicine	Dr. Jim Malpass		Science	Gordon Barrington Robert Tate Daniel Gale Bryce MacKinnon Ken Manner

1977 Class Agents will be listed in the November-December issue.

Names in the News

Births

Allan — To Robert Ede Allan, Sc. '75, and Mary, Brockville, Ont., Dec. 13, 1976, a son (Damon).

Anderson — To Dr. Alan B. Anderson, Arts '62 (M.A., New School for Social Research, N.Y., Ph.D., Saskatchewan), and Karyn, Saskatoon, Sask., April 27, a son (Kjell Nelson), brother for Kirsten.

Bee — To Ken Bee, Sc. '71, and Janice, Dresden, Ont., May 15, a daughter (Heather Suzanne), sister for Colleen.

Brown — To Ian D. R. Brown, Arts '73 (M.A., Waterloo), and Mrs. Brown (Linda Mooney), Arts '74 (M.S.W., Wilfrid Laurier), Waterloo, Ont., a son (Adam Campbell), brother for Kim; grandson for Dr. Hudson Campbell, Med. '42.

Caris — To Mark Caris, Arts '73, and Mrs. Caris (Ingrid Susi), Arts '74, Noranda, Que., Nov. 4, 1976, a daughter (Melanie Marie).

Catterick — To John D. Catterick, Arts, P.H.E. '69, and Nancy, Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., Oct. 4, 1976, a son (Jordy Garrett), brother for Lara, 8, and David, 6.

Clackett — To Gary Bruce Clackett, Sc. '71, and Mrs. Clackett, Espanola, Ont., March 29, a son (Aaron Cameron), grandson for Peter Cameron McLeod, Sc. '49.

Comrie — To Frank and Joan Comrie (Joan Hibbard), Arts '72, Toronto, Ont., March 30, a daughter (Elise Jane).

Dafoe — To Stan M. Dafoe, Sc. '76, and Mrs. Dafoe (Carolyn Lewis), Mus. '76, Ed. '77, Foxboro, Ont., May 21, a son (Darryl Stanley). Mr. Dafoe is a electrical engineer at Fabricon Manufacturing, Belleville, Ont.

Davies — To Gareth W. Davies, Sc. '72, and Sue, Montreal, Que., Jan. 18, a son (Michael Jonathan). The Davies are currently living in Summerside, P.E.I.

Flow — To Alex Flow (B.Com., M.A., Toronto), and Mrs. Flow (Judy Nicholson), Arts '62 (M.S.W., Toronto), Thornhill, Ont., Feb. 27, a son (Thomas Alexander), brother for Sandra; grandson for Robert Nicholson, Sc. '33.

Gavura — To David Gavura, Sc. '72, and Sherry, Knowlton, Que., March 31, a son (Bradley David), brother for Trevor Paul, born April 16, 1975.

Getty — To Douglas Getty and Mrs. Getty (Ruth Dundass), Arts '61, London, Ont., July 5, a daughter (Megan Emily Ruth), sister for Gillian, Nicole and Malcolm; granddaughter for W. M. Dundass, Sc. '36.

Gillies — To Dr. Callum Gillies, Arts '70, M.Sc. (Arts) '72, Ph.D. '75, and Mrs. Gillies (Elaine Dent), M.Sc. (Arts) '71, Ed. '75 (B.Sc., McGill), Oakville, Ont., April 20, a daughter (Elizabeth Rachel).

Henderson — To Jack Henderson and Mrs. Henderson (Janet Murray), Dip. O.T. '71, B.Sc. O.T. '76, Kingston, Ont., May 27, 1976, a son (Dugald Robert), grandson for Robert F. Murray, Arts '38 (M.B.A., Harvard), and Mrs. Murray (Evangeline Phillips), Arts '40 (R.N., Sick Children's Hospital); nephew for Mary Henderson, Arts '66 (M.A., Tufts), Dr. Austin Henderson, Arts '65 (M.S., Illinois, Ph.D., M.I.T.), James Mustard, Sc. '74, and Mrs. James Mustard (Joan Murray), Arts '73, Ed. '74.

Holliday — To Dr. Neil J. Holliday (B.Sc., London, Ph.D., Bristol), and Mrs. Holliday (Lynda J. Donald), Arts '67, M.Sc. (Arts) '68 (Ph.D., London), Winnipeg, Man., July 30, 1976, a daughter (Jennifer Leah).

Hummel — To Neil F. Hummel, Com. '69, and Patricia (B.A., Western, B.Ed., Toronto), Toronto, Ont., April 22, a daughter (Stephanie Katherine).

Huzil — To Terry Huzil, Law '69 (B.A., Seattle), and Barbara, Lethbridge, Alta., Jan. 20, 1976, twin daughters (Jennifer Lynne and Tanis Leigh), sisters for Torin.

Jackson — To Bruce R. Jackson, Com. '70, and Mrs. Jackson (Mary Anne Leuty), Arts '72, Ottawa, Ont., April 28, a daughter (Heather Diane), sister for Geoffrey David, born Oct. 24, 1974.

Kitchen — To Ronald J. Kitchen, Arts '71 (LL.B., Osgoode), and Mrs. Kitchen (Melanie Von Bredow), Arts '71, Oshawa, Ont., April 22, a daughter (Melissa Leonie).

Leech — To Jim Leech, M.B.A. '73 (B.Sc., RMC), and Jackie (Jackie Moye), Arts '74, Calgary, Alta., June 22, a daughter (Joanna Marjoria), sister for Jennifer.

Loney — To Richard Loney, Arts '70, M.A. '72, and Mrs. Loney (Zillah Stewart), Arts '71, Ed. '72, Sherbrooke, Que., April 16, a son (Glenn David). The Loneys are living in Sherbrooke, where Dick is an English Professor at Champlain Regional College.

MacGregor — To Malcolm and Nancy MacGregor (Nancy O'Connor), Arts '68, Ed. '69, Cornwall, Ont., April 13, a son (Scott Alexander O'Connor), nephew for Dr. Michael J. O'Connor, Sc. '68, Ph.D. '75 (M.Sc., Calgary), and Mrs. O'Connor (Mary Agar), Arts '68.

Mallory — To Richard W. Mallory, Ed. '72 (B.A., Ottawa), and Mrs. Mallory (Jacqueline Nutis), Ed. '72 (B.A., Ottawa), Cornwall, Ont., April 14, 1976, a son (Adam Taylor).

Maniaci — To Anthony Maniaci (LL.B., Ottawa), and Mrs. Maniaci (Bonnie Lynn Low), Arts '68, Ottawa, Ont., a son, brother for Sean; grandson for Orian Low, Q.C., Arts '34.

Manske — To Jim Manske, Ed. '72 (B.Sc., Waterloo), and Mrs. Manske (Jane Smith), Ed. '72 (B.A., Western), Welland, Ont., April 12, a daughter (Carrie Ann).

McKee — To Ron McKee, Sc. '73, M.Sc. '74, and Mrs. McKee (Pat London), Dip. O.T. '74, Edmonton, Alta., May 6, a daughter (Sarah Jennifer).

McShane — To Dr. Wayne McShane, Med. '67, and Mrs. McShane, Brampton, Ont., May 10, a daughter (Valerie), sister for Julie and Heather.

Muir — To J. A. (Sandy) Muir, Com. '73, and Mrs. Muir (Marie Robb), Arts '73, Cambridge, Ont., March 24, a son (Thomas Alexander); grandson for J. D. Muir, Com. '46; nephew for Mrs. J. E. Maldonado (Patricia Muir), N.Sc. '69, of Ecuador, South America.

Mustard — To James Mustard, Sc. '74, and Mrs. Mustard (Joan Murray), Arts '73, Ed. '74, Whitehorse, Yukon, Sept. 19, 1976, a daughter (Jennifer Laurene); granddaughter for Robert F. Murray, Arts '38 (M.B.A., Harvard), and Mrs. Murray (Evangeline Phillips), Arts '40 (R.N., Sick Children's).

Newman — To Richard Bruce Newman, Com. '74, and Dale, Kingston, Ont., Feb. 17, a daughter (Lynda Gale), sister for twins Cynthia and Brenda; granddaughter for Seldon Newman, Arts '41, and Mrs. Newman (June Climo), Arts '49, Ed. '71; great-granddaughter for Cecil Climo, Sc. '23.

Nicholson — To Byron Nicholson, Sc. '72, and Mrs. Nicholson (Marilyn Phillips), O.T. '73, St. Catharines, Ont., April 24, a daughter (Michelle Lynn), sister for Lisa Ann.

Pike — To Bob Pike (B.Com., Toronto), and Mrs. Pike (Peggy Munro), Arts '72, Toronto, Ont., March 29, a daughter (Carolyn Anne). The Pikes live at 149 Manor Rd. E., Toronto.

Rennick — To Carl Rennick, Sc. '72, and Lynda Rennick, Windsor, Ont., May 4, a daughter (Kelly Anne), sister for Deanna.

Ross — To Dr. John R. Ross, Med. '72, and Mrs. Ross (Dona Campbell), Arts '71, Ottawa, Ont., April 7, a son (Christopher). Dr. and Mrs. Ross are now living at 614 Patricia Ave., Winnipeg, Man. R3T 3A6.

Roth — To Paul Roth (B.Arch., MRAIC), and Mrs. Roth (Carolyn Bertram), Arts '69, Toronto, Ont., April 14, a daughter (Lindsay Carolyn).

Saint Germain — To Rev. Barry J. Saint Germain, M. Div. '75 (B.A., Carleton), and Mrs. Saint Germain (Karen E. Wilson), Ed. '71 (B.A., Carleton), at Dauphin, Man., March 2, 1976, a daughter (Laurie Renée). Mr. Saint Germain has been appointed senior minister of St. Paul's United Church, Virden, Man.

Shelton — To Douglas G. Shelton, Sc. '66, and Carol, Toronto, Ont., April 14, 1976, a son (Matthew Jeremy), brother for Owen. The Sheltons now live in Thunder Bay, Ont., where Mr. Shelton is manager of Ontario Hydro's generating station.

Shepherd — To Ron W. Shepherd, Arts '77, and Mrs. Shepherd (Julie Stover), Arts '76, Ed. '77, Kingston, Ont., May 13, a son (James Thomas).

Smith — To Major Forrest Smith, Sc. '67, and Diana (B.Sc., Alberta), London, Ont., May 17, a son (Gregory Benjamin), brother for Jason.

Strong — To Peter W. Strong, Law '67 (B.A., Memorial), and Joan, St. John's, Nfld., Dec. 30, 1976, a daughter.

Thomas — To David J. Thomas, Arts '72, and Carolyn, Victoria, B.C., April 4, a son (Benjamin David Zaruk). Mr. Thomas is a partner in the consulting firm of Seakem Oceanography Ltd. The Thomas family lives at 933 Meares St., Victoria.

Vice — To Kenneth R. Vice, Sc. '72, and Mrs. Vice, Chesterville, Ont., March 25, a daughter (Katherine Laura), sister for Julie Elizabeth.

Marriages

Bhargava — On May 27, Yolande Henri (B.N.Sc., UQTR), to Dr. Vijay K. Bhargava, Sc. '70, M.Sc. '72, Ph.D. '74 (B.Sc., Rajasthan). Dr. and Mrs. Bhargava are living at 218 Berlioz, Apt. 301, Nun's Island, Montreal, Que. H3E 1B8.

Boyle — In Ottawa, Ont., on Aug. 19, 1975, Hazel Burvell to James R. Boyle, Arts '71. The Boyles are living in Toronto, Ont., where they are both teachers. James is with the Regal Road School.

Brown-Frazao — On Sept. 6, 1975, in Kingston, Ont., Ana Paula Frazao, Arts '75, to William C. Brown, Arts '73. Mrs. Brown graduated this year with a degree in Speech Pathology from the University of Toronto. The Browns are living in Ottawa.

Chalmers — On July 16, Barbara Anne Loop to Andrew Kerwin 'Kerry' Chalmers, Ed. '75 (B. Eng., Carleton). The Chalmers are living in Ottawa, Ont., where Barbara is completing her second year in Engineering at Carleton.

Feasby-Karpus — In Toronto, Ont., on June 18, Janet Alexandra Karpus, Arts '75, Law '77, to Paul Robert Hugh Feasby, Sc. '74, M.B.A. '76. Included in the wedding party were Linda Wasylyk, Arts '75, Joanne Firstbrook, Arts '75, Anne Kennedy, Arts '75, Law '77, Keith Reilly, Arts '74, David Stewart, Arts '74, and Jamie Tiller, Arts '74. Mr. and Mrs. Feasby are living in Toronto, where Janet is articling with the law firm of Miller, Thomson, Sedgewick, Lewis and Healy, and Paul is employed by Chemical Canada, a division of Imperial Oil Ltd.

Gillespie-Mulock — On June 25, in Ottawa, Ont., Kathleen Mulock, Arts '74. After two years with Wood Gundy, Mr. Gillespie is working toward a Master of Business Administration degree at Western.

Heusinkveld-Albone — In Toronto, Ont., on July 23, Louise Albone, Arts '76, to Dick Heusinkveld, Sc. '76. Included in the wedding party were Cathy Menard, Arts '75, and Ted Metcalfe, Sc. '76. Mr. and Mrs. Heusinkveld are living at 20 Graydon Hall Dr., Don Mills, Ont.

Hoy-Murray — In Kingston, Ont., on May 21, Elizabeth Terry-Jane Murray, Ed. '74 (B.A., Western), daughter of James L. Murray, Arts '20, to Robert James Hoy, Ed. '73 (B.A., Carleton). Included in the wedding party were M. Suzanne Murray, Arts '73, Ed. '74, and Dr. Bruce W. Murray, Arts '68, Ph.D. '71. Mr. and Mrs. Hoy live at 40 Wright Cres., Brockville, Ont.

Kimberley-Trussler — On June 11, at Ilfracombe, Muskoka, Ont., Adèle Trussler, Arts '76, daughter of J. Allan Trussler, Arts '49, and Mrs. Trussler (Phyllis Vallotton), Arts '48, to Barry P. Kimberley, Sc. '77. Included in the wedding party were Deryck Williams, Com. '77, and Louise Trussler, Arts '77. Mrs. Kimberley has completed one year of postgraduate work in Art History and Museology at the University of Toronto. They have both returned to Queen's in Master's programs — Mr. Kimberley in Electrical Engineering and Mrs. Kimberley in Art Restoration and Conservation.

Mason — On Feb. 4, Mona Wallick (LPN, Fairview Gen. Hosp.), to William E. B. Mason, Sc. '49. The Masons are living in Avon Lake, Ohio.

Meincke-Vanderwater — On May 15, 1976, in Belleville, Ont., Margaret J. Vanderwater, Arts '76, Ed. '77, to Frank W. O. Meincke, Arts '77. Included in the wedding party were Bob Vanderwater, Arts, P.H.E. '78, Charles Vanderwater, Med. '80, Susan Murray, Sc. O.T. '78, and Lauren Campbell, Arts '76. The Meinckes may be reached at 819 Trunk Rd., Apt. 309, Sault Ste. Marie, Ont.

McAlindon — In Ancaster, Ont., on Aug. 28, 1976, Cynthia M. Teetzel to Hugh D. McAlindon, Sc. '72. Mr. and Mrs. McAlindon are living in Hamilton, Ont., where Hugh was promoted to Department Manager of the Hydrolizer, Proctor and Gamble.

McGrath-Kean — On May 7, in Cornwall, Ont., Heather M. Kean, Arts '75, Ed. '76, daughter of E. F. Kean, Sc. '47, to Paul E. McGrath, Sc. '77. The McGraths are living in Whitecourt, Alta.

McLoughlin-Fecht — On July 30, in Sarnia, Ont., Susanne C.M. Fecht, Arts '76, to Timothy P. J. McLoughlin, Arts '74. The McLoughlins are living in Ottawa.

Murphy — In December 1975, Joan Maguire (B.A., B.Ed., Toronto), to Brian D. Murphy, C.A., M.B.A. '73 (B.Com., Carleton). The Murphys live in Don Mills, Ont. and Mr. Murphy recently set up a chartered accountant practice in Willowdale, Ont.

Redden — On May 24, Rome, Italy, Susan B. Fuchs to Fred L. Redden, Sc. '57. The Reddens are living in London, England, where Mr. Redden is with Esso Europe.

Reilly — On June 18, Dr. Susan Swiggum (M.D., Ottawa), to Dr. David M. Reilly, Med. '75. Dr. Reilly recently completed his residency in Family Medicine at Ottawa Civic Hospital and has entered further post-graduate training in Anaesthesia at Sunnybrook Medical Centre, Toronto.

Russell-Martin — In Vineland Station, Ont., on July 10, Laurel Martin, Arts '73, to Bob Russell, M.P.I. '75, Ed. '75 (B.Sc., Dalhousie). Included in the wedding party were Jean McGillis (Jean McLeod), Arts '73, Ed. '74, Susanna Trebuss, Com. '73, and Isabella McTavish, Urban Pl. '75. The Russells are living at 2124 Windsor St., Halifax, N.S., and visitors are always welcome.

Skurat — In Willowdale, Ont., on May 28, 1976, Marilyn J. Clare (B.N., Dalhousie), to Victor Skurat, Arts '72. Included in the wedding party were Wendy Clare, Arts '72, and Mrs. Stephen Grant (Johanne Clare), Arts '73. The Skurats live at 3600 Brenner Dr. N.W., Unit 1003, Calgary, Alta. Mr. Skurat is with Shell Canada Ltd.

Vance — In Toronto, Ont., on Sept. 3, 1976, Victoria J. Vance, Arts '76, to Robert Stanners (Forestry, Toronto). The Stanners are living in Grande Prairie, Alta., where Victoria is teaching and Rob is employed as a forester.

Watts — In Mississauga, Ont., on Oct. 9, 1976, Carolyn E. Cameron (B.A., Guelph) to Kenneth W. Watts, Sc. '70 (LL.B., Toronto). Included in the wedding party was Robert Mears, Sc. '71. The Watts live in Mississauga, and Mr. Watts is practising law with the firm of W. J. MacLeod and Associates, Oakville, Ont.

Wilkin-McAvoy — On July 9, Diane M. McAvoy, Arts '74, Ed. '75, to Timothy J. Wilkin, Law '77 (B.A., R.M.C.). Mr. and Mrs. Wilkin are living in Kingston, Ont.

Rev. Cecil Arthur Dawson, B.Th. '68, Burlington, Ont., in 1976.

Mrs. Edgar C. Dolman (Helen C. Haliday), B.A. '19, in Peterborough, Ont.; former teacher. She is survived by her husband. Predeceased by a brother, Dr. E. G. Haliday, Med. '27.

David Alexander Ekdahl, B.A. '74, Law '78, Navan, Ont., in an automobile accident on Dec. 24, 1976; age 24. Survived by his parents, two sisters and a brother.

Dr. John Donald Forde, M.D., C.M. '41, Goderich, Ont., May 18; on staff at Goderich Psychiatric Hospital. Survivors include his wife Elizabeth.

O. Clifton Gorrell, B.A. '41, Port Credit, Ont., April 26; long-time Principal of Forest Avenue School.

Stephen John Griffin, Sc. '32, South Porcupine, Ont., Sept. 17, 1976.

Dr. John Murray Growse, M.D., C.M. '32, London, Ont., Dec. 31, 1976; general practitioner.

Mrs. Stanley B. Hall (Laura M. Walker), B.Com. '30, Kingston, Ont., April 26.

Dr. Harry Gordon Johnson, LL.D. '67, Chicago, Ill., May 9; Professor of Economics at the University of Chicago and formerly at the London School of Economics. Graduate of the universities of Toronto, Cambridge, Harvard and Manchester, Dr. Johnson was a scholar, teacher, author and editor. At the time of his laureation at Queen's, he was saluted as "prodigious in research, masterful in analysis, forceful and clear in exposition, subtly specialized in international trade and monetary economics."

Dr. W.D. Hay — long-time pathologist at Queen's

Dr. William Douglas Hay, Arts '14, M.A. '16, M.D., C.M. '21, Kingston, Ont., a member of Queen's Department of Pathology and the Ontario Regional Pathological Board until his retirement 23 years ago, died May 13. He was 88.

Dr. Hay was born in Vankleek Hill, but had lived in Kingston most of his life. He developed the first blood bank in the city during the Second World War. Among his particular professional interests were blood groups, genetics, nutrition and the control of infectious diseases. He had been President of the Frontenac Medical Association and the Kingston Film Council and an executive of the Canadian Red Cross in Kingston.

Dr. Hay is survived by his wife, formerly Edna Saunders, Arts '24, M.A. '25; a daughter, Mrs. T.C. (Dr. Gwen) Johnson, Med. '57; and four sons, including Dr. Bruce Hay, Med. '58, John Hay, Sc. '58, and Dr. Robert Hay, Sc. '58 (M.Sc., Ph.D., McGill).

H. Thomson Leslie, Arts '14, Sc. '18, Toronto, Ont., May 1, while vacationing in Jersey, Channel Islands. Mr. Leslie was with General Mining Consultants Ltd., Toronto, and was formerly President of West Wasa Mines. He is survived by his wife.

Dr. Katherine MacKay, B.A. '14 (M.A., U.B.C., Ph.D., Columbia), Toronto, Ont., April 11. Dr. MacKay taught English at Wells College, Aurora, N.Y., from 1927 until she retired in 1958. After retirement she lived in Sarasota, Fla., where she became interested in painting and continued her interest in literature and drama. Miss MacKay moved to Toronto in September 1975. She is survived by her sister, Elizabeth MacKay, and a brother, Dr. Bertram R. MacKay, Sc. '08 (Ph.D., Chicago).

Robert James MacKenzie, Arts '15, B.A. '23, Gladstone, Man., March 26, in his 90th year. An inspector of schools for approximately 17 years, Mr. MacKenzie retired in 1953. He is survived by his wife Olga.

Georgé E. Marshall, B.A. '20, Peterborough, Ont., May 16; retired in 1957 after 35 years on staff at Patterson Collegiate, Windsor, Ont., the last 21 years as Principal. He is survived by his wife Ethel.

Hugh Matheson, B.Sc. '13, Vancouver, B.C., March 23, 1976; electrical engineer.

Dr. Patrick Thomas McIlroy, M.B. '16, M.D., C.M. '21, in Danbury, N.H., March 14, after a career of 60 years in medicine, specializing in Pathology. He was 86. In 1915 he joined the Canadian Army Medical Corps as a member of the Queen's University Dressers and, once in England, was detailed to a Red Cross Hospital set up on the estate of Lord Astor. There he worked with Sir William Osler. Dr. McIlroy spent most of his adult life in the United States and at one time was pathologist at Sing Sing prison. Among his patients in private practice were singer Marian Anderson, LL.D. '62, Boris Karloff and the father of actress Elizabeth Taylor. He had lived in Danbury since 1970 and only illness forced his "early retirement" at the age of 81. Survivors include his wife and a son, Dr. Richard McIlroy, Med. '46.

Ashton Arnold Morrison, B.A. '39, St. Catharines, Ont., Oct. 23, 1976.

Isaac Newell, B.A. '51 (M.A., Duke, B.Litt., Oxford), Bath, Ont., May 26; Professor with the Department of English at Queen's. Survivors include his wife Jean.

Dr. Everett Freeman Raynor, M.D., C.M. '35, Vancouver, B.C., Feb. 4; Ophthalmology consultant at Shaughnessy and Vancouver General Hospitals and the Health Centre for Children.

John Norman Reid, B.Sc. '30, Belleville, Ont., March 17; a teacher at the Belleville Collegiate Institute and Vocational School for 30 years. Survivors include his wife Maxine and two daughters.

Deaths

William Arthur Acton, B.Sc. '29, Bath, Ont., May 2; retired electrical engineer. He is survived by his wife Ina.

Howard B. Allison, B.A. '46, Orillia, Ont., May 8; retired teacher, Orillia District and Vocational Institute.

Mrs. Paul John Chadder (Jane Starr Harris), B.Ed. '71 (B.A., Guelph), of Guelph, Ont., in an automobile accident on Feb. 21. She is survived by her husband.

Margaret A. Croft, B.A. '32, Toronto, Ont., Nov. 18, 1976; a teacher with the Toronto Board of Education until her retirement in June 1972. Miss Croft was a charter member of Queen's Cha Gheill Society.

Marion Robins, B.A. '49, M.A. '50, Ottawa, Ont., Nov. 25, 1976; an employee of the Translation Bureau, Department of the Secretary of State. Miss Robins was awarded the Marty Memorial Scholarship in 1950-51, later served on the Marty Memorial Committee (Queen's Alumnae), and was a charter member of Queen's Cha Gheill Society.

Donald James 'Jamie' Saunders, B.A. '77, Kingston, Ont., June 3. Survivors include his father, Allan Saunders, Com. '42, his mother, and a brother, Allan Saunders, Sc. '67 (M.Sc.Pl., Toronto).

Mrs. Allan R. Singleton (Frances Hill), B.A. '26, Beachburg, Ont., June 5; retired in 1964 as head of the Science Department, Pembroke Collegiate Institute. Mrs. Singleton taught at the Gravenhurst High School for 18 years and was a former Principal of Beachburg Continuation School.

Harold Edgar Walker, B.Sc. '34, M.Sc. '35, Perth, Ont., April 18; retired in 1961 as Group Captain, Royal Canadian Air Force. Mr. Walker was Director of Personnel Planning, R.C.A.F. headquarters, Ottawa, Ont., for four years, 1957-61. Previously he had been

Air Attache in Stockholm, Sweden. Following his retirement Mr. Walker became a partner in the firm of Prack and Prack (Architects), Hamilton, Ont.

Mrs. Robert P. Walker (Helen Elizabeth Wilson), B.A. '25, Ottawa, Ont., April 18; former teacher. Predeceased by her husband, Dr. R.P. Walker, Med. '23.

Clarke Gibbs Walton, B.Sc. '15, Windsor, Ont., June 30, at age 85; retired civil engineer, Ford Motor Co., a former chairman of the Board at Riverview Hospital, and former Commodore, Windsor Yacht Club. He is survived by his wife, the former Mary Coon, Arts '17.

John Lorne Wegenast, M.Ed. '74 (B.A., McMaster), Kingston, Ont., Aug. 9; Coordinator of Continuing Education with the Frontenac Board of Education. Survivors include his wife Julie and three children.

Harry Vernon Wildwood, B.Sc. '36 (M.Sc., Waterloo), Elmira, Ont., June 4; retired chemical engineer. Mr. Wildwood is survived by his wife Margaret and three daughters.

'Robbie' Cumberland: scholar, teacher, poet all his life

Robert William Cumberland, B.A. '22, M.A. '23, was a scholar and teacher all his professional life: tutor and lecturer at Queen's; postgraduate student at Yale and Columbia; successively instructor, assistant professor and associate professor at The Cooper Union, New York.

He came to Queen's from Amherst Island in 1920. An only child, the son of a clergyman at St. Paul's, he grew up in the old manse on a hill commanding a view of the Bay of Quinte. Attendance at the 'Lake' School, two and a half miles away, meant a lonely tramp by the road or a romantic journey through field and wood. He grew up an introspective, imaginative youth influenced much by Emerson, Roberts and Lampman. The outbreak of war in 1914 brought agony to him, he told me, with the loss of friends, a partial loss of vision, a lonesome period without a chance to read for months at a time. He turned to poetry as an anodyne and a therapy and began to compose nature verses.

The family moved to Kingston in 1920 and by a happy coincidence his vision improved and he could enroll at Queen's. He joined the newly organized English Club. Professor J.F. 'Red' Macdonald has recalled how a prize was offered for the best poem submitted and Rob won it with his sonnet Psyche. I remember Rob as a poet of great promise — the first I had ever met, in fact — and we became warm friends, then and afterwards. He made notable contributions to The Queen's Journal in both prose and verse; he became for a time an editorial writer for the Kingston Standard. He remembered that at one of the early sessions of the English Club Norman Campbell "held our interest by what I still remember as a splendid summary of Carman's position in the world of letters. The discussion was carried on by men of mature minds — Diltz, Darling, Chrystler, Reid Macallum and others." Bliss Carman spent a week at Queen's in 1925 and Rob showed him some of his lyrics. The Jackson Press brought out Cumberland's Verse and Translation in 1925 and the anthology Modern Canadian Poetry (1930) contains six of his lyrics.

Of all the fascinating personalities I met at Queen's, Rob, in his quiet perceptive humorous and infinitely good-natured manner, held a unique place. He owed a great debt to Queen's, but he gave back generously — gave his alma mater faithful and loyal support in every possible way.

— Wilfrid Eggleston, Arts '26

(Professor Cumberland, who retired to Bath, Ont., in 1961, died on July 1. He is survived by his wife Elizabeth. He was a charter member of Queen's Cha Gheill Society.)

Dr. R. Start, TB fighter, mourned in two countries

Dr. Richard Kemp Start, M.D., C.M. '28, FCCP, whose distinguished career spanned two countries, two languages and two ministries, died suddenly in Tokyo on May 1, aged 76. He was a member of Queen's Cha Gheill Society.

While at Queen's, the English-born Torontonian was an intercollegiate fencer and member of the Student Missionary Society. After graduation he specialized in tuberculosis and chest diseases at the Queen Alexandra Sanatorium in London, Ont., then left in 1930 for Japan, where TB was a dreadful scourge and where he would undertake leadership in a pioneering sanatorium planned by the Canadian Anglican Church. After two years of intensive language study, Dr. Start assumed directorship of the New Life Sanatorium in Obuse, Nagano Ken. The head nurse, Miss Kathleen Butcher, became Mrs. Start in 1936.

When war forced their return to Canada (Windsor, Ont.), Dr. Start continued his chest studies and enriched his techniques. Returning to Japan in 1948, he carried on work in pneumonolysis, plombage and thoracoplasty, wrote and translated books in his specialty, and lectured at Jikeikai Medical School, Tokyo. By 1953 the Japanese Anglican Church was assuming autonomy and the Starts returned home, this time to Brantford, where Dr. Start worked at Brant Sanatorium until his retirement in 1967.

Concurrently he embarked on a second career, studying theology extramurally at Huron College. He was ordained an Anglican priest in 1964 and given pastoral charge of the Holy Cross Japanese congregation in Hamilton, Ont.

In 1975 he revisited Japan as guest of the Mountain Echo Society, a large and grateful association of his former patients. It was during another tour to renew old friendships that Dr. Start died suddenly, prompting memorial services in several locations both in Canada and Japan.

Dr. Start was a member of the Cha Gheill Society. He is survived by his wife Kathleen and a son Brian, Arts '64, M.A. '66, who is music director for CBC Radio in the Maritimes.

Notes

1900-29

Dr. Neil D. Black, Med. '16, M.D., C.M. '26, retired in 1974 from the Veterans Clinic and Hospital in Syracuse, N.Y., where he had been a staff psychiatrist for 23 years. Dr. and Mrs. Black still live in Syracuse, at 211 Lafayette Rd.

Dr. Hugh T. Carmichael, Arts '20, Med. '23, director of the advisory group of the Office of Continuing Education for Psychiatrists, American Psychiatric Association, is co-author, with Drs. S.M. Small and P.F. Regan, of a study entitled "Prospects and Proposals: Lifetime Learning for Psychiatrists." The case is presented that the time has arrived to go past talking and step up the pace of action: relicensure, recertification, and review of physicians' performance.

Mrs. William J. Hyde (Elisabeth Isobel Farrell), Arts '17, Westmount, Que., has been made an honorary life member of the Women's Missionary Society of the Presbyterian Church in Canada. She is still active in the World Association of Girl Guides and Girl Scouts and is a member of both the Montreal Council of Women and the YWCA Women's Art Society of Montreal. She and Mr. Hyde plan to attend her class's 60th Reunion in October.

Dr. Elizabeth Pauline MacCallum, Arts '17, M.A. '19, LL.D. '52, Officer of the Order of Canada, is serving her third stint with the Department of External Affairs (1942-60, 1964-67, 1971-77). Dr. MacCallum, an expert on Middle Eastern Affairs, has spent several years living in Istanbul and Ankara, studying modern Turkish literature and engaging in village development and afforestation. She now lives in Ottawa.

Dr. Mary McCallum, Arts '16, M.A. '29, LL.D. '52, formerly of Smiths Falls and Brockville, Ont., now lives at Bestview Lodge, 201 11 St. E., Cornwall, Ont. K6J 3B3.

Dr. Mary McCallum and Dr. Elizabeth MacCallum (see above) both received their honorary degrees during a special Women's Week Convocation, 25 years ago this fall.

Dr. Howard Scott Mitchell, Arts '25, Med. '27, is Emeritus Professor of Medicine at McGill University and now makes his home at Dalkeith, Ont.

Rev. Canon Robert S. Rayson, Arts '17, M.A. '18 (STB, General Theological Seminary, N.Y.), has seen his academic and spiritual success capped by two honorary D.D. degrees, one from Trinity College, Toronto, and the other from the Anglican Theological College, Vancouver. Writing to accept Queen's invitation to his 60th Reunion, Canon Rayson said, "Since Arts '17 was the liveliest year ever in Queen's, wheel chairs and stretchers will NOT be needed."

Rev. Canon Kenneth E. Taylor, Arts '17, retired officially in 1964 after a career as military chaplain, pastor and college lecturer, but he continues part-time pastoral work in London, Ont. He was bereaved by the death of his wife Elspeth in March.

1930-39

Samuel E. Alsop, Sc. '36, Montreal, retired in October 1976 as Manager, Patent Services and Procedures, Northern Telecom. He had been with the company for 40 years. Concurrently, he followed a military career and retired with the rank of Lieutenant Colonel. He was formerly Commander of the 11th Signals Regiment and Honorary Colonel of the 712 Communication Squadron.

Dr. R. D. Lord, Sc. '38, LL.D. '72, Toronto, Ont., has been installed as President of the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy. Dr. Lord is Research Director of the newly formed Mining Industry Research Organization of Canada and Research Coordinator of the Mining Association of Canada.

George Macgillivray, Arts '37, retired in April 1975 as publisher of the Thunder Bay Chronicle-Journal, Thunder Bay, Ont. Each year from May until October Mr. Macgillivray's address is 433 Selkirk Ave. S., Thunder Bay, and from November through April he may be reached at 7632 E. Minnezona Ave., Scottsdale, Arizona 85251.

Phoebe Rutherford (Phoebe Weir), Arts '36 (M.A., Western Michigan), has been promoted to the rank of Associate Professor of Biology at Western Michigan University, Kalamazoo.

H. Stanley Sawrey, Sc. '39, has retired after 25 years service with E. B. Eddy Forest Products, Hull, Que. Mr. Sawrey lives at 525 Mansfield Ave., Ottawa, Ont.

Robert W. Southam, Arts '36 (M.Sc. Journalism, Columbia), chairman of Queen's University Board of Trustees and publisher of the Ottawa Citizen, received an honorary doctor of civil laws degree (D.C.L.) from the University of King's College, Halifax, N.S., in May.

Malcolm C. Watson, Arts '37, Chula Vista, Cal., has completely retired and enjoys daily rounds of golf. Mr. Watson was formerly Vice-President and Director of Vagabond Motor Hotels Inc.

George E. Wilson, Sc. '31, Arts '35, Kingston, Ont., has taken two overseas assignments with CESO (Canadian Executive Service Overseas) since his retirement. The first was a two-month stint in India, where he advised a large company building new paper mills in and around Bombay. Mr. Wilson, accompanied by his wife Fran, more recently went to Korea, "where there are no old men at all", to consult on a paper mill there. Mr. Wilson had been in the paper business for 40 years prior to his retirement in 1971, most of those years with Domtar in Cornwall, St. Catharines and Montreal. According to his CESO file, he knows the paper business from "top to bottom" and has made a particular study of specialty stock, such as grease-proof and transparent papers. Volunteers with CESO are paid only their expenses.

1940-49

Brenda Addington (Brenda Wallace), Arts '44, Sarnia, Ont., is living in Aberdeen, Scotland, where her husband Hiley is on loan to Esso Europe.

Dr. Alan M. Goodwin, Sc. '49 (M.Sc., Ph.D., Wisconsin), FRSC, Professor of Geology at the University of Toronto, has been awarded the Willet G. Miller Medal by the Royal Society of Canada. Dr. Goodwin is one of Canada's foremost precambrian geologists. His work on archean greenstone belts has been outstanding as a result of his breadth of approach in applying the principles of many sciences to the problem of the origins of these rock complexes. The medal is awarded every two years for outstanding research in any branch of the earth sciences. It is named for the man who taught Geology in Queen's School of Mining, 1893-1902, and was later Provincial Geologist for Ontario. Miller Hall, where Dr. Goodwin attended undergraduate lectures, is named for Professor Miller.

Dr. Walter R. Henson, Arts '47 (M.S., Ph.D., Yale), and Mrs. Henson (Pauline Earl), Arts '49, will be at Yale University for the 1977-78 academic year. Dr. Henson will be Government of Canada Bicentennial Gift Professor in Canadian Studies. He succeeds the first such Gift Professor, John Meisel, Hardy Professor of Political Science at Queen's. After postgraduate work, Dr. Henson joined the Federal Government. He taught at Yale for a number of years and most recently has been with the Government of Ontario in Research Administration.

Miners of '36 have mini-reunions

Mel Dundass and Stuart Robb, both of Science '36, held a "mini-reunion" in London, England, in May with Marston Fleming, Sc. '36, who is Pro-Rector of the Imperial College of Science and Technology. In June four "Miners" from Science '36 — Mel Dundass, Grant Boland, Stuart Robb, Tim Smith — and their wives held another mini-reunion with Lloyd Edwards and his wife Hazel at the Edwards home at Valley Schuss near Orangeville, Ont.

Phoebe Rutherford

Dr. W.R. Henson

R. M. Howe, Sc. '40, Cobourg, Ont., retired on January 2 as Manager, Research and Development, Alcan Canada Foils, Scarborough, Ont.

Gwen Kirk (Gwen Pearson), Arts '44, graduated in May from Georgian College, Barrie, Ont., in Creative Arts.

Jim McGarrigle, Arts '46 (B.Ed., Manitoba), Thunder Bay, Ont., retired in June after 41 years of teaching in the public and secondary schools of Ontario. All of Mr. McGarrigle's public school teaching was done in the Thunder Bay area, but he taught high school at Deseronto, South Porcupine, Stevensville, Cornwall and Thunder Bay. He was honoured at several social events, and from the Selkirk High School staff he received a painting of his first school — a log cabin.

D. D. C. McGeachy, Sc. '40 (M.B.A., Western), London, Ont., has been elected to the Board of Directors of Trimac Ltd., Calgary, Alta. Mr. McGeachy is a Corporate Director and business consultant holding directorships in 13 corporations. He has held active positions in several public service organizations, including the Stratford Shakespearean Festival. Trimac Ltd. is a Canadian-owned public company involved in transportation and resource exploration and development.

Margaret Moon (Margaret Cream), Arts '48, is hospitality chairman for the Guelph Spring Festival, "a smorgasbord of musical treats". Mrs. Moon is very active in community affairs, and in her Festival capacity is responsible for meeting planes, greeting and feeding such artists as Yehudi Menuhin, Jan Peerce, Martina Arroyo and Isaac Stern.

B. P. Newman, Arts '41, St. Catharines, Ont., President of Newman Steel Ltd., A. Newman & Co. Ltd., Newman Structural Steel Ltd., and A. C. Leslie Co. Ltd., has been appointed a Director of Hayes-Dana Ltd. He is past president and a director of the Canadian Steel Service Centre Institute and a member of the Board of Governors of Brock University.

V. Frank Stone, Arts '49, has been appointed Canadian Ambassador to Pakistan. Since joining External Affairs in 1949, he has had postings to Bonn, Geneva and Washington, and most recently was Canadian Minister to the Permanent Mission to the U.N. in Geneva. Mr. and Mrs. Stone (Joan E. Shore), Arts '49, may be reached at Diplomatic Enclave No. 5, Box 1042, G.P.O., Islamabad, Pakistan.

Peter M. Towe, M.A. '48 (B.A., Western), has been appointed Canada's Ambassador to the United States, succeeding fellow Queen's alumnus Jake Warren. Prior to his posting to Washington, Mr. Towe was Assistant Under-Secretary for Economic Affairs in the Department of External Affairs.

ALUMNI TRUSTEES

Robert W. Southam, Arts '36, Ottawa, has been re-elected to a third one-year term as Chairman of Queen's Board of Trustees. Mr. Southam is Director and Vice-President of Southam Press Ltd., publishers of The Citizen in Ottawa. Re-elected to their third term as Vice-Chairmen were Mrs. Agnes Benidickson, Arts '41, Ottawa, and Norman M. Rogers, Arts '43, Toronto. Mrs. Benidickson also serves as Chairman of the Queen's Fund Council and Mr. Rogers doubles as Chairman of the Board's Executive Committee.

New members appointed to four-year terms by the Board itself are John Kostuik, Sc. '34, and Cedric E. Ritchie, both of Toronto. Mr. Ritchie, who is President of the Bank of Nova Scotia, is chairing the University's upcoming campaign for funds, Queen's Quest.

Two other Trustees were elected by the University Council from among its membership at the annual meeting: K.R. 'Ken' MacGregor, Sc. '29, of Waterloo, and Dr. H.J. 'Herb' Hamilton, Arts '32, LL.D. '74, of Kingston.

Alumni who completed their terms and retired from the Board in May were Dr. Oscar F. Lundell, Arts '23, LL.D. '64, Vancouver; Judge John R. Matheson, Arts '40 (LL.M., Western, M.A., Mt. Allison), Ottawa; and James O. Hughes, Com. '29, Toronto.

1950-59

J. Glenn Allan, Sc. '53, after participating in a 12-month study of Brazilian National Railways, which resulted in recommendations for future development of the Railway, has resumed his duties as Transportation Engineer, CN, St. Lawrence Region, Montreal, Que.

Mrs. B. Baker (Phyllis Davidson), Arts '54, formerly of St. Bruno de Montarville, Que., has moved to Ottawa, where her husband Ben, a graduate of the University of Manitoba, has been appointed Deputy-Chief, Research and Development, Department of National Defence.

Dr. D. Wayne Kirk, Sc. '56, M.Sc. '65, Ph.D. '69, has been appointed Head of the Department of Civil Engineering at the Royal Military College, Kingston, Ont.

Dr. David S. R. Leighton, Arts '50 (M.A., Toronto, D.B.A., Ph.D., Harvard), Director of the Banff Centre (formerly Banff School of Fine Arts), Banff, Alta., has been appointed a director of Gulf Oil Canada Ltd. Dr. Leighton is an internationally recognized authority on marketing and has served as a consultant to many major Canadian corporations.

Brigadier-General P. D. Manson, Sc. '57, has been appointed Project Director for the selection of a new fighter aircraft for the Canadian Forces. He is based at National Defence Headquarters in Ottawa, Ont.

W.A. 'Bill' Matson, Sc. '55, has been appointed Vice-President and General Manager, Mill and Woodlands, Marathon, Ont., a subsidiary of American Can of Canada Ltd. Previously Mr. Matson was manager of manufacturing with a major Canadian pulp and paper producer.

Eleanor Quinn Matthews (Eleanor Sauer), Arts '55, M.A. '59, has received a Master of City Planning degree from the Georgia Institute of Technology, Atlanta, Ga. Ms. Matthews is Deputy Director of the Community Design Center of Atlanta, an organization providing technical assistance in planning and architecture to low-income neighborhoods.

Dr. Norris H. Ready, Med. '55, has joined the Department of Anaesthesiology at John C. Lincoln Hospital, Phoenix, Arizona. Dr. Ready and his family live at 8040 North 1st St. in Phoenix.

Robert T. Runciman, Arts '57 (LL.B., Osgoode), counsel to Falconbridge Nickel Mines Ltd., Sudbury, Ont., has been appointed a Judge of the Provincial Court, family division. He will preside in the judicial districts of Sudbury and Manitoulin.

Dr. Ann Saddlemeyer, M.A. '56, LL.D. '77 (B.A., Sask.) has retired from her post as Director of the Graduate Centre for the Study of Drama, University of Toronto, to take a year's leave as a Guggenheim Fellow. She will spend most of her leave in Ireland writing a book on the theory of comedy.

G. James M. Shearn, Sc. '59, Law '67, P.Eng., has moved his law practice to 439 University Ave., Toronto, Ont. Mr. Shearn is a patent and trademark agent, as well as a barrister and solicitor.

Charles P.B. Taylor, Arts '55, Toronto, Ont., is author of the book Six Journeys: A Canadian Pattern, published by Anansi. The book is an examination of some unusual Canadians "whom circumstance and illusion led into battle with the constraints and prevailing mores of their respective Canadian environments," according to a review in The Medical Post. Six Journeys is Charles Taylor's third book.

Dr. George Weber, Arts '50, Med. '52, has been elected an Honorary Member of the Hungarian Cancer Society. Recently he gave the Annual Aaron Brown Lecture at Case Western Reserve School of Medicine, Cleveland. Dr. Weber is Director of the Laboratory for Experimental Oncology at Indiana University School of Medicine and lives at 7307 Lakeside Dr., Indianapolis.

1960-69

Pratap P. Acharya, Sc. '65, has been appointed Project Engineer, Operations, Greenwood Unit-1, Detroit Edison Co., Detroit, Mich. Mr. and Mrs. Acharya are living at 1026 Greendale Ave., Windsor, Ont. N8S 4B4.

Dr. Alan Anderson, Artsci '62 (Ph.D., M.I.T.), and his wife, Ann Poole, Artsci '62 are spending a year on sabbatical leave at the Laboratoire d'enzymologie, CNRS, 91190 Gif-sur-Yvette, France. They will be returning in August 1978 to Quebec City, where Dr. Anderson is professor agrégé in the Département de biologie, Université Laval.

Roy W. Atamanuk, Arts '60, Law '63, is practising in partnership under the firm name of Bakker, Atamanuk, Taylor and Wenglow-ski, Canada Trust House, Fourth Floor, 60 James St., St. Catharines, Ont.

John D. Catterick, Arts, P.H.E. '69, has been Head of the Physical Education Department of Central Algoma Secondary School, Desbarts, Ont., since its inception in 1972. The Cattericks live at Richard's Landing on St. Joes Island (30 miles east of the Soo) and welcome old friends.

Rabinda Chatterjee, M.Sc. '68 (M.Sc., Jadavpur), is going on sabbatical leave from his teaching position at Centennial College, Toronto, Ont. Mr. Chatterjee plans to write a book.

Thomas Robert Clapp, Sc. '64 (M.C.H.E., Delaware), and his wife, Jane L. Halliley, Arts '64 (B.L.S., McGill), are now living in Aruba, Netherlands Antilles, where Mr. Clapp is Technical Manager, Tago Oil and Transport Co. Ltd. Their address is Box 4, Seroe Colorado, Aruba, Netherlands Antilles.

Dr. S. Glenn Clarke, Arts '62, M.A. '64, Ph.D. '72, is Chairman, Department of Economics, University of Lethbridge, Lethbridge, Alta.

Chuck R. Edwards, Sc. '65, M.Sc. '69, his wife Judy and their two daughters are living in Thompson, Man., where Chuck is employed by INCO.

John G. H. Ferguson, Arts '69, has accepted a position with the Treasury Board in Ottawa as a project officer in the Professional Development Division of the Financial Administrative Branch. He had been with Revenue Canada, Customs and Excise, for the past two years, after retiring from the Canadian Forces in 1975.

Dr. Douglas H. Harding, Med. '62, is now Medical Consultant with the Ontario Government while Mrs. Harding (Siu Maharaj), Arts '62, is teaching at Reinex Educational Centre in Oakville, Ont. The Hardings have three children, Nadine 13, Adrian 11, and Darren 7 years.

Eric G. Haythorne, Arts '68 (B.A. (Law) Cambridge; LL.B., Dalhousie), joined the staff of Counsel to the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development in the spring of 1977. He is located with The World Bank, 1818 H St. N.W., Washington, D.C. Following graduation Mr. Haythorne was called to Bars in England (Inner Temple) and Ontario in 1973. He did postgraduate studies at the University of Paris for one year, followed by two years of practice in litigation as a 'Junior' to Walter B. Williston of Toronto.

Dr. Lynda J. Holliday (Lynda Donald), Artsci '67, M.Sc.(Arts) '68 (Ph.D., London), has been appointed research associate in the Department of Genetics, Health Sciences Centre, Winnipeg, Man. Her husband, Dr. Neil J. Holliday (B.Sc., London, Ph.D., Bristol), is Assistant Professor of Entomology at the University of Manitoba.

Christopher Hunt, Arts '68, Mus. '77, has been appointed instructor in the Department of Music, Mohawk College, Hamilton, Ont. Chris is also organist and choirmaster at Thornhill Presbyterian Church in north suburban Toronto.

John R. Lazier, Arts '64, will spend a year travelling between Kew, Townsville and Trinidad and writing up pasture research done over the past four years while he was in Belize, British Honduras.

Roger W. Nainby, Law '68 (B.A., Toronto), is a partner in the law firm of Harries, Houser, Suite 700, York-Centre, 145 King St. W., Toronto, Ont.

Major George H. Nishimura, Arts '67, has received his Master in Business Administration degree from the University of Ottawa. Major Nishimura was awarded the Canadian Operational Research Society award for attaining the highest standing as an Operations Research graduate.

William G. Purcell, Arts '69, M.Ed. '74, Kingston, Ont., human growth and development consultant for the Frontenac County Board of Education, received $3,000 as one of five winners of the Golden Anniversary bursary awards from the Ontario Public School Men Teachers' Federation. Mr. Purcell will study advanced communications at Simon Fraser University in B.C. The federation's scholarship program is designed to encourage members with high academic standing to pursue full-time graduate studies leading to a doctorate in education.

Major G. Nishimura

Dr. D.W. Kirk

Mrs. Kathryn L. Roberts (Kathryn Cunningham), N.Sc. '66 (R.N., S.R.N., F.C.N.A., College of Nursing, Australia), has been elected to the Council of the College of Nursing as Councillor for New South Wales. She has been appointed to the Task Force to Achieve Goals in Nursing Education in New South Wales. Mrs. Roberts is currently studying for her Masters degree at MacQuarie University.

Malcolm S. Scott, Sc. '61, has been appointed General Manager of the Bartow Phosphate Complex, CF Industries, Inc., Bartow, Fla. Mr. Scott was formerly President of Central Canada Potash and General Manager of the Noranda phosphate interests. The Scotts are living at 4615 Kings Point Dr., Lakeland, Fla.

Dr. Eldon A. Shaffer, Med. '65, FRCP (C), has been appointed Associate Professor of Medicine at the University of Calgary and will continue his academic career in Gastroenterology at the Foothills Hospital. Dr. Shaffer and his wife Barbara (R.N.) with their two daughters (Andrea 3 and Emily 1), will be living at 2705 Linden Dr. S.W., Calgary, Alta. T3E 6C8.

A. Christine Spear, N.Sc. '69, has enrolled in Performance Studies at Sheridan College, Oakville, Ont. She was formerly Assistant Supervisor, Hospital Health Service for the City of Toronto Health Department.

J.A. Spence, Sc. '60 (M.Sc., McGill), has been appointed Manager, Field Exploration, International Nickel Co. of Canada Ltd., with responsibilities for field exploration activities in Canada, Brazil and Australia. He will continue to be located in Toronto. Mr. Spence, who was formerly Manager, Field Exploration Overseas, joined INCO as a geologist in 1960 and has held various exploration positions in Canada, Guatemala and Australia.

Dr. Arthur G. Szabo, Artsci '61 (Ph.D., Toronto), has been given a one-year staff posting on a National Research Council-Centre National de la Recherche Scientifique Exchange. Dr. Szabo will spend one year at Centre de Biophysique Moléculaire at Orleans, France.

Douglas F. Walker, Arts '69, Law '72, is practising law at 300 Aylmer St. N., Peterborough, Ont.

Marian M. Wilson (Marian Black), Arts '63, is president and publisher, Simon and Pierre Publishing Co. Ltd., Toronto, Ont.

Donald C. Wright, Sc. '62, has been appointed District Manager, Western Canada, for Modicon Canada Ltd. - the Programmable Controller Co. - Edmonton, Alta. Don and his wife Linda and their 2 children (Leigh Ann 7, Doug 5) have enjoyed Edmonton for the last five years.

R. Alan Broadbent

Dr. D.H. Harding

Loans, at the Branch located at 111 St. Clair Ave. W. at Avenue Rd., Toronto.

Rev. P. J. Boyle, M.A. '75 (B.A., Loyola, Th.B., Toronto, M.Ed., Marquette), is Rector of St. Paul's High School, Winnipeg, Man.

R. Alan Broadbent, Arts '70 (B.A., U.B.C.), has been appointed President of the Rubber Association of Canada, based in Toronto. Mr. Broadbent had been Director of Information for the Association since 1974. Since joining the RAC, he has been involved with all of its committees in addition to carrying out government liaison and public relations work. Mr. Broadbent served for three years, 1969-72, as first student Rector of Queen's.

David James Burnside, Law '75 (B.A., Toronto), and his wife, Faye Eileen Dawson, Law '75 (B.A., Toronto), have formed a partnership for the practice of law under the firm name of Burnside and Dawson, Sheppard Centre, 4881 Yonge St., Suite 508, Willowdale, Ont.

Catherine D. Busing, Law '73 (B.A., Bishop's), has opened an office for the practice of law under her maiden name, Catherine D. Aitken, 120 Holland Ave., Suite 202, Ottawa, Ont.

J. Gerald Byrne, Sc. '70, has been transferred, as a special assignment, to the Marketing Department of Dow Chemical of Canada Ltd., Sarnia, Ont. Mr. Byrne was formerly with Dow's Vancouver sales office.

James Chauvin, Arts '73, has accepted a posting as a field representative with CARE, Inc. of New York. He will be working in Haiti for three years on development projects. Mr. Chauvin may be reached c/o CARE, Inc., P.O. Box 773, 21 Avenue Marie Jeanne, Port-au-Prince, Haiti.

Four chosen for 'exceptional promise'

Special Masters scholarships worth $6,000 each have been awarded to four Queen's graduates of Arts '77 by the Canada Council. The winners are Lawrence Hagen (Political Studies), Gina La Force (History), Karen McLeod (English) and Janice McAlpine (Linguistics). They are among 110 students of "exceptional promise" chosen from among 580 candidates. The awards are for one year of study in the humanities or social sciences at any Canadian university, with travel allowance provided.

Glenn E. Cockerline, Ed. '73 (B.A., Loyola), recently graduated from Northern Illinois University's Taft Field Campus with an M.S.Ed. in Outdoor Teacher Education.

Barrie G. M. Codd, Sc. '73, completed his M.B.A. at York University while employed by Imperial Oil Ltd. in Toronto.

Kathleen E. Conlan (Kathleen Hampson), Arts '72, Victoria, B.C., has received her M.Sc. degree in Marine Ecology from the University of Victoria.

Dr. William A. Cook, Med. '74, and Mrs. Cook (Jean Farnham), Arts '72, are living in Halifax, N.S., where Dr. Cook will continue his postgraduate education in Plastic Surgery at Dalhousie University.

Patricia Cowper, Ed. '75 (B.A., McMaster), is working with the Northern Corps of Ontario, teaching in Franz, Ont.

Tom Dixon, Arts '76, is presently working for the Continental Group of Canada Ltd., Toronto, Ont., as a supervisor, Industrial Relation Services.

Antonio Dizio, Law '75 (B.A., Toronto), is an associate lawyer with the firm of Harries, Houser, 145 King St. W., Suite 700, York Centre, Toronto.

John H. Doi, Ed. '70 (B.Sc., M.A., McGill), and family are living in Edmonton, Alta., where Mr. Doi is attending the University of Alberta to complete his Master's degree in Education Administration. He was awarded a graduate assistantship in the Department of Education Administration for the 1977-78 session.

A. Murray Dovauro, Arts '72, is a labor relations supervisor with Alcan Ltd., Kitimat, B.C.

Janice A. Esford, Arts '73, Ed. '74, is an Art teacher at Sydenham High School, Sydenham, Ont. Janice was formerly with the Earl of March Secondary School, Kanata, Ont.

A. Lawrence Filion, Arts '72 (LL.B., Dalhousie), was called to the Bar of Ontario on March 25 and is practising law with the firm of Bergeron, Follon and Filion, Cornwall, Ont.

Rick Findlay, Sc. '71, and his wife, (Ida Bailey), Arts '71, recently returned from a trip around the world covering much of Europe, Asia, Australia, New Zealand and the islands of the South Pacific. Rick is now working for Environment Canada in the Environmental Protection Service, Toronto.

Robert L. Graydon, Law '72 (B.A., McMaster), is associated with the law firm of Butler and Graydon, 157 Front St., Belleville, Ont.

Peter A. J. Hargadon, Arts '72, Law '75, has joined the law firm of Low, Murchison,

1970-77

D. Arlene 'Arli' Alyea, Arts '75, is now living in Picton, Ont., where she is Director of the Prince Edward County Museum.

Tom S. Axworthy, M.A. '71 (B.A., Winnipeg), and Mrs. Axworthy (Roberta Dojack), Arts, Ed. '70, are living in Ottawa, where Tom is a member of Prime Minister Trudeau's staff.

Judith Clarke Beaman, Arts '71, Law '75, has joined Richard C. Oaks, Law '60, in partnership in the practice of law under the firm name of Oaks and Beaman, 93 Clarence St., Kingston.

Wendy Blackwood, Ed. '75 (B.A., Western), has been appointed Director of Student Services at Mount Saint Vincent University, Halifax, N.S. Her responsibilities include all facets of non-academic student life, such as residence administration, co-ordination of student services, counselling of student groups and liaison between students and administration. Ms Blackwood was formerly a school liaison officer at Loyalist College of Applied Arts and Technology in Belleville, Ont., and admissions officer at the University of Guelph.

Jane Boni, Dip. O.T. '71, B.Sc. O.T. '75, was promoted last January to Supervisor of the Ottawa Developmental Centre, a centre for multi-handicapped and severely retarded children.

Margaret A. Booth, Arts '76, is an orthotic technician at the Alberta Children's Hospital in Calgary. She is living at 825 - 8th Ave., S.W., Apt. 3108, Calgary, Alta. T2P 2T4.

Michael Bordt, Arts '77, Prescott, Ont., has been accepted for graduate studies in Biology at Hofstra University, Long Island, N.Y.

James P. Bowland, Com. '73, C.A., formerly with Clarkson, Gordon in Ottawa, has been employed by Coopers and Wybrand, Chartered Accountants, Hamilton, Bermuda, since January.

Leslie J. Bowland, Arts '70, joined the Royal Bank of Canada after completing her M.B.A. degree at York University in 1976. Leslie was recently appointed Assistant Manager,

LAKEFIELD RESEARCH OF CANADA LIMITED

*Ore Testing and Mineral
Processing Research*

A. G. Scobie, Sc. '37

Laboratories and Pilot Plant

Lakefield, Ont. Phone 652-3341

ALL QUEEN'S ALUMNI

The Annual Meeting of Queen's Alumni Association will take place at 4:30 p.m. on Friday, Oct. 14. All graduates and former students are members of the Association and are most cordially invited to attend. Chairman: Eric Jorgensen, Sc. '49.

John Deutsch University Centre
(near the Reunion Registration Desk)

B. I. COHEN INC. DISPENSING OPTICIANS

Suite 120 6102 Cote Des
1255 University St. Neiges Rd.
Cor. St. Catherine (Near Van Horne)
866-7778 731-6530

MONTREAL

Avron Cohen, Arts '44

McMILLAN & MARTYNOWICZ

Consulting Engineers

TELEPHONE 482-1632

5757 CAVENDISH BLVD.
MONTREAL, QUE. H4V 1M4

J. L. RICHARDS & ASSOCIATES LIMITED

Consulting Engineers and Planners

OTTAWA — KINGSTON — SUDBURY — FROBISHER BAY — OVERSEAS

D.M. Bracken, Sc. '76
R.P. Cheek, Sc. '67, M.Sc. '73
G.A. Clark, Sc. '72
A.E. Fee, Sc. '47
J. T. Fitzpatrick, Sc. '73

W.F. Flude, Sc. '59
G.A. Hearnden, Sc. '53
D.R. Hunter, Sc. '72
I.C. Kennedy, Sc. '70

C.N. Kirby, Sc. '51
G.T. McCaffrey, Sc. '71
P.A. Midgley, Sc. '57
J.L. Richards, Sc. '44/'47
D.G. Shillington, Sc. '70

News of Track and Field and Cross Country Alumni

Queen's Track and Field and Cross Country Alumni are breaking their own records. Under the direction of Brian Latta, their spring Invitational High School Track and Field Meet attracted 1,600 athletes from 40 high schools. It took 125 volunteer officials — Queen's alumni, their spouses and friends and people from Phys Ed at the University — to supervise the 104 events at Richardson Stadium.

"Since more and more top-quality schools are entering," says Brian, "the calibre of competition has risen at an astronomical rate. Twenty-two records were broken this year, mostly in the field." The team trophy was won for the third year by Sir Robert Borden school, Ottawa. Michael Power school of Toronto placed second. There were 35 pages of results tallied altogether.

Co-directors of the mammoth meet were Bill Houston, Brian Donnelly and Bob Milne. By late September, Bill Houston hopes to have organized a Queen's Alumni Invitational High School Cross Country Meet. For information on this alumni group and its programs, contact R. Milne, 16 Billings Ave., Toronto, Ont. M4L 2S2.

Burns, Thomas and Haydon, at 141 Laurier Ave. W., Ottawa, Ont.

Ian R. Hendrie, Sc. '72, after an enjoyable two years in Montreal, is now in an M.B.A. program at McMaster University. Mrs. Hendrie (Jane Ussher), Arts '72, is busy looking after son Christopher, born Dec. 6, 1975.

Virgil Jacuzzi, Jr., Sc. '73, M.B.A. '75, has taken over as manager of Vancouver operations for Jacuzzi Canada Ltd., and may be reached at 9304 Salish Crt., Apt. 1201, Burnaby, B.C. V3J 7C5.

James Michael Kormos, Arts '72, Vice-Principal, Calvin Park Public School, Kingston, Ont., has been awarded the Win Davies Memorial Scholarship ($10,000) which will assist him with a doctoral program at the Ontario Institute for Studies in Education in Toronto. In his studies, he will be examining curriculum and planning, with special emphasis in the science program. The award was made by the Ontario Public School Men Teachers' Federation.

Henry M. Lam, Sc. '73, is a structural engineer with SNC/GECO Ltd., Toronto. Mr. Lam was recently transferred from Montreal and is currently working under the leadership of J. D. Smith, Sc. '46.

Garry J. Lamourie, Law '72 (B.A., Carleton), has moved his law practice to 640 Bloor St. W., Suite 1, Toronto.

Fine arts film fans applaud Linda Beath

"Rejoice, rejoice, fine art cinema is returning to Toronto...when the Fine Arts theatre (formerly the Capitol Fine Art) opens under a new policy and new management," the Globe and Mail reported recently.

A partner in the new management is Linda Beath, Arts '71, who has teamed up with Robert Huber to present the latest in first-run films. Miss Beath is the manager of New Cinema Enterprises Corp. Ltd., a growing Canadian film distributor, primarily of imported movies of considerable artistic interest. Mr. Huber, a former actor, has long been associated with Toronto repertory film houses.

A native of Dryden, Ont., Miss Beath grew up in Ottawa, Montreal, and Kingston. She has a B.A. in Chemistry and Mathematics from Queen's, but immediately on graduation went to work for the Canadian Film Institute in Ottawa. From the Institute she went to New Cinema, where she eventually took over. Recently she hired another Queen's grad, Sandra Bernstein, Arts '76, to head the 16 mm department.

Says the Globe and Mail: "The fine Arts theatre is a breath of fresh air on the Toronto film scene. Fans of all types of good films can rejoice."

Lynda Langdon (Lynda Currie), Arts, Ed. '72, is a counsellor/teacher at Napanee District Secondary School, Napanee, Ont. Lynda was married on Aug. 10, 1974, to G. E. 'Ted' Langdon, and they are living at 18 Westmount Dr., Belleville, Ont. Ted is Manager of the East Plaza branch of the Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce, Belleville. They would like to hear from any former Science '44 Co-op friends.

Murray W. Locke, Ed. '73 (B.A., Carleton), is with the Scarborough School Board, Toronto, teaching at the Albert Campbell School and living in Willowdale.

Hugh C. Lockwood, Arts '74, and Mrs. Lockwood (Anne Bennett), Arts, Ed. '74, are living in Thunder Bay, Ont., where Mr. Lockwood is a geologist with Hudson Bay Exploration and Development Co. Ltd. and Mrs. Lockwood is a property assessor for the Assessment Division of the Ministry of Revenue. Their address is 668 Churchill Dr.

John A. MacDonald, Sc. '74, M.Sc. '76, and Linda MacDonald (Linda Berry), Artsci '74 (M.B.A., McGill), are both working for Canadian Bechtel Ltd., Mines and Metals Division, Construction Department, Sudbury, Ont. They were transferred from Sept Iles, Que. The MacDonalds may be reached at 129 Shelley Dr., Sudbury.

Douglas Maund, Law '75 (B.A., Carleton), was recently admitted to the Bar and is associated in the practice of law with Parkinson and Parkinson, Orangeville, Ont.

Dr. Gerard W. McIntyre, Ph.D. '75 (B.A., M.A., Saskatchewan), Regina, Sask., has been appointed Corporate Secretary in the Saskatchewan Government's Finance Office.

Dr. David D. McLean, Sc. '70, Ph.D. '76, has been appointed Assistant Professor, Department of Chemical Engineering, at the University of Ottawa. Dr. McLean had been Manager of Quality Control, Lynn MacLeod Metallurgy, Thetford Mines, Que., since January 1976.

Michael J. McMorrow, Arts, Ed. '73, has completed his M.Div. degree at the University of St. Michael's College, Toronto, and may now be reached at the Edmundite Novitiate, Enders Island, Mystic, Conn. 06355, U.S.A.

Four on Dean's List at UWO

Four Queen's graduates were among the 28 students placed on the Dean's Honour List when they graduated with a class of 192 in the Master of Business Administration program at the University of Western Ontario in June. They were Pierre R. McClelland, Artsci '75, Andrew M. Schell, Arts '70, David J. Takata, Arts '75, and John M. Mundy, Arts '74.

Support the Golden Gaels and Gals

Here is a calendar of selected events from the fall schedule of Queen's men's and women's sports, concentrating on out-of-town games where the support of alumni can mean so much to Queen's players.

QUEBEC

Sept. 16-17 Soccer at Concordia (Tournament), 4 p.m.
Oct. 1 Football at McGill, 2 p.m.
Oct. 22 Football at UQTR (Trois Rivières)
Oct. 29 Volleyball (women) at McGill
Football at Concordia, 2 p.m.
Nov. 5-6 Hockey (men) at Laval (Tournament)
Nov. 11-12 Basketball (men) at McGill (Tournament)
Nov. 18-19 Swimming & Diving (women) at McGill

TORONTO

Sept. 30-Oct. 1 Tennis (men) at Toronto, 10 a.m.
(OUAA East Section)
Oct. 1 Water Polo (men), York Early Bird
Oct. 7 Tennis (men) at York, 12 p.m.
Oct. 8 Soccer at Toronto, 2 p.m.
Oct. 9 Soccer at York, 2 p.m.
Oct. 22, 23 Field Hockey (women) at Toronto
(Senior & Intermediate)
Oct. 22 Rugby at York, 2 p.m.
Waterpolo at York (OUAA), 12 p.m.
Nov. 4-5 Hockey (women) at York
Nov. 12 Water Polo at Toronto (OUAA), 12 p.m.
Nov. 19 Volleyball (men) with Toronto & Ryerson
at Ryerson, 12 p.m.
Nov. 20 Volleyball (men) at York, 1 p.m.

WATERLOO

Sept. 24 Rugby at Waterloo, 2 p.m.
Oct. 7 Women's Invitational Track
Oct. 28-29 Field Hockey - OW Finals (Senior & Intermediate)
Nov. 11, 12, 13 Soccer: CIAU Finals
Nov. 19 Wrestling, 12 p.m.

HAMILTON (McMaster)

Oct. 15 Track (women)
Track & Field (men)
Soccer
Oct. 22 Track & Field - Ont. Women's Finals.
9:30 a.m.
Track & Field (men), OUAA, 9:30 a.m.
Nov. 4-5 Water Polo-McMaster Challenge
Cup
Nov. 5 Basketball (men), 2 p.m.

SUDBURY (Laurentian)

Sept. 30 - Oct. 1 Field Hockey (women).
(Senior & Intermediate)
Oct. 23 Soccer, 12 p.m.
Nov. 12 Hockey (men), 8 p.m.
Nov. 13 Hockey (men), 2 p.m.

OTTAWA (Carleton)

Oct. 8 Football, 2 p.m.
Oct. 29-30 Basketball (women)
Oct. 29 Water Polo (OUAA), 12 p.m.

ST. CATHARINES (Brock)

Oct. 16 Soccer
Oct. 22 Volleyball (men)
Nov. 4 Basketball (men) (exhib.), 8 p.m.
Nov. 11-12 Badminton (women)

GUELPH

Oct. 1 Archery (women)
Nov. 11 Hockey (women)
Nov. 12 Swimming (women) at Relays

LONDON (Western)

Nov. 12 Hockey (women), 2 p.m.
Basketball (women)

PLAY-OFF DATES

Oct. 29 Soccer - OUAA Final; No. 2 at No. 1
Nov. 5 Football: No. 2 at No. 1
Nov. 12 Football - Atlantic Bowl Game
Rugby - OUAA Final (No. 2 at No. 1)
Nov. 20 Swimming & Diving Relays,
OUAA, at Laurier

MOVING?

If you have a new address, please cut off the address label from your copy of the REVIEW and mail it, along with the following information to:

Alumni Office
Queen's University,
Kingston, Ont. K7L 3N6

NAME

DEGREE/YEAR

NEW ADDRESS
(include Postal Code where applicable)

(Remember to send your old address label)

PHONE NUMBER

ANY NEWS about you we should have in the Review? (Births, marriage, promotion, honours, change of job, etc.)

If you receive The Queen's Review but do not receive notices of local Branch activities, please let us know.

Christopher J. Miller, Arts '71, Vancouver, B.C., is editorial assistant on the University of British Columbia's Alumni Chronicle.

Anthony Moren, Arts '73 (M.L.S., McGill), is a librarian with Statistics Canada in Ottawa. Mr. Moren graduated from McGill University with a Master's degree in Library Science in June 1976.

Donald G. Price, Sc. '74, M.B.A. '77, has received a Rotary Fellowship to study business and international trade at the Australia National University in Canberra during 1977-78. Mr. Price was one of 800 students throughout the world to win a fellowship this year from the Rotary Foundation of Rotary International.

Joseph M. Prodor, Law '73 (B.A., Alberta), has returned from England, where he was doing postgraduate work. Mr. Prodor and his wife, Beverley Jones, are living at Langley, B.C., where Mr. Prodor has opened an office for the practice of law at 20410 Fraser Hwy.

Dr. Martin Rauchwerger, Med. '73 (B.A., Toronto), is associated with the Albany Medical Clinic and the Doctors Hospital for the practice of internal medicine. He has also been appointed Lecturer in Medicine, University of Toronto, Sunnybrook Medical Centre, Toronto.

Janet M. A. Reid, Law '72 (B.A., Carleton), has moved her law practice to 130 Albert St., Suite 310, Ottawa.

Harvey M. Rosen, Law '75 (B.A., York), is associated with the law firm of Levinter and Levinter, 120 Adelaide St. W., Suite 1800, Toronto.

Victoria K. Russell, Law '75 (B.A., Windsor), is practising law with the firm of Broadhurst and Ball, 1830 Dundas St. E., Mississauga, Ont.

Colleen J. Shaver, Sc. '76, is employed as a petroleum engineer with PanCanadian Petroleum Ltd., in Calgary.

Martin Shelley, Arts '74 (D.D.S., Western), recently graduated from the University of Western Ontario with his degree in dentistry and is practising in Cambridge, Ont.

George Shepherd, Arts '71, has received his B.Ed. degree from the University of New Brunswick, where he was awarded the Lieutenant-Governor of New Brunswick Silver Medal in Education and the Hebrew Congregation of Fredericton Scholarship, both given to the outstanding graduate in the Faculty of Education.

Robert E. Stead, Arts '72, Law '75, is associated with the firm of Shaffer and Jobbitt in the practice of law at 105 S. May St., Suite 112, Thunder Bay, Ont.

Virginia Stephen, Arts, Ed. '74, an art teacher at Loyalist Collegiate, Kingston, Ont., spent the summer studying at the Banff Centre in Alberta (formerly the Banff School of Fine Art).

Bruce H. Swan, Com. '72, has been appointed Assistant Executive Director, Pearson Hospital, Vancouver, B.C.

Laurie F. Trewartha, Sc. '73, has been appointed Toronto Branch Manager, Process, Industrial and Utility Sales, Canadian Ingersoll-Rand Co. Ltd. Mr. Trewartha joined the company in 1973 as an application engineer. He became Account Manager in January 1977, the position held at the time of this new appointment.

Hans C. Van Zandvoort, Ed. '75 (B.A., Carleton), is teaching History at St. Benedict Junior High School, Cambridge (Galt), Ont.

Dr. Ajay Varma, Med. '75, is practicing family medicine in Alexandria, Ont.

Janice L. Wager, Arts '76, is Manager of the recently opened Coles Book Store in Cranbrook, B.C.

Joni Walker, Arts '76, has been transferred to the Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce in Ottawa. Miss Walker had previously been with the Bank in Kingston.

Shirley Walker (Shirley Barnard), Arts '70, Law '74, has been appointed part-time Assistant Crown Attorney for the County of Kent. Shirley and husband Glen Walker, Law '74 (B.A., Western), are in partnership in the practice of law in Chatham, Ont.

John H. Wilson, Arts '72, Law '75, is practising law with the firm of Little, Morrissey, Gillespie and Reeves, London, Ont.

Brenda (Maybee) Zanin, Arts '72, has accepted a bilingual post in the Information Division of the Canadian International Development Agency (CIDA) in Ottawa.

A salute to Sandie

Sandra Woods, who joined the Alumni Office in September 1976 as Assistant Fund Director, has been saluted for achievement in her previous post as Co-ordinator of Alumnae at Cottey College, Nevada, Mo.

Cottey President Evelyn Milam recently was notified that the college had won an award for the greatest increase in alumnae participation and gifts during the year 1975-76. The award was made by the Council for the Advance and Support of Education (CASE), of which Queen's is also a member. President Milam described Ms Woods as "creative in her approach and enthusiastic about the opportunities for alumnae to make a real contribution." Sandie (as many Queen's alumni already know her) is a graduate of Cottey and of the University of Manitoba. Her current project is the development of a Class Agent program for Queen's alumni.

Alumni Division Organizing For

Queen's Quest

As reported in the Review and via the May mailings for the Annual Fund, plans are being made to contact all graduates to ask for support of Queen's Quest 1978-83. Those who wish to show their confidence in Queen's and her future may participate by making either outright gifts or five-year pledges.

Eric Jorgensen, Sc. '49, Toronto, President of Queen's Alumni Association and member of the Board of Trustees, will act as chairman of the Alumni Division. Tom Peake, Sc. '47, also of Toronto, and Gordon Eligh, Com. '39, Kingston, have volunteered to be Division Deputy Chairmen. Along with members at head office on campus, they will be recruiting volunteers for local canvassing.

Eric Jorgensen, Sc. '49

Tom Peake, Sc. '47

Gordon Eligh, Com. '39

Queen's Quest will seek contributions totalling $10 million for renewal and updating in six main areas:

- Library services
- Scientific and technical equipment
- Modernization and renewal of facilities
- Research support
- Academic development
- Financial aid to students

Current plans envisage a mail appeal to all graduates early in 1978. This initial phase will be followed by several area TELETHONS to contact those who have not made a decision in response to this mailing.

Throughout the program, regular reports will be issued to keep all alumni informed of progress.

Queen's reputation for providing the best in university education can be maintained if this program is given strong support.

Corporations, foundations, faculty and staff, students, parents and other friends of Queen's will all be asked to help.

It's kind of nice to stand out.

Which is what Carrington Canadian does. But for many more good reasons than merely the look of the bottle. Carrington is distilled in small batches, aged and mellowed in seasoned oak casks; it's light in look and smooth in taste. Carrington, it's special, and, in our opinion, like no other whisky in the world.

A whisky of outstanding quality.

CARRINGTON CANADIAN WHISKY

QUEEN'S

ALUMNI REVIEW

NOVEMBER-DECEMBER 1977

ARCHIVES
KINGSTON QNT
K7L 5G4

*
DOUGLAS LIBRARY

1-023-0621

En nombre
rd troisième ss classe
19 Kingston

PORT OF SPAIN and ROBINSON CRUSOE ISLAND

8 days/7 nights Deluxe!

$499.00 per person double occupancy + 15% taxes/services from Toronto

WEEKLY DEPARTURES
AVAILABLE NOVEMBER 20
TO MARCH 26

Hawaii

8 days, 7 nights of Pacific enchantment

WEEKLY DEPARTURES
AVAILABLE JANUARY 18
TO MARCH 29

$496.00 per person, double occupancy + 15%
taxes/services from Toronto

Programs sponsored by the Alumni Association of Queen's University for alumni, faculty, students, parents, family members and friends

APPLY TO:

Professional Travel Consultants Ltd.
330 Bay Street, Suite 1103
Toronto, Ontario M5H 2S8
Telephone: (416) 869-1693

$100.00 per person deposit required upon application, for each tour.

Editor
CATHERINE PERKINS MORTON,
Arts '58

Editor, Personal Notes
EYE PATTEN

Editorial Advisory Board
H. HAMILTON, Arts '31, LL.D. '75
MURRAY A. GILL, Sc. '47
BERNARD F. TROTTER, Arts '46
PETER DORN, R.C.A.

The Principal's Report, 2 By Dr. Ronald L. Watts
1976-77 (Excerpts)

Update on Metallurgy 5 Public and private money at work

Queen's Impact on Four 6 By Dr. Duncan G. Sinclair,
Communities (Part Two) Dean of Arts and Science

Around the Campus 11 *Frosh work for charity; Alcan pledges $100,000 to Queen's Quest
Rowing Club; Heritage Award;
Intercollegiate Sports Schedule;
James Bay Expedition; Dorn design wins; Housing pattern changes;
Leonard Field lively*

Dean R.J. Hand Appointed 16 Succeeds Vice-Principal David
Vice-Principal (Resources) Bonham

Meet Your New Alumni Executive 17 Third woman President in 50 years

Letters 18

At the Branches 20 Kingston, Toronto, Hamilton, London, Ottawa, Niagara Peninsula

Nominations, Please 21 Alumni Teaching Award
22 Board of Trustees
25 University Council
27 Honorary Degrees
33 Distinguished Service Award
33 Marty Memorial Scholarship

Names in the News 23 Births, marriages, deaths and other news of alumni you know

Photo Credits: Paul Berry, page 2, 15; Richard Webb, 3; Dept. of Metallurgical Engineering, 5; Wallace R. Berry, 6, 8 (Botterell, Watts) 16 (Bonham), 19; Hunter Studios, Kingston, 8 (Simeon); Queen's News Dept., 7 (MAGLEV), 8 (Gibson), 9 (Disraeli), 11, 13; Fred Van Driel, 7 (Choral Ensemble & conductor), Univ. of Winnipeg, 8 (Lower); Peter Boag, 9 (Arctic); John Brebner, 9 (Webb); Whig-Standard, Kingston, 12; Chris Boon, 16 (Hand); Betsy Greenlees, 17 (top).

The Queen's Review is published bi-monthly: January, March, May, July, September and November. Address all communications to THE QUEEN'S REVIEW, Alumni Association, Queen's University, Kingston, Ont. K7L 3N6. Typeset, printed and bound by 1000 Islands Publishers Ltd., Gananoque, Ont. Member, CASE.

Advertising Representatives: Alumni Media, Toronto (416) 781-6957, and Vancouver (604) 688-6819.

Postage paid in cash at third-class rates. Permit no. 1019, Kingston, Ont.

COVER: Frost-reddened ivy trailing across a stained-glass window in Cant Hall. Designed by Peter Dorn, RA, from a photo taken by David Eone, Sc. '77, for Tricolor.

The Principal's Report 1976-77

In the introduction to his annual report for 1976-77, Principal Watts points out that three major issues relating to higher education have attracted particular public attention during the past year. "The first is the contribution of the universities to the deliberations on Canadian unity," he says. "The second is the changing role of the federal government in the support of higher education. The third is the relationship or so-called 'interface' between the high schools and universities."

In his report, the Principal deals with all three topics, plus special events and milestones in the past academic year at Queen's. Alumni may request the complete text from the Alumni Office, John Deutsch University Centre, Queen's University, Kingston, Ont. K7L 3N6.

Spring Convocation procession, with Principal Ronald L. Watts (left), Chancellor Roland Michener and Rector Morris Chochla, Law '78.

Canadian Unity: Challenge and Response

Since the 1976 University Council meeting at which a Canada-wide focus was reaffirmed as an objective for Queen's, the election of November 1 in Quebec has posed an unprecedented challenge to Canadian unity. In this situation universities carry an important responsibility to ensure that the issue and alternatives are carefully and rationally analysed and clarified for public consideration.

Queen's is in a unique position to respond to this challenge not only because of the strength of our department in relevant fields such as political studies, economics, history and law but also through the work of our Institute of Intergovernmental Relations. Established in 1966, with Prof. R.M. Burns as its first director, this institute is unique in Canada in providing an interdisciplinary focus for research in all aspects of federalism and intergovernmental relations.

Among its past work which is specifically relevant to the present crisis was the publication in 1971 of an important study of Quebec-English Canadian relationships, One Country or Two? This year the new director, Prof. Richard Simeon, a member of our Department of Political Studies since 1968, has edited as a sequel a second book, Mus Canada Fail? Its publication by the McGill-Queen's Press in the autumn of 1977 should provide a major contribution to the public discussion of the issues facing Canada at the present time. The authors, mainly Queen's academics, explore the background of the current situation, the possibilities for change in the federal system and the consequences of independence for Quebec.

The Institute also organized a special symposium late in April at the Donald Gordon Centre on the current crisis and possible solutions. A select group of representatives of the various political parties from all regions of Canada — including two provincial premiers, federal and provincial public servants, businessmen, newspaper editors and academics — was drawn together to exchange views. Earlier in the year the Institute sponsored a series of public seminars on "The Political Economy of Canadian Federalism", featuring major speakers from across Canada.

In addition, Professor Simeon, himself the author of Federal-Provincial Diplomacy: the Making of Public Policy in Canada (1972), has contributed to the debate in various public settings and was recently appointed by Premier Davis as the sole academic on the Ontario Advisory Committee on Consideration.

Through the work of the Institute and related academic departments, Queen's will continue to address itself to the major issues confronting Canada.

Resource Management: Planning Priorities

Outlined last year a number of economies large and small through which available resources were stretched as far as possible to maintain quality and essential services. The result was a balanced budget for 1976/77. Financial stringency will continue to require emphasis on effective resource management at all levels of the University.

During 1976/77, planning for the effective use of our human and other resources has proceeded on a number of fronts. The planning of graduate programs for the period 1979-84 was given preliminary study during the winter, and a working paper was presented to the university community for general discussion in June.

In the spring a Senate Committee submitted its revised report on conditions governing appointment and the granting of tenure. Since few new permanent appointments are now in prospect, and since considerable numbers of our present academic staff have been continued on term appointments for several years, the Committee's recommendations will require careful consideration and debate in the Senate this fall.

Also over the past year, the Principal's Advisory Group on Resource Planning, under the chairmanship of Prof. R.D. Fraser of the Economics Department, has assembled material on the long-term financial consequences of alternative staffing and budgetary policies. This will be particularly helpful in making effective choices.

A Principal's Advisory Committee on Teaching Effectiveness was established last autumn to advise faculties and schools. Under the chairmanship of Prof. A.R.C. Duncan, Head of the Department of Philosophy and a former Dean of the Faculty of Arts and Science, the Committee has made recommendations for the allocation of special funds directed to academic development. In addition, the Committee will report to the Senate by the end of 1977 on an appropriate continuing structure for fostering effectiveness of teaching and learning within the University.

In parallel with these specific planning activities, the Senate Committee on Academic Development has drafted a report entitled Goals for Queen's: Processes for Setting Priorities. This report sets out university-wide goals, describes the pattern of priorities reflected in present activities, and outlines the environment and context within which the University can expect to implement its objectives in the foreseeable future. As a next stage in the general planning process, the Committee proposes that individual faculties and departments prepare, by the end of 1977, development plans for undergraduate and graduate studies, research and continuing education within the context of the stipulated university-wide objectives and expected financial limitations.

Student Services

In the area of student services the past year has been one of consolidation.

In recent years the workload of the Student Counselling Service has increased dramatically. During 1976/77, 7% of the student population availed themselves of this useful and well-run operation. The service has dealt with both personal and academic problems of students. It relies largely on part-time and voluntary counsellors, including two who have been trained in study skills and reading skills.

This year the Student Health Service has remained open through the lunch hour at no extra cost. Thus it has been able to serve more persons.

The Career Planning and Placement Office provides a service of particular help to graduating students. The Office plans to extend its activities during the coming year, particularly in following up on the first job experience of recent graduates in order to obtain information which will help in counselling undergraduates.

During the past year the evening use of the Grey House on Queen's Crescent by student groups has increased. Several separate volunteer student organizations directed at the local community are based at the house and are now co-ordinating their activities through the Queen's Student Community Group.

(Continued)

The Basic Medical Sciences/Library Building, newest component of the Health Sciences Complex, rises a block behind the venerable Old Arts Building in this photo taken last spring. Phase I, including the library, should be ready for occupancy in time for the academic year of 1978/79.

The Principal's Report 1976-77

Enrolment: Numbers and Quality

Enrolment at Queen's has this year virtually reached the plateau planned in 1969 as the maximum level for the foreseeable future. During the past year an overall picture of province-wide and country-wide university enrolments in the decade ahead has begun to emerge. The general demographic patterns are clear. The age group from which the larger part of university enrolments is drawn is expected to expand very gradually until 1982, but then shrink back sharply to a level which in 1992 will be some 15% lower than in 1976. What is still not clear is the extent to which total university enrolments will reflect these demographic swings. At Queen's we are confident that, provided we can maintain our traditional reputation for quality, we shall be able to maintain a steady level of enrolment through the decade ahead, regardless of fluctuations in total Canadian or Ontario enrolments.

Queen's in recent years has consistently had many more qualified applicants than we have had places available. Concrete evidence of the continued reputation and attraction of Queen's for first-class students is to be found in the fact that in 1976/77 it was the only university in Ontario at which more than half the entering students had obtained first-class honours in school. We must not allow such good news, however, to lead to complacency. The demand from the best students for places at Queen's will not persist automatically. We are determined, therefore, to take the steps necessary to ensure that we maintain present levels of quality and numbers in the years ahead.

There was also more good news this year about the quality of students graduating from Queen's. Jessie Sloan, in her final year of Geological Sciences, became the first woman Rhodes Scholar in Ontario and the third Rhodes Scholar from Queen's in two years. As the Queen's Journal commented editorially, these awards serve as a fine tribute to the academic eminence of Queen's University.

In February, the Senate approved the latest revision of enrolments plans, as shown in the table below.

Summary Projection of Full-Time Enrolment

December 1976

Faculty or School	ACTUAL			SHORT-TERM			LONG-TERM
	1974/5	1975/6	1976/7	1977/8	1978/9	1979/80	1980/1	1981/2
Arts & Science	4764	5028	5036	5050	5050	5050	5050	5050
Applied Science	1331	1435	1512	1560	1600	1600	1600	1600
Health Sciences	612	656	671	680	700	700	700	700
Law	422	421	448	435	425	425	425	425
Education	734	815	879	875	875	875	875	875
Business	706	688	679	680	690	690	690	690
Total Undergraduate	8569	9043	9225	9280	9340	9340	9340	9340
Business (M.B.A.)	194	180	200	200	200	200	200	200
Graduate Studies	854	893	939	920	950	950	1050	1050
Total Graduate	1048	1073	1139	1120	1150	1150	1250	1250
TOTAL FULL-TIME UNIVERSITY	9617	10116	10364	10400	10490	10490	10590	10590

Student Housing and University Residences

The old Jeanne Mance wing of the Hotel Dieu Hospital, which for the past three years has helped us to meet our needs by providing 100 temporary residence places, is to be torn down to make way for new hospital construction.

The Board of Trustees had hoped it would be possible to proceed with the next stage of the project to renovate and add to student housing in the block bounded by Union, University, Earl and Alfred streets. Unfortunately, at present mortgage interest rates the rents that would be necessary to support the project could not be set at competitive levels. If this situation changes, plans will proceed. In the meantime, through a combination of minor modifications in the men's residences and better co-operation with Elrond College in placing students there, it is hoped that the reduction in places due to the loss of the Jeanne Mance Residence will be largely counterbalanced.

Elrond College, the co-operative residence which is operated by a board independent of the University but on which the University is a second mortgage holder, has continued to find itself in financial difficulties. Elrond College arranged with CMHC for the postponement of certain interest payments over the summer months when the level of occupancy is low. It is hoped that ways can be found to establish Elrond College on a sound financial basis, since the student accommodation it provides is essential for our total needs.

McGill-Queen's Press Reorganized

In recent years most university presses in North America have been faced with increasing financial difficulties. Confronted by a deteriorating financial situation, the Board of Directors of the McGill-Queen's Press established a small task force to review the objectives of the Press and to assess the degree to which they can be fulfilled in future within a reasonable level of subsidy.

In the course of this review it has become clear that a complete reorganization and substantial reduction in size would be necessary to achieve a viable operation. This task was begun during the summer of 1977 and will be continued through the coming year.

Update on Metallurgy

Public and private grant money at work

During the past summer, the Department of Metallurgical Engineering completed putting on-line a PDP-11 computer to monitor signals generating from an X-ray diffractometer.

This automated facility was made possible through a grant of $29,750 awarded jointly by the National Research Council ($18,350) and the J.P. Nickell Foundation ($11,400) to Prof. S. Saimoto in 1975. Since that time, an X-ray generator, a floppy disk data storage system, and an alpha-numeric input-output terminal have been bought and integrated with existing equipment. In this effort the Department of Metallurgical Engineering expended nearly $7,000 of its scarce equipment fund. The interface of the digital readout of the X-ray diffractometer with the computer memory was designed and made operational by Mr. Ron Wilson, the department's electronic technologist. Mr. Dave Bullis, presently a fourth-year student in the Department of Computer Science, modified and expanded the data processing program which was initially developed by the Bell Telephone Laboratory in Murray Hill, New Jersey.

The output of this facility is an angular plot called a "pole figure" which quantitatively records the crystallographic anisotropy of commercial or laboratory processed metal sheet. The computer program maps out contours of equal intensity X-ray radiation which is reflected from a selected crystallographic or atomic plane near the metal surface. Such pole figures are now being widely used by industry to predict formability of commercial products. Correlation of pole figures to mechanical properties under recent advances in the metal processing industry, exemplified by such remarkable examples as the production of seamless steel beer cans.

One of the projects undertaken by Mr. Gordon Hobbs and Professor

Saimoto is to develop a specific texture for alloys such as cupro-nickel and monel so that, when fabricated into a tube, they will be able to withstand up to 40% greater internal pressure compared with presently available tube of the same alloy and wall thickness.

At a recent demonstration to engineers from Alcan Research Laboratories, the ease of obtaining pole figures, which previously took 8-10 hours when performed manually, re-kindled projects thought to be too time-consuming. Thus another door has been opened to better optimize the property of aluminum, copper and nickel alloys through more suitable application of crystallographic texture in metal products.

Above, Computer Science student Dave Bullis (foreground) and postgraduate metallurgist Gordon Hobbs study a "pole figure" mapped out on the computer screen. Mini-computer is on left. Below right: Metallurgy Department's new X-ray diffractometer, mounted on a generator and hooked into electronics on left of photo.

Queen's and its impact on four communities

Extracts from a talk
by Dr. D.G. Sinclair,
Dean of the Faculty
of Arts and Science,
to Queen's Staff Association

Part Two

Dr. Duncan G. Sinclair, Arts '55, Ph.D. '63 (D.V.M., M.S.A.), Dean of the Faculty of Arts and Science.

Queen's has considerable impact on the community in terms of research. Recently the Ontario Government decided to locate a major test track near Millhaven, to work on the engineering of developing mass transit systems. The reason for that track's location in the area is predominantly the existence at Queen's of the Canadian Institute for Guided Ground Transport, "the railway centre". This is an interdisciplinary venture. The Faculty of Arts and Science has some input, particularly through the Department of Physics where Prof. David Atherton is working on linear induction motors. These motors generate magnetic fields which lift the rapid transit car off the track so there is little or no friction. The big track on which this project (called MAGLEV, for magnetic levitation) is being tested is located in the back of the Physical Education Centre.

MAGLEV represents world class research, known not only locally but internationally, and involving several departments in work related to the impact of mass transit and railways on Canada's economy.

Indirectly, then, the Canadian Institute for Guided Ground Transport is a major resource with a notable impact on the community. It attracts people (most communities want to grow) and it attracts industry. The Millhaven test track has already attracted a considerable number of engineers with their families, and eventually it will provide jobs for quite a number of people. The impact of the Institute's findings could be considerable on, a country like Canada, which is spread out in a very thin band along the border and where freight rates occupy a large amount of attention. When Premier Lougheed of Alberta was on campus last winter, freight rates and related problems were the theme of his talk. If we were able to solve some of our transportation problems I think Alberta would be more willing to help solve some of our energy problems.

Art for the People

A major impact that the University has on its immediate vicinity is in the arts. What city the size of Kingston can boast a gallery like the Agnes Etherington Art Centre? Not one other. This gallery has a permanent collection that's very good and hosts touring collections that expose students and all members of the community to a variety of art they would never see if they lived in a community of comparable size but without a university such as Queen's.

The Art Conservation program is unique to Canada. It was set up by Queen's in association with the federal government to educate more conservators who are trained to restore works of art — paintings, sculptures, archaeological and other artifacts — so they can be preserved as Canada's heritage. Queen's has the only such program in the country, and local people have access to it. (If Granny's old picture really needs restoring, it can be taken to the Agnes Etherington Art Gallery and restored for the modest cost of the goods or the materials required.)

The symphony orchestra in Kingston is a good one, on its way to becoming bigger and more professional under the baton of Alexander Brott. It was begun by Prof. Graham George, who retired just this year from the Department of Music. The foundation of the string section of the orchestra is the Vaghy Quartet, artists-in-residence who were originally brought to campus under the joint sponsorship of the Kingston Symphony Association, the University and the Frontenac Board of Education. The Quartet then as now presented a tremendous opportunity to expose children in the schools to classical music not otherwise heard or seen in Eastern Ontario from one year's end to the next.

Apart from the Kingston Symphony Orchestra, Queen's is involved almost nightly in other musical events. The Jazz Ensemble always packs Grant Hall. It's about as good a big jazz band as there is in the country, and it would not exist without the University, and Queen's music students in particular.

Also with respect to music, it's a great pleasure — to me, at any rate — that the renowned Hart House Chorus from the University of Toronto is conducted by a member of Queen's Department of Music, Prof. Denise Narcisse-Mair. When the recent sesquicentennial celebrations were held at the University of Toronto, the President asked the Hart House Chorus to perform, and he gave a special "plug" in the notice to our Principal when he said, "Thanks, Ron, for lending us the conductor."

Professor Narcisse-Mair has really got that group and our own Choral Ensemble honed to a fine edge. The Ensemble's success at Washington's Festival of Nations last spring brought a lot of credit to the University and to Kingston.

Still on music, Prof. Istvan Anhalt, head of the Department of Music, was commissioned by the CBC to write a special piece in Centennial Year. The work, La Tourangelle, about the founder of the Ursuline Order, was performed in Toronto. I attended the premiere, and it had a tremendous impact, and I believe it will be a very important piece of music.

Queen's has comparable impact in drama. Through the Drama Department itself, the Drama Guild and local theatre companies comprised largely of Queen's Drama graduates, Kingston offered a range and number of plays that would not otherwise be staged. With the encouragement of Wintario grants, several Queen's productions in the past two years have been able to tour other Ontario communities.

And there's film, as well. I was very pleased one night to see a filler on CBC, between the end of a program and the news, which was the most beautiful film about ice that I have seen... lovely musical background, melting ice and then changing patterns of ice flow in water. It lasted only three or four minutes, and then at the end the credit was Quarry Films, Queen's University."

For the Good of Your Health

In this discussion I have dealt primarily with the Faculty of Arts and Science. In all Faculties there are special impacts on our several communities. For example, a local impact I have not mentioned is our health care system, and the role of the Faculty of Medicine. In a city such as Kingston we would not have access to such specialized health care were it not for Queen's Faculty of Medicine working in conjunction with the hospitals in our community.

Queen's is at the core of a regional medical centre which provides health care with a degree of specialization and a broad range like none other in Ontario, short of Toronto.

The impact Queen's has had in the area of research has included substantial contributions through Economics to the provincial system. Prof. David Smith of the Department of Economics is a member of the Ontario Economic Council, is on its executive, and was instrumental in its recent publication of major studies into health care and educational systems in Ontario.

Prof. R.D. Fraser, also of Economics, is widely known for his work on health care, health care delivery, and Physics Professor David Atherton is dwarfed by 25-foot-diameter wheel used in testing MAGLEV's superconducting linear synchronous motor. This experiment in rapid transit has attracted a community of government engineers.

Agnes Etherington Art Centre: gift to Kingston as well as to Queen's

Denise Narcisse-Mair, Music Professor and Conductor of the Choral Ensemble

A section of Queen's Choral Ensemble: "honed to a fine edge"

The Professor: interpreter and shaper of policy

Dr. E.H. Botterell

Istvan Anhalt

Frederick Gibson

George Miller

A.R.M. Lower

W. Bennett Lewis

Richard Simeon

Ronald L. Watts

methods for financing health care over the next few years.

The recent Botterell Report on the provision of health services to Ontario agriculture originated at Queen's with Dr. Harry Botterell, former Dean of Medicine and Vice-Principal (Health Sciences). I consulted with him on a segment of that report, which I think will have a fairly major impact over the years on the way in which agricultural productivity, particularly in the animal sector, will develop in Ontario. I hope it will also be taken into consideration for policy-making on land use within the province, because Dr. Botterell points out some frightening statistics on how land available for agricultural purposes is shrinking.

Guidance for Governments

Prof. Richard Simeon of the Department of Political Studies, whose books and articles are especially topical since the Quebec election of last fall, is now Director of the Institute for Intergovernmental Relations. He was also a member of the planning committee that organized the major conference on Confederation which Premier Davis sponsored in Toronto in October. The primary organizer there was Ian MacDonald, President of York University and previously Deputy Minister of Finance for Ontario, but Richard Simeon was one of the people who got the work done. Two of his Queen's colleagues, Professors John Meisel and Richard Lipsey, were key speakers. Our Principal, of course, is one of Canada's experts on federalism who is being called upon increasingly for advice at this time when our national unity is so threatened.

Again from Political Studies, Prof. Peter Leslie has undertaken, on Queen's behalf, to co-ordinate a major study of the ramifications of federal-provincial financing on higher education in Canada. Queen's is doing this as an institution at the behest of the Association of Universities and Colleges of Canada (AUCC). Under the British North America Act, education is a provincial responsibility; over the years, through the matching of dollar for dollar of all educational costs, the federal government has had a major financial stake in education but no impact on educational policy per se. The renegotiation of the federal-provincial agreements on cost-sharing of these big programs — education and health — went on for more than a year and resulted in policies that make universities, Queen's included, almost exclusively provincial responsibilities rather than partly provincial and partly national.

Threats in Provincialism

This arrangement could have, in my view, a deleterious effect on the University's capacity to compete in an intellectual sense on a world scale, because provincial governments, like local governments, have narrower perspectives than national governments. They put their local and provincial priorities a little ahead of the importance of the nation, and as a consequence the object of doing research comes closer and closer to real time and to issues which are considered to be "immediately relevant".

If you ask members of a municipal government what's important to them, they want to know a cheaper method for picking up garbage. If you ask a provincial government, it wants to know how to plan to deal with garbage more cheaply over the next couple of years. The federal government will be concerned, say, with the impact that pollution originating from garbage will have on the Great Lakes over the next 10 years. You could take this to another level of government, the United Nations, for example, in which case they would be primarily interested in the effect of pollutants such as ozone in the stratosphere cutting down on the filtering effect of ultraviolet light, which may lead to a world-wide increase in cancer.

So you see that the focus of research enterprise gets farther and farther out the farther one is away from the problem, and I worry that universities could become provincialized as a result of these new cost-sharing arrangements. Professor Leslie's work is very important to identify the extent and potential of these dangers.

Our National Identity

Principal Deutsch, of course, brought an enormous reputation to Queen's and left it with us in the work he did, for example, on the amalgamation of the Maritime Provinces, among a host of other works of substantial national impact.

A national effect will be achieved, as well, with our Centre for Resource Studies at Queen's, headed by Prof. George Miller. It complements strengths we have in the departments of Geological Sciences, Economics, Political Studies and History. It is well understood that Canada is a very resource-dependent nation. We have long been regarded as North America's hewer of wood and drawer of water, and it's vital that we look at our resources and assess what they are, where they are, and how long they are going to last, while developing policies and resource industries that will allow us to export manufactured products rather than just raw materials.

In this area of resources, you can find any number of publications or newspapers and get entirely different views of the reserves we have, for example, in natural gas. Some say we're going to freeze in 1983 and others not until 2083; it depends on your perspective which of those predictions you consider the more likely to be correct. The Centre for Resource Studies will have a very major impact. It's a new institute and likely to be increasingly important to Queen's national identity.

Turning to ecology, a popular and topical theme, Prof. Fred Cooke in the department of Biology has developed a substantial national reputation for his study on snow geese in the Canadian Arctic. He goes north of Churchill every year, lies in the bogs and gets eaten by mosquitos, but he now understands that the imperatives are of mating behaviour and also migrational and other lives within populations of snow geese. This is important in wildlife management, but it's even more important in terms of a heritage concept and preserving the fauna of the North.

Also in Biology, the chief technician of the department, Mr. Jack Webb, has developed a series of chemical reactions capable of preserving flowers without loss of colour or texture. When I first heard about it, I said that florists would pay millions to suppress that formula. As a matter of fact, they haven't. This fascinating process is now being patented, some development work is being done on it, and I still think it will have a remarkable national impact in time as it develops.

Leadership in Canadian Studies

At Queen's, the History Department really has a greater emphasis on Canadian history than any other department in the country. Its reputation in Canadian studies is built largely on the pioneering work of A.R.M. Lower, Professors George Rawlyk and Fred Gibson (who probably knows more

Biologist Fred Cooke (right); summers with Snow Geese in an Arctic bog

Biology technician Jack Webb with his flower and leaf preservative, now being patented and developed

Historian D. Schurman (left) and English Professor J. Matthews with team member of transAtlantic, interdisciplinary Disraeli Project.

The Vaghy Quartet, artists-in-residence attached to Queen's Music Department, cornerstone of the Kingston Symphony Orchestra's string section

"Our product will be only two things: the education we provide and the research we make available.

...The higher the quality of a Queen's education, the better the citizens we can produce."

about McKenzie King than any three other people) have added to that reputation.

Many students come to Queen's for graduate work in Canadian history and Canadian political studies because we have more expertise at Queen's than most institutions which began consciously developing this area only in the late 1960s.

Turning to Canadian studies in English, Prof. Doug Spettigue in the Department of English is one of the best known Canadian literary sleuths. He discovered that the famous early Canadian author, Frederick Philip Grove, was actually a German who wrote under the name of Greve in Europe. As a consequence of tracing Grove's background, Professor Spettigue was able to explain part of the cultural background for Canadian literature; this man had a significant effect on it, and the early Germanic influence that he brought was built into the system.

Fully 90% of her students still come to Queen's from outside Kingston. After three or four years or graduate work, they redistribute themselves throughout the world.

Jet Set Researchers

Internationally (and I referred to them in Part One) there are the "stars" who travel the globe — the Saul Wolfes of this world who are invited hither and yon to speak to other scientists and university people and who are consulted by governments as individuals who come from Queen's University. (Professor Wolfe is a professor/researcher in the Chemistry Department.) Sometimes these experts are resented because they are off campus a great deal, but if they didn't travel, Queen's would suffer, because they carry with them, for us, an enormous reputation — Lipsey and Corry for example, Lewis in Physics, Scott Gordon in Economics (a joint appointment with the University of Indiana), and Principal Watts himself, a consultant to emerging nations.

It is important to a university to have people such as these with such reputations, for again I would refer you to our product: the quality of our education and the substantiveness of the research that we do. Nonetheless, Queen's major impact on our communities comes through the vast number of students who, after three or four years or after postgraduate work, distribute themselves throughout the world. In other words, our major impact on the province and the country is measured in terms of our educational program: the higher its quality, the better the citizens we can produce as a consequence of what we do here at Queen's. Again, our product will be only two things: the education we provide and the research we make available. Both of these are qualitative, not quantitative "inputs", to use an economist's term. Nothing that a university does can really be measured in terms of numbers. You can state how many students you educate, but they can be well or poorly educated, and it is the quality that's important in the measure. The significance of the research done is far more important than the numbers of papers produced.

I consider it my role as Dean to make sure that the quality of a Queen's education is as high as we can possibly make it and to encourage students to spend as little time as possible on other things and the maximum possible time on learning.

Around the Campus

Frosh slave away for Kingston charities

In the newer tradition of Orientation, this year's frosh worked hard throughout initiation week (Sept. 11-17) for charity — shining shoes, selling peanuts, painting a youth camp and just "slaving away".

To help the Canadian Cystic Fibrosis Foundation, students from the Faculty of Arts and Science asked Kingston residents to put their dirtiest foot forward so they could shine for charity. "Shinerama" netted $3,100 — $1,500 more than last year. Other Artsci frosh hired themselves out as "slaves" to mop floors, wash windows and even move pianos for the hourly rate of $2.00. Proceeds amounting to $950 have been divided between Camp Outlook, a student-operated camping experience for disadvantaged teenagers, and Amnesty International.

Nearly 200 first-year students from the School of Business and the School of Nursing teamed up to give the RKY Camp (Rotary-Kinsmen-YMCA) north of Kingston a sprucing up. To cover the cost of paint for the camp's facelift, Nursing students collected $125 from hoppers on Princess St. the previous morning.

For well over a decade now, the Faculty of Applied Science's orientation program has included the door-to-door selling of peanuts for the Rotary Club. This year's one-night blitz raised more than $5,000 for local Rotarian projects. Under the whips of the FRECS and the smiles of the Parks Department, the budding engineers also waded into Lake Ontario to add another few yards to the breakwater on Elevator Bay.

The tone of Frosh Week is a far cry from the activities of the not-too-distant past when initiation rather than orientation was the focus of every faculty's "welcome". However, the Review would be lying to you if it reported that all this community-consciousness had put an end to the noise, pranks, dead horses, partying, scavenger hunts,

"dumb frosh" hazing, a dance a night and the greased pole climb.

While Kingston's popular MP Flora MacDonald stands by, Mayor Ken Keyes has his shoes shined to launch Shinerama, a city-wide Arts and Science frosh project to raise money for the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation. With elbow grease and shoe polish, the frosh earned $3,100 in a day. Other projects netted $6,075.

Alcan a major contributor to Queen's Quest

Representatives of Alcan Aluminium Ltd. were on campus Oct. 22 to present Principal Ronald L. Watts with a cheque for $20,000 — the first instalment on a $100,000 pledge the company is making towards Queen's Quest.

In accepting the donation, the Principal explained that Queen's Quest is a $10-million general-purpose campaign to bolster six main areas: library services, scientific and technical equipment, modernization of facilities, research support, academic development and financial aid to students. It is not a building campaign.

Over a five-year period, officially beginning in 1978, the campaign will involve a canvass of students, staff, faculty, alumni, corporations, foundations and other friends of Queen's in Canada and abroad.

Mr. Stewart Ladd, Vice-President (Personnel) in Alcan's head office in Montreal and a member of Queen's Board of Trustees, made the presentation. Works Manager Stephen R. Brown of Alcan's Kingston plant also attended.

Around the Campus

SHELLS AT SUNRISE

Kingston Rowing Club coach John Armitage and his dog brave the morning chill to oversee a crew of women rowers on the Cataraqui River. The new privately supported club, initiated largely by alumni Michael Davies of Kingston and Bruce Alexander of Toronto, provides a chance for students at Queen's and Kingston area high schools to develop skills in this sport by providing both equipment and coaching. About 80 students showed up regularly in September for the 6:00 a.m. practices. Queen's has a women's team, two men's teams and a co-ed crew representing the University at intercollegiate regattas this year, although current financial constraints prevent Queen's from giving the rowers more than token financial backing for at least this year.

On Oct. 15, with Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip watching, Queen's placed second in total points (among 25 entries) in their first regatta, Head of the Rideau in Ottawa. On Oct. 22, Queen's rowers had another successful day at the Brock Invitational Regatta at St. Catharines. Queen's managed three firsts, plus a third, fourth and sixth.

Student's design acclaimed

Paul Tinari of Verdun, Que., a second-year engineering student, has won first prize in a contest for home designs. His design for a spherical home was done last year as part of his Engineering Drawing course.

Paul's house would be self-sustaining, heated by solar energy and equipped with an indoor garden and facilities for reprocessing human waste. The design competition, entitled "Mission for Man", was sponsored by the Association of Professional Engineers of Ontario.

For further information, contact Prof. C.A. Mulvenna, Department of Engineering Drawing, (613) 547-3073.

Heritage preserved: 'renewed' rather than new student apartments at corner of Union and Alfred streets.

Heritage Award to student housing

Queen's has won a Heritage Canada Award of Honour for 1977. Heritage Canada, a national organization founded in 1973, recognizes the efforts of individuals, groups or companies that have made an outstanding contribution to heritage conservation.

Queen's award was for the restoration and remodelling of three 19th and early 20th century houses as a major part of the Queen's V student housing project. The remodelled houses include the same rowhouses built by Christopher Graham at the turn of the century on the corner of Alfred and Union Streets, a brick duplex at the corner of Union and University (last used as Career Planning and Placement offices) and another brick home at 168 University Ave. Together, they have provided accommodation for 42 students since the fall of 1976.

Though the interiors have been modernized for apartments, the exteriors were kept faithful to the style and character of the old residential neighborhood bordering the campus.

The award to Queen's was made in Ottawa on Sept. 30 and accepted by Robert Southam, Chairman of the University's Board of Trustees and publisher of The Citizen, Ottawa.

Support The Golden Gaels and Gals

When Queen's athletes are competing away from Queen's and Kingston, the support of alumni fans can provide a real boost. Here is a calendar of selected intercollegiate events from the winter schedule of Queen's men's and women's sports, focussing on cities where there is a core of potential alumni support

TORONTO

- Fri.-Sat., Jan. 6-7 Basketball Tournament, U of T (women)
- Sat., Jan. 14 Invitational Archery, U of T (women)
- Sun., Jan. 15 Volleyball at Ryerson (men)
- Sun., Jan. 15 Volleyball: Queen's vs. Ryerson and York at York (men), 1:30 and 3 p.m.
- Fri., Jan. 20 Basketball at York (men); Hockey at U of T (men), 8 p.m.
- Sat., Jan. 21 Invitational Indoor Track at York (women)
- Fri.-Sat., Jan. 27-28 Curling, East at U of T (women)
- Sat., Jan. 28 Archery at U of T (women)
- Fri., Feb. 3 Volleyball at U of T (men), 8 p.m.; Basketball at U of T (men)
- Sat., Feb. 4 Volleyball, Laurentian vs. Queen's at Ryerson (men), 1:30
- Fri., Feb. 10 Ice Hockey at York (women); Indoor Track: Maple Leaf Games at U of T (women); Ice Hockey at U of T (men), 8 p.m.
- Fri.-Sat., Feb. 10-11 Invitational Squash at York (women)
- Sat., Feb. 11 Ice Hockey, U of T (women); Ice Hockey at York (men), 4 p.m.; Indoor Track and Field: Maple Leaf Games, U of T (men)
- Sat., Feb. 18 Indoor Track & Field, Ontario Seniors, CNE (men and women)

OTTAWA

- Sat.-Sun., Jan. 14-15 Hockey at U of Ottawa (men); 8 p.m. Sat., 2 p.m. Sunday
- Sat.-Sun., Jan. 21-22 Invitational Fencing, Ottawa U (women)
- Sat., Feb. 4 Fencing: East at Carleton (women)
- Fri., Feb. 10 Basketball at Ottawa U (women)
- Sat., Feb. 11 Basketball at Carleton (women)
- Fri., Feb. 17 Basketball at Ottawa U (men)
- Fri., Feb. 24 Basketball at Carleton (men)

WATERLOO

- Fri.-Sat., Jan. 13-14 Invitational Volleyball at Waterloo (women)
- Fri.-Sat., Jan. 20-21 Invitational Swimming-Diving at Waterloo (women)
- Fri.-Sat., Jan. 27-28 Badminton at Laurier (women)
- Fri.-Sat., Feb. 3-4 Combined Curling at Waterloo (women); Volleyball at Waterloo (women)

HAMILTON

- Fri., Jan. 20 Ice Hockey at McMaster (women)

PETERBOROUGH

- Fri., Jan. 27 Basketball, Queen's at Trent (men)

WINDSOR

- Sat., Feb. 4 Basketball at U of Windsor (women)

LONDON

- Sat., Jan. 21 Volleyball at Western (women)

SUDBURY

- Sat., Jan. 21 Basketball at Laurentian (women)
- Sat., Jan. 28 Basketball at Laurentian (men), 7 p.m.

QUEBEC

- Fri.-Sat., Feb. 3-4 Invitational Swimming-Diving at Laval (women)

Around the Campus

Members of Queen's expedition to James Bay are dwarfed by 85-ton

Euclid, one of a fleet used to transport rock for massive earth dam.

Civil Engineers tour James Bay project

Four Civil Engineering students flew into Northern Quebec for four days early in October to take a first-hand look at the colossal James Bay power project.

The four men, all in final year, were Dan LePage and Dan Old of Thornhill, Ont., Andrew Hachborn of Conestogo, Ont., and Barry Dowdall of Ashton, Ont. Prof Karl Van Dalen, Sc. '57, of Civil Engineering accompanied them.

The trip was sponsored by Peter Kiewit and Sons, a Toronto-based construction firm with major contracts at the James Bay site. The company has hired a number of Queen's Civil Engineering graduates over the past five years and has also funded two scholarships for students in that field.

Queen's professors comment on federation

Professors John Meisel of Political Studies and Richard Lipsey of Economics took part in a public forum on the future of the Canadian federation, held in Toronto Oct. 13 through 15.

The three-day national conference was sponsored by faculty members at the University of Toronto. Among the 250 delegates were Keith Spicer, former Commissioner of Official Languages, historian Ramsay Cook (Queen's M.A. '56), Le Devoir editor Claude Ryan, and economist Clarence Barber.

Dr. Meisel's paper was entitled Who Are We? Who Are They? Perceptions in English Canada. Dr. Lipsey's was The Relation between Political and Economic Separatism: A Pessimistic View. It was the aim of the conference that delegates take ideas back to their provinces and use them. Copies of both professors' speeches are available from Queen's News Department, 131 Union St., Kingston, Ont. K7L 3N6.

Peter Dorn wins again

For the fourth consecutive year, Peter Dorn, Director of Queen's Graphic Design Unit, has received an award of merit in the nation-wide design competition, 'Look of Books'. The competition is sponsored annually by the National Design Council, the Department of Industry, Trade and Commerce, and the Canadian Book Design Committee, which represents the printing and publishing industries.

Mr. Dorn's award-winning entry (one of 23 books chosen from a field of 250) was To Preserve and Defend: Essays on Kingston in the 19th Century. The book was sponsored by the Kingston Historical Society, edited by Queen's History Professor Gerald Tulchinsky, and published by McGill-Queen's Press. Awards were made on an equal basis without ranking the winners.

Peter Dorn, RCA, designed Herb Hamilton's book Queen's! Queen's! Queen's!, published by the Alumni Association in October.

Learn where you live

University residence will mean more this year than just a place to live for the nearly 1,000 students on Leonard Field.

Director of Residence Gerald McGrath explains that "residences are an integral part of the learning environment of the University. Education can take place within the residences on an informal basis; it's our job to assist by providing activities."

Activities planned for the Leonard Field complex include speakers, concerts, workshops and films. Morris Hall, for example, is organizing a film series; Leonard Hall plans a photography week and evenings of jazz; Gordon-Brockington House will host visits from noted athletes who have been able to integrate sports with other careers. These activities complement the annual residence banquet and semi-formal dance, floor dinners, sports events, and parties co-organized with students from the women's residences.

MAYBE A GRANDPARENTS ASSOCIATION? Since 1974 Queen's has had a Parents Association for non-alumni parents of full-time students. Technically, Dr. William 'Doc' Angus, Emeritus Professor of Drama, and his historian-wife, Dr. Margaret Angus, LL.D. '73 (both seated) are members; their daughter Barbara, Mrs. Owen Morgan (left), earned an Hon. B.A. this spring and is now working on her M.A. in Psychology. However, since September, she is also a parent of two undergraduates: Elspeth (centre) is in first-year Drama; Allison has transferred to Queen's for third-year Economics. And then there's Uncle James Angus, Arts '55, and Aunt Kathy (Peach) Angus, Arts '57...

(Continued)

McNeill House has taken advantage of having the National Defence College in Kingston and has invited College "students" to give four lectures. One, a U.S. State Department official will discuss "Perceptions of Canada in the United States".

Professor McGrath hopes to involve more members of Queen's academic staff in residence life. Faculty members are invited to address groups of residents, to attend floor dinners or "High tables", and to live in residence as dons or wardens. In future years there may be non-resident dons — faculty members who establish a special relationship with one of the residences while not living on campus.

Housing patterns change in Kingston

Queen's students secured city housing more easily this fall than in recent years. The Alma Mater Society received no complaints from students unable to find an apartment or house to rent. The AMS attributes the availability of accommodation to the fact that many students have moved from the traditional student neighborhood near the centre of campus to areas north and west of the University. However, most students — about 80% — still live within walking distance of their classes, according to recent surveys.

Queen's Director of Housing and Property Management, John Richardson, confirms the increase in rental housing available for students. He notes that new construction in Kingston and its suburbs has released more rental units in the older parts of the city, and predicts even higher vacancy rates for next fall.

Herb!

Herb!

Herb!

has written

Queen's Queen's

The perfect Christmas gift for anyone with ties to Queen's

A warm and funny (and unofficial) history by Herb Hamilton — the story behind Queen's traditions — yarns about campus characters and gridiron heroes of the past 50 years

312 pages — conveniently indexed, generously illustrated

ORDER FORM

To: Alumni Office, Queen's University
Kingston, Ont. K7L 3N6

Please send me copy/copies of Queens! Queen's! Queen's! at $6.00 per copy (postage included). My cheque or money order for $..... payable to "Queen's Alumni Association" is enclosed. If possible, I would like the author's autograph. ☐

Name
(please print)

Address

Code

Dean Richard J. Hand new Vice-Principal (Resources)

Richard J. Hand has been appointed Vice-Principal (Resources) effective Dec. 1. He succeeds David H. Bonham, who has been Vice-Principal for the past six years. To emphasize Dean Hand's broad responsibilities for both human and financial resources, the title of his new position was changed from Vice-Principal (Finance) to Vice-Principal (Resources).

A faculty member at Queen's since 1952, Richard Hand has also been Dean of the School of Business since 1966. He was instrumental in organizing its executive program (1956) and instituting the M.B.A. program (1960). The same week in October that his new appointment was announced, the Senate gave approval to a new doctoral program in business.

Dean Hand was born in Winnipeg, served as a radar officer in the Navy, and went on after w.w. II to study at the University of Manitoba and the University of Chicago (M.B.A. '50). After teaching for a year at Manitoba, he was recruited to Queen's School of Business and Department of Economics through the efforts of then-Principal W.A. Mackintosh.

In announcing this key change, Principal Watts observed that during the 11 years when Professor Hand was Dean, the School of Business grew steadily and gained a national reputation. (The Financial Times survey last year ranked Queen's third in Canada behind Western and UBC.) He will continue to teach in the School and conduct research into the organizational and managerial processes of universities, despite his new administrative duties.

Professor Bonham (B.Comm., B.A., LL.B., Saskatchewan; LL.M. '65, Harvard, who has been at Queen's since 1965, was Executive Assistant to the late Principal John J. Deutsch before his appointment as Vice-Principal (Finance) in 1971. He is both C.A. and member of the Law Society in both Saskatchewan and Ontario and holds rank as a Queen's professor in two areas: Business and Law. He is taking a three-year leave of absence from the University to become a partner in the Kingston law firm of Cunningham Little, but he will continue to lecture part-time in the Faculty of Law.

Vice-Principal Richard J. Hand, former Dean of the School of Business

He has been Vice-Principal during a time of great financial stress and constraint for Ontario universities, and Principal Watts expressed appreciation for "the invaluable contribution Professor Bonham made to Queen's" during his period in this key post, while wishing him well in his new affiliation with the University.

David H. Bonham, who resigned as Vice-Principal (Finance). "The spirit which has been shown in this institution despite six years of constraint has been the highlight of the past years."

Ottawa alumna elected to head
Queen's graduates

Introducing your new executive

Mrs. K.B. Parkinson (Wilda Baker), Arts '43, was elected President of the national and international Alumni Association at the annual meeting at Queen's on Oct. 14. Mrs. Parkinson, who lives near Kanata, Ont., is the third woman to hold the presidency since the association was formed 50 years ago. (Others were Mrs. D.W. [Thelma] Boucher in 1947 and Evelina Thompson in 1967.) She succeeds Eric G. Jorgensen, Sc. '49, of Don Mills, Ont.

At the well attended meeting and tea, held in conjunction with Reunion '77, Ray M. Bassett, Arts '49, of Toronto and George O. Toller, also Arts '49, of Ottawa were elected Vice-Presidents. Mr. Toller is currently chairman of the Alumni Fund Council.

You may remember filling in ballots earlier this fall for five new Directors to serve on the Board until 1980. The successful candidates were:

- Dr. R.A.B. Bannard, Sc. '45, Ottawa;
- Mrs. I. Dardick (Grace Kerr), Arts, Phys Ed '56, Ottawa;
- Dr. Greg McKelvey, Arts, Phys Ed '54, Ottawa;
- Ms Kathy Segsworth, Arts '66, Toronto;
- J. Barry Young, Sc. '67, Ancaster, Ont.

Nine other graduates joined the Board of Directors for one-year terms by appointment by the Board itself:

Mrs. J. Clarke (Julie O'Grady), Arts '42, Pointe Claire, Que.; Keith 'Skip' Eaman, Sc. '72, St. Lambert, Que.; Dr. Bill James, Med. '63, Ottawa; Douglas C. MacLean, Arts '51, Pointe Claire; Laird Rasmussen, Law '64, Ottawa; Jim Henderson, Arts '76, Kingston; Ms Gaye Clemson, Com. '76, Toronto; Robert F. Buller, Arts '72, M.B.A. '77, Ottawa; and Terry Nickerson, Sc. '61, Thornhill, Ont.

DIRECTORS ELECTED
BY ALUMNI BALLOT

R.A.B. Bannard

Grace Dardick

Greg McKelvey

Kathy Segsworth

Barry Young

Murray Gill (left) Director of Alumni Affairs, announces to the annual meeting of the Alumni Association that Mrs. Wilda Parkinson (centre) has been elected President for 1977-79. Behind her is Past President Eric G. Jorgensen.

Ray M. Bassett, 1st V-P

George Toller, 2nd V-P

Letters

Students bridging the generation gap

Of the myriad questions students ask themselves, one of the most frequent concerns the uncertainty of their future. "What am I doing at Queen's? Where will I be after four years?" The answer is really quite obvious to all of you. Obtaining a degree guarantees successful completion of the initiation into one of Canada's greatest clubs — The Queen's Alumni Association.

The Association boasts a long tradition of successful Reunions and homecoming events, but I think this year's Reunion was the best yet. I believe that a future tradition may have been established by the introduction of the highly successful 'blind date' escort service which was offered to alumni by students on Saturday night in the new Queen's pub. It proved an excellent opportunity for the population of Queen's to mingle and reinforce the tie between tradition and present Queen's life. I hope that this opportunity for students and alumni to establish closer relations will continue.

I wish Reunion could happen every weekend, but even though it cannot, I see no reason why alumni should wait until a Reunion is called before they come to visit Queen's. The Alumni Office is settling into its new home located in old Wallace Hall in the former Students' Memorial Union. It boasts a small lounge filled with memorabilia and back issues of Tricolors and Queen's Reviews, and rumour has it that even Alfie approves and has moved in. Now that you as alumni have your own 'digs', there is no reason for not visiting us.

Many of you have probably already noticed a change in the tone and format of your yearly appeal letters, which are now based on the Class Agent system of correspondence. This less formal and more personal approach is modelled after similar ones practised by McGill and Harvard, who have a great deal of success with this method of alumni communication and support. My year (Arts '78) has already elected its Alumni Class Agent, and we are very optimistic about this new approach which makes the transition from student to alumnus so smooth. It will certainly serve to strengthen the bonds which already make Queen's such a successful institution.

In closing, on behalf of the Alma Mater Society I would like to express our gratitude and appreciation for the support and interest that you continue to show in students and the University. We welcome you back to come and see Queen's, and we want to share it with all of those who help to make it all possible.

FREDDIE BALFOUR, Arts '78
A.M.S.-Alumni Liaison, 1977-78

More about Dr. Start

Further to the well-deserved tribute to Dr. Richard Start, M.D., C.M. '28, FCCP, in the last Review: It is certainly true that tuberculosis was a most dreadful scourge in Japan when Dr. Start arrived there in the 1930s. He and the New Life Sanatorium pioneered and demonstrated modern treatment methods which spread to newly created governmental institutions, a chain reaction which, with other public health measures and a rising standard of living after the devastation of the war, reduced tuberculosis to a manageable problem.

It was only when the role of western missionaries in Japan had been firmly established as that of advisers rather than directors, and the Japanese branch of the Anglican Church was assuming its own autonomy, that the Starts returned permanently to Canada in 1953.

Dr. Richard Start

The Review mentioned that Dr. and Mrs. Start revisited Japan in 1975; the following year a delegation from the Mountain Echo Society (ex-patients from the New Life Sanatorium) returned the visit, calling at both Hamilton and Brantford. It was at the beginning of another reunion with his grateful ex-patients last April that Dr. Start fell ill and died in St. Luke's Hospital, Tokyo. Following this dramatic and tragic, but somehow appropriate, passing, Mrs. Start went on with the planned visit to Obuse, site of the old sanatorium. It is now called the New Life Hospital, operates as an intermediate care hospital for chronic and convalescent treatment, and still maintains a TB ward of 10 beds. A portion of Dr. Start's ashes are interred in the chapel there.

WILLIAM E. POWLES, M.D.
Department of Psychiatry,
Queen's University

An Item of Canadian Literary History

Thank you for Wilfrid Eggleston's tribute to Robert William Cumberland, B.A. '22, M.A. '23 (Sept.-Oct. Review). As a professor of English, Robert developed a singular reputation not only for his literary insights and lively sense of humour, but also for his human insights.

...Another proof of his gifts must now be recorded as an important item of Canadian literary history. In 1920 about a dozen Queen's undergraduates displayed a keen interest in verse competition. In the Queen's Journal they found a ready forum for their efforts. Prof. J.F. MacDonald became interested in the group and offered a prize to the author of the winning poem in a competition. But that was not all.

In January 1921 Robert Frost, the reigning American poet at that time, was invited to visit Queen's and become the first poet-in-residence in any Canadian university. Among other activities, he chose to spend an afternoon with the small group of local versifiers, among whom was Robert Cumberland. Later Frost was asked to confer with the judges of the poetry competition. In due course the prize was awarded to Robert Cumberland for his sonnet 'Psyche':

R. W. Cumberland
at 1972 Reunion

PSYCHE

*June's pleasure-queen has fallen into woe,
And, though aloft the careless birds may sing,
Yet she must cease from her glad wandering
Nor can again the airy spaces know.*

*She is alone. All heavily and slow
She beats about the grass on broken wing,
Outdistanced soon by any creeping thing
That never dared in Heaven's path to go.*

*O Shame! That this poor fairy-bug should fall.
She was not formed to languish on the ground,
To soil her rainbow tints with miry stain.*

*She suffers most because she hears the call
Of dancing breezes, and the joy she found
In their pure region measures now her pain.*

In 1925 Verse and Translation, a collection of 44 original poems by Robert William Cumberland, was published privately at Kingston (Jackson Press). Copies may be found in the Lorne Pierce Collection of Canadiana in Queen's Douglas Library. Although Frost was nearly twice the age of the young Queen's man, a remarkable similarity now appears to have existed in the interests and temperaments of both men. Some people seem born mature...To observe the two in conference was like witnessing a display of unaffected humility. Without a doubt, in Robert Cumberland resided the gifts of a genuine poet.

BERT C. DILTZ, Arts '21
Toronto, Ont.

A Sequel from Herb ?

I hope all graduates of uncertain years and those more youthful have sent for a copy of Queen's! Queen's! Queen's! It is sheer delight to read such a gentle, modest and humorous chronicle of the Queen's people we remember. My only regret is that someone did not add a chapter about the self-effacing 'scribe' who meant a great deal to us as students. I am delighted that he has recently become a Trustee — an honour he richly deserves.

Since Herb's talents are now evident, I hope that he will continue to record the history of the people of Queen's, and share with us his memories of many who could not be included in his first book. A sequel, Queen's Characters, could be a best seller, in spite of the quote attributed to P.C.G. Campbell, who said, while strolling with Professor Tirol, "Where have all the characters at Queen's gone?"

This book is living history of the best kind. I hope all Queen's graduates will have an opportunity to read it.

ELSPETH BAUGH, Arts '49
Orillia, Ont.

ATTENTION CLASS OF SCIENCE '23

That most renowned Class of Science '23 is planning a 55th Reunion in October 1978 on the Old Ontario Strand. So say stalwarts Cec Climo and Wilf Lockett. Mark it on your calendar and look for further news in January.

At the Branches

Lots of Fall Bustle in the 'Campus' Branch

Kingston alumni were issued a special invitation when the Class of Commerce '78 sponsored a Football Pub for the Ottawa-at-Queen's game of Sept. 24. The pub was held in the West Campus dining room for an hour before the game, featured cash bar, coffee and sandwiches, and turned out a highly effective cheering section by game time.

A week later the Branch staged its second Campus Garage Sale. Alumni housecleaning efforts produced lots of serviceable budget-priced furniture, utensils and decorations for students setting up housekeeping, and also provided about $625 for support of alumni-sponsored activities.

Queen's people in the Kingston area made a special effort to welcome other alumni returning for Reunion '77. Branch members organized a charming old-fashioned tea to enhance the Annual Meeting of the national membership on Friday afternoon, Oct. 14, and also hosted the Principal's Reception in Grant Hall that same evening.

The Branch's last social event for '77 will be a Harvest Country Supper and old-fashioned hoedown on Nov. 17. This fall the popular country-style party is moving from the village of Sydenham to the Colonnade Country Club near Joyceville.

Something new, and slanted toward helping students as well as raising money, is set for Saturday, Dec. 3: a Bake Sale in the rec room of Leonard Hall residence. Proceeds will go to the Ban Righ Foundation (for continuing university education for women), which has been hard hit by fee increases and inflation.

In Ottawa — Country Supper and Afternoon Coffee

The Ottawa Branch returned to the village of Richmond for its annual Country Supper on Nov. 11. For $6.50 per person, the always-popular party went on for six hours — drinks at 6:00, dinner at 7:00 and square-dancing till midnight.

Robin A. Ritchie, Arts '62, Law '65, has been succeeded as President of the Ottawa Alumni Branch by David Hill, also Arts '62, Law '65.

On the afternoon of Oct. 22, the Ottawa Alumnae Branch's Fall Coffee Party was held at the home of Mrs. 'Willie' Kellam, who is also an Honorary Vice-President of the Ottawa Alumni. Irish, Spanish and regular coffee were enjoyed, and traditional donations were collected at the door.

HAMILTON WINE 'n' CHEESE

Friday, December 2

7:00 - 10:00 p.m.

at the home of
GRETA AND
RUSS THOMAN,
210 St. Clair Blvd.,
Hamilton

$3.50
per person

Contact:
Sandra Black
525-8793

Niagara: Traditions Budding All over the Peninsula

"We have safely and with honour and enthusiasm waltzed through the inaugural ball (April) and the first annual Queenston Park picnic (August)," writes Alan MacKinnon of St. Catharines, President of the Niagara Peninsula Branch. The first of many annual dinner-dances is to be held on Nov. 26 at the Sheraton Brock Hotel, Niagara Falls.

Special guest: Queen's long-time Chaplain, Padre A.M. Laverty.

Toronto: Lunch and More

The Toronto Branch's fall-winter calendar includes the well-established Luncheon Speakers series, a Career Symposium, and a series of University Information Nights. The first such information night — 'Queen's '77: Campus Today' — was held on Nov. 3 at the Ontario Science Centre. Three guests — Principal Watts, Rector Moe Chochla and Campus Planner Eric Thrift — each presented brief reports on Queen's from their own perspectives and then answered questions.

All area alumni who would like to be involved with this increasingly active branch, and especially new graduates who have moved to Toronto, are invited to contact Vice-President Rosemary Helmer, Arts '76, at 488-3867 (home) or 924-4661 (office).

Co-Presidents of the Branch for 1977-78 are Catherine Paterson, Arts '70, and Gabe Takach, Sc. '66. Secretary is Joe Courtright, Arts '68, and Treasurer is Gaye Clemson of Com.

'76. Any of them would be pleased to have inquiries from former classmates and other prospective members.

The first of four Hotel Toronto luncheons for the season was held on Oct. 28, with guest speaker Keith Norton, Arts '61, Law '69, MPP for Kingston and the Islands and Minister of Community and Social Services for Ontario. In future, notices of Luncheon Speakers will be mailed only to those who have indicated interest in the program by contacting Kathy Owen of Don Mills (445-0908).

Montreal Well Met

The Montreal Branch traditionally warms up each new season with a cocktail party designed to let Queen's people, friends of the University as well as alumni, renew old friendships and spirits. The latest was held on Saturday, Nov. 5, at the home of Joan and Dusty Miller in St. Lambert, Que. Special guests were some of the current AMS executive, who reported on what's happening at Queen's today.

Dr. Watts to Western

The London Alumni had their first visit from Principal Ronald L. Watts on Friday, Nov. 11, when they sponsored a reception and dinner at Somerville House on the campus of the University of Western Ontario. Branch members filled the hall to give the Principal a rousing Queen's welcome.

Nov. 22 brings a repeat of the London Alumnae Branch's popular Pot Luck Supper. President Marline Maycock will be hostess of the Tuesday night event, to which members traditionally bring either a casserole, salad, dessert, or contribution of $4.00.

Continued

The Alumni Award for Excellence in Teaching

The Board of Directors of Queen's Alumni Association invites the general membership to share with students and faculty in nominating candidates for the 1978 award.

WINNERS:

Prof. W.D. Gilbert, Department of Mechanical Engineering, 1975

Prof. H.R. Stuart Ryan, Faculty of Law, 1976

Prof. A.R.C. Duncan, Philosophy Department, 1977

THE AWARD: A certificate and a tax-free sum of $1,000

ELIGIBILITY: Candidates must be full-time members of the University's teaching staff who have completed three years of full-time teaching.

CRITERIA: It is expected that the following criteria will be among those considered by both nominators and evaluators alike. Candidates should: (1) Have a comprehensive knowledge of their subject. (2) Be habitually well prepared for teaching sessions, be they lectures, laboratories, seminars or tutorials. (3) Have enthusiasm for the subject and the capacity to arouse interest in it among students. (4) Encourage student participation in the teaching-learning process. (5) Set a high standard. (6) Successfully motivate students to attain such a standard. (7) Communicate effectively at levels appropriate to the student's capacity. (8) Utilize methods of evaluation of student performance which stress an understanding of the subject rather than just the ability to memorize. (9) Be accessible to students outside class hours. (10) Have a reputation for superior teaching and be recognized for this quality by students and colleagues alike.

NOMINATIONS: Each nomination must be signed by five students, staff members or alumni and submitted to the Director of Alumni Affairs on or before December 31. All nominations will be reviewed by a Teaching Award Committee consisting of representatives from faculty, the student body and the Alumni Association.

ANNOUNCEMENT AND PRESENTATION: Normally, the name of the award recipient will be announced in the May issue of the Queen's Review and an early April issue of the Queen's Journal. The award will be presented by the President of the Alumni Association at the appropriate Spring Convocation.

Nominations, Please

The Board of Trustees

To All Queen's Graduates and Benefactors:

The Constitution of Queen's University gives to graduates and benefactors the right to select candidates for election to the Board of Trustees. Your nomination is invited, and the procedure is outlined below. A booklet entitled You And Queen's: How to Participate in the Work and Government of the University is available on request from the Alumni Office for those interested in the nature and roles of the various organs of University government and the procedures for appointment and/or election to such bodies.

Nominations for Election to the Board of Trustees by Graduates

Graduates may nominate two candidates for election to the Board of Trustees to succeed Jean I. Royce, B.A. '30, LL.D. '68, Kingston, Ont., and Russell K. Thoman, B.Sc. '36, Hamilton, Ont., whose terms expire on April 20, 1978.

Mr. Thoman is eligible for re-election, but Dr. Royce is ineligible. No other members of the Board should be nominated and no members of the University staff are eligible. Candidates must be nominated by five or more graduates. Nominations must be in writing, signed, and received by the Secretary of the University on or before December 31, 1977. The Trustees elected will serve until 1981.

Nominations for Election to the Board of Trustees by Benefactors

Benefactors who have contributed $100 or more to the University may nominate two candidates for election to the Board of Trustees as follows - (a) One Trustee to serve until April 20, 1982, in succession to J.S. Dewar, B.Sc. '41, Toronto, Ont. Mr. Dewar is not eligible for re-election. (b) One Trustee to serve until April 20, 1981, in succession to G.C. Gray, B.Com. '50, F.C.A., C.P.M., F.R.I., Toronto, Ont. Mr. Gray is eligible for re-election.

No other members of the Board should be nominated, and no members of the University staff are eligible. Candidates must be nominated by five or more benefactors. Nominations must be in writing, signed, and received by the Secretary of the University on or before December 31, 1977.

Current Board Members

B.B. Alexander
D.B. Annan
R.D. Armstrong
Alfred Bader
Elspeth Baugh
Agnes Benidickson
S.R. Blair
Beatrice Bryce
Mary Collins
J.S. Dewar

T.D. French
Dr. J.D. Gibson
G.C. Gray
L.G. Greenwood
H.J. Hamilton
E.G.A. Jorgensen
J. Kostuik
H.S. Ladd
A.H. Lemmon

W.F. Light
Judge Walter Little
H.I. Marshall
Joe Morris
W.V. Moore
K.R. MacGregor
D.L. Rigsby
C.E. Ritchie
N.M. Rogers
Jean I. Royce

R.W. Southam
E.V. Swain
R.K. Thoman
Evelina Thompson
Mrs. G.S. Watts

Ex-officio members
Rector Morris Chochla
Chancellor Roland Michener
Principal R.L. Watts

At the Branches

Padre Preaches at Anniversary

Graduates and friends of Queen's in the Hamilton area received a special invitation from Ryerson United Church to attend the church's 69th anniversary on Oct. 30. Guest preacher for the occasion was Padre Lavery of Queen's.

For those unable to attend the morning service, there was another chance to renew old acquaintances at an afternoon coffee hour in the church hall.

Queen's part in the anniversary celebration was arranged by Lloyd G. Williams, Sc. '49, who is chairman of Ryerson's Board of Stewards.

Oil Thighs in the Okanagan?

Having determined that more than 50 Queen's alumni live in and around the Okanagan Valley, John Bunge of Sc. '60 is currently testing their interest in their old alma mater. Through a letter and questionnaire mailed early in November, Mr. Bunge hopes to determine whether those warm feelings have persisted with enough strength to warrant establishing an Okanagan Branch. If you live in the area but weren't on that mailing list, the Alumni Office would be pleased to have your address.

Come Ski, Surf or Suntan on Queen's Alumni Charters

If you are keeping count of notices in the Review and by direct mail, you will know that there are five winter holiday packages now available to members of the Alumni Association, their families and friends.

(1) Port of Spain and Robinson Crusoe's Island (Trinidad and Tobago). Sunday departures available Nov. 20 through March 26, 1978. (2) Hawaii. Weekly Wednesday departures available, Jan. 18 - March 29. (3) Ski charter to Aspen/Snowmass, Colorado, Feb. 19-26. (4) Ski charter to Telluride, Colorado, Feb. 19-26. (5) European Ski Vacation: two weeks in two countries, Austria and Switzerland, Feb. 4-18.

Names in the News

Births

Amos — To Bruce Amos, Sc. '68 (B.Phil., Oxon), and Stephanie Amos, Ottawa, Ont., May 15, a daughter (Matilda Grace), sister for William Ambrose.

Bailey — To John R. Bailey, Arts '65, C.A., and Mrs. Bailey, Oshawa, Ont., on July 11, 1976, a daughter (Rachel Jane), sister for Sarah Lane.

Balpatak — To George Balpatak and Mrs. Balpatak (Elaine Emery), Arts '65, Tillsonburg, Ont., April 11, a daughter (Katherine Elizabeth).

Barley — To Geoff Barley, Sc. '70, M.Sc. '71, and Mrs. Barley (Cathy Smith), Arts '72, Toronto, Ont., June 25, a son (Colin Michael), brother for Erin Margaret.

Bassermann — To Dr. Rick Bassermann, Sc. '70 (M.Sc., Ph.D., Toronto), and Mrs. Bassermann (Chris Cameron), Arts '71, Scarborough, Ont., May 1, a son (Rodden Cameron).

Bouris — To Dr. Michael S. Bouris (D.D.S., Toronto), and Mrs. Bouris (Peggy Rodgers), Arts '70, Ed. '71, Tacoma, Wash., June 3, a daughter (Julie Adrienne), sister for Kristina.

Bursey — To Harry Bursey, Sc. '66 (M.B.A., McMaster), and Jean Bursey, Brampton, Ont., April 25, a son (Stephen Matthew Douglas), brother for Andrew.

Calder — To Dr. Iain D. Calder, Arts '71 (Ph.D., Alberta), and Mrs. Calder (Jane Simmons), Arts, Ed. '71, Edmonton, Alta., Feb. 3, a son (Andrew Wayne), brother for Bruce; grandson for Mrs. W. L. Simmons (Harriet Cronk), Arts '41.

Churchill — To Bruce C. Churchill, Arts '70, and Mrs. Churchill (Linda Rodford), K.G.H. '68, Sudbury, Ont., April 18, a son (Christopher Matthew), brother for Elizabeth.

Clark — To Stuart Clark, M.Sc. '73 (B.Sc., Alberta), and Dr. Susan Clark (Susan Humphrey), Med. '73, Antigonish, N.S., June 11, a son (Jonah Philip).

Cumming — To Doug Cumming, Arts '66, and Lorean Cumming (B.Sc.N., Western), Owen Sound, Ont., July 15, a son (Joseph John), brother for Krista (6) and Shane (5).

Currie — To Larry Currie and Mrs. Currie (Diane Jameson), Arts, P.H.E. '72, Ed. '73, Brigden, Ont., May 16, a son (Darryl Alan), grandson for Bruce Jameson, Sc. '47.

Danzo — To D. Danzo and Mrs. Danzo (Jane E. McLeod), Arts '62, Victoria, B.C., April 19, a daughter (Sarah McLeod).

Davidson — To Paul Davidson (B.Sc. Agr., Guelph), and Mrs. Davidson (Sheila Thompson), Arts, Ed. '69, Lindsay, Ont., April 18, a daughter (Katherine Louise 'Katie'). The Davidsons live at 24 Albert St. S., Lindsay, where Paul is an Agricultural Officer for the Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce.

Dixon — To Ross Dixon, Com. '61, M.B.A. '72, and Mrs. Dixon (Heather Sherbino), Arts '68, Ed. '69, Toronto, Ont., Aug. 6, a son (Jeffrey Alexander).

Donkers — To Bert J. Donkers, Sc. '74, and Mrs. Donkers, Edmonton, Alta., July 18, a son (Ryan Christopher).

Earle — To Dr. John Earle, Med. '75, and Mrs. Earle (Julie Moisey), N.Sc. '74, Kingston, Ont., June 24, a daughter (Jennifer Anne).

Filby — To Ed Filby, Ed. '72 (B.Sc., M.Sc., Carleton), and Mrs. Filby (B.A., Carleton), Ottawa, Ont., May 2, a daughter (Cara Joanne).

Fisher — To Fred Fisher, M.B.A. '77 (B.A., St. Francis Xavier), and Mrs. Fisher, Antigonish, N.S., on May 17, a daughter (Tracey Julia).

Fraser — To Edwin (Win) Fraser, Sc. '73, and Mrs. Fraser (Mary Anderson), Arts '73, Spruce Grove, Alta., Aug. 4, 1976, a daughter (Monica Beth).

Gallant — To Leo T. Gallant, M.B.A. '71 (B.A., St. Francis Xavier), C.A., and Mrs. Gallant, Antigonish, N.S., on July 31, a son (Leo Thomas). Mr. Gallant is Assistant Professor, Department of Business Administration, St. Francis Xavier University.

Greenaway — To Dr. John Greenaway, Med. '65, and Mrs. Greenaway, Amherstburg, Ont., April 17, a daughter (Mary Kathleen), sister for Elizabeth and Rob.

Hackett — To Capt. John Hackett, Sc. '65, and Mrs. Hackett (U.B.C.), Medley, Alta., a chosen son (Harley John). Harley was three years old on May 22 and is a brother to twins Erin and Heather. The Hacketts may be reached c/o Box 1509, Medley, Alta., T0A 2M0.

Hanley — To Harold Hanley and Mrs. Hanley (Barbara Cameron), Arts '76, London, Ont., on June 4, a son (Evan Janssen).

Harrison — To Robert Harrison, Arts '68, and Mrs. Harrison (Linda Croft), Arts '69, Kingston, Ont., on July 7, a daughter (Amy Elizabeth), sister for Joanne and Carl. The Harrisons live at 59 Hyde St., Kingston.

Harvey — To John C. Harvey, Sc. '72 (M.B.A., Western), and Mrs. Harvey, Toronto, Ont., Aug. 30, a daughter (Joanna Anderson), niece for Robert James Anderson, Sc. '72, and Susan E. Harvey, Arts '74.

Hayes — To Bob Hayes (B.Sc., Carleton, B.Ed., O.C.E.), and Mrs. Hayes (Becci Iarocci), Arts '70, Ed. '71, Ottawa, Ont., July 24, a son (Barry Joshua), brother for Sairin Courtney.

Ingram — To Alan P. Ingram, Law '74 (B.A., Toronto), and Dr. Jenny Ingram (Jenny Lobb), Med. '74, Toronto, Ont., June 12, a son (David Ritchie Peters).

Jenkyns — To S. Michael Jenkyns (B.A., Carleton), and Mrs. Jenkyns (Virginia Nash), Arts '65, Ottawa, Ont., April 19, a son (Stephen Mark Andrew David), brother for Megan.

Jones — To Dale C. Jones, Arts '69, and Nancy Jones, Hillsburgh, Ont., July 14, a daughter (Samantha Ellen).

Kennedy — To Dr. David Kennedy, Arts '66 (Ph.D., U.B.C.), and Mrs. Kennedy (B.A., U.B.C.), Vancouver, B.C., May 21, a daughter (Meghean Amanda Sylvia), sister for Michael.

King — To R. Douglas King, Sc. '70, M.Sc. '75, and Mrs. King (Pat Wilson), Arts '72, Calgary, Alta., July 12, a daughter (Erinn Rachelle).

Lee — To Capt. Ken E. Lee (R.M.C.), and Mrs. Lee (Brenda Eastwood), Arts '71, Ed.

'72, Ottawa, Ont., on Nov. 19, 1976, a daughter (Jennifer Jane), sister for Christopher.

Lower — To Brian R. Lower, Ed. '73 (B.P.E., McMaster), and Pat Lower, Hamilton, Ont., July 14, a son (Kevin).

MacDonald — To J. Dave MacDonald, Artsci '61, and Liliias MacDonald, Toronto, Ont., April 20, a daughter (Martha Kate), sister for Susan (6) and Elizabeth (2).

Mason — To David W. Mason, Artsci '72, M.Sc. (Arts) '73, and Mrs. Mason, Victoria, B.C., April 30, a daughter (Amy Jennifer Dawn), sister for Alan Bruce, born Jan. 7, 1975.

McGaughey — To Robert McGaughey, Arts '66, and Mrs. McGaughey (Elva Richards), Arts '66 (M.A., Carleton), Kingston, Ont., March 11, a son (Andrew William Cranston); nephew for William McGaughey, Sc. '52, and Helen Richards, Arts '72; cousin for Susan McGaughey, Sc. '79, and Kenneth Tuckwood, Arts '76.

McIntosh — To Dave McIntosh (R.M.C.), and Mrs. McIntosh (Ruth Abra), Arts '70, Toronto, Ont., April 1, a daughter (Carolyn), sister for Andrew.

McKelvey — To Bruce McKelvey, Arts '71, and Mrs. McKelvey (Janet Davidson), Arts '71, Toronto, Ont., on June 2, a son (Dunbar Craig 'Barry').

McTavish — To Stuart McTavish, Sc. '71, and Mrs. McTavish (Susan Walsh), Arts '70, Bathurst, N.B., on June 20, a daughter (Megan Catherine).

Merritt — To Dr. Richard Davidson Merritt and Dr. Nancy Merritt (Nancy Smith), Med. '69, Niagara-on-the-Lake, Ont., April 29, a daughter (Tiffany Anne Davidson).

Musselman — To P. Wayne Musselman, Com. '64, C.A., and Mrs. Musselman, Toronto, Ont., a son (Richard Carl), brother for Robert Wayne.

Nichols — To Rob Nichols, Sc. '71, and Mrs. Nichols, Haileybury, Ont., April 8, a son (Michael Robert), brother for Amie.

Nicholson-Phillips — To Byron John Nicholson, Sc. '72, and Marilyn Phillips, O.T. '73, St. Catharines, Ont., April 24, a daughter (Michelle Lynn), sister for Lisa.

Patterson — To Bill Patterson, Sc. '73, and Mrs. Patterson (N.Sc., Ottawa), Oshawa, Ont., Sept. 21, a son (Kenneth James).

Perry — To Martin Perry, Com. '70, and Mrs. Perry (Jan Honey), Arts '70, Kingston, Ont., Sept. 23, a daughter (Stephanie Ellen), sister for David; granddaughter for J. Charles Honey, Sc. '33, and Mrs. Honey (Dorothy Mayhew), Arts '34.

Ray — To Donald E. Ray, Law '72 (B.A., Carleton), and Mrs. Ray (B.A., St. Pat's), Ottawa, Ont., June 20, 1976, a son (Peter Brendan).

Scott — To Ronald R. Scott (B.S.A., Guelph), and Mrs. Scott (Elaine Robertson), Arts '64, Norwood, Ont., June 5, a daughter (Lindsay Dianne), sister for Kerstin and Andrew; sixth grandchild for J. Harvey Robertson, Arts '48. Niece for Joan 'Robbie' (Robertson) Klenavic, Arts '61, and John S. Klenavic, Sc. '60.

Shane — To David C. Shane, Arts '74, and Mrs. Shane, Kingston, Ont., July 6, a son (Michael David).

Simmons — To Rob Simmons, Sc. '71, M.B.A. '73, C.A., and Mrs. Simmons (Lois Hollingsworth), Arts, Ed. '72, July 31, a daughter (Kathryn Margaret), granddaughter for W. N. Simmons, Sc. '36.

Smith — To Wilfred C. Smith, Ed. '73 (B.A., McMaster), and Mrs. Smith (Arlene S. Norman), Arts '72, Ed. '73, Quesnel, B.C., July 1976, a son (Charles). The Smiths are both teachers in Quesnel.

Stuart-Hagge — To Patricia Stuart, Arts '64, and Joseph Hagge (B.Sc., Glasgow, M.Ed., Toronto), Hamilton, Ont., July 3, a daughter (Jenna Elizabeth Stuart-Hagge), sister for Damian.

Tranmer — To Gary W. Tranmer, Sc. '74, Law '77, and Mrs. Tranmer (Joan E. Robbins), N.Sc. '75, Kingston, Ont., Aug. 28, a daughter (Jennifer Erin).

Vowles — To Jim Vowles, Arts '71, and Betsy Vowles (R.N., K.G.H.), Kingston, Ont., May 17, a son (Kevin James), grandson for Bruce F. Vowles, Arts '40, M.A. '46.

Whyman — To Andrew D. Whyman, Sc. '69, M.Sc. '74, and Mrs. Whyman (Louise Grandmaison), Arts '70, Kirkland, Que., May 27, a daughter (Claire Elizabeth Louise), sister for David. Andy is currently a product supervisor for DuPont of Canada Ltd., Montreal.

Williams — To Blaine Williams (R.M.C.), and Mrs. Williams (Judy Groom), N.Sc. '71, Hazeldean, Ont., June 22, a son (James Trevor John), brother for Mark and Christopher.

Wilson — To Dr. Brian A. Wilson, Arts, P.H.E. '69 (M.A., Windsor, Ph.D. Tennessee), and Linda Wilson (B.Sc., Tennessee), Guelph, Ont., July 2, a son (Donald Andrew), brother for Shannon Kimberly.

Woodley — To John H. Woodley, Sc. '70, and Susan Woodley, Willowdale, Ont., July 17, a daughter (Elizabeth Anne), sister for J.J.; granddaughter for William L. Hogarth, Arts '35, and Mrs. Hogarth (Mildred Gilbert), Arts '30.

Marriages

Anthony — On Sept. 18, 1976, in Toronto, Ont., Mary Jane Shelley to Dr. Robert G. Anthony, Med. '75. Dr. and Mrs. Anthony are living in Kingston, where Dr. Anthony is a casualty officer at Kingston General Hospital.

Blanchard-Bradley — On July 2, Janet E. Bradley, Arts '72, Law '75, to Paul D. Blanchard, Arts '70, Law '75. They are living in Toronto, where Janet is practising under her maiden name with the firm of Jarvis, Blott, Fejer and Pepino. Paul is with the law firm of Borden and Elliot.

Bubnowicz-Fisher — On Aug. 6, in Deep River, Ont., Angela M. Fisher, Ed. '77 (B.Sc., Western), to Stephen S. Bubnowicz, Ed. '76 (B.A., Western). Present at the wedding were Donna Edelson, Ed. '77, Gord Ghent, Ed. '77, Janet Rose, Ed. '77, Tony Fiacconi, Ed. '76 and Brenda Grant, Ed. '75. The Bubnowiczs are living in Neepawa, Man., where Mr. Bubnowicz is teaching physical education in nearby Gladstone and Mrs. Bubnowicz is a supply teacher.

Budlovsky — On May 15, Margaret Budlovsky, Artsci '73, to Dr. R. Kavdish (Ph.D., Toronto). The Kavdishes are living in Toronto, Ont.

Byers-Parke — In Toronto, Ont., on July 9, Pamela J. Parke, Arts, P.H.E. '75, Ed. '76, to Robert Byers, Ed. '76 (B.H.K., Windsor). Included in the wedding party were Janey O'Rourke, Arts, P.H.E., '75, Susie Currie, Arts '75, Paul Chambers, Ed. '76, and Dan Plumptre, Ed. '76. The Byers are living in Port Perry, Ont., where Pam is teaching physical education at Port Perry High School.

Cartledge-Arbour — On Aug. 13, in Barrie, Ont., Diane Yvonne Arbour, Arts '74, to John Charles Cartledge, Sc. '74, M.Sc. '76. Included in the wedding party were Al Hamilton, Sc. '74, and Tom Bond, Sc. '74. Mr. and Mrs. Cartledge live in Kingston, where John is pursuing his doctoral studies.

Chapman — On May 7, A. Fiona Law (B.F.A., Alberta), to Alan J. Chapman, M.B.A. '76 (B.Sc., Calgary). Mr. and Mrs. Chapman are living in Calgary, Alta.

"AS A MEANINGFUL YEAR-END GIFT, LET'S GIVE THE COLLEGE AN ALL-FEMALE FACULTY."

Culm — On Sept. 27, 1975, in Pointe Claire, Que., Patricia Culm, Artsci '73, daughter of Wilbert W. Culm, Sc. '49, to Martin Hodgson (B.Sc., Guelph). Included in the wedding party was Mrs. Frank Blanchet (Darlene May), Arts '72. The Hodgsons are living in London, Ont.

D'Ambrosio — In Kingston, Ont., on June 18, Sandra D'Ambrosio, Arts '76, to Larry Mussio. The Mussios are living in Regina, Sask.

Deacon — In Kingston, Ont., on Aug. 27, Lynda D. Stewart (Nursing '78, St. Lawrence), to James E. Deacon, Artsci '75. Included in the wedding party was Robert J. Soper, Com. '75. Father Burns of Newmen House officiated. Mr. and Mrs. Deacon are living in Kingston.

Disher-Hewson — On June 11, in Kingston, Ont., Faye Hewson, Arts '75, to Rev. Harry L. Disher, Theol. '77 (B.A., McMaster). Mr. and Mrs. Disher live at R.R. 1, Aspen, N.S. B0H 1E0.

Gibbins-Oderkirk — In Kingston, Ont., on June 11, Marilyn Anne Oderkirk, Com. '77, to Robert George Gibbins, Com. '75. Included in the wedding party were Mrs. Michelle Kennedy (Michelle Oderkirk), Com. '75, and Rae Armstrong, Com. '75. Mr. and Mrs. Gibbins are living in Toronto, where Mr. Gibbins is employed by Coopers and Lybrand, chartered accountants, and Mrs. Gibbins is an accountant with Texaco Canada Ltd.

Gracie — On Dec. 22, 1976, in Toronto, Ont., Lyn Gracie, Med. '76, to James R. Adams (M.D., U.C.L.A.). Doctors Gracie and Adams are living in San Francisco, Calif.

Harding — In Kingston, Ont., Aug. 23, 1975, Evelyn A. Evans to Robert E. Harding, Artsci '74. Included in the wedding party were Lois Armstrong, Arts '74, Ed. '75, Brenda Evans, Ed. '75, and Mark Roberts, Com. '76. Mr. Harding received his B.Sc. Pharmacy from the University of Toronto in June and is currently a staff pharmacist at Kingston General Hospital. The Hardings live at 50 Runnymede Rd.

Hill — In Toronto, Carolyn Nasmith Wilkie (York) to George S. Hill, Com. '73, C.A. Mr. and Mrs. Hill are living in Toronto, where George is a chartered accountant with Xerox of Canada Ltd. and Carolyn is manager of Celebrations (W.H. Smith Book-sellers).

Kraminsky — On June 24, Carol Kraminsky, Arts '73 (LL.B., Saskatchewan), to Allan Snell (LL.B., Saskatchewan). The Snells are living in Regina.

Lynch — In Cornwall, Ont., on April 29, Katie Burke (B.A., Montreal), to Brian Lynch, Arts '66 (M.Ed., Ottawa).

McCormack-Hales — In June, Heather A. Hales, Rehab. '76, to Lee McCormack, M.P.A. '75 (B.A., New Brunswick). Included in the wedding party were John Cotton, J. P. Hayward and Marion Fraser, all graduates of M.P.A. '75, and Maureen O'Neill, Rehab. '76. The McCormacks are living in Ottawa.

McInnes-Esling — On Aug. 27, in Islington, Ont., Laurie Taylor Esling, Arts '73, Law '78, to John David McInnes, Law '77. Mr. and Mrs. McInnes are living in Kingston.

McLean-King — In Kingston, Ont., on Aug. 20, Katharine Anne King, Artsci '76, to James Douglas McLean, Artsci '76. Mr. and Mrs. McLean are living in Bowmanville, Ont.

Merriman — In Toronto, Ont., on July 23, Bev Morrissey (B.Sc., York), to Dave Merriman, Sc. '70. Bill Holdsworth, Sc. '70 (LL.B., Toronto), was a member of the wedding party. The Merrimans are living in London, Ont., and Dave is enrolled in the M.B.A. course at Western.

Mukai — In Ottawa, Ont., on May 15, 1976, Mariko Mukai, N.Sc. '76, to Lloyd Henry Farevaag (R.M.C.). Mr. and Mrs. Farevaag are living in Chilliwack, B.C.

Parsons — In Baldwinsville, N.Y., on June 18, Anne E. Parsons, Arts '75, to Second Lt. Steven Martin, U.S. Marine Corp, a recent graduate of the U.S. Naval Academy in Annapolis. The Martins are living in Tri-angle, Va.

Porter — In Delafield, Wis., Kathryn McClone to Dr. John A. H. Porter, Med. '71. Dr. and Mrs. Porter are living in Milwaukee, where Dr. Porter is practising neurology.

Prudom-Kooyman — On July 10, 1976, in Sarnia, Ont., Tilly Kooyman, Mus. '78, to James G. Prudom, Ed. '75 (B.Math., Waterloo). The Prudoms are living in Kingston, Ont.

Ratelle — On June 26, 1976, in Cornwall, Ont., Joan Ratelle, Arts '76 to Gary Delaney. Included in the wedding party were Susane Henrie, Rehab. '77, Percy Pecore, Com. '74, and Janice Ouimet, Arts '77. The Delaneys are living in Cornwall.

Rayment-Hart — On Aug. 6, in Ottawa, Ont., Catherine Jane Hart, Arts, N.Sc. '77, to Stephen George Rayment, Sc. '75, M.Sc. '77. Included in the wedding party were Martha Hart, Arts '78, Beth Lalonde, N.Sc. '77, Celia Turnbull, N.Sc. '77, John Whincup, Sc. '75, Doug Short, Sc. '75, Glenn Lyle, Sc. '75, M.Sc. '76, and Jon Wigley, Sc. '75, Law '78. Mr. and Mrs. Rayment are living in Mississauga, Ont.

Romatowski — In Kingston, Ont., Michelle Anne Purtell to Dr. Walter William Romatowski, Med. '76. Dr. and Mrs. Romatowski are living in Don Mills, Ont.

Rosebrugh — In Ottawa, Ont., on July 3, 1976, Mary L. Rosebrugh, Arts, Ed. '73, to Brian C. Gibson (B.E.S., Waterloo, Dip. Ed., Western). Included in the wedding party were Mrs. Grant Harris (Emily Motyer), Arts '73, and Diane Rutter, Arts '73, Ed. '74. Ms Rosebrugh and Mr. Gibson are living in Ottawa, where they are both employed by the Carleton Board of Education.

Sibold-Dunsmore — On July 11, in Oakville, Ont., Katherine Dunsmore, Law '77, to Stephen P. Sibold, Arts '74, Law '76. Included in the wedding party were Merritt

NOMINATIONS INVITED FOR UNIVERSITY COUNCIL

The effectiveness of the University Council is largely dependent upon the quality of its membership. The Constitution of the University gives you the right to select candidates for election. The procedure for making nominations is outlined below.

Graduates may nominate 16 candidates to succeed the following Councillors, whose terms expire in 1978. All are eligible for re-election except the first three listed, since they have already served for 12 consecutive years. Members elected will serve until March 31, 1984.

Not Eligible for Re-election

Y.O. Fortier, B.Sc., M.Sc., Ph.D., Ottawa
Eric G.A. Jorgensen, B.Sc., Don Mills, Ont.
Stewart A. Searle, B.Com., Winnipeg

Eligible for Re-election Due to Overlapping Terms on Board of Trustees

H.J. Hamilton, B.A., LL.D., Kingston, Ont.
K.R. MacGregor, E.D., B.Sc., Waterloo, Ont.

Eligible for Re-election

George T. Carson, M.D., C.M., FRCOG, FACOG, FRCS(C), Ottawa
James Charters, M.D., C.M., Hamilton
Mervin Daub, B.Com., M.B.A., Ph.D., Kingston
David D. Haun, B.Sc., M.Sc., Calgary
George A. Jewett, B.Sc., Toronto
W. Craig Moffat, B.Sc., M.Sc., D.Sc., Kingston
David L. Rigsby, B.Sc., Pointe Claire, Que.
Ian Stewart, B.A., M.A., Ph.D., Ottawa
A.B. Susman, B.A., M.D., C.M., New York
R.M. Wood, Cambridge (Galt), Ont.

Candidates must be graduates of Queen's and must receive five or more separate nominations in order to qualify. Permission must be obtained from the nominee to allow his or her name to appear on the ballot. Nominations must be in writing, signed, and received by the Secretary of the University Council on or before November 30, 1977.

Cluff, Arts '74, M.A. '77, Clyde Fulton, Sc. '74, M.Sc. '76, and Ross Dunsmore, Law '73 (B.A., McGill). Steve and Kathy live at 10 Hogarth Ave., Apt. 1907, Toronto, Ont.

Simpson — In Dundas, Ont., on May 7, Susan E. Woodley (B.A., McMaster), to Howard T. Simpson, Sc. '66. The Simpsons are living in London, Ont.

Smith — On Aug. 20, Judy E. Smith, Arts '72, to Douglas Moroso (B.A., Simon Fraser). Included in the wedding party was Kathy Ryan (Kathy Mijatovich), Arts '72. Mr. and Mrs. Moroso live in Burnaby, B.C., and are both on staff at the British Columbia Institute of Technology.

Snodgrass — On Aug. 20, in Burlington, Ont., Sheila Snodgrass, Arts '67, to Wilfried Moll. Mr. and Mrs. Moll are living at 90 Arlington Ave., Toronto, Ont.

Taylor — In Niagara-on-the-Lake, Ont. in August, Mary Moogk (Brock Univ.) to Peter Sigston Taylor, Com. '70. The Taylors will live in Niagara-on-the-Lake, where Peter is Industrial Relations Manager for C and C Yachts and Mary works with the Shaw Festival.

Tranmer-Robbins — In Burlington, Ont., on Aug. 15, 1976, Joan Elizabeth Robbins, N.Sc. '75, to Gary William Tranmer, Sc. '74, Law '77. The Tranmers are living in Kingston, Ont.

Young-Harwood — On July 2, in Ottawa, Ont., Sheila Margaret Harwood, Arts '74, daughter of Mrs. K. J. Harwood (Joan Melton), Arts '45, to Rev. Roger Alan Young, Arts '73 (M.Div., Trinity). Mr. and Mrs. Young are living in Clayton, Ont., where Mr. Young has been appointed Rector.

Deaths

Neilson Clark Bridger, B.A. '37, Philadelphia, Penn., June 23; survived by his wife Mary Ann and a daughter. John R. Bridger, Sc. '32, M.Sc. '34, is a brother.

Dr. George B. Burwell, B.A. '13, M.B. '15, M.D. '17, Renfrew, Ont., July 7. Dr. Burwell had served as a general practitioner in Renfrew since 1921 and was a life member of the Ontario Medical Association — an honour bestowed on members over 65 who have made an outstanding contribution in medical care. He was a charter member of Queen's Cha Gheill Society.

Dr. Laurence Roberts 'Bud' Clow, M.D., C.M. '45, FRCS(C), Kingston, Ont., June 18; Associate Professor of Obstetrics and Gynaecology at Queen's and on staff at Kingston General and Hotel Dieu Hospitals. Survived by daughters Susan, (Mrs. P. Fischhoff), Arts '75, Ann, and Cathy and sons Robin and James.

Franklin Waverley Davis, B.A. '32, Smithville, Ont., May 17.

John Howard Erwin, B.A. '19, Grimsby, Ont., May 31; high school teacher and senior instructor at Teachers College, Saskatoon, Sask., for 25 years. Mr. Erwin later moved to St. Catharines, Ont., where he taught in area schools, including Ridley College, for several years. Mrs. Erwin survives.

John Ross Godden, B.A. '52, Ottawa, Ont., June 21. He retired with the rank of Lieutenant Colonel from the Armed Forces in November 1975 and went on to serve as Town Administrator, Churchill Falls, Labrador, Nfld.

Harry L. Hart, B. Com. '31, Meaford, Ont., Aug. 3. Mr. Hart retired in 1969 after 38 years with Canada Life Assurance Co., latterly as Director of Special Operations. He is survived by his wife, the former Eileen MacFarlane, Arts '33, and two children. Robert C. Hart, Sc. '33, is a brother.

Mrs. M. F. Kirkland (Jessie Pritchard), B.A. '27, Oshawa, Ont., December 1976. Predeceased by her husband, Maurice F. Kirkland, Arts '24.

Dr. Charles Arnold Loudon, M.D., C.M. '23, June 3, at Lindsay, Ont., where he had retired in 1964 after 40 years as a general practitioner in Morrisburg, Ont. He is survived by his wife Lorena, a son, Dr. Gordon Loudon, Med. '49, and a daughter, Mrs. Ann Boyer, N.Sc. '49. Arthur Loudon, Arts '29, is a brother.

Richard Orville McGee, B.Sc. '32, Ottawa, Ont., July 28; Patent Attorney with the Department of Consumer and Corporate Affairs. He is survived by his wife Margaret.

Donald Hugh McGuire, B.Sc. '40, Oakville, Ont., July 1976; former geology engineer with Ontario Hydro.

Mary Elizabeth McKinlay, Arts '30, B.A. Hon. '40, Oakville, Ont., July 15; retired secondary school mathematics teacher.

Dr. Tuffield John Morin, M.D., C.M. '33, Ottawa, Ont., July 29; former Director of Diseases Division, Ottawa Civic Hospital. Survivors include his wife Frances of San Jose, Calif.

Angus McGill Mowat, Arts '16, B.A. '31 (M.A. Sask.), of Northport, Ont., in Kingston on Sept. 21, aged 84. Former Major in WWI, librarian in Trenton, Director of Ontario Public Libraries, the most colorful sailor on the Bay of Quinte and author of two novels: Then I'll Look Up (1939) and Carrying Place (1944). Grandson of Ontario's first premier, Sir Oliver Mowat; survivors include his wife Barbara and his son, author Farley Mowat.

Dr. Laurence Neil O'Connor, M.D., C.M. '43, Kingston, Ont., July 15; Professor at Queen's in Obstetrics and Gynaecology and one of the senior members of the same department at Hotel Dieu Hospital. Dr. O'Connor had practised in Kingston since completion of his internship in 1949. During the Second World War, he headed a medical unit in Italy and was in charge of five former German military hospitals for a year after the war. Survivors include his wife Louise and six children. Mrs. J. F. Jarrell (Helen), Arts '44, and Mrs. J. A. Smythe (Margaret), Arts '52, are sisters. Predeceased by his father, Dr. Frank D. O'Connor, Med. '14.

Mrs. Wallace J. Park (Catherine Jane Purcell), B.A. '58, Ottawa, Ont., Feb. 24. Survivors include her husband and two sons.

Dr. Edwin Moody Robertson, Emeritus Professor of Obstetrics and Gynaecology at Queen's, died at Kingston July 14. A native of Edinburgh, Scotland, Dr. Robertson received his medical education at the University of Edinburgh and Lausanne University. After serving in a number of teaching and clinical positions in Edinburgh, he came to Queen's in 1939 as Head of Obstetrics and Gynaecology. A member of the faculty since that time, he took leave in 1959 to go to Oxford under an exchange program. He resigned as head of the department in 1965 and retired from active teaching in 1969. Survivors include his wife Hannah, a daughter, Mrs. Stanley Sadinsky (Gillian), Arts '61, and a son, William, Law '69 (B.A., Acadia). Predeceased by a daughter, Elspeth Robertson, Dip. P.H.N. '64.

Dr. A. Franklin Rowsom, M.D., C.M. '26, Winter Park, Fla., May 9. Dr. Rowsom was a general practitioner in Locust Valley, N.Y., for some years, later specializing in Obstetrics and Gynaecology on the staff of Glen Cove Community Hospital, Glen Cove, N.Y. On his retirement Dr. Rowsom moved to Winter Park. He is survived by his wife Florence, a son and a daughter.

Mrs. Arthur G. Scott (Nora G. Dewar), B.A. '15, Brantford, Ont., in May. Predeceased by her husband, Arthur Scott, Arts '14.

Thomas Arnold Sims, B.Sc. '19, Grimsby, Ont., Aug. 7; former President of Grimsby Stoves and Furnaces Ltd. Survivors include his wife Josephine, and a daughter, Mrs. A. R. Cochen (Sandra), Med. '57.

Dr. Morley Lyford Smith, M.D., C.M. '23, Muttontown, Long Island, N.Y., Aug. 25, at age 79. Dr. Smith interned at Nassau Hospital, Mineola, N.Y., Central Islip Hospital and Lying In Hospital in Manhattan. He established a private practice in Hicksville, N.Y., retiring after 47 years due to ill health. He is survived by his wife Phebe, two children and four grandchildren.

Gerald Bradford Thompson, B.A. '69, M.Ed. '73, Belleville, Ont., June 11; a teacher at Trenton High School. Survivors include his wife, the former Diana Brown, Arts '69, M.Ed. '73, and one son.

Frerick William Truelove, B.A. '50, of Cobden, Ont., in Ottawa, Oct. 30, 1976. Former principal of Cobden School for 44 years, Mr. Truelove retired in 1976. He is survived by his wife.

Dr. Richard William Ian Urquhart, LL.D. '59 (M.D., Toronto), Toronto, Ont., Sept. 7; former Chairman of the Ontario Hospital Services Commission.

New hospital wing named for Dr. Ronald C. Burr

A new $4.8-million wing of Kingston General Hospital, officially opened on Sept. 10, was named in honour of Dr. Ronald C. Burr, Med. '32, FRCS(Edin.), FRCS(C), FRCP. Dr. Burr headed the Department of Therapeutic Radiology at Queen's from 1935 until his retirement to Professor Emeritus in 1971. He currently operates a private practice in radiology in Kingston and remains a consultant at K.G.H. In addition, he is an honorary consultant at Hotel Dieu Hospital, St. Mary's of the Lake, and the Ontario Cancer Foundation (Kingston Clinic).

The two-storey wing named for Dr. Burr took two years to complete. It quadruples the size of the hospital's cancer clinic and also houses a new Rehabilitation Medicine unit with in-patient and out-patient facilities.

In a ceremony attended by Ontario Health Minister Dennis Timbrell, M.P. Flora MacDonald and alumnus-M.P.P. Keith Norton, Dr. Burr was saluted for devoting his life to the promotion of the highest standards of achievement in teaching and treatment in his field. "His wisdom, energy, warmth and sincerity have been a strong support to his patients, an example to his students and an inspiration to his colleagues," said the hospital's Board of Governors.

Dr. Ronald C. Burr, Med. '32

A letter to file under 'B'

Dear Sirs,

The Bénéteau family has not been very cooperative in keeping the Alumni Association abreast of their last developments and addresses! Perhaps this short note will bring us back into your good favour.

- Yolande Bénéteau, Arts '43, is Supervisor of the French Program for the Carleton Roman Catholic School Board, Ottawa.

- Pauline Bénéteau-Lacroix, Arts '50, is Coordinator of French language teaching for the North York School Board, Toronto.

- Bernard Bénéteau, Sc. '44, opted for early retirement after selling his electronic business in California. He lives at 2244 Vermont Ave., Anaheim, Cal. 92806.

- Basil Bénéteau, Sc. '48, recently resigned his position as Chairman, President and Chief Executive Officer of British Columbia Telephone Co. to move to Montreal as Executive Vice-President, Marketing, Northern Telecom.

- Finally, the brightest of the family, Paul J. Bénéteau, Sc. '53, has recently taken up the position of President and Chief Executive Officer of Cable TV Limited in Montreal.

I trust this brings us up to date. We will try to be more informative in the future.

PAUL J. BENETEAU, Sc. '53
Outremont, Que.

AN APPEAL FROM THE ARCHIVES

University Archivist Anne MacDermaid would be grateful for any pictures that alumni might be able to donate pertaining to the Student Strike of 1928. Please contact her c/o the Douglas Library or call (613) 547-3226.

From Kingston to Korea

The 1976 Reunion in Kingston sparked another in Korea this year at the Chosun Hotel in Seoul. Present for both occasions were Dr. W.C. Gardiner, Arts '26 (who celebrated his 50th anniversary at Reunion last October) and his wife (Charlotte Hicks), Arts '29, of Stratford, Conn., and George E. Wilson, Sc. '31, with his wife Frances (Manitoba) of Kingston.

Both couples were on aid missions to South Korea — the Gardiners with IESC and the Wilsons with CESO (see September-October Review).

NOMINATIONS FOR HONORARY DEGREES

The Senate Committee on Honorary Degrees invites nominations for the award of Honorary Degrees at the 1978 Convocations.

These nominations must be submitted to the Registrar by December 1, 1977. Nominations received after that date can not be considered for 1978. Please include the following information with each nomination:

- (a) Name in full
- (b) Permanent address
- (c) A brief biographical outline, including education and employment
- (d) Reasons for recommending the award of an Honorary Degree.

Notes

1910-29

Rt. Rev. Jack R. Creeggan, Arts '25, Kingston, Ont., who retired as Bishop of the Diocese of Ontario in 1974, recently celebrated the 50th year of his ordination into the Anglican Church. At a special service held at the Church of the Redeemer, he was presented with an engraved gold-plated wine goblet, and Mrs. Creeggan was given a floral bouquet.

A. Hazlett Lemmon, Arts '29, Toronto, Ont., Chairman, Canada Life Assurance Co., has been appointed a Director of the National Trust Co. Mr. Lemmon is a director of several other corporations and a member of the Board of Trustees at Queen's.

Michael A. A. Phelan, Sc. '29, Mont Tremblant, Que., is now an engineering consultant, having retired as assistant to the President, Canadian Refractories Ltd. in Montreal.

1930-39

T. J. Allen, Arts '36, M.A. '37 (M.A., Oxford), retired in June after 10 years as Director, Communications Division, Sheridan College, Oakville, Ont. Mr. Allen was formerly Associate Editor, Peterborough Examiner, and Associate Editorial Page Editor for the Toronto Star.

John W. Henley, Arts '35, B.A. Hon. '37, Hamilton, Ont., has been appointed Vice-President, Human Resources Planning, Westinghouse Canada Ltd. Mr. Henley was formerly Vice-President, Personnel.

Dr. R. A. Kelly, Med. '38, has resigned as Medical Officer of Health for the Kingston area after serving for the past 25 years.

Warren S. Raynor, Sc. '39, Danville, Ky., has retired as Vice-President, Engineering, Material Handling and Vibrating Equipment Group, Rexnord Inc. Mr. Raynor will serve as a consultant to the firm and as a director of Mathews Conveyer Co. Ltd., a Canadian Rexnord subsidiary. He joined the Mathews Conveyer Co., Port Hope, Ont., in 1948 as a project engineer and advanced through several sales and engineering management positions to assume his present assignment in 1975. An expert in the design and engineering of automated handling systems, Mr. Raynor holds 15 United States patents and 25 Canadian patents.

Stanley B. Stewart, Sc. '32, St. Lambert, Que., was bereaved by the death of his wife, the former Ethel Derry, R.N. (K.G.H.), on July 20. Kathleen Derry, Arts '30, is a sister.

(Continued on page 28)

F.K. McKean

W.S. Raynor

1940-49

Wilbert G. Burks, Sc. '46, Toronto, Ont., has been appointed General Manager, Trans-Northern Pipe Line Co. Mr. Burks was formerly Manager of Engineering and Operations with the company.

J. Grant Carscallen, Arts '44 (B.Ed., Toronto), Principal of Britannia Secondary School, Mississauga, Ont., received his Master of Education degree from Brock University on June 3.

Karl Dansky, Arts '47 (M.S.W., Toronto), Wayzata, Minn., has completed 15 years as Executive Director of Senior Citizen Centers of Greater Minneapolis Inc.

Hugh L. Harris, Sc. '47, has been appointed President and Chief Executive Officer, Great Lakes Power Co. Ltd. He previously served as Vice-President, Electrical Operations. Prior to joining the company in 1976, Mr. Harris was General Manager, Public Utilities Commission, Sault Ste. Marie, Ont.

James M. Hughes, Sc. '49, Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., has been appointed Executive Director of the Ontario Mining Association and the Mines Accident Prevention Association of Ontario. He has had extensive experience in mining and has held senior position in both government and private sectors. Mr. Hughes had been Regional Director, Ontario Ministry of Natural Resources (Sudbury and Sault Ste. Marie) for the past five years.

F. K. 'Dick' McKean, Sc. '40, Parry Sound, Ont., has a new honour to add to his long list of distinctions: he was recently commissioned by Governor Carroll as a Kentucky Colonel, "with all the rights, privileges, and responsibilities thereby pertaining."

Donald D. McLean, Sc. '43, formerly of Montreal, is now with Spar Aerospace Products Ltd., Toronto, Ont. His son Bruce graduated from Queen's this past spring in Honours Biochemistry.

D. E. Patterson, Arts '44, is now retired after 33 years of government service. Mr. Patterson spent 31 years with the federal Department of Insurance.

Dr. Gordon Tracy, Arts '48, Ph.D. '55 (M.A., Wisconsin), Professor of German at the University of Western Ontario, lectured in May and June on Canadian theatre at the Free University in West Berlin, the Humboldt University in East Berlin, and the University of Vienna; also on Brecht and Chinese philosophy at the University of Vienna and on East German theatre at the University of Erlangen. The lectures were co-sponsored by the Cultural Affairs Division of Canada's Department of External Affairs.

Rt. Rev. George Tuttle, Arts '42 (Theology, St. Stephen's, Ph.D., Victoria College), Calgary, Alta., has been elected Moderator of the United Church of Canada. Dr. Tuttle is Principal of St. Stephen's Theological College, University of Alberta. He has had a wide church experience, including several mission fields, a pastorate in Alberta and a term as assistant minister in Toronto. He has also been national director of youth work for the church and professor at Union College, now the Vancouver School of Theology.

Dr. Muriel Uprichard, Arts '43 (M.A., Smith, Ph.D., London), has retired as Director of the University of British Columbia School of Nursing, a position she held for six years. She began her career as a teacher in rural Saskatchewan. Following graduation and her doctorate, she was commissioned by the British Council of Nurses to do a study of the Florence Nightingale International Foundation. Thus began her long involvement with the nursing profession. Dr. Uprichard now lives in Richmond and plans to write a history of nursing, plus a novel.

1950-59

Lt. Col. John A. Annand, Arts '59, and Mrs. Annand (Barbara Forde), Arts '59, are living in Kingston where John is Director of Cadets at the Royal Military College. Their daughter Deborah is enrolled in first year at Queen's.

Verne L. Burkholder, Sc. '50, is Supervisor, Cost Engineering, Imperial Oil Enterprises Logistics, Engineering Division, 111 St. Clair Ave., Toronto, Ont.

James E. Collins, Artsci '59 (M.B.A., Toronto), and family have moved to Goderich, Ont., where he is a franchise dealer for Stedmans.

R. J. Collins, Sc. '59, Ottawa, Ont., has been appointed Executive Vice-President of V. K. Mason Construction Ltd. Mr. Collins joined the company in 1961 and through his various assignments, including that of Project Manager of the construction of the National Arts Centre in Ottawa, has obtained a broad background in all phases of the building construction industry.

Dr. James H. Day, Arts '53 (M.A., Cornell, M.D., McGill), Associate Professor of Medicine at Queen's, presented a brief on behalf of the Ontario Medical Association at public hearings dealing with the Great Lakes five-year water quality agreement. Dr. Day is beginning a four-year term as the Canadian medical representative on the research advisory board of the Great Lakes International Joint Commission.

Dr. C.E.S. "Ned" Franks, Arts '59, M.A. '65 (D. Phil., Oxon), a member of the Department of Political Studies at Queen's, is author of a book entitled The canoe and white water (University of Toronto Press). One reviewer has called it "a broad and penetrating review by an expert...a book canoeists, wilderness as well as white water, have waited for -- to read for pleasure and keep for reference." Professor Franks has also prepared a television series and written magazine articles on canoeing.

Melvin R. Goodes, Com. '57 (M.B.A., Chicago), Watchung, N.J., has been elected a Vice-President of Warner-Lambert Co. He will continue his responsibility as President of the Pan America/Asia Zone of Warner-Lambert's International Group. Mr. Goodes joined the company in 1965.

Richard W. Lunn, Arts '53, is Chairman of the Department of Journalism at Ryerson Polytechnical Institute, Toronto, and lives in Wellington, Ont., in Prince Edward County.

Dr. Henry G. McAdie, M.A. '54, Ph.D. '56 (B.Sc., McGill), has been elected to a second term as Chairman, Board of Directors, Chemical Institute of Canada. Dr. McAdie is Director of the Department of Environmental Chemistry, Ontario Research Foundation, Sheridan Park Research Community, Mississauga, Ont.

R. H. O'Hara, Arts '50, Toronto, Ont., has been appointed Vice-President and General Manager of Industrial Marketing Communications, Cockfield Brown and Co. Ltd. Mr. O'Hara is also a director of the company.

H. K. 'Hank' Sandlos, Sc. '55, P.Eng., has been appointed District Sales Manager, Western District, S&C Canada Sales Organization. He will be responsible for sales activities in Northern Ontario, Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia. Mr. Sandlos is based at the company's head office, 90 Belfield Rd., Rexdale, Ont.

Bruce H. White, Sc. '53, is Director of Manufacturing, Smith and Stone Ltd., Georgetown, Ont.

Dr. Hugh Wynne-Edwards, M.A. '57, Ph.D. '59 (B.Sc., Aberdeen, D.Sc., Memorial), Head of the Department of Geological Sciences at University of British Columbia since 1972, has assumed responsibility as Assistant Secretary, University Branch, of the Ministry of State for Science and Technology, under the Executive Interchange Program. Dr. Wynne-Edwards is President of the Association of Scientific and Technical Societies in Canada and a former member of faculty at Queen's.

Olé for the Rugby Coach

John D. Jerome, Arts '59 (M.A., Ottawa), Head of the English Department at Colonel By Secondary School, coach of their rugby team, and Ottawa Area Schools Coordinator for Rugby, reports that Colonel By Rugby Club recently completed a seven-day tour in Mexico City. In the first international school-boys' rugby match ever played there, John's team won two games and lost one. "In the U.I. Annual Mexican Rugby Union seven sides tournament," he writes, "Colonel By defeated Air France (Paris) 22-0 and Greengates School 21-7. We were defeated by the British Army from Belize and by Los Piratas of Argentina." Colonel By won the Ottawa area high school rugby championship for the second year.

Peter Zarry, Com. '56 (M.B.A., Western), has been appointed to the new post of Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of Bates International and is now based in Britain where he will oversee Ted Bates' operations in Europe, the U.K., the Middle East, South Africa and Canada.

1960-69

Dr. J. W. Berry, M.A. '66 (B.Sc., Toronto), is Associate Professor of Mathematics, University of Manitoba, Winnipeg. He was formerly with the University in Leicester in England. Dr. Berry and his wife Dean (B.A., McGill), have two children; Erin, age 7, and Kate, 5.

John F. Bird, Arts '61, Thorold, Ont., has been appointed to the new position of Director of Part-Time Programs, Brock University, St. Catharines, Ont. Mr. Bird has been Assistant Registrar (Admissions) at Brock since 1969. He is President of the Ontario University Registrars' Association.

Doug Cumming, Arts '66, is Head of Modern Languages at Owen Sound Collegiate and Vocational Institute. The Cummings live in Green Acres at R.R. 3, Tara, Ont.

Lyle L. Decaire, Sc. '68, has been appointed Controller of Plant, Hastings County Board of Education, Belleville, Ont.

Daniel de Verteuil, Sc. '68, has been appointed Planning and Control Engineer for Ontario Hydro's expansion of the Thunder Bay Generating Station. Dan and his family are residing at 500 Ferndale Cresc., Thunder Bay, Ont.

Ross Dixon, Com. '61, M.B.A. '72, is Assistant to the Vice-President, Personnel, Southam Press Ltd., Toronto, Ont. He is in charge of management development. Ross and Heather (Sherbino), Arts '68, Ed. '69, live at 16 Conifer Dr., Etobicoke, Ont.

John C. Farrell, Sc. '64, M.Sc. '65, and Mrs. Farrell (Stephannie Kadzielawa), Arts '67, are living at Saturnusstraat 24, 8303 Emmeloord N., Polder, The Netherlands, where John is supervising the construction of a wind tunnel for testing aircraft. Mr. and Mrs. Farrell welcome any Queen's people who might be visiting in their area.

"Deserving Alumnus" honoured by AMS

Judge John R. Matheson, C.D., Arts '40 (M.A., Mount Allison; LL.M., Western), has been made Honorary President of the Alma Mater Society for 1977-78 by a unanimous vote of the AMS Outer Council. In announcing Judge Matheson's acceptance, the Queen's Journal pointed out that during his student years he was President of the Arts Society, active on the AMS Executive, and a Tricolor Award winner. His citation for the University Council's Distinguished Service Award for 1977 appeared in the Review this summer (July-August issue).

Dr. Richard Flindall, Med. '63, and Mrs. Flindall (Bette Ohlke), Arts '64, are living at 302 W. Baltusrol Circle, Phoenix, Arizona, where Richard is practising ophthalmology.

Norman C. Jackson, Arts '68, Law '71, has been appointed Kingston's first full-time city solicitor. He had been assistant city solicitor for the City of Ottawa since being admitted to the bar in 1972.

Carol E. Johnson (Carol Teal), N.Sc. '63, Arts '64 (M.Ed., Ottawa), is teaching the R.N.A. program at Listowel District Secondary School, Listowel, Ont.

John M. Jossa, Com. '69, is Financial Adviser with the Department of Indian Affairs in Prince Rupert, B.C. Mr. Jossa was formerly with Manufacturers Life in Toronto for six years.

Mrs. A. C. Lawson (Suzanne Perry), Arts '63, has been appointed Director of Public Education, Ontario Heart Foundation, Toronto, Ont.

Joan MacLean, Arts '66 (M.S.W., Carleton), is Supervisor of the Child Psychiatric Unit, Royal Ottawa Hospital, Ottawa.

Rob May, Com. '68, C.A., and Katherine May (Katherine Russell), Arts '69, have changed their surname to Shotton. They now reside at 148 Glen Ave., Ottawa, Ont.

Jeanine McCreight (Jeanine Trowell), Arts '66 (M.Ed., Toronto), is now lecturing in English and Psychology at Deree-Pierce Colleges, Business Administration Program, Downtown Campus, Sinopsis and Euinon 11, Ambelokopi, Athens, Greece.

Margaret A. McDavid (Margaret Costello), Arts '61, is a Certified General Accountant and, after completing the federal government's language training program, has assumed the position of Head, Cost Accounting, National Capital Region of the Department of Public Works, Ottawa.

Evan J. Meyers, Com. '68, is President of Taylor Bros. Transport (Markham) Ltd., and Director of OK Transportation Group. The companies are involved in trucking, warehousing and leasing in the Toronto and Markham areas. Mr. Meyers was formerly Assistant Vice-President of Wood Gundy Ltd.

Bill Miklas, Arts '63, M.B.A. '65, has completed two and one-half years as Chairman of the Master of Business Administration Program at Queen's. He has been granted a sabbatical leave for 1977-78 and is spending it at Cranfield School of Management in England. Bill and Mrs. Miklas (Susan Berry), Arts '65, may be reached at 45 Redwood Glade, Leighton Buzzard, Beds., England LU7 7JT.

Dr. Malcolm Miller, Dip. Psych. '66, Ph.D. '69 (B.Sc., Ohio, M.A., Kentucky), and Mrs. Miller (Cathy Evans), Arts '71 (M.A., Windsor), have moved to St. Thomas, Ont. Their home in Melbourne, Ont., was destroyed by fire in February. Cathy has been accepted into the Ph.D. program in Psychology at the University of Windsor and has received a $1500 graduate scholarship.

M.R. Goodes

D.G. Willoughby

Dr. Richard G. Perrin, Med. '68 (M.Sc., Toronto), FRCS(C), has been appointed to the Department of Surgery, University of Toronto, and is practising Neurosurgery at Wellesley Hospital. Dr. and Mrs. Perrin and their children, Tash and Sam, are living at 45 Coulson Ave., Toronto, M4V 1Y3.

R. J. Poirier, Sc. '62, is employed as a Power Systems Engineer, National Energy Board, Ottawa, Ont.

Rev. William E. Stephenson, Theol. '65 (B.A., Western), formerly of Brantford, Ont., has accepted a call to St. Andrew's United Church, Chalk River, Ont.

Donald G. Swanton, Sc. '67, is Chief Production Engineer of Delhi International's Australia Division. Mr. Swanton lives in Hope Valley S.A., Australia.

R. Scott Sweatman, Arts '68, M.B.A. '71, has been appointed Sales Manager, Western Region, Atlas Steels, a division of Rio Algom Ltd. Located in Edmonton, Mr. Sweatman is responsible for sales of Atlas stainless, tool and alloy steels to major mill accounts as well as to service centres in Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia.

Stephen A. Taylor, Arts '68, has recently become a Fellow of the Canadian Institute of Actuaries and of the Society of Actuaries. He has also been named Vice-President and Actuary of the Lutheran Life Insurance Society of Canada, Waterloo, Ont.

Mary Lynn Thompson (Mary Lynn Martyn), Arts '62, received the 1977 award for the highest academic standing in the Diploma Nursing Course, Conestoga College, Stratford, Ont.

Don Townson, Arts '60 (M.S., Columbia), and his wife, Sonja Finstad, Arts, P.H.E. '60, have moved from St. Catharines to 28, Chemin Francois Lehmann, 1218 Geneva, Switzerland.

David G. Willoughby, Com. '63, spent three years in Oslo, Norway, as Managing Director of Holter, Young and Rubicam and has now moved to Tokyo as Representative Director of their Japanese company, Young and Rubicam K.K. Mr. Willoughby is a Vice-President of Young and Rubicam International and has completed other assignments in Toronto, New York and Mexico City.

Dr. James W. S. Young, Sc. '67, M.Sc. '69 (Ph.D., Waterloo), is Director of Air Quality Engineering, Beak Environmental Consultants, 6870 Goreway Dr., Mississauga, Ont.

LAKEFIELD RESEARCH OF CANADA LIMITED

*Ore Testing and Mineral
Processing Research*

A. G. Scobie, Sc. '37

Laboratories and Pilot Plant

Lakefield, Ont. Phone 652-3341

MANN & MACERA

Barristers & Solicitors

Patent & Trade Mark Agents

Bruce W. Mann, Sc. '71, Law '74

John S. Macera, Sc. '70, M.Sc. '73, Law '74

201 McLeod St., Suite 1
Ottawa, Canada K2P 0Z9

TELEPHONE: (613) 238-7565

CABLES: ANMELD

David Gordon

Alan McNabb

B. I. COHEN INC. DISPENSING OPTICIANS

Suite 120 6102 Cote Des
1255 University St. Neiges Rd.
Cor. St. Catherine (Near Van Horne)
866-7778 731-6530

MONTREAL

Avron Cohen, Arts '44

McMILLAN & MARTYNOWICZ

Consulting Engineers

TELEPHONE 482-1632

5757 CAVENDISH BLVD.
MONTREAL, QUE. H4V 1M4

J. L. RICHARDS & ASSOCIATES LIMITED

Consulting Engineers and Planners

OTTAWA — KINGSTON — SUDBURY — FROBISHER BAY — OVERSEAS

D.M. Bracken, Sc. '76
R.P. Check, Sc. '67, M.Sc. '73
G.A. Clark, Sc. '72
A.E. Fee, Sc. '47
J.T. Fitzpatrick, Sc. '73

W.F. Flude, Sc. '59
G.A. Hearnden, Sc. '53
D.R. Hunter, Sc. '72
I.C. Kennedy, Sc. '70

C.N. Kirby, Sc. '51
G.T. McCaffrey, Sc. '71
P.A. Midgley, Sc. '57
J.L. Richards, Sc. '44/'47
D.G. Shillington, Sc. '70

Memo to members of the Montreal Branch and other Queen's Alumni attending the Annual Meeting in Montreal of the CANADIAN PULP AND PAPER ASSOCIATION

Join in a new experience:

A QUEEN'S ALUMNI BREAKFAST MEETING

Thursday, February 2, 1978

7:30-8:45 a.m.

The Queen Elizabeth Hotel — Chaudiere Room, Convention Floor

Guest Speaker from Queen's to be announced

To: Alumni Office, Queen's University, Kingston, Ont. K7L 3N6

Please send me.....tickets at $5.00 per person to the QUEEN'S ALUMNI BREAKFAST. My cheque or money order (payable to Queen's Alumni Association) is enclosed.

NAME (please print)

ADDRESS

1970-77

Stewart Ash, Com. '75, and his wife, Barbara (Kofman), Arts, Ed. '75, are living in Kingston. Stewart has enrolled in the Law Faculty at Queen's.

Simon Bax, Arts '72, M.Ed. '75, is participating in a one-year teaching exchange program in the Netherlands. Mr. Bax is teaching English as a second language.

Mike W. Beckmann, Ed. '74 (B.A., York), and Mrs. Beckmann (Susan Gingell), M.A. '74 (B.A., York, Ph.D., Toronto), are living in Saskatoon, Sask. Mike is teaching Senior English in Allan, Sask., and Susan has been appointed Assistant Professor at the University of Saskatchewan.

John R. Bowlby, Artsci '71, M.Sc. (Arts) '75, is employed with the Geotechnical Division, Ontario Hydro, 700 University Ave., Toronto, Ont.

David H. Boyle, Sc. '70, M.B.A. '73, and Mrs. Boyle (B.A., Toronto), are living in Calgary, Alta., where David is employed with the Alberta Energy Co. Ltd., in Business Development.

Peter Brownhill, Sc. '71, has been promoted to Assistant Director, Capital Management, Bell Canada, Montreal, Que. He was formerly Engineering Manager for the Sudbury district. Mr. and Mrs. Brownhill (Catherine Coombs), Arts '73, live in Beaconsfield, Que.

Dr. Iain D. Calder, Artsci '71 (Ph.D., Alberta), and Mrs. Calder (Jane Simmons), Arts, Ed. '71, are now living in Evanston, Ill., where Iain has accepted a two-year post-doctoral appointment with the Department of Physics and Astronomy, Northwestern University.

Dr. Walter H. Chan, Artsci '70, M.Sc. (Arts) '71 (Ph.D., Western), is air research program leader, Sudbury Environmental Study, Air Resources Branch, Ontario Ministry of the Environment. Dr. Chan was formerly with Digilab Inc., Cambridge, Mass.

David Charles, Artsci '74, has moved as Plant Chemist with Dow Chemical to their new western expansion in Fort Saskatchewan, Alta.

Richard L. Chown, Com. '75, is employed by I.B.M. Canada, Ottawa, Ont. He was formerly with the Sales Department, Bell Canada, Cornwall, Ont.

Anne Clark, Arts '72, Ed. '73, is teaching English and French at the John Diefenbaker Secondary School in Hanover, Ont. Anne previously taught two years on Manitoulin Island.

Dr. Susan Clark (Susan Humphrey), Med. '73, her husband, Stuart Clark, M.Sc. '73 (B.Sc., Alberta), and son Jonah are preparing for their return to Bangladesh in December to spend three years working in Health and Agricultural Development for the Mennonite Central Committee. At present they are attending a six-month course in development at the Coady International Institute in Antigonish, N.S.

Donald S. Cooper, Law '70 (B.A., McMaster), Mrs. Cooper (Leeanne Bolch), Arts '70, and their two children, Celine Cathrine and Russel Boyd, are living in Sudbury, Ont.

Sam L. Cureatz, Law '73 (B.A., Toronto), has "tentatively" left law practice with Lovekin and Cureatz, Newcastle, Ont., since his election as MPP for Durham East in the Ontario Legislature.

Richard M. Dale, Arts '77, Ottawa, Ont., is doing postdoctoral studies in Physics at Yale University. He was awarded the Prince of Wales Prize and the University Medals in both Physics and Chemistry at Spring Convocation.

Dr. Isaac Dwosh, Med. '71 FRCP(C), and Mrs. Dwosh (Lynn Dalziel), Arts '68, are pleased to be back in Kingston. Isaac's main interest is arthritis, and he is Assistant Professor in the Department of Medicine and a staff member of the Rheumatic Diseases Unit. Lynn is at home at 32 Alwington Ave., with Adam (6) and Emily (3). Friends and classmates always welcome.

Thomas P. Evans, Ed. '70 (B.A., Moncton, M.Ed., Ottawa), is a Director in the Continuing Education Division of Algonquin College, Ottawa, Ont. The Evans family lives in Russell, Ont.

Deborah Fenton (Deborah Baldwin), Arts '75, Ed. '76, is a teacher at Ernestown Secondary School, Odessa, Ont.

Fred Fisher, M.B.A. '77 (B.A., St. Francis Xavier), has joined the Department of Business Administration, St. Francis Xavier University, Antigonish, N.S., and is teaching in the marketing area.

Bill 'Skitz' Fitzpatrick, Arts '70, M.Pl. '73, is an urban planner with the Toronto office of Central Mortgage and Housing Corp., while his wife, Pat M. Devitt, Arts '73 (B.J., Ottawa), is Director of Public Relations with the Young People's Theatre in Toronto. They were featured in the September issue of Chatelaine.

Patti Forrest, Law '75 (B.A., Alberta), is employed in the Legal Department of the Alberta Energy Co., Calgary, Alta.

Sister I. M. Forrester, Arts '75, is Administrator of St. Vincent de Paul Hospital, Brockville, Ont.

Lesley M. A. Francis, Arts '70, received her B.Sc. degree at Carleton University's Spring Convocation. Miss Francis, a computer programmer with Agriculture Canada in Ottawa, will spend a year in England on an educational leave. She will attend the University of Reading and will work toward an M.Sc. degree in Biometry.

R. Thomas Fuller, Arts '77, has joined Shell Canada Ltd. as a Technical Representative in their Chemical Polymer Department. He will be located at the company's head office in Toronto. Mr. Fuller is living at 30 Gloucester St., Apt. 212, Toronto.

Eugene J. A. Gierczak, Sc. '74, has received his LL.B. degree from Osgoode Hall and is articling with the firm of Harries, Houser and Brown, Toronto, Ont.

Roderick Glen, Arts '70, Ed. '71, Watford, Ont., is taking a one-year leave of absence from teaching to pursue an M.Ed. degree in Education Administration at Queen's. He was awarded a graduate scholarship.

Major Bernd A. Goetze, Arts '75, M.A. '77, has been appointed Senior Canadian Representative to Headquarters Allied Land Forces, Jutland and Schleswig-Holstein, at Rendsburg, West Germany.

David L. A. Gordon, Sc. '76, has enrolled in his second year of Urban and Regional Planning program at Queen's. He has been appointed Don of McNeill House and hopes his friends will drop in while visiting on campus.

Chris Green, Arts '73 (LL.B., Osgoode), was called to the Bar of British Columbia and is practising law with the firm of MacIsaac, Clark and Co., Nanaimo, B.C.

Gloria A. Greenfield, Ed. '73 and '76 (B.A., Trent), has been appointed Librarian of the Deseronto Public Library, Deseronto, Ont.

Dr. Murray G. Hall, Arts '70, M.A. '72 (Ph.D., Vienna), recently completed a book on literature and violence in the First Austrian Republic and is now working as a freelance writer for the English Short Wave Service of the Austrian Radio (ORF) in Vienna.

Anne Marie Hoffman, Arts '75, Ober-Roden, Germany, has been employed since graduation with the German Airline, 'Lufthansa'.

Susan Husband, Arts '74, is studying at the University of Western Ontario for an M.Cl.Sc. degree in speech and language pathology.

Dr. John M. Kirk, M.A. '74 (B.A., Sheffield, Ph.D., U.B.C.), Denver, Col., has joined the Department of Foreign Languages at the University of Denver as an Assistant Professor. Dr. Kirk is a specialist in Latin American studies and received a Canadian government grant in 1975 to teach English to Chilean immigrants in Vancouver.

Betty Jean Klassen, Theol. '73 (B.A., Manitoba, M.R.E., Union Theol. Sem.), Kingston, Ont., has joined the Bay of Quinte Con-

Class of '77— Meet your Class Agents

ARTS & SCIENCE

Sue Plummer
Cindi Hall
Adrianne Mann
Dawn Clarke
Janet Marshall
Jay Nuttall
Boots Moffat
Brian Young
Mark Roper
Susan Searle
Steven Ricketts
Bob Atkinson
Nancy Bowes
Mike Pierce
Betsy Greenlees
Craig Hunt
Margaret Young
Mary Jane Lipkin
Julie Wein
Joan Ratelle
Kathryn Ogryzlo
Karen Sohler

MEDICINE

Darryl Stewart
Mike Shannon

SCIENCE

John Hazlett
Paula Luck
Terry Stewart
Ted Chant
Mike Mitchell
David R. Lewis
Rob Carrie
Pam (Fulton) Russell
Pete Sisley
Bill Frenke
Dave Passfield
Kim Sturgess

NURSING

Nancy Nottingham

PHYS ED

Jane Toller
Lyn Atwood

COMMERCE

Greg Lowes
Bob Butterill
Claire Prendergast

M.B.A.

Rob Buller
Dave Voino

(Continued)

MOVING?

If you have a new address, please cut off the address label from your copy of the REVIEW and mail it, along with the following information to:

Alumni Office
Queen's University,
Kingston, Ont. K7L 3N6

NAME

DEGREE/YEAR

NEW ADDRESS

(include Postal Code where applicable)

(Remember to send your old address label)

PHONE NUMBER

ANY NEWS about you we should have in the Review? (Births, marriage, promotion, honours, change of job, etc.)

149
2132

If you receive The Queen's Review but do not receive notices of local Branch activities, please let us know.

ference staff, United Church of Canada, as conference minister, program and leadership development.

Lualhati C. Kuhonta, M.Ed. '76, is a teacher at Lord Lansdowne Junior-Senior School, Toronto, Ont.

Anthony S. Layton, Arts '74, after three years of work and travel in the Arctic and Africa, has returned to Montreal and is employed by I.B.M.

Brian Lower, Ed. '73 (B.P.E., McMaster), is teaching at King's Road Public School, Burlington, Ont.

Jill J. MacArthur (Jill Parker), N.Sc. '74, her husband, Capt. Eric G. MacArthur (R.M.C.) and son Matthew have moved to Oromocto, N.B. Capt. MacArthur has been posted to CFB Gagetown after a two-year exchange posting with the British Army on the Rhine in Germany.

John S. Macera, Sc. '70, M.Sc. (Arts) '73, Law '74 and Bruce W. Mann, Sc. '71, Law '74, have opened an office for the practice of law under the firm name of Mann and Macera, Barristers and Solicitors, Registered Patent and Trade Mark Agents, located at 201 McLeod St., Ottawa. Since graduation both Messrs. Mann and Macera have been associated with Ottawa firms practising in the fields of patent, trade mark, copyright and industrial designs. Mr. Macera is also Vice-President of Probyte Inc., a federally incorporated company whose operations encompass computer software applications.

Helen A. MacRae, Arts '75, M.P.A. '76, is employed as clerk's assistant, Clerk's Department, Region of Peel, Brampton, Ont.

Bob Madden, M.B.A. '71, C.A. (B.A., St. Francis Xavier), has rejoined the Department of Business Administration, St. Francis Xavier University, Antigonish, N.S., after a three-year absence. He received his C.A. degree while working with Deloitte, Haskins and Sills, in Vancouver, B.C.

Capt. Howard Marsh, Sc. '70, and Mrs. Marsh (Diane Thompson), Arts '72, returned to Canada in January after three and one-half years on exchange and on course with the British Army. Howie and Diane have two children, David Howard, born in Munster, Germany, January 1974, and Christian Vera, born in Dorset, England, July 1976. The Marshs are living in Oromocto, N.B.

Margaret L. McClennan, B.A.E. '75, has settled in the 'valley' town of Arnprior, Ont., where she is teaching Art at the District High School.

John N. McFarlane, Com. '73, Law '75, is associated in the practice of law with Bergh, Dioguardi and Kennedy, 2-100 Sparks St., Ottawa, Ont.

Alan B. McNabb, Com. '72, M.B.A. '75, is Assistant to the Vice-President, Gas Supply, Consumer's Gas Co., Toronto, and Mrs. McNabb (Trudy C. Morris), Arts '72, Ph.D. '75, is Assistant to the Vice-President, Health Sciences, at the University of Toronto.

Keung Pak, Sc. '74, M.Sc. '75, is working with the geotechnical group of EBA Engineering Consultants Ltd. in their Calgary office.

John R. Patterson, Arts '75, has completed his M.Sc. degree at the University of Toronto and is now enrolled at Queen's in the Faculty of Education.

James A. Pendergest, Arts '70, Ed. '72, M.A. '73 (M.L.S., Toronto), Agincourt, Ont., has accepted a position with the North York Public Library.

Anne Poliquin (Anne McGregor), Arts '74, is employed by the Protestant School Board of Greater Montreal and is teaching at Roslyn School in Westmount.

Dr. James R. Popplow, Arts '70, Ed. '71, Med. '75, was promoted to the rank of Major in March and is presently the Base Surgeon of CFB, Portage la Prairie, Man. Jim, his wife Jeanette, and daughters Katherine and Carolyn live at 10 Laverendrye Pl., Southport, Man. R0H 1N0.

Donna-Lee Spink, Arts '74, has completed a course in Health Records Administration at the Ottawa General Hospital, and is currently Co-ordinator of the Medical Records Department, Children's Hospital of Eastern Ontario, Ottawa.

Dr. Janet Kathleen Stephens, Arts '74, Ph.D. '77, has been awarded an MRC post-doctorate fellowship to join the staff of Dr. Norman Weiner, Department of Pharmacology, Medical Center, University of Colorado, Denver.

K. C. 'Chip' Vallis, Arts '73, M.B.A. '77, and his wife Barbara are living in Toronto, where Chip is employed in the Commercial Lending Department of the Royal Bank of Canada.

Jan Willis (Jan Matsui), Arts '72, is a secretary in the office of the Hon. Otto Lang, Minister of Transport, and on the staff of the House of Commons. Jan and her husband Keith (B.A., York), have lived in Ottawa for the past three years.

Michael Winder, Sc. '74, and Darlene Winder (Darlene Deleo), O.T. '73, formerly of Thunder Bay, Ont., are now living at 40 Cornwallis Dr. N.W., Calgary, Alta.

Charles G. Winterowd, M.A. '72 (B.A., Minnesota), is staff planner for the City of Ashland, Oregon, U.S.A.

Jesse Winters, Sc. '76, and his wife, Anne Marie (Zouhar), Arts '76, are living in Elliot Lake, Ont., where Jesse is working as a mine geologist for Rio Algom Mines Ltd.

M. Byron Woods, Com. '74 (LL.B., Ottawa), recently accepted a position in Edmonton, Alta., with the law firm of Liden, Ackroyd and Co. His wife, Evanne (Casson), Arts '74, is doing graduate work in Psychology at the University of Alberta.

Peter T. Zoldhelyi, Law '75 (B.Sc., Toronto), is associated with the firm of Anthony M. Speciale and Associates in the practice of law at 332 Brown's Line, Toronto, Ont.

DISTINGUISHED SERVICE AWARD

All members of the Alumni Association are eligible to nominate anyone who, in their opinion, merits the University Council's Distinguished Service Award. The terms of the award are as follows:

1. Awarded by the Queen's University Council.
2. Potential recipients include anyone in the "entire Queen's family." The inscription will read: "Awarded to.....by Queen's University Council for Distinguished Service to Queen's University."
3. This award, a prestigious honour, is granted normally to not more than four persons per year.
4. Nominations are to be made to the Secretary of the University Council in writing by February 28 in the year of the award, and must be signed by at least five members of the Council or of the Queen's Alumni Association.
5. The Executive of the Council reviews the nominations and chooses the candidates for the award.
6. The award is presented normally at the time of the annual meeting of the Council. In exceptional circumstances, the Executive may make and present an award at any time.
7. Recipients of the award become honorary Life Members of the University Council.

Holders to date of the Distinguished Service Award are H.G. Conn, Jean I. Royce, Ian MacLachlan, J.E. Wright, Robert L. Dunsmore, Dr. Norman Garand, H.R.S. Ryan Frank Tindall, Jean Hill, Harvey Marshall, Judge John Matheson and Kaye Rousehorn.

MARTY MEMORIAL SCHOLARSHIP

Maximum Value $4,000

Established by the Queen's University Alumnae Association in memory of Dr. Aletta Marty

Any woman graduate of Queen's University may hold the scholarship, which is awarded annually for a year of study and research. A committee chosen by the Alumnae Association makes the award. The scholarship may be awarded to the same person for a second year. The committee reserves the right not to make the award in any given year.

Conditions of Award

The criteria for awarding the Marty Memorial Scholarships have been broadened to reflect the changing patterns of learning. In addition to graduate research programs, other worthwhile projects submitted by women graduates of Queen's will be considered for the honour and the award. An endeavour which contributes to the advancement of knowledge, contributes to society, or allows creative expression, will be accepted for consideration by the committee. All applicants for the scholarship must demonstrate to the committee's satisfaction the following:

- (1) adequate background and the necessary experience for the project;
- (2) feasibility of the project;
- (3) description of work leading to the program;
- (4) evidence of preparation;
- (5) as complete an outline as possible of the plan and method of pursuing the program;
- (6) where applicable, evidence that co-operation is obtainable from individuals or institutions involved.

The acceptance of the scholarship obligates the recipient to pursue the project during the term of the award. The successful candidate must send to the Chairman an interim report and a final report. Normally, the first instalment of the scholarship is payable at the beginning of the program, and the final instalment is paid on receipt of the interim report.

Applications

Application forms may be obtained from the Registrar, Queen's University, Kingston, Ont. K7L 3N6. They must be returned to the Registrar by March 1, 1978, with a detailed statement of the proposed project, as outlined above, and transcripts of work done at universities other than Queen's.

An elegant shape is very often a reflection of quality.

Carrington, a whisky of outstanding quality.

